(a) In Category 908, in Classification 17, insert after the heading "Oilcloth and Paper Household Needs" the following: "This category does not include paper household needs covered by Category 915"; and delete the item "oilcloth" from the list of items in that classification.

(b) The headnote and text of Category 915 is amended to read as follows:

Category 915—Sanitary napkins, tampons, toilet tissues and other paper items

This category does not include paper household needs included in Category 908, Classification 17. Examples of the articles included are: Sanitary napkins, Tampons, Facial Tissue, Toilet Tissue, Paper Towels, Wax paper.

(c) Change the headnote preceding Category 970 to read as follows:

NOTE. Categories 970-985 do not include articles described here as "precious jewelry." "Precious jewelry" when the value of the "precious stone" (or "precious stones") exceeds the value of the total of the other component parts of the finished article, includes the following:

(1) Any article a component part of which is a "precious stone" (or "precious stones"); or

(2) A mounting into which a "precious stone" (or "precious stones") is set.

A "precious stone" for this purpose means a natural pearl, diamond, ruby, sapphire or emerald. The term "precious stone" also includes the following when the selling price for the item by the cutter, wholesale dealer or importer is $25.00 or more:

(1) Any other genuine stone, including a semi-precious stone.
(2) Any synthetic stone.
(3) Any cultured pearl or group of cultured pearls (combined in a single article).

5. Appendix D is amended by inserting between the lines for Categories 509 and 601 the following line: "510 32.1 34.9 37.8 40.6 43.5 46.3 49.2 52.0 54.9 57.7 60.6 63.4 66.2 69.1 71.9 74.8 77.6 80.5 83.3 86.2 89.0 91.9 94.7".

6. Appendix E is amended in the following respects:

(a) Insert between the lines for Categories 402 B and 405, the following: "403—58.2".

(b) Insert between the lines for Categories 509 and 601, the following: "510—61.0".

7. Appendix F is amended in the following respects:

(a) Insert the following line between the lines for Categories 103 and 105: "104—1.041".

(b) Delete the line for Category 404 and the multiplier "1.015" opposite it.

(c) Insert between the lines for Categories 509 and 601, the following: "510—.954".

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amdt. 2 to Supplementary Regulation 1]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

SR 1—SPECIAL PRICING METHODS FOR CERTAIN CHAIN STORES AND MAIL ORDER ESTABLISHMENTS; CHART PREPARATION

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 2 to Supplementary Regulation 1 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1895) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment, in conjunction with an amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 issued simultaneously herewith, clarifies and modifies the provisions affecting chain stores which determine uniform prices centrally. The reasons for these changes are contained in the Statement of Considerations accompanying the concurrently issued amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is deleted and a new section 2 is substituted therefor to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Methods of chart preparation and pricing for certain chain stores—(a) Groups operating as single sellers. All of the selling outlets of a chain or group in a chain which are under common ownership or control and which, as to any category, constitute a single seller under section 3 (b) of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 may determine prices centrally for such category under a chart prepared in accordance with that regulation or prepared under the alternative method provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(1) No outlet which is a member of the group for which uniform prices are centrally determined may fix prices other than centrally determined prices for articles in the category unless the group discontinues the practice of having prices uniformly and centrally established for that category.

(2) A retail seller which, in the case of a given category, is in existence but does not centrally determine uniform prices with other members of a group constituting a single seller under section 3 (b) of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 may become a member of the group and centrally fix its ceiling prices for any such category uniformly with other members of the group, provided that that retail seller's category average markup for the category is not less than the group average percentage markup therefor.

(b) Alternative method of chart preparation. A group of outlets of a chain which elects to do so may prepare list date pricing charts for its uniformly priced categories as if its members were offering for sale on the list date each different article, style, model, or lot number, covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7, which it charged to them between December 1, 1950, and February 27, 1951 (or between January 1, 1951, and March 31, 1951, where list date is March 31, 1951). In Column 2 it lists opposite each such article, model, style, or lot number the "net cost" on the invoice from the supplier to the chain or group last received prior to the list date. ("Net cost" is further described and limited by section 16 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7.) In Column 3 opposite each cost listed in Column 2, it lists as offering prices each different uniform price at which the group directed the outlets to offer articles on the list date. In addition, the charts prepared by the group must list the cost and offering price of every article for which the members themselves determined the selling price and which they offered for sale on the list date. If a chain has more than one group of uniformly pricing retail outlets, a separate chart must be prepared for each such group for the articles covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7. In every other respect the group shall follow the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 in preparing its chart.

2. Section 3 is deleted and a new section 3 substituted therefor to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Notification of prices to chain outlets. A chain which operates outlets constituting a single separate seller shall, when determining the price of any article offered for sale in these outlets, send for each article a written notification of that price to each outlet. This notification must be received before the article is offered for sale and must be kept in that outlet available for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization. In the case of articles which are preticketed by the central or main office of the chain, this requirement may be satisfied if the central office transmits to the outlet a single notice, identifying the merchandise as preticketed. Unless the notification has been kept by the outlet as herein directed, the chain shall not sell, offer for sale or deliver the article in that outlet; and in no case shall the chain sell, offer for sale or deliver any article at a price higher than the selling price stated on the notification to that outlet unless the ceiling price is also stated on the invoice or notification, in which case, the chain shall not sell, offer for sale or deliver that article in that outlet at a price higher than the stated ceiling price.

3. A new section 3a is added to read as follows:

SEC. 3a. Use of charts prepared under provisions previously in force. After August 31, 1951, no group of stores whose pricing chart was prepared otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 and Supplementary Regulation 1 in effect on April 26, 1951, may sell any article covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 unless it has amended its chart to conform to those provisions in effect on April 26, 1951. Exceptions to this requirement may be authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization upon application showing that the category average markups contained in the charts previously filed by the group do not in general exceed the markups the group would have had if it had prepared its chart in accordance with the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 and Supplementary Regulation 1 in effect on April 26, 1951.

4. In paragraph (a) of section 4 the words "under section 2 or 3 of this Supplementary Regulation 1" are deleted and the following substituted therefor: "as a single seller under the regulation."

5. In paragraph (b) of section 4 the words "determines ceiling prices under section 2 or 3 of this supplementary regulation" are deleted and the following substituted therefor: "is a single seller under the regulation."

6. In paragraph (c) of section 4 the words "determines ceiling prices under section 2 or 3" are deleted and the following substituted therefor: "is a single seller under the regulation."

7. In paragraph (a) of section 6 the words "under section 2 or 3 of this supplementary regulation" are deleted and the following substituted therefor: "as a single seller under the regulation."

8. In paragraph (b) of section 6 the sentence "This section applies to the purchasing offices of chains except those which notify their retail outlets of the retail prices only and not their costs" is deleted and the following substituted therefor: "This section applies to the purchasing offices of chains, except those which are single sellers under the regulation."

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective April 26, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Supplementary Regulation 3]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

SR 3—CEILING PRICES FOR HOME CANNING SUPPLIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this supplementary regulation is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation establishes ceiling prices at the wholesale and retail level for certain home canning supplies. The manufacturers of glass jars, lids, rings, etc., for home canning purposes increased their prices of such items between October 1950 and January 1951, so that such increases are now reflected in their ceiling prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Since home canning supplies are seasonal items and are sold in volume from April through October, the price increases taken by the manufacturers before or prior to the end of the base period under General Ceiling Price Regulation were not passed through by the wholesalers and retailers of home canning supplies. Consequently, home canning supplies are not moving through the wholesale and retail level of distribution. Nor can they be expected to be moved through distribution in view of the low ceiling prices at which they are frozen under General Ceiling Price Regulation. However, with respect to retailers, ceiling prices in some instances for these items may be established under Ceiling Price Regulation 7, as amended. It is apparent to the Director of Price Stabilization that immediate relief in this situation is necessary in order to make home canning supplies available with the commencement of the home canning season. Likewise, the Director of Price Stabilization is advised by the Department of Agriculture that success of their home canning program depends on the availability of such supplies.

Accordingly, this supplementary regulation supersedes any previous ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization for the particular items of home canning supplies listed herein. In keeping with the pricing standard developed in Ceiling Price Regulation 7 this regulation provides that ceiling prices for the items listed will be determined by applying historic percentage markups on net cost. This regulation is supplementary to the General Ceiling Price Regulation as to ceiling prices governing wholesalers, and to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 as to ceiling prices governing retailers. For the convenience of persons affected, it is published simultaneously under each of the two basic regulations hereby supplemented.

In the formulation of this regulation, special circumstances have rendered impractical consultation with official advisory committees, including trade association representatives, however, the provisions of this amendment incorporate the recommendations of persons representing substantial segments of the industry. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation provides the means for pricing the items set forth in section 2 of this regulation at the wholesale and retail level and supersedes any previous ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization, hereinafter called OPS, for these listed commodities.

SEC. 2. Items for which this regulation provides the method of pricing. This regulation provides the method of determining ceiling prices for the following items:

Fruit and preserving jars.
Jelly glasses.
Lids, caps and rings for fruit and preserving jars and jelly glasses.

SEC. 3. How you figure your ceiling price. (a) To determine your ceiling price for each item covered by this regulation you shall apply your percentage markup which you used during the May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, period to your current invoice net cost.

(b) Your percentage markup for each item shall be the markup which is the average for the sales you made during the May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, base period. If you did not sell or offer to sell any item covered by this regulation during the May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, base period, you shall determine your percentage markup by using as your base period the first full month thereafter during which you did sell or offer to sell the item.

(c) To determine your ceiling price for any item covered by this regulation which you have not sold since May 24, 1950, or for which you do have base period records, you shall use as your ceiling price, the current selling price established under this regulation for the same or comparable item by your most closely competitive seller of the same class to the same class of purchaser.

SEC. 4. Records. You must preserve and keep available for a period of one year from the effective date of this regulation for examination by any OPS representative those records in your possession showing how you determined your percentage markup, and all records and invoices showing how you arrived at your current ceiling price for each item.

SEC. 5. Prohibitions. On and after April 26, 1951, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or if you otherwise violate any provision of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950. Also any person who, in the course of trade or business buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 6. Applicability and effective date. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on the 26th day of April, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 21]

GCPR, SR 21—CEILING PRICES FOR HOME CANNING SUPPLIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this supplementary regulation is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation establishes ceiling prices at the wholesale and retail level for certain home canning supplies. The manufacturers of glass jars, lids, rings, etc., for home canning purposes increased their prices of such items between October 1950 and January 1951, so that such increases are now reflected in their ceiling prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Since home canning supplies are seasonal items and are sold in volume from April through October, the price increases taken by the manufacturers before or prior to the end of the base period under General Ceiling Price Regulation were not passed through by the wholesalers and retailers of home canning supplies. Consequently, home canning supplies are not moving through the wholesale and retail level of distribution. Nor can they be expected to be moved through distribution in view of the low ceiling prices at which they are frozen under General Ceiling Price Regulation. However, with respect to retailers, ceiling prices in some instances for these items may be established under Ceiling Price Regulation 7, as amended. It is apparent to the Director of Price Stabilization that immediate relief in this situation is necessary in order to make home canning supplies available with the commencement of the home canning season. Likewise, the Director of Price Stabilization is advised by the Department of Agriculture that success of their home canning program depends on the availability of such supplies.

Accordingly, this supplementary regulation supersedes any previous ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization for the particular items of home canning supplies listed herein. In keeping with the pricing standard developed in Ceiling Price Regulation 7 this regulation provides that ceiling prices for the items listed will be determined by applying historic percentage markups on net cost. This regulation is supplementary to the General Ceiling Price Regulation as to ceiling prices governing wholesalers, and to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 as to ceiling prices governing retailers. For the convenience of persons affected, it is published simultaneously under each of the two basic regulations hereby supplemented.

In the formulation of this regulation, special circumstances have rendered impractical consultation with official advisory committees, including trade association representatives; however, the provisions of this amendment incorporate the recommendations of persons representing substantial segments of the industry. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

REG. 5—APPEALS

This regulation is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. Consultation with industry representatives in advance of the issuance of this regulation has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the regulation applies to all trades and industries.

Sec.

2. Grounds for appeal.
3. NPA Appeals Board.
4. Rules for filing appeals.
5. Decisions.
6. Procedures of the NPA Appeals Board.

Sec.
7. Hearings by the NPA Appeals Board.
8. Presentation of case at a hearing.
9. Interested parties.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 9 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 C. F. R., 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this regulation covers. This regulation specifies the "appeals" procedure of the National Production Authority and the operations of the NPA Appeals Board. It does not apply to appeals from suspension orders issued, or other action taken in connection with compliance proceedings.

SEC. 2. Grounds for appeal. NPA orders and regulations provide for applications for adjustment or exception. Such an application is granted or denied on the decision of the NPA official administering the particular order or regulation.

(a) When a person is dissatisfied with the decision on his application for adjustment or exception, and if he has no new and substantial facts to submit, he may file an appeal to the NPA Appeals Board if he believes the decision:

(1) Works an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him which is not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or in the same relative position; or

(2) Results in improper discrimination against him; or

(3) Is not in the public interest or the interest of the national defense.

(b) If a person does have new and substantial facts to submit, he should not file an appeal to the NPA Appeals Board, but first should submit an application for reconsideration of his application for adjustment or exception to the NPA official administering the particular order or regulation, upon the basis of these new facts. Then, if the reconsideration does not result in a decision satisfactory to him, he may file an appeal on the grounds stated in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) An application for reconsideration may not be made more than 30 days after the date of the NPA decision with respect to the particular application for adjustment or exception except that, in the case of decisions made before the date of this regulation, such application for reconsideration may be filed within 30 days of the effective date of this regulation.

SEC. 3. NPA Appeals Board. The NPA Appeals Board is established as an impartial body consisting of three officials of the NPA. It acts as the final agency authority in considering appeals permitted under section 2 of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Rules for filing appeals—(a) Form of appeal. An appeal is instituted by the filing of four copies of a written notice, the original of which will be signed by the appellant or his authorized representative, setting forth:

(1) The name, address, and business of the appellant.

(2) The nature of the NPA action appealed from, including, but not limited to, its date, case number, and the order or regulation under which it was taken.

(3) The grounds of appeal.

(4) A copy of the documents evidencing the NPA action from which the appeal is taken.

(5) If the appellant requests a hearing, the notice of appeal should so state.

(b) Filing of appeal. (1) The notice of appeal shall be filed with the Secretary of the NPA Appeals Board, Office of the Administrator, National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. A notice of appeal shall be considered filed when it is delivered to the office of the Secretary.

(2) A notice of appeal may not be filed more than 45 days after the date of the NPA decision with respect to the particular application for adjustment or exception except that, in the case of appeals from NPA decisions on applications for adjustment or exception made before the date of this regulation, the notice of appeal must be filed within 45 days of the effective date of this regulation.

(c) Additional data. The NPA Appeals Board may request the filing of additional data whenever it considers it necessary.

SEC. 5. Decisions. (a) The NPA Appeals Board shall not be required to furnish written opinions.

(b) The decision of the NPA Appeals Board shall be made by a majority vote of its members. In the event of a tie vote, the appeal shall be considered to be denied.

(c) The Secretary of the NPA Appeals Board shall notify every party to an appeal of the decision of the NPA Appeals Board. The notification shall be in writing, and shall be given within 5 days of the decision.

(d) The decision of the NPA Appeals Board shall be final. Decisions may be reconsidered in the discretion of the Board.

SEC. 6. Procedures of the NPA Appeals Board. The Board will issue and publish rules of procedure from time to time.

SEC. 7. Hearings by the NPA Appeals Board. In its discretion, the NPA Appeals Board may hold a hearing on any appeal, either upon its own initiative, or upon request by the appellant. The appellant's case is not prejudiced by the fact that he does not request a hearing. Hearings by the Board shall be public unless otherwise ordered by the Board. If a hearing is to be held, the NPA Appeals Board will fix the date, time, and place, and will notify the appellant thereof.

SEC. 8. Presentation of case at a hearing. The NPA Appeals Board is not a judicial body. Hearings before the Board are informal. It is not required that appellant be represented by counsel, but he may be if he desires. If he is represented by counsel but is not present at the hearing, the appellant must notify the NPA Appeals Board in writing that he has authorized counsel to represent him at the hearing and has furnished counsel with the information necessary for presenting appellant's case. Any misrepresentation of fact, or any withholding of fact, is punishable under the applicable federal statutes.

SEC. 9. Interested parties. In the discretion of the NPA Appeals Board, interested persons or Government agencies, offices or departments, may intervene as parties to an appeal, to the extent determined by the Board.

This regulation shall take effect on April 25, 1951.

PART 200—RULES OF PRACTICE

INFORMAL PROCEDURE

The Board, pursuant to authority vested in it by the Veterans' Education and Training Amendments of 1950, Public Law 610, 81st Congress, approved July 13, 1950, particularly section 2 thereof, and finding such action necessary and appropriate for carrying out the provisions of the said act, hereby adopts, promulgates, and prescribes the acompanying addition to its rules of practice:

§ 200.42 Informal procedure. When, in the judgment of the Board, public interest would be served and the interest of all parties would be more speedily determined by inspection and examination without a formal hearing under the foregoing rules, informal proceedings leading to a decision may be ordered, as authorized under the exceptions set forth in section 5 of the Administrative Procedure Act of 1946. In such cases, after application for review of the determination of the Administrator and a petition for the use of the informal procedure with allegations in support thereof, showing applicability in the matter to be decided, the Board, a member or members of the Board, or a hearing examiner appointed by the Board, after due and reasonable notice of a time and place certain, will consider the matter involved in the pending appeal by conducting appropriate inspection and examination. During the inspection and examination, or immediately thereafter, parties in interest may present informally, for the record, pertinent statements in support of their contentions. The inspector or examiner at the close of said inspection and conference, if any, will make his findings of fact and conclusions based upon said inspection and examination and such findings and conclusions will constitute, upon approval, the decision of the Board.

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April A. D. 1951.

It appearing, the matter of car service (section 1, paragraphs 10 to 17, inclusive) of the Interstate Commerce Act being under consideration, that car service will be promoted in the interest of the public and commerce of the people by the appointment of an agent with the authority and duties herein described.

It further appearing, that the above conclusion is supported by the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, and the American Short Line Railroad Association and they urge that such action be taken.

§ 95.95 Appointment of refrigerator car agent. (a) D. W. Benton, Assistant to Chairman, Car Service Division, Association of American Railroads, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Illinois, is hereby designated and appointed refrigerator car agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission. As agent he is required to provide the Commission with current information, through its Director of the Bureau of Service, with respect to the supply of and the need for refrigerator cars in all sections of the United States, and in this connection to utilize the services of an advisory committee consisting of the Chairman, Car Service Division, Association of American Railroads, and subject to the Commission's approval of at least one representative of the railroad industry, of railroad-controlled refrigerator car companies, of non-railroad controlled refrigerator car companies and of shipper-owned refrigerator car companies. As agent, he is authorized and directed to determine and advise the Commission through its Director of the Bureau of Service concerning measures which will reduce the time of loading and unloading refrigerator cars or increase the efficiency and economy of such cars' utilization, operations and movement.

(b) Application: The provisions of this section shall apply to shipments moving in intrastate commerce as well as to those moving in interstate commerce.

(c) Effective date: This section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., May 1, 1951.

(d) Expiration date: This section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., April 30, 1952, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, That this order shall vacate and supersede Second Revised Service Order No. 95 as amended on the effective date hereof and that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon each State railroad regulatory body, the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association as agents of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

REQUIREMENTS FOR LOADING OF LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April A. D. 1951.

It appearing, that there is a shortage of freight cars suitable for the transportation of lumber and lumber products; that by reason thereof it is necessary in the interest of national defense to regulate and control the use of such cars to assure the maximum utilization; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists in all sections of the country requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people: It is ordered, that:

§ 95.876 Requirements for loading of lumber and lumber products. (a) No carrier shall accept for transportation at point of origin, forward from point of origin, or transport within any terminal area, except to complete loading, any carload shipment of lumber or lumber products in, or on, a freight car, unless such car, when forwarded from point of origin, is loaded in accordance with one of the following requirements.

(1) The quantity loaded shall at least equal in weight the marked capacity in pounds as stencilled on the car, or as shown under the caption "Capacity" (not "Load Limit") in the Official Railroad Equipment Register, Agent M. A. Zenobia's ICC R. E. R. No. 298, supplements thereto or reissues thereof; or

(2) When the car is loaded to full visible capacity, but not to exceed 90 percent of load limit.

(3) On cars to be stopped off to complete loading thereof, the lumber or lumber products to be loaded in, or on, the car at the first loading point must equal or exceed fifty percent (50%) of marked capacity of car used.

(b) Exemptions: The provisions of this section shall not apply to lumber or lumber products moving under and in accordance with "clean-out" or "remnant" rules published in applicable freight tariffs lawfully on file with this Commission or state railroad regulatory bodies.

(c) Definition: As used in this section the term:

(1) "Carrier" means any common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act.

(2) "Lumber and lumber products" means any commodity listed in Appendix A.

(d) Special and general permits; appointment of agent:

(1) Paragraph (a) of this section shall be subject to any special or general permits issued by the permit agent named in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, on application of the shipper.

(2) Howard S. Kline, Chief, Car Utilization Section, Bureau of Service, Interstate Commerce Commission, Room 5135, I. C. C. Building, Washington, D. C., is hereby designated and appointed as permit agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission with authority to issue special or general permits to meet exceptional circumstances, subject to the direction and supervision of the Director of the Bureau of Service.

(e) Application: (1) The provisions of this section shall apply to intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce, including commerce with insular possessions and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

(2) The provisions of this section shall apply to all shipments from points of origin as well as transit points, on and after the effective date of this section.

(f) Regulations suspended; announcement required: The operation of all rules, regulations and practices, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this section, is hereby suspended and each railroad subject to this section, or its Agent, shall publish, file and post a supplement to each of its tariffs, affected hereby in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter), announcing such suspension.

(g) Effective date: This section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., May 7, 1951.

(h) Expiration date: This section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., October 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order and direction be served upon the State railroad regulatory bodies of each State and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 52]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FROZEN LIMA BEANS [1]

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the revision, as herein proposed, of the United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Lima Beans, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950). This revision, if made effective, will be the fifth issue by the Department of grade standards for this product.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed revision should file same, in duplicate, with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Division, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed revision is as follows:

§ 52.172 Frozen lima beans. (a) Frozen lima beans are prepared from the immature seed of varieties of lima beans (Phaseolus lunatus) by shelling, washing and blanching, and are then frozen and stored at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(b) Types of frozen lima beans. (1) Frozen lima beans consist of either (i) Fordhook, or (ii) other than Fordhook lima beans.

(c) Grades of frozen lima beans. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen lima beans that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good flavor and odor; that are tender; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; and that score not less than 90 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of frozen lima beans that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good flavor and odor; that are reasonably tender; that possess a reasonably good color; that are reasonably free from defects; and that score not less than 80 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of frozen lima beans that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a fairly good flavor and odor; that are fairly tender; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(4) "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard" is the quality of frozen lima beans that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard.

(d) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of frozen lima beans is ascertained by considering in conjunction with the other requirements of the respective grade the respective ratings for the factors of color and absence of defects.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	60
(ii) Absence of defects	40
Total score	100

(3) The scores for the factors of color and absence of defects are determined immediately after thawing to the extent that the product is substantially free from ice crystals and can be handled as individual units. The tenderness and flavor and odor of frozen lima beans are determined after the product is cooked.

(4) "Good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking has a good, characteristic normal flavor and odor and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(5) "Fairly good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking may be lacking in good flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(e) Ascertaining the rating of the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for such factors and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "54 to 60 points" means 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, or 60 points).

(1) Color. Spotted or otherwise discolored lima beans are considered defective beans and therefore are not considered in evaluating the factor of color.

"Green" means that the color of not less than 50 percent of the surface area of the individual lima bean possesses as much or more green color than Plate 18, J–3, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

"White" means that more than 50 percent of the surface area of the individual lima bean possesses less green color than Plate 18, E–1, as illustrated in Maerz and Paul's Dictionary of Color.[2]

(i) Frozen lima beans that possess a good color may be given a score of 54 to 60 points. "Good color" means that the lima beans possess a bright typical color and with respect to varieties other than Fordhook variety contain not less than 90 percent, by count, of green lima beans, and the remainder may be lighter in color, of which not more than 3 percent, by count, may be white lima beans; and with respect to Fordhook variety contain not less than 90 percent, by count, of green lima beans, and the remainder may be lighter in color, of which not more than 1 percent, by count, may be white lima beans.

(iii) Frozen lima beans that possess a fairly good color may be given a score of 42 to 47 points. Frozen lima beans that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the lima beans possess a typical color and with respect to varieties other than Fordhook variety may contain less than 65 percent, by count, of green lima beans, and the remainder may be lighter in color or white lima beans and with respect to Fordhook variety may contain less than 60 percent, by count, of green beans and the remainder may be lighter in color or white lima beans.

(iv) Frozen lima beans that are definitely off color or fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 41 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from extraneous vegetable matter, from loose skins and pieces of skins, loose cotyledons and pieces of cotyledons, mashed or broken beans, shriveled beans, and from beans that are blemished or seriously blemished by discoloration, pathological injury, insect injury, or blemished by other means.

(a) "Extraneous vegetable matter" means pods or pieces of pods, leaves, stems, and other similar vegetable matter.

(b) "Mashed and broken" means broken or crushed so that the bean has lost its original conformation or is broken to the extent that a cotyledon or portion thereof has become separated from the bean.

(c) "Loose skin" means a whole skin which has become separated from the cotyledons, or loose pieces of skin aggregating the equivalent of an average size whole skin.

(d) "Loose cotyledon" means a whole cotyledon which has become separated from the skin, or loose pieces of cotyledon aggregating the equivalent of an average size cotyledon.

(e) "Blemished" means blemished by discoloration, pathological injury, insect injury, or blemished by other means to such an extent that the aggregate blemished area materially affects the appearance of the bean. Very light discoloration of the hilum or other very light discoloration is not considered as blemished.

(f) "Seriously blemished" means blemished to such an extent that the aggregate blemished area seriously affets the appearance or eating quality of the bean.

(g) "Shriveled" means lima beans that are materially wrinkled and are not of normal plumpness.

(ii) Frozen lima beans that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 36 to 40 points. "Practically free from defects" means that for each 12 ounces there may be present one large piece of extraneous vegetable matter or pieces having an aggregate area of more than $\frac{3}{16}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$" x $\frac{3}{8}$") on one surface of the piece or pieces; not more than 8 percent, by count, of mashed and broken beans, loose skins and loose cotyledons; not more than 1 percent, by count, of shriveled beans; and not more than 4 percent, by count, may be blemished or seriously blemished, and of such 4 percent, not more than $\frac{1}{4}$ thereof or 1 percent, by count, may be seriously blemished: Provided, That the blemished or seriously blemished lima beans do not affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) If the frozen lima beans are reasonably free from defects a score of 32 to 35 points may be given. Frozen lima beans that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that for each 12 ounces there may be present one large piece of extraneous vegetable matter or pieces having an aggregate area of more than $\frac{5}{16}$ square inch but not more than $\frac{3}{8}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$" x $\frac{3}{4}$") on one surface of the piece or pieces; not more than 10 percent, by count, of mashed and broken beans, loose skins, and loose cotyledons; not more than 4 percent, by count, of shriveled beans; and not more than 6 percent, by count, may be blemished or seriously blemished and of such 6 percent not more than $\frac{1}{3}$ thereof or 2 percent, by count, may be seriously blemished: Provided, That the blemished or seriously blemished lima beans do not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iv) Frozen lima beans that are fairly free from defects may be given a score of 28 to 31 points. Frozen lima beans that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that for each 12 ounces there may be present one large piece of extraneous vegetable matter or pieces having an aggregate area of more than $\frac{3}{8}$ square inch but not more than $\frac{3}{4}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}$" x $1\frac{1}{2}$") on one surface of the piece or pieces; not more than 15 percent, by count, of mashed and broken beans, loose skins, and loose cotyledons; not more than 8 percent, by count, of shriveled beans; and not more than 10 percent, by count, may be blemished or seriously blemished and of such 10 percent not more than $\frac{3}{10}$ thereof or 3 percent, by count, may be seriously blemished: Provided, That the blemished or seriously blemished lima beans do not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(v) Frozen lima beans that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(f) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen lima beans the grade of such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of all containers, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers comprising the sample fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, must be within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

ARIZONA No. 2

STOCK DRIVEWAY WITHDRAWAL NO. 56; REDUCED

APRIL 23, 1951.

By virtue of the authority contained in section 10 of the act of December 29, 1916 (39 Stat. 865), as amended by the act of January 29, 1929 (45 Stat. 1144; 43 U. S. C. 300), and in accordance with Departmental Order No. 2583, sec. 2.22 (a) of August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5643), it is ordered as follows:

Stock Driveway Withdrawal No. 56, Arizona No. 2, as modified by departmental order dated August 19, 1941, is hereby revoked as to the following-described land:

GILA AND SALT RIVER MERIDIAN

T. 12 N., R. 1 E.,
Sec. 26, lot 1 and NW¼NE¼.

The area described contains 75.87 acres.

This revocation is made in furtherance of an exchange under section 8 of the act of June 28, 1934, as amended by section 3 of the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976; 43 U. S. C. 315g) by which the offered land will become a part of the Lake Mead Recreation area. This action is, therefore, not subject to the provisions contained in the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, granting preference rights to veterans of World War II and others.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[Defense Food Delegation 9]

ADMINISTRATOR OF NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY CONCERNING ALLOCATION AND PRIORITY FUNCTIONS WITH RESPECT TO FOODS WHICH HAVE INDUSTRIAL USES

The Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, and the Administrator of the National Production Authority, United States Department of Commerce, have certain allocation and priority functions under the Defense Production Act of 1950, vested in them by Executive Orders Nos. 10161 and 10200 (15 F. R. 6105; 16 F. R. 61), Defense Production Administration Delegation No. 1 (16 F. R. 738), Department of Commerce Order 123 as amended (15 F. R. 6726; 16 F. R. 1129), and Defense Food Delegation No. 1 (15 F. R. 6424; 16 F. R. 2446; 16 F. R. 3311). The Administrators have entered into a certain agreement signed by them on March 30 and April 13, 1951, respectively (16 F. R. 3410), applicable to the exercise of their respective allocation and priority functions regarding foods which have industrial uses.

Pursuant to the aforesaid authorities, and in furtherance of the said agreement:

1. The Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration hereby delegates to the Administrator of the National Production Authority the requisite authority to exercise the allocation and priority functions under Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950 vested in him to the extent necessary to effectuate the provisions of the said agreement as from time to time amended or supplemented.

2. In exercising such authority, the Administrator of the National Production Authority is authorized to exercise the functions vested in the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration under sections 902 (a) and 902 (b) of said Executive Order No. 10161.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1951.

[4th Sec. Application 26032]

FERTILIZER BETWEEN SOUTHERN AND OFFICIAL TERRITORIES

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

APRIL 24, 1951.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: C. W. Boin, Agent, for carriers parties to his tariff I. C. C. No. A-816.

Commodities involved: Fertilizer and fertilizer materials.

Between: Southern and official territories.

Grounds for relief: To apply over short tariff routes rates constructed on the basis of the short line distance formula, competition with rail carriers and circuitous routes.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

ANNA WOLFF HAMMOSER

In re: Debt owing to Anna Wolff Hammoser. F-28-6233.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That Anna Wolff Hammoser, whose last known address is Schulstrasse 116, Berlin N63, Germany, is a resident of Germany and a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows: That certain debt or other obligation evidenced by one (1) check numbered 23558, dated March 19, 1951, drawn on The Marine Midland Trust Company of New York, by Corn Products Refining Company, in the amount of $71.54 payable to the Attorney General of the United States and presently in the custody of the Attorney General of the United States, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the aforesaid debt or other obligation and any and all rights in, to and under, including particularly but not limited to the right to possession and presentation for collection and payment of the foresaid check, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, Anna Wolff Hammoser, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof is not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 11, 1951.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10238

MAKING CERTAIN CHANGES IN THE CUSTOMS FIELD ORGANIZATION

By virtue of the authority vested in me by section 1 of the act of August 1, 1914, 38 Stat. 623 (19 U. S. C. 2), and in the interest of the internal management of the Government, it is ordered that the following changes be, and they are hereby, made in the customs field organization:

1. The designation of Provincetown, Massachusetts, as a customs port of entry in Customs Collection District Number 4 (Massachusetts), is revoked.

2. The designation of Lewes, Delaware, as a customs port of entry in Customs Collection District Number 11 (Philadelphia), is revoked.

3. The limits of the customs port of entry of New London, Connecticut, in Customs Collection District Number 6 (Connecticut), are extended to include the territory embracing the municipality of Groton, Connecticut.

4. Pelican, Alaska, is designated as a customs port of entry in Customs Collection District Number 31 (Alaska).

This order shall become effective May 1, 1951.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10239

EXEMPTION OF HOWELL CONE FROM COMPULSORY RETIREMENT FOR AGE

WHEREAS, in my judgment, the public interest requires that Howell Cone, Collector of Customs for Customs Collection District No. 17, with headquarters at Savannah, Georgia, be exempted from compulsory retirement for age as provided below:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 204 of the act of June 30, 1932, 47 Stat. 404 (5 U. S. C. 715a), it is ordered, effective as of December 1, 1948, that the said Howell Cone be, and he is hereby, exempted from compulsory retirement for age under the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act of May 29, 1930, as amended, for an indefinite period of time not extending beyond the appointment and qualification of his successor.

PART 517—FRUITS AND BERRIES, FRESH

SUBPART—FRESH APPLE EXPORT PROGRAM (FISCAL YEAR 1951)

Section 517.204 Eligibility for payment is hereby amended by deleting paragraphs (a) and (c) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 517.204 Eligibility for payment—(a) Dates of sale and of export. No payment hereunder will be made in connection with any sale for export unless the date of sale (see § 517.211 (d)) is on or after the effective date of this offer, and the apples are sold or exported on or after the date of such sale and prior to the date specified in paragraph (h) of this section, except that a sale made prior to the effective date of this offer and expressly made contingent upon the Secretary's issuing this or a similar offer will be deemed to be a sale made after such effective date if after such effective date the parties to such contract make the sale binding unconditionally by confirmation or otherwise and if no exportations were made pursuant to such sale prior to such effective date. A sale made subject to the condition that the representative of the Secretary will approve the declaration of sale and intent to export (paragraph (c) of this section) will be deemed a sale pursuant to this program, and since available funds are limited exporters may find it advisable to make their sales subject to this condition. The apples shall be deemed to have been exported when loaded on board an ocean carrier: Provided, Such apples have not thereafter been unloaded from such vessel in any port of the United States. The date of export of any lot shall be considered to be the date of loading on board the ocean-going vessel on which movement of such lot from the United States is effected. The date of the on-board ocean bill of lading (or loading tally sheet, see § 517.205 (a) (3)) shall be considered to be the date the apples were loaded on board, unless an "on-board" date is shown.

(c) Declaration of sale and intent to export. No payment will be made hereunder, unless the exporter executes and mails or directly delivers Form FV-427 (8/30/50), "Declaration of Sale and Intent to Export Fresh Apples under Program RMX 96a," to the designated representative of the Secretary, as indicated in § 517.201 (b), nearest the principal office of the exporter, and unless such Declaration is approved by the representative of the Secretary. Form FV-427 (8/30/50), must be prepared separately for each export sale and shall be mailed or delivered not later than the end of the second business day (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) following the date of sale, but in no event later than the date of export. No payment will be made if such form is mailed or delivered after the time hereinbefore specified, unless the Secretary, upon written request by the exporter stating substantial reasons therefor, waives such delay. The Secretary will approve Declarations covering sales which meet the requirements of this program, as long as funds which have been allocated to this program are available, in the order in which the Declarations are received or on such other basis as he may determine to be equitable, will give written notice of approval or disapproval to the exporter, and will notify the exporter as promptly as possible after receipt of any executed Form FV-427 (8-30-50) if any information shown in such form does not conform with the terms and conditions of this offer. No payment will be made in excess of the sum indicated in the notice of approval of Form FV-427 (8-30-50), unless the Secretary, upon written request by the exporter stating substantial reasons therefor, approves such greater amount.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., May 4, 1951.

(Sec. 32, 49 Stat. 774, as amended, sec. 112, 62 Stat. 146; 7 U. S. C. 612c, 22 U. S. C. Sup. 1510)

PART 517—FRUITS AND BERRIES, FRESH

SUBPART—FRESH PEAR EXPORT PROGRAM (FISCAL YEAR 1951)

Section 517.234 Eligibility for payment is hereby amended by deleting paragraphs (a) and (c) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 517.234 Eligibility for payment—(a) Dates of sale and of export. No payment hereunder will be made in connection with any sale for export unless the date of sale (see § 517.241 (d)) is on or after the effective date of this offer, and the pears are sold or exported on or after the date of such sale and prior to the date specified in paragraph (j) of this section, except that a sale made prior to the effective date of this offer and expressly made contingent upon the Secretary's issuing this or a similar offer will be deemed to be a sale made after such effective date if after such effective date the parties to such contract make the sale binding unconditionally by confirmation or otherwise and if no exportations were made pursuant to such sale prior to such effective date. A sale made subject to the condition that the representative of the Secretary will approve the declaration of sale and intent to export (paragraph (c) of this section) will be deemed a sale pursuant to this program, and since available funds are limited exporters may find it advisable to make their sales subject to this condition. The pears shall be deemed to have been exported when loaded on board an ocean carrier: Provided, Such pears have not thereafter been unloaded from such vessel in any port of the United States. The date of export of any lot shall be considered to be the date of loading on board the ocean-going vessel on which movement of such lot from the United States is effected. The date of the on-board ocean bill of lading (or loading tally sheet, see § 517.235 (a) (3)) shall be considered to be the date the pears were loaded on board, unless an "on-board" date is shown.

(c) Declaration of sale and intent to export. No payment will be made hereunder, unless the exporter executes and mails or directly delivers Form FV-428 (8-30-50), "Declaration of Sale and Intent to Export Fresh Pears under Program RMX 96a," to the designated representative of the Secretary, as indicated in § 517.231 (b) hereof, nearest the principal office of the exporter, and unless such Declaration is approved by the representative of the Secretary. Form FV-428 (8-30-50) must be prepared separately for each export sale and shall be mailed or delivered not later than the end of the second business day (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) following the date of sale, but in no event later than the date of export. No payment will be made if such form is mailed or delivered after the time hereinbefore specified, unless the Secretary, upon written request by the exporter stating substantial reasons therefor, waives such delay. The Secretary will approve the declaration of sale and intent to export (paragraph (c) of this section) will be deemed a sale pursuant to this program, and since available funds are limited exporters may find it advisable to make their sales subject to this condition. The products shall be deemed to have been exported when loaded on board an ocean carrier: Provided, Such products have not thereafter been unloaded from such vessel in any port of the United States. The date of export of any lot shall be considered to be the date of loading on board the ocean-going vessel on which movement of such lot from the United States is effected. The date of the on-board ocean bill of lading (or loading tally sheet, see § 517.235 (a) (3)) shall be considered to be the date the pears were loaded on board, unless an "on-board" date is shown.

(b) Declaration of sale and intent to export. No payment will be made hereunder, unless the exporter executes and mails or directly delivers Form FV-451, "Declaration of Sale and Intent to Export Citrus Products Under Program RMX 135a," to the designated representative of the Secretary, as indicated in § 518.271 (c), nearest the principal office of the exporter, and unless such Declaration is approved by the representative of the Secretary. Form FV-451 must be prepared separately for each export sale and shall be mailed or delivered not later than the end of the second business day (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) following the date of sale, but in no event later than the date of export. No payment will be made if such form is mailed or delivered after the time hereinbefore specified, unless the Secretary, upon written request by the exporter stating substantial reasons therefor, waives such delay. The Secretary will approve Declarations covering sales which meet the requirements of this program, as long as funds which have been allocated to this program are available, in the order in which the Declarations are received or on such other basis as he may determine to be equitable; will give written notice of approval or disapproval to the exporter; and will notify the exporter as promptly as possible after receipt of any executed Form FV-451 if any information shown in such form does not conform with the terms and conditions of this offer. AUTHORITY: §§ 925.1 to 925.102 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 925.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Puget Sound, Washington, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(4) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined herein, are in the current of interstate commerce and directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk and its products.

(5) It is hereby found that the necessary expense of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler as his pro-rata share of such expenses, 4 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all (i) milk received from producers (including such handler's own production) received during the month, and (ii) other source milk classified as Class I milk during the month.

(6) Effective date. It is necessary in the public interest to make the several provisions of this order effective as hereinafter set forth. The need for the order is disclosed by the decision (16 F. R. 3053) which was executed on April 5, 1951. The provisions of the order are well known to handlers since the public hearing was held August 14–September 6, 1950, the recommended decision was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 935) on February 1, 1951, and the final decision (16 F. R. 2053) was executed by the Secretary on April 5, 1951. In view of the number of handlers involved, the widely scattered locations of their plants, and the fact that this order will constitute the original imposition of a regulatory program of this nature for the market, the provisions other than those relating to prices and payments to producers, should be put into effect prior to the effective date of the provisions relating to prices and payments to producers, in order that handlers may have opportunity to make necessary adjustments in their accounting and other operational procedures to conform with all provisions of the order. Therefore, reasonable times are permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for the effective dates specified. It is hereby found and determined, in view of the aforementioned facts and circumstances, that good reason exists for making §§ 925.1 through 925.19, 925.20 through 925.22 (h), 925.30 through 925.34, 925.40 through 925.45, 925.88, 925.90 through 925.93, and 925.100 through 925.102 effective May 1, 1951, and §§ 925.22 (i), (j), (k), and (l), 925.50 through 925.53, 925.60, 925.61, 925.70, 925.71, 925.80 through 925.87, and 925.89 effective on June 1, 1951, and that it would be contrary to the public interest to delay such effective dates to dates later than those specified.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order which is marketed within the Puget Sound, Washington, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance, and who during the determined representative period (December 1950) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Puget Sound, Washington, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

DEFINITIONS

§ 925.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 925.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture, or other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 925.3 Department. "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or such other Federal agency authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this part.

§ 925.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 925.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers, duly organized as such under the laws of any state, which includes members who are producers as defined in § 925.12 and which the Secretary determines, after application by the association:

(a) To be qualified under the standards set forth in the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act";

(b) To have its entire organization and all of its activities under the control of its members; and

(c) To be currently engaged in making collective sales of or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 925.6 Puget Sound, Washington, Marketing Area. "Puget Sound, Washington, Marketing Area" (hereinafter called the "marketing area") means all territory lying west of range 8E in Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish, and King Counties; all territory lying west of range 8E and north of township 18N in Pierce County, except Fox, McNeil, and Anderson Islands and the peninsulas on which Lake Bay and Gig Harbor are located northward to the Kitsap County line; all territory lying within Thurston County; all territory lying west of range 5E in Lewis County; all territory lying east of range 16W and north of township 12N in Pacific County; and all territory lying south of township 19N in Grays Harbor County; all in the State of Washington. As used in this section, "territory" shall include all municipal corporations, Federal military reservations, facilities and installations, and state institutions lying wholly or partly within the above-described area: "District No. 1" of the marketing area shall include that part of the marketing area lying within the counties of King, Pierce, Snohomish, Thurston, and Grays Harbor. "District No. 2" of the marketing area shall include that part of the marketing area lying within the counties of Skagit and Whatcom, and "District No. 3" of the marketing area shall include that part of the marketing area lying within the counties of Lewis and Pacific.

§ 925.7 Plant. "Plant" means the land, buildings, surroundings, facilities and equipment, whether owned or operated by one or more persons, constituting a single operating unit or establishment which is maintained and operated primarily for the receiving, handling and processing of milk or milk products.

§ 925.8 Fluid milk plant. "Fluid milk plant" means any plant located in the marketing area which is approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area as a plant from which milk may be distributed for consumption as fluid milk in the marketing area, and from which during the month Class I milk pursuant to § 925.41 (a) (1) is disposed of (including sales at such plant, plant store or eating place) within the marketing area.

§ 925.9 Country plant. "Country plant" means any plant, other than a fluid milk plant, which is approved by any health authority having jurisdiction within the marketing area for the receiving of milk qualified for consumption as fluid milk within the marketing area (but excluding that portion of any plant used to receive or process milk or milk products required by applicable health authority regulations to be kept physically separate from milk so qualified): Provided, That any such plant located outside of the marketing area other than the plant of Kristofferson, Inc., at Sequim and the plant of the Dungeness-Sequim Cooperative Creameries at Dungeness shall not be a country plant if the percentage of either butterfat or skim milk in milk so qualified which is received at the plant from dairy farmers and moved in fluid form as milk to a fluid milk plant, or disposed of within the marketing area as Class I milk pursuant to § 925.41 (a) (1), is less than:

(a) 50 percent in the current month during the period October through December;

(b) 20 percent in the current month during the period January through September, except that if the percentage was more than 50 percent for the entire period of October through December immediately preceding no percentage shall be required for such months of January through September;

And provided further, That any plant which otherwise meets the requirements of this section may withdraw from country plant status for any month in the February-September period if the operator of the plant files with the market administrator, prior to the first day of such month, a written request for such withdrawal.

§ 925.10 Nonpool plant. "Nonpool plant" means any plant other than a fluid milk plant or a country plant.

§ 925.11 Dairy farmer. "Dairy farmer" means any person who is engaged in the production of milk.

§ 925.12 Producer. "Producer" means any dairy farmer, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk qualified by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area for consumption as fluid milk in the marketing area.

§ 925.13 Producer milk. "Producer milk" or "milk received from producers" means milk qualified as described in § 925.12 and either received directly from a farm at a fluid plant or country plant or caused to be diverted by a handler for his account from such a plant to a nonpool plant: Provided, That milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received by the diverting handler at the plant from which it was diverted.

§ 925.14 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat other than in (a) producer milk, and (b) milk and milk products received from fluid milk plants and country plants.

§ 925.15 Handler. "Handler" means:

(a) Any person engaged in the handling of milk in his capacity as the operator of a fluid milk plant, a country plant, or any other plant from which milk in any of the forms specified in § 925.41 (a) is disposed of to any place or establishment within the marketing area other than a plant, and

(b) Any cooperative association, which is not a handler pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, with respect to producer milk caused to be diverted for the account of such cooperative association from a fluid milk plant or a country plant to a nonpool plant.

§ 925.16 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who is both a dairy farmer and a handler, but who receives no milk from producers: Provided, That (a) the maintenance, care and management of the dairy animals and other resources necessary to produce milk is the personal enterprise of and at the personal risk of such person in his capacity as a dairy farmer, and (b) the processing, packaging, and distribution of the milk is the personal enterprise of and at the personal risk of such person in his capacity as a handler.

§ 925.17 Base. "Base" means a quantity of milk, expressed in pounds per day, computed pursuant to § 925.60.

§ 925.18 Base milk. "Base milk" means (a) milk delivered by a producer during the month in the period March through September, inclusive, of each year which is not in excess of his base multiplied by the number of days of delivery in such month: Provided, That with respect to any producer on "every-other-day" delivery to a fluid milk plant or country plant the days of nondelivery intervening days of delivery shall be considered as days of delivery for the purposes of this paragraph; and (b) all milk delivered by a producer in each of the months of October, November, December, January and February.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 925.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be designated by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of the Secretary.

§ 925.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 925.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 30 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of funds provided by § 925.88 the cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses (except those incurred under § 925.87) necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and upon request by the Secretary surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Audit all reports and payments by each handler by inspection of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk or butterfat for such handler depends;

(h) Publicly announce, at his discretion, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not:

(1) Made reports pursuant to §§ 925.30 to 925.32, inclusive; or

(2) Made one or more of the payments pursuant to §§ 925.80 to 925.88, inclusive.

(i) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association (or its duly designated agent) which so requests the class utilization of milk caused to be delivered by such cooperative association directly from farms of producers who are members of such cooperative association to each handler to whom the cooperative association sells milk. For the purpose of this report, the milk caused to be so delivered by such a cooperative association shall be prorated to each class in the proportion that the total receipts of producer milk by such handler were used in each class;

(j) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, notify:

(1) Each handler whose total value of milk is computed pursuant to § 925.70 (a) of:

(i) The amounts and values of his producer milk in each class and the totals of such amounts and values;

(ii) The amount of any charge made pursuant to § 925.70 (a) (5);

(iii) The uniform prices for base milk and excess milk;

(iv) The totals of the amounts computed in the manner provided by § 925.80 (a);

(v) The amount due such handler from the producer-settlement fund or the amount to be paid by such handler to the producer-settlement fund, as the case may be; and

(vi) The totals of the amounts required to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 925.87 and 925.88.

(2) Each handler whose total value of milk is computed pursuant to § 925.70 (b) of the pounds of other source milk on which payment is required to be made and the amount due the producer-settlement fund from such handler.

(k) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate the prices determined for each month as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day of each month the minimum price for Class I milk pursuant to § 925.51 (a) and the Class I butterfat differential pursuant to § 925.52 (a), both for the current month; and the minimum price for Class II milk pursuant to § 925.51 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential pursuant to § 925.52 (b), both for the preceding month; and

(2) On or before the 12th day of each month, the uniform price computed pursuant to § 925.71 and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 925.82, both applicable to producer milk received during the preceding month; and

(l) Prepare and disseminate to the public such statistics and information as he deems advisable and as do not reveal confidential information.

REPORTS, RECORDS AND FACILITIES

§ 925.30 Monthly reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 6th day of each month and in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, each person who is a handler pursuant to § 925.15 (a), except a producer-handler, shall report for the preceding month to the market administrator with respect to milk and milk products received at each of such handler's fluid milk plants and country plants, and at each of his plants where milk or milk products subject to payments required under § 925.70 (b) were handled, and each cooperative association which is a handler pursuant to § 925.15 (b) shall report with respect to milk diverted on its account during the preceding month, as follows:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers and dairy farmers;

(b) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk and milk products received from other handlers;

(c) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in other source milk received (except Class II milk products disposed of in the form in which received without further processing by the handler);

(d) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to this section, including the pounds of skim milk and butterfat on hand at the beginning and end of each month as milk and milk products;

(e) The aggregate quantities of base milk and excess milk received; and

(f) Such other information with respect to such receipts and utilization as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 925.31 Payroll reports. On or before the 20th day of each month, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for deliveries of the preceding month which shall show:

(a) The total pounds of base milk and the total pounds of excess milk received from each producer, the pounds of butterfat contained in such milk, and the number of days on which milk was delivered by such producer in such month.

(b) The amount of payment to each producer and cooperative association; and

(c) The nature and amount of any deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 925.32 Other reports. At such times and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe:

(a) Each handler shall report to the market administrator such information in addition to that required under § 925.30 as may be requested by the market administrator with respect to milk and milk products handled by him;

(b) Each producer-handler shall report to the market administrator relative to his receipts and utilization of milk and milk products.

(c) As requested by the market administrator, each handler operating a fluid milk plant or country plant shall report the total quantity of milk received from each producer and the number of days of such delivery for each of the months of October 1950 through January 1951, inclusive, together with such other information relating to the computation of bases to be in effect in the March–September 1951 period as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 925.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or to establish the correct data with respect to the information required to be reported pursuant to §§ 925.30, 925.31, and 925.32 and to payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 925.80 through 925.88.

§ 925.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That, if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 925.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received within the month by a handler which is required to be reported pursuant to § 925.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 925.41 to 925.45, inclusive.

§ 925.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 925.42, 925.43 and 925.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat (1) disposed of in the form of milk (including milk frozen), skim milk, buttermilk, yogurt, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, and cream (sweet or sour) except that disposed of pursuant to paragraph (b) (3) of this section, (2) disposed of as any fluid mixture containing cream and milk or skim milk (but not including ice cream or other frozen dessert mixes disposed of to a commercial processor, any mixture disposed of in containers or dispensers under pressure for the purpose of dispensing a whipped or aerated product, or evaporated or condensed products), and (3) not specifically accounted for under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of (or used to produce, in the case of ice cream and frozen desserts and mixes for such products (liquid or powdered), and aerated cream products) as any product other than those included under paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section, (2) disposed of for livestock feed, (3) disposed of in bulk in any of the forms specified in paragraph (a) (1) of this section to bakeries, soup companies, and candy manufacturing establishments in their capacity as such, (4) contained in monthly inventory variations, (5) in actual shrinkage of producer milk computed pursuant to § 925.42 but not in excess of 3 percent of the quantity of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, accounted for pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (except that accounted for pursuant to the parenthetical provision in such subparagraph), and (6) in actual shrinkage of other source milk computed pursuant to § 925.42.

§ 925.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall determine the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk and in other source milk in the following manner:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, between the pounds of producer milk and other source milk after deducting receipts from other handlers.

§ 925.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves that such skim milk and butterfat should be classified as Class II milk.

(b) The burden shall rest upon each handler to establish the sources of milk and milk products required to be reported by him pursuant to § 925.30.

(c) Except as provided in § 925.44 (a) (3) and (c) (1), any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by any handler in another class.

§ 925.44 Transfers. Skim milk and butterfat moved in any of the forms specified in § 925.41 (a) (1) from one plant to another shall be assigned (separately) to each class in the following manner:

(a) From country plants to fluid milk plants and between fluid milk plants:

(1) As Class I milk to the extent Class I milk is available at the transferee plant if the transfer is (i) from a country plant or fluid milk plant located in District No. 1 to any fluid milk plant, (ii) from a country plant not located in district No. 1 to a fluid milk plant located in district No. 2 or district No. 3, or (iii) between fluid milk plants not located in district No. 1.

(2) As Class I milk to the extent Class I milk is available at the transferee plant if the transfer is from a country plant or fluid milk plant not located in district No. 1 to a fluid milk plant located in district No. 1: Provided, That the quantity of Class I milk at the transferee plant available for assignment to the transferor plant shall be limited to the amount remaining after Class I milk in the transferee plant has been assigned first to receipts from country plants located in district No. 1, and then to receipts directly from producers at the transferee fluid milk plant: And provided further, That if such transfers originate with more than one plant not located in district No. 1 the total quantity of Class I milk available for assignment to such plants shall be prorated among such plants in proportion to the respective quantities transferred.

(3) As Class I milk if the transfer is to the plant of a producer-handler.

(b) From a fluid milk plant or country plant to a country plant: As Class II milk: Provided, That (1) the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II milk shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in Class II milk in the transferee plant after the subtraction, pursuant to § 925.45 (b) (2), of other source milk received at such plant, and (2) any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be assigned to Class I milk.

(c) From a country plant or fluid milk plant to a nonpool plant:

(1) As Class I milk if the transfer is to a nonpool plant not located in the marketing area or in the counties of Clallam, Jefferson, Grays Harbor, Kitsap, Island, or Mason in the State of Washington.

(2) As Class I milk if the transfer is to a nonpool plant not located in the marketing area but within the counties named in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which is engaged in the distribution of milk for consumption as fluid milk, unless the receipts and utilization of milk and milk products at the nonpool plant are reported to the market administrator and he is permitted to audit the records of such nonpool plant for the purpose of verification; and if such conditions are met, the milk transferred shall be classified as follows:

(i) The classification of all skim milk and butterfat at such nonpool plant shall be determined on the basis of the classes of utilization set forth in § 925.41; and

(ii) The skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be allocated to Class I milk to the extent available at such plant and any remaining quantity to Class II milk.

(3) As Class II milk if the transfer is to a nonpool plant located in the marketing area or within any of the counties specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which is not engaged in the distribution of milk for consumption as fluid milk: Provided, That if such plant disposes of skim milk or butterfat in any of the forms specified in § 925.41 (a) (1) to any other nonpool plant distributing milk in fluid form which is not located in the marketing area or in the counties specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, such disposition up to the quantity of producer milk transferred to the first nonpool plant shall be classified as Class I milk.

§ 925.45 Computation of the quantity of producer milk in each class. For each handler the market administrator shall:

(a) Correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the monthly report submitted by such handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class;

(b) Allocate skim milk in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk shrinkage allowed pursuant to § 925.41 (b) (5);

(2) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk in Class II milk the pounds of skim milk in other source milk received: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk in other source milk are greater than the pounds of skim milk in Class II milk, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I milk;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, respectively, the skim milk received from other fluid milk plants and country plants and assigned to such class pursuant to § 925.44;

(4) Add to the remaining pounds of Class II milk, the amount subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(5) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk in milk received from producers, subtract such excess (hereinafter referred to as "overage") from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class beginning with Class II milk.

(c) Allocate butterfat in accordance with the procedure prescribed for skim milk in paragraph (b) with this section.

(d) Add together for each class the quantities of skim milk and butterfat in such class computed pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and compute the weighted average butterfat content of such class.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 925.50 Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I prices. The basic formula to be used in computing the price per hundredweight of Class I milk for the current month shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section for the preceding month.

(a) Divide by 3.5 and then multiply by 4.0 the average of the basic, or field, prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from dairy farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarue, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by the market administrator from the following formula:

(1) Multiply the simple average of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the month, by 6;

(2) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the Department, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(3) Divide by 7;

(4) Add 30 percent thereof; and

(5) Multiply by 4.

(c) The price per hundredweight computed by the market administrator from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.8 the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the month: Provided, That, if no price is reported for Grade AA (92-score) butter, the highest of the prices reported for Grade A (92-score) butter for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the simple average of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, subtract 67 cents.

§ 925.51 Class prices. Subject to the differential provided in § 925.52, the following are the minimum prices per hundredweight to handlers for Class I milk and Class II milk:

(a) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus $1.45.

(b) Class II milk. The price for Class II milk shall be that computed by the market administrator from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.8 the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at San Francisco, as reported by the Department during the month: Provided, That, if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the prices reported for Grade A (92-score) butter for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the simple average of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, subtract 80 cents.

§ 925.52 Butterfat differential to handlers. If the average butterfat content of the producer milk of any handler allocated to any class pursuant to § 925.45 is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to the respective class prices computed pursuant to § 925.51 for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 4.0 percent, or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such average butterfat content is below 4.0 percent, a butterfat differential computed by multiplying the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at San Francisco as reported by the Department during the preceding month by the applicable factor listed below and dividing the result by 10:

(a) Class I milk: 1.30;

(b) Class II milk: 1.15.

§ 925.53 Location adjustment credit to handlers. In computing the value of each handler's milk there shall be credited with respect to skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk received at a plant not located in district No. 1 or in the counties of Kitsap and Mason and classified as Class I milk, 25 cents per hundredweight: Provided, That an additional 10 cents shall be credited with respect to skim milk and butterfat so received and classified at any plant located in Clallam or Jefferson Counties.

§ 925.60 Computation of daily base. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section and to the rules set forth in § 925.61, the market administrator shall determine daily bases for producers in the manner provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section:

(a) During each of the months of March through September, inclusive, of each year beginning with 1951, the daily base of each producer whose milk was received by a handler(s) on not less than 90 days during the immediately preceding months of October through January, inclusive, shall be a quantity computed by dividing such producer's total pounds of milk delivered in such four-month period by the number of days from the date of first delivery to the end of such four-month period: Provided, That with respect to any producer on "every-other-day" delivery the days of non-delivery intervening days of delivery shall be considered as days of delivery for the purpose of ascertaining whether delivery was made on 90 days or more pursuant to this paragraph.

(b) During the period from March through September, inclusive, of each year beginning with 1951, the daily base for the current month of any producer who is not eligible to receive a base computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section (including any producer for whom a base may not be computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section because of lack of available information regarding such producer's deliveries in the October 1950–January 1951 period) shall be a quantity computed by dividing such producer's total pounds of milk delivered to a handler(s) in the current month by the number of days from the date of first delivery to the end of such month, and multiplying the result by the percentage applicable for such month computed by the market administrator as follows: Divide the daily average deliveries of milk to handlers by all producers in the period from October of the preceding year through January of the current year, inclusive, by the daily average deliveries of all producers to handlers in the current month and subtract 10 from the figure so obtained: Provided, That for the period March through September 1951 the following percentages shall be used respectively:

Month:	Percentage
July	65
September	85

(c) For the period from the effective date of this part through September 1951 the computations provided by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall be made by the handler, subject to verification by the market administrator. In the event more than one handler has received the milk of any producer during the month, the computations applicable for such month shall be the responsibility of the last handler to receive such milk during the month. Beginning with October 1951 all computations required pursuant to this section shall be made by the market administrator.

§ 925.61 Base rules. The following rules shall be observed in the determination of bases:

(a) A base may be transferred during the period of March through September upon written notice to the market administrator on or before the last day of the month of transfer, but only under the following circumstances:

(1) Upon the death, retirement or entry into military service of a producer, the entire base may be transferred to a member (or members) of his immediate family who continues to supply producer milk from the same farm.

(2) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated the entire base may be transferred as a unit to one of the joint holders or to another producer.

(b) A producer who ceases deliveries to a fluid milk plant or country plant for more than 45 days shall lose his base if computed pursuant to § 925.60 (a) and if he resumes deliveries to such a plant he shall be paid on a base determined pursuant to § 925.60 (b) until he can establish a new base under § 925.60 (a) to begin the next March 1.

(c) By notifying the market administrator prior to the last day of any month in the period March through September, inclusive, a producer having a base established ursuant to § 925.60 (a) may relinquish such base by cancellation, and effective from the first day of the month in which notice is received by the market administrator until the end of such seven-month period such producer's base shall be computed in the manner provided by § 925.60 (b).

(d) As soon as bases computed by the market administrator are allotted, notice of the amount of each producer's base shall be given by the market administrator to the handler receiving such producer's milk and to the cooperative association of which the producer is a member. Each handler, following receipt of such notice, shall promptly post in a conspicuous place at each of his plants a list or lists showing the base of each producer whose milk is received at such plant.

(e) If a producer operates more than one farm he shall establish a separate base with respect to producer milk delivered from each such farm.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 925.70 Computation of value of milk. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the total value of milk received during any month by each handler, including a cooperative association, shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(1) Multiply the pounds of producer milk in each class for such month by the class price (§ 925.51) and add together the resulting amounts;

(2) Deduct the total amount of all location adjustment credits computed in accordance with § 925.53;

(3) Add or subtract, as the case may be, the amount necessary to correct errors as disclosed by the verification of reports of such handler of his receipts and utilization of skim milk and butterfat in previous months for which payment has not been made;

(4) Add, if such handler had overage, an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 925.45 by the applicable class price; and

(5) Add, with respect to other source milk received at such handler's fluid milk plant(s) and country plant(s), respectively, in excess of the total volume of his Class II milk (except allowable shrinkage) at such plant an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of such other source milk by the difference between the Class I milk and Class II milk prices adjusted respectively, by the butterfat differentials provided in § 925.52 (based on the butterfat test of such other source milk), and in the case of a fluid milk plant or country plant not located in district No. 1 or in the counties of Kitsap or Mason, reduced by 25 cents per hundredweight.

(b) The value of milk of each handler at any plant where only other source milk was received and from which, during the month, some other source milk was disposed of within the marketing area as Class I milk pursuant to § 925.41 (a) (1) shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying the hundredweight of such other source milk so disposed of by the difference between the Class I milk and Class II milk prices adjusted, respectively, by the butterfat differentials provided in § 925.52 (based on the butterfat test of such other source milk), and, in the event disposition within the marketing area was only within districts Nos. 2 and 3, reduced by 25 cents per hundredweight.

§ 925.71 Computation of uniform price. For each month the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and excess milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 925.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 925.30 and, after this order has been in effect for two months, who made the payments pursuant to § 925.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of the location adjustments on base milk allowable pursuant to § 925.81 (a).

(c) Add an amount representing not less than one-half the unobligated cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(d) Subtract, if the average butterfat content of the milk represented by the values included under paragraph (a) of this section is greater than 4.0 percent, or add, if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 925.82 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Multiply the hundredweight of excess milk by the Class II price for 4.0 percent milk;

(f) Compute the total value of base milk by subtracting the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section from the net amount computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, That if such result is greater than an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of base milk by the Class I milk price (for 4.0 percent milk), such amount in excess thereof shall be subtracted from the result obtained prior to this proviso;

(g) Divide the net amount obtained in paragraph (f) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk and subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents. This result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight of base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content; and

(h) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (e) of this section plus any amount subtracted pursuant to the proviso of paragraph (f) of this section by the hundredweight of excess milk and subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents. This result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight of excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content.

PAYMENTS

§ 925.80 Time and method of payment to producers and to cooperative associations. (a) On or before the 18th day after the end of each month, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall make payment to each producer, for milk received at his plant from such producer during such month, pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph: Provided, That such payment shall be made, upon request, to a cooperative association, or to its duly authorized agent, qualified under § 925.5 with respect to milk received from each producer who has given such association authorization by contract or by other written instrument to collect the proceeds from the sale of his milk, and any payment made pursuant to this proviso shall be made on or before the 16th day after the end of such month: And provided further, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 925.85, he shall not be deemed to be in violation of this paragraph if he reduces uniformly for all producers his payments per hundredweight pursuant to this paragraph by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payment from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment uniformly to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator:

(1) At not less than the uniform price for base milk for the quantity of base milk received, adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 925.82 and by the applicable location adjustment provided in § 925.81; and

(2) At not less than the uniform price for excess milk for the quantity of excess milk received, adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 925.82.

(b) On or before the 16th day after the end of each month each handler shall pay to each cooperative association which operates a fluid milk plant or country plant, for skim milk and butterfat received from such cooperative association during such month, an amount of money computed by multiplying the total pounds of such skim milk and butterfat in each class (pursuant to § 925.41) by the class price less the amount of the location adjustment credits pursuant to § 925.53.

(c) None of the provisions of this section shall be construed to restrict any cooperative association qualified under section 8c (5) (F) of the act from making payment for milk to its producers in accordance with such provision of the act.

§ 925.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 925.80 (a) (1), deductions may be made per hundredweight of base milk received from producers at the plants and at a rate not in excess of the sum of the rates specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(a) 35 cents at plants located in Clallam and Jefferson Counties, and 25 cents at other plants not located in district No. 1 or in the counties of Kitsap and Mason.

(b) A rate at plants not located in district No. 1 or in the counties of Kitsap and Mason computed by (1) multiplying by 15 cents the hundredweight of butterfat and skim milk shipped to a fluid milk plant in district No. 1 and classified as Class I milk, and (2) dividing the result by the hundredweight of base milk received from producers at the plant from which such shipment was made.

§ 925.82 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 925.80 (a) for base milk and for excess milk, there shall be added to, or subtracted from, the uniform prices thereof for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, a butterfat differential computed by the market administrator as follows: Multiply the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at San Francisco, as reported by the Department during the month in which the milk was received, by 1.3 in the case of base milk, and by 1.15 in the case of excess milk, and, in each case, divide the resulting amount by 10, and round to the nearest tenth of a cent: Provided, That in the months of October through February, inclusive, the butterfat differential to be used pursuant to this section shall be computed by multiplying the butterfat differential for Class I milk by the percentage of butterfat in producer milk classified in such class and the butterfat differential for Class II milk by the percentage of butterfat in producer milk classified in such class, and adding together the resulting amounts.

lish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to § 925.84 and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to § 925.85.

§ 925.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the total value of such handler's milk as determined pursuant to § 925.70 is greater than the value of such handler's producer milk computed at the minimum uniform prices as specified in § 925.80 (a) prior to application of any location adjustment allowed pursuant to § 925.81 (b).

§ 925.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 16th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, the amount, if any, by which the total value of such handler's milk as determined pursuant to § 925.70 is less than the value of such handler's producer milk computed at the minimum uniform prices as specified in § 925.80 (a) prior to application of any location adjustment allowed pursuant to § 925.81 (b), and less any unpaid obligations of such handler to the market administrator pursuant to §§ 925.84, 925.86, 925.87, and 925.88: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

§ 925.86 Adjustments of accounts. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler, (b) such handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred following the 5th day after such notice.

§ 925.87 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than with respect to milk of such handler's own production) pursuant to § 925.80 (a), shall make a deduction of 5 cents per hundredweight of milk, or such amount not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight as may be prescribed by the Secretary, with respect to the following:

(1) All milk received from producers at a plant not operated by a cooperative association; and

(2) All milk received at a plant operated by a cooperative association from producers who are not members of such association.

Such deductions shall be paid by the handler to the market administrator on or before the 14th day after the end of the month. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk received from producers and in providing for market information to producers; such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) In the case of each producer (1) who is a member of, or who has given written authorization for the rendering of marketing services and the taking of deduction therefor to, a cooperative association, (2) whose milk is received at a plant not operated by such association, and (3) for whom the market administrator determines that such association is performing the services described in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall deduct, in lieu of the deduction specified under paragraph (a) of this section, from the payments made pursuant to § 925.80 (a) the amount per hundredweight on milk authorized by such producer and shall pay over, on or before the 13th day after the end of the month, such deduction to the association entitled to receive it under this paragraph.

§ 925.88 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 14th day after the end of each month 4 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all receipts within such month of (a) other source milk classified as Class I milk, and (b) milk received from producers, including such handler's own production.

§ 925.89 Termination of obligations. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 925.90 Effective time. The provisions of this part or any amendment to this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 925.91.

§ 925.91 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provision of this part whenever he finds this part or any provision of this part obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 925.92 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 925.93 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions on this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall if so directed by the Secretary liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 925.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 925.101 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

§ 925.102 Producer-handlers. Sections 925.40 to 925.45, inclusive, 925.50 to 925.53, inclusive, 925.70 to 925.71, inclusive, and 925.80 to 925.89, inclusive, shall not apply to a producer-handler.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1951. Sections 925.1 through 925.19, 925.20 through 925.22 (h), 925.30 through 925.34, 925.40 through 925.45, 925.88, 925.90 through 925.93 and 925.100 through 925.102 shall be effective on and after the 1st day of May 1951 and §§ 925.22 (i), (j), (k), and (l), 925.50 through 925.53, 925.60, 925.61, 925.70, 925.71, 925.80 through 925.87 and 925.89 shall b effective on and after the 1st day of June 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 946—MILK IN THE LOUISVILLE, KY., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

§ 946.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto: and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), public hearings were held at Louisville, Kentucky on December 18–21, 1950 and on March 9 and 14, 1951, upon a proposed amendment to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearings and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make the amendment hereinafter set forth effective not later than May 1, 1951, so as to reflect current marketing conditions. Any delay beyond May 1, 1951, in the effective date of this amendment to the order, as amended, will impede the operations of the fall production incentive plan and seriously threaten the supply of milk for the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendment are well known to handlers—the public hearings having been held on December 18–21, 1950, and March 9 and 14, 1951, the recommended decision having been executed by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration on April 11, 1951, and the decision having been executed by the Secretary on April 23, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective May 1, 1951, and that it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (Sec. 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, 60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1001–1011.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this order, amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (February 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 946.4 (b) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus $1.25.

2. Delete § 946.7 (b) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Subtract for each of the delivery periods of April, May, June, and July an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of milk received from producers by handlers whose milk plants are included under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, by 12 percent of the average of the announced basic formula prices, computed to the nearest cent, for the twelve months of the preceding calendar year.

3. Amend § 946.8 (d) (2) by replacing the words "September, October, and November" and "September, October, or November" in such subparagraph by the words "September, October, November, and December" and "September, October, November, or December" respectively.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1951 to be effective on and after the 1st day of May 1951.

Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.487 Lemon Regulation 380—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on April 25, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 29, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 425 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached to Lemon Regulation No. 379 (16 F. R. 3458), and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66 (7 CFR Part 966) regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient; and this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) (b) of § 966.514 (Orange Regulation 368, 16 F. R. 3507) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. * * *

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.515 Orange Regulation 369—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on April 26, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 29, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: 225 carloads;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 25 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: 100 carloads;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: Unlimited movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: No movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 1,000 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: No movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: No movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "varieties," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended order; and the terms "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," "Prorate District No. 3," and "Prorate District No. 4" shall each have the same meaning as given to the respective terms in § 966.107, as amended (15 F. R. 8712), of the current rules and regulations (7 CFR § 966.103 et seq.), as amended (15 F. R. 8712).

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

PART 978—MILK IN THE NASHVILLE TENN., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

§ 978.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order, amending the order effective May 1, 1951. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to promote the orderly marketing of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area. Any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order will seriously threaten the orderly marketing of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on March 6, 1951, the recommended decision having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 3229) April 12, 1951, and the final decision having been executed by the Acting Secretary on April 20, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date and it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (February 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 978.4 (b) (1) and substitute:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat: (i) Disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drinks, and Yoghurt and (ii) not specifically accounted for as Class II or Class III milk.

2. In § 978.4 (b) delete subparagraph (2) and substitute the following:

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of cream, eggnog and any other cream product disposed of in fluid form which is required by the Nashville Health Department to be made from approved butterfat and skim milk.

3. In § 978.4 (d) delete subparagraph (4) and substitute:

(4) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of any item specified in paragraph (b) (1) of this section and as Class II milk if transferred or diverted in the form of any item specified in paragraph (b) (2) of this section, to a nonfluid milk plant located 85 miles or more from the City Hall in Nashville, Tennessee, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, except in the case of fluid cream only, for the delivery periods of May and June 1951, if (i) the handler reports its use in another class and the operator of the receiving plant certifies to the market administrator in writing not later than the last day of the month next following the month in which such cream was shipped that such cream was used in the class reported by the handler, (ii) the operator of the nonfluid milk plant maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification, (iii) not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was actually utilized in such plant in the use indicated in such certification: Provided, That if upon inspection of the records of such plant it is found that an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was not actually used in such indicated use the remaining pounds shall be classified on the basis of the next highest-priced available use in accordance with the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

4. Delete § 978.7 (b) (3) (ii) and substitute therefor the following:

(ii) For each of the delivery periods of October, November and December, add an amount equivalent to one-third of the total of the three amounts representing the cash balance established, during the delivery periods of April, May and June, immediately preceding, as a fall season production incentive pursuant to subparagraph (5) (ii) of this paragraph.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of May 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

PART 501—AIRCRAFT REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES

REVISION

Part 501 was published on April 30, 1947, in 12 F. R. 2802. The sections thereof were renumbered on July 16, 1949 in 14 F. R. 4369. Notice of proposal to amend the part was published on March 8, 1951, in 16 F. R. 2161. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments. Consideration has been given to all relevant matters presented. Part 501 is hereby revised to read:

Sec.
501.1 Basis and purpose.
501.2 Scope.
501.3 Application.
501.4 Issuance of registration certificates.
501.5 Effective date.
501.6 Transferability.
501.7 Duration.
501.8 Display.
501.9 Invalidation.
501.10 Surrender.
501.11 Notice of change of address.

AUTHORITY: §§ 501.1 to 501.11 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 501, 52 Stat. 1005, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 521.

§ 501.1 Basis and purpose. The basis for this part is found in sections 205 and 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The purpose of this part is to prescribe the regulations under which persons may register aircraft in accordance with the requirements of section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

§ 501.2 Scope. Except as provided in Part 502 of this chapter with respect to Dealers' Aircraft Registration Certificates, the requirements for aircraft registration certificates shall be as prescribed in this part.

§ 501.3 Application. Application for the registration of an aircraft shall be made upon the applicable form prescribed (and furnished) by the Administrator. (See § 406.14 (c) of this chapter.)

§ 501.4 Issuance of registration certificate—(a) New or previously unregistered aircraft. A registration certificate will be issued by the Administrator for aircraft not previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended: Provided, That the applicant:

(1) Mails or delivers a duly executed application for registration to the Administrator accompanied by the required registration fee (see § 406.14 (c) of this chapter); and

(2) Certifies that applicant is a citizen of the United States;[1] and

(3) Submits with the application proof satisfactory to the Administrator that the applicant is the owner of such aircraft.

(b) Previously registered aircraft. A registration certificate will be issued by the Administrator for aircraft previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, if

(1) The applicant mails or delivers a duly executed application for registration to the Administrator accompanied by the required registration fee (see § 406.14 (c) of this chapter); and

(2) The applicant certifies that he is a citizen of the United States; and

(3) The applicant submits with the application for registration a conveyance which meets the requirements prescribed in Part 503 of this chapter, evidencing applicant's ownership of the aircraft; and

(4) The conveyance submitted with the above application establishes in the recordation system of the Administrator, title to the aircraft in the applicant: Provided, That this requirement shall not be applicable to contracts of conditional sale in which the seller is the recorded owner of the aircraft: And provided further, That if for good reason an applicant for registration cannot comply with the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph and this subparagraph, other proof of ownership satisfactory to the Administrator must be submitted.

§ 501.5 Effective date. An aircraft will be deemed to be registered upon the date the documents required by § 501.4 (a) or (b), whichever is applicable, are mailed or delivered to the Administrator.

§ 501.6 Transferability. A registration certificate is not transferable.

§ 501.7 Duration. Upon application for registration made upon the prescribed form, an aircraft may be operated for a period of sixty (60) days pending registration by the Administrator. (See § 406.14 (c) of this chapter.) The registration and the certificate issued by the Administrator pursuant thereto shall remain in effect indefinitely unless suspended or revoked: Provided, That such registration and certificate shall immediately expire on the date:

(a) The aircraft is registered under the laws of any foreign country; or

(b) The registration of the aircraft is canceled at the written request of the owner; or

(c) The aircraft is totally destroyed or scrapped; or

(d) The ownership of the aircraft is transferred.

§ 501.8 Display. The registration certificate issued for any aircraft shall be carried at all times in such aircraft and shall be presented upon request of any duly authorized representative for the Administrator, or any State or municipal official charged with enforcing local laws or regulations involving Federal compliance.

§ 501.9 Invalidation. Any registration of an aircraft shall be null and void if at the time of registration:

(a) The aircraft was registered under the laws of any foreign country; or

(b) The person registered as owner was not the true and lawful owner of the aircraft; or

(c) The person registered as owner was not a citizen of the United States; or the interest of such person in the aircraft was created by any transaction not entered into in good faith, but for the purpose of avoiding, with or without the knowledge of the registered owner, the provision of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, prohibiting the registration of an aircraft in the name of a person not a citizen of the United States.

§ 501.10 Surrender. Upon the suspension, revocation, expiration, or invalidation of a registration certificate, the owner of the aircraft shall, upon request, surrender such certificate to any authorized representative of the Administrator.

§ 501.11 Notice of change of address. The registered owner of any aircraft shall notify the Administrator immediately of any change of address.

This part shall become effective April 28, 1951.

[SEAL] F. B. LEE,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

[F. R. Doc. 51-4635; Filed, Apr. 27, 1951; 8:48 a. m.]

[1] As defined by section 1 (13) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, " 'Citizen of the United States' means (a) an individual who is a citizen of the United States or of one of its possessions, or (b) a partnership of which each member is such an individual, or (c) a corporation or association created or organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory or possession of the United States, of which the president and two-thirds or more of the board of directors and other managing officers thereof are such individuals and in which at least 75 per centum of the voting interest is owned or controlled by persons who are citizens of the United States or of one of its possessions."

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter C—Office of International Trade

PART 371—GENERAL LICENSES

PART 380—AMENDMENTS, EXTENTIONS, TRANSFERS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 371.9 General in-transit license GIT is amended in the following particulars:

a. The note at the end of paragraph (b) Special provisions is amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

This general license GIT is not applicable to shipments to Subgroup A destinations, Hong Kong, and Macao, as provided in Part 384, of this subchapter.

b. Paragraph (c) Excepted commodity list is amended in the following particulars:

The following commodities are added to the list:

Commodity	Schedule B No.	Schedule S No.[1]
Raw cotton, except linters (averaging .740 to .520 pounds per running bale):
American Egyptian (Pima) and Sea Island	3000005 3000006	300 300
Upland, staple length 1⅛ inches and over (U. S. Official Standard)	3002305 3002906	300 300

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of April 19, 1951, except that with respect to the additions of raw cotton and cotton linters Schedule B Numbers 3000051–3004061 to paragraph (c), Excepted commodity list, it shall become effective May 4, 1951.

2. Section 371.23 General license for gift parcels is amended to read as follows:

§ 371.23 General license for gift parcels—(a) Scope of license. A general license is hereby established authorizing the exportation of gift parcels by mail, including parcel post, and air express, addressed to individuals residing in all destinations except Mainland China (including Manchuria) and North Korea;

Provided, That such exportations are made in accordance with the following provisions of this section.

NOTE: The establishment of this procedure does not alter in any respect the provisions of any other general license or other procedure of the Office of International Trade authorizing the exportation of commodities.

Multiple parcels exported in a single shipment for delivery to individuals residing in a foreign country do not fall within the provisions of this general license. Such shipments, unless authorized by one of the other general licenses set forth in this part, must meet validated license requirements, including the submission of a license application in accordance with all of the provisions of Parts 370 through 399 of this subchapter.

(b) Definition. The term "gift parcel" as used in this part means a parcel containing commodities to be sent by an individual in the United States (the donor) free of cost to an individual in a foreign destination (the donee), and must be for the personal use of the donee or his immediate family.

(c) Commodity, weight, and other limitations—(1) Manner of mailing. A gift parcel sent under this general license must be mailed directly to the individual donee by the individual donor, or for such donor by a commercial or other gift-forwarding service or organization. Each gift parcel must show, on the outside wrapper, the name and address of the individual donor, regardless of whether mailed by him or by a forwarding service.

(2) Commodity limitations. Commodities which may be included in each gift parcel under this general license are restricted to those normally sent as gifts, such as food, clothing (other than military), toilet articles, and medicinals and drugs obtainable through regular retail druggists without prescription and bearing directions in the labeling for their use by the lay public. Specifically excluded are military wearing apparel (new and used), Schedule B No. 999930, and all medicinals and drugs requiring prescriptions, including all antibiotics, sulfonamides, and medicinals and drugs intended only for professional use.

(3) Dollar-value limitations. The combined total domestic retail value of all commodities included in a single parcel shall not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25).

(4) Weight limitations. The weight of each gift parcel sent under this general license shall not exceed forty-four (44) pounds if sent by parcel post and twenty-five (25) pounds if sent by air express.

(5) Postal regulations. Gift parcels sent via parcel post under this general license shall conform with applicable Post Office regulations as to size, weight, and permissible contents.

(6) Other limitations. Not more than one gift parcel may be sent by the same donor to the same donee in any one calendar week.

(7) Excluded destinations. Exportations under the authority of this general license may not be made to North Korea,[1] China (including Inner Mongolia, Tsinghai, Sikang, Sikiang), Manchuria (including the former Kwantung Leased Territory), Outer Mongolia, and Tibet, as described in Schedule C of the Bureau of the Census.

(d) General license designation. In addition to bearing the name and address of both the individual donor and individual donee, all gift parcels presented for shipment under this general license must have the notation "Gift—Export License Not Required" written on the addressee side of the package and the word "Gift" written on any required customs or shipper's export declarations.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of April 19, 1951.

3. Section 380.2 Amendments or alterations of licenses is amended in the following particulars:

Paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) are amended to read as follows:

§ 380.2 Amendments or alterations of licenses—(a) Persons authorized to amend licenses. No amendments or alterations of export licenses may be made except by the Department of Commerce or by collectors of customs or postmasters acting under specific instructions from the Department of Commerce.

(b) Where to file—(1) General. All requests for amendments to licenses may be filed with the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. However, certain types of amendments described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph also may be submitted to field offices of the Department of Commerce which are located in the following cities, provided the exportation will be cleared through a port located in the same city in which the field office is located or through a port located in a specified city nearby, as indicated below:

Boston.	Houston (Galveston; Laredo).
New York.	El Paso.
Philadelphia.	Los Angeles.
Jacksonville.	San Francisco.
Miami (Port Everglades; West Palm Beach).	Portland, Oregon.
	Seattle (Tacoma).
New Orleans (Baton Rouge; Morgan City, La.).	Detroit (Port Huron).
	Chicago.
	Cleveland (Toledo).

(2) Amendment requests on which field offices may take action. If the U. S. port of exit is known and the request for amendment to a license involves no change other than the following, the Department of Commerce field offices set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph are authorized to take action on:

(i) Extension of validity period.

(ii) Correction of obvious errors in the license, such as mistakes in typing in name and address.

(iii) Change of quantity or dollar value required as result of factors beyond the control of the licensee, such as unforeseen overruns of the mill. Field offices of the Department of Commerce are limited in their approvals of such amendment requests, however, to specified small percentage increases in the licensed quantity or dollar value.

(iv) Change of the licensee's address: The Department of Commerce field offices are not authorized to take action on requests for amendments to licenses covering exportations to Subgroup A countries, Hong Kong, or Macao unless the amendment involves no more than a correction of obvious errors in the license, such as mistakes in typing.

(3) Requests for amendment of licenses covering shipments to be cleared from any port other than those indicated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be filed with the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C.

(4) Amendment requests shall not be submitted to a field office if the licensee does not know the intended port of exit.

(c) Procedure for submitting requests for amendments—(1) Number of copies. Requests for amendments shall be submitted on Form IT–763, Request for and Notice of Amendment Action, in triplicate. However, when such requests are filed with one of the above-named field offices, a fourth copy must be submitted; this fourth copy may be made on plain, thin, white paper.

(2) Information required. All numbered items shown on IT–763 must be completely filled in on all copies.

(i) The reasons for the requested amendment must be clearly stated in answer to item 6.

In requesting an amendment for change in the purchaser or ultimate consignee, the licensee must comply (a) with the provisions of § 372.3 (d) of this subchapter regarding a statement from the ultimate consignee (purchaser) if the shipment is destined to an R country; and (b) with the provisions of § 373.1 (b) of this subchapter regarding evidence and certification of accepted orders, if applicable to the commodity being exported. Such certification may be made on the back of Form IT–763 or on a sheet attached thereto.

Where the request for amendment involves a change in the country of destination as well as a change in the purchaser or ultimate consignee, the applicant must explain fully the circumstances which prevented shipment to the original country of destination, in item 6 of Form IT–763.

(ii) The address of the collector of customs with whom the license has been or will be deposited must be entered in item 7. If the exporter has not deposited his license with the collector at the intended port of exit, he must do so at the time of submitting his request for an amendment. The licensee must not retain the license when submitting an amendment request. If the exporter does not know the intended port of exit, he shall return his license to the Office of International Trade with his request for amendment on Form IT–763; in which case, the applicant shall enter the word "Unknown" in answer to item 7.

(iii) In completing item 8, "Amend license to read as follows," the applicant must identify that portion of the license upon which amendment is requested and insert the proposed change.

(iv) When requests are filed with one of the above-named field offices of the Department of Commerce, the applicant must indicate on the reverse side of the original of Form IT–763, or on a separate sheet attached thereto, the following additional information:

(a) Country of ultimate destination;

(b) Commodity description and Schedule B number; and

(c) A certification that the amendment requested has not been previously denied by the Washington office of the Office of International Trade and is not currently pending therein.

(3) Signature. The signature of the licensee, or an officer or duly authorized agent of the licensee, must be placed on the original and duplicate copies in the space provided. When such request is submitted by an officer or an agent authorized by the licensee, who may be a freight forwarded, attorney, or any other individual so authorized, he must sign the request by entering the licensee's name and underneath his own signature prefixed by the word "By" and followed by his own title.

For example: Joseph Aloysius Jones,
By. Hamilton Newbold, Agent.

(4) Telegraphic requests. Under emergency conditions, a request for amendment may be made by telegram, and the licensee may include therein a request that the amendment, if approved, be teletyped to the collector of customs. In such instances, the telegram must include the same information required to complete Form IT–763, and, in addition, full information as to the necessity for such type of service, including deadline dates. If the request is submitted by mail on Form IT–763, but emergency clearance by teletype is requested, a letter setting forth full details as to the necessity for such service, including deadline dates, must accompany the request. Telegraphic requests submitted to field offices must also include the additional information required under the provisions of subparagraph (2) (iv) of this paragraph.

NOTE: Requests for amendments by telephone or by letter will not be accepted.

1. Licenses held by collectors—Amendment action by OIT, Washington, D. C.: On an approved request, the Office of International Trade will validate all copies of Form IT–763 by imprinting in the space headed "Validation" a facsimile of the Department of Commerce seal followed by a five-digit number representing the date of validation; the duplicate copy will be forwarded as the official notice of amendment to the collector of customs designated in item 7; the triplicate copy will be forwarded to the individual named in item 4 of IT–763. If the request is rejected, or returned without action, the reasons therefor will be indicated in the upper right-hand corner, and the duplicate and triplicate copies returned to the applicant. Upon request, and where warranted, advice of an amendment action will be dispatched by collect wire to the applicant, and (in the case of approved requests) by teletype to the collector of customs; copies of Form IT–763 then will be mailed in the usual manner and serve as confirmation of wire advices.

Amendment action by field offices: Amendments approved by field offices will be validated differently from those approved by the Washington Office. In place of the facsimile of the Department of Commerce seal and a five-digit number representing the date of the validation, the name of the field office making the amendment will be inserted in the space headed validation. To complete the validation process, the amending officer will insert a serial number in the space provided, sign and date the IT–763, and check the space indicating approval. The original will then be forwarded to the Washington office of the Office of International Trade; the duplicate will be sent to the appropriate collector of customs as the official notice of amendment; and the triplicate (confirmation) copy will be sent to the individual named in item 4 of IT–763. On requests which are rejected or returned without action, the triplicate copy will be returned to the applicant.

2. Licenses sent to OIT. In those cases where the intended port of exit is unknown and the license accompanies Form IT–763, the Office of International Trade, on an approved request, will prepare a new license and forward it to the individual named in item 4 of Form IT–763. However, if the amendment requested is for an extension of validity period, such amendment will be made by typing a new expiration date on the face of the original license.

3. Where to obtain Form IT–763. Form IT–763 is set up in pads of quadruplicates so as to provide a copy for the applicant's file. Sets of the forms may be obtained by writing to any Field Office of the Department of Commerce. (Consult the list on page xvi for address of nearest office.)

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of May 1, 1951.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 146—CERTIFICATION OF BATCHES OF ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 59 Stat. 463, 61 Stat. 11, 63 Stat. 409; 21 U. S. C. and Sup., 357), the regulations for the certification of batches of antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 146.1 et seq. and 1949 Supp.; 15 F. R. 9464; 16 F. R. 2471) are amended as indicated below:

1a. In § 146.27 Penicillin tablets, the first sentence of paragraph (a) Standards of identity, etc., is amended by inserting the words "crystalline penicillin O," between the words "potassium penicillin," and "or procaine penicillin,".

b. Section 146.27 (a), fourth sentence, is amended by inserting the words "crystalline penicillin O," between the words "calcium penicillin," and "or potassium penicillin".

c. In § 146.27, subparagraph (1) (vi) of paragraph (c) Labeling the first and second clauses are amended by changing the words "if crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin is used" to read "if crystalline penicillin or crystalline penicillin O is used", and in the last clause by changing the words "or if crystalline sodium penicillin, potassium penicillin, or procaine penicillin is not used" to read "or if crystalline penicillin, procaine penicillin, or crystalline penicillin O is not used".

d. Section 146.27 (d) (2) (ii) is amended to read:

(d) Request for certification; samples.
(2) * * *

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; potency, toxicity, moisture, pH, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline penicillin G or crystalline penicillin O), crystallinity if it is crystalline penicillin, heat stability if it is crystalline sodium penicillin, potassium penicillin or crystalline penicillin O, the penicillin G content if it is crystalline sodium penicillin G, potassium penicillin G, or crystalline penicillin O, the procaine penicillin G content if it is procaine penicillin G, and the penicillin O content if it is crystalline penicillin O.

2a. In § 146.45 Procaine penicillin in oil, the first clause of the first sentence of paragraph (b) Packaging is amended to read as follows: "The immediate container of procaine penicillin in oil shall be of colorless transparent glass (unless it is packaged to contain a single dose), so closed as to be a tight container as defined by the U. S. P.,".

b. In § 146.45 (b) the third and fourth sentences are amended by changing the word "glass" to read "such."

3. Section 146.46 (c) (1) (iii) is amended to read:

(c) Labeling. (1) * * *
(iii) The statement "Expiration date _____," the blank being filled in, if crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin is used, without a diluent, with the date which is 36 months, or if procaine penicillin is used, without a diluent, with the date which is 24 months, or if a diluent is used, with the date which is 18 months after the month during which the batch was certified;

4. In § 146.47 Procaine penicillin for aqueous injection, the second sentence of paragraph (b) Packaging is amended by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma and by adding the following new clause: "unless it is the aqueous suspension of the drug and it is packaged to contain a single dose."

5. In § 146.50 Procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection, the first sentence of paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows: "Each immediate container shall contain not less than 50,000 units of buffered crystalline penicillin for each 300,000 units of procaine penicillin."

6. Part 146 is amended by adding the following new sections:

§ 146.61 Penicillin for animal feed; streptomycin for animal feed; dihydrostreptomycin for animal feed; aureomy-

cin for animal feed; chloramphenicol for animal feed; bacitracin for animal feed. Penicillin, streptomycin, dihydrostreptomycin, aureomycin, chloramphenicol, or bacitracin intended for use solely as an ingredient in the manufacture of animal-feeding supplements and conspicuously so labeled, shall be exempt from the requirements of sections 502 (l) and 507 of the act, if it contains one or more suitable denaturants that makes it unfit for human use. But in no case shall it be exempt from such requirements if it is represented for use (a) in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease; or (b) as an ingredient for animal feed that is intended for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease.

§ 146.62 Animal-feed containing penicillin; animal feed containing streptomycin; animal feed containing dihydrostreptomycin; animal feed containing aureomycin; animal feed containing chloramphenicol; animal feed containing bacitracin. Animal feed containing penicillin, streptomycin, dihydrostreptomycin, aureomycin, chloramphenicol, or bacitracin intended for use solely as an animal-feeding supplement shall be exempt from the requirements of sections 502 (l) and 507 of the act. But in no case shall such animal feed be exempt from such requirements if it is represented for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease.

7. In § 146.106 Streptomycin sulfate • • • , the last clause of the second sentence of paragraph (b) Packaging is amended to read: "unless it is packaged to contain a single dose."

8. The headnote of § 146.403 is amended to read as follows:

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 371)

This order, which provides for exemption from certification of antibiotic drugs to be used solely as an ingredient in the manufacture of animal feed supplements and conspicuously so labeled, provided they contain one or more suitable denaturants making them unfit for human use and provided they are not represented for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease; for exemption from certification of animal feed containing antibiotic drugs provided it is not represented for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease; for certification of crystalline penicillin O tablets; for modification of the packaging requirements for procaine penicillin in oil, procaine penicillin for aqueous injection, procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection, streptomycin sulfate and dihydrostreptomycin sulfate solution; for a change in the expiration date of certification of procaine penicillin for inhalation therapy from 18 to 24 months; and for use of the term "bacitracin vaginal supositories" in lieu of the term "bacitracin tablets" when such tablets are represented for vaginal use, shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industries will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industries and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for exemption from certification of antibiotic drugs to be used solely as an ingredient in the manufacture of animal feed supplements and conspicuously so labeled, provided they contain one or more suitable denaturants making them unfit for human use and provided they are not represented for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease; for exemption from certification of animal feed containing antibiotic drugs provided it is not represented for use in the cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease; for certification of crystalline penicillin O tablets; for modification of the packaging requirements for procaine penicillin in oil, procaine penicillin for aqueous injection, procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection, streptomycin sulfate and dihydrostreptomycin sulfate solution; for a change in the expiration date of certification of procaine penicillin for inhalation therapy from 18 to 24 months; and for use of the term "bacitracin vaginal suppositories" in lieu of the term "bacitracin tablets" when such tablets are represented for vaginal use.

Dated: April 24, 1951.

Administrator.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VII—Department of the Air Force

Subchapter F—Reserve Forces

PART 864—ENLISTED RESERVE

VOLUNTARY ENTRY ON ACTIVE DUTY (21 MONTHS)

Sections 864.51 to 864.63 are hereby added to Part 864 as follows:

VOLUNTARY ENTRY ON ACTIVE DUTY (21 MONTHS)

Sec.
864.51 Purpose.
864.52 Eligibility.
864.53 Ineligibility.
864.54 Physical qualifications.
864.55 Applications.
864.56 Channels of communication.
864.57 Orders.
864.58 Effective date of duty.
864.59 Grade.
864.60 Pay.
864.61 Promotion.
864.62 Discharge or relief from active duty.
864.63 Enlistment in the Regular Air Force.

AUTHORITY: §§ 864.51 to 864.63 issued under R. S. 161, sec. 202, 61 Stat. 500, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22, 171a. Interpret or apply sec. 2, Pub. Law 599, 81st Cong.

DERIVATION: AFR 39-48.

§ 864.51 Purpose. Sections 864.51 to 864.63 implement the Selective Service Act of 1948, as amended (62 Stat. 604, Pub. Law 599, 81st Cong.; 50 U. S. C., App. 451-471) by the establishment of criteria and procedures whereby enlisted members of the United States Air Force Reserve voluntarily may be ordered to active duty with the Air Force for a period of 21 months.

NOTE: The provisions of the regulations contained in §§ 864.51 to 864.63 are not to be confused with the separate provisions of §§ 864.13 to 864.25 (32 CFR, 1949 Supp., 864.16-864.25; 14 F. R. 5525) which pertain to the Air Force Reserve Training Center program.

§ 864.52 Eligibility—(a) General. To be eligible for active duty under the provisions of §§ 864.51 to 864.63 the applicant must:

(1) Be an enlisted member of the United States Air Force Reserve.

(2) Meet the general qualifications for enlistment under the provisions of Part 571 of Chapter V of this title.

(3) Meet the same mental and educational standards which are prescribed for enlistment in the Regular Air Force.

(4) Have a minimum of 21 months remaining in his current inactive Reserve enlistment. Enlisted Reservists may be discharged from the United States Air Force Reserve for the convenience of the Government prior to expiration of term of enlistment and be reenlisted in the United States Air Force Reserve for three years in order to permit the applicant to qualify for the 21-month active duty tour.

(b) Retired airmen. In addition to meeting the requirements of subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, airmen retired under the provisions of section 4, 59 Stat. 539, as amended; 10 U. S. C. 948, must have less than 27 years' service (to include active service and service on the retired list) at the time of entry into active military service.

§ 864.53 Ineligibility. The following enlisted Reservists are not eligible for entry into active military service under the provisions of §§ 864.51 to 864.63.

(a) Those below grades 5, 6, or 7 who have three or more dependents.

(b) All females who have children under 18 years of age. A woman who has any legal or other responsibility for the custody, control, care, maintenance, or support of any child or children, including step-children or foster children will not be ordered into active military service. Women who have surrendered all rights to custody and control of natural children through formal adoption or final divorce proceedings may be accepted.

(c) Those who are retired enlisted personnel with over 27 years' service or those enlisted personnel retired under the provisions of current directives.

§ 864.54 Physical qualifications. (a) Unless evidence of an acceptable physical examination within the preceding 90 days is presented, enlisted Reservists ordered to active duty will complete Standard Form 89, "Report of Medical History" and undergo a medical examination in accordance with prescribed standards.

(b) Determination of physical fitness will be made at processing station or first duty station within 72 hours after reporting.

(c) Physically disqualified Reservists will be relieved from active duty and returned to their homes on orders issued by the appropriate agency.

§ 864.55 Applications—(a) Contents. Applicants will submit a letter of request containing the following information:

(1) Full name, grade (Reserve) and Air Force serial number.
(2) Home address and mailing address.
(3) Air Force Specialty.
(4) General Classification Test Score.
(5) Educational level.
(6) Number of months of oversea duty.
(7) Age.
(8) Marital status and the number, age, and relationship of dependents.
(9) Sex.

(b) Approval. The approval of an application by the applicant's organization commander with respect to members of the Organized Air Reserve does not insure that the applicant will be ordered to active duty, as selections are based on the over-all need of the Air Force.

(c) Reporting change of status. Any change of status which might affect the applicant's entry on active duty will be reported by him to the commanding general of the numbered air force to whom he submitted his application.

§ 864.56 Channels of communication. The letter of application will be submitted by enlisted Reservists of the Organized Air Reserve to the commanding general of the numbered air force of the Continental Air Command in whose area they reside through the commanding officer of the activity to which assigned. The letter of application from all other enlisted Reservists will be submitted direct to the commanding general of the numbered air force of the Continental Air Command in whose area they reside. Upon receipt of a letter of application submitted under the provisions of §§ 864.51 to 864.63 the commanding general of the appropriate numbered air force will:

(a) Screen the application and personnel records, including the 201 file, of the applicant to insure that he meets the necessary qualifications, other than physical, as set forth in §§ 864.51 to 864.63.

(b) Issue orders directing the enlisted Reservist to report to the Air Force processing station nearest his home for classification, delay action, and completion of a physical examination. Upon completion of administrative processing and satisfactory completion of the physical examination, the enlisted Reservist normally will return to his home to await orders effecting his re-entry into active military service.

§ 864.57 Orders. (a) Orders effecting the entry into active military service of enlisted Reservists may be issued by the Commanding General, Continental Air Command, and numbered air forces under his command, the Air Force Reserve Training Centers for personnel assigned to reserve units of their respective United States Air Force Reserve wings, and processing squadrons for Reservists who have previously been processed during short periods of active duty.

(b) Orders will be issued as far in advance of the effective date of duty as possible. A minimum period of 30 days must elapse between the date the Reservist receives orders and the date on which he must report for extended active duty.

(c) Travel by private automobile at the rate of 300 miles a day may be authorized.

§ 864.58 Effective date of duty. The effective date of duty is the date the enlisted Reservist is to depart from his home in compliance with orders. Enlisted Reservists departing from their home in advance of the effective date of duty do so at their own risk in event of injury or cancellation of orders.

§ 864.59 Grade. Reservists accepted for active duty under the provisions of §§ 864.51 to 864.63 will be ordered into active military service in the grade which they hold in the United States Air Force Reserve.

§ 864.60 Pay. Pay begins to accrue on the date that the enlisted Reservist physically departs from his home in compliance with orders, provided departure is not prior to the effective date of duty.

§ 864.61 Promotion. Promotion of enlisted Reservists on active duty with the Air Force will be controlled by current Air Force policies governing promotion of airmen.

§ 864.62 Discharge or relief from active duty. The discharge of enlisted Reservists during their 21-month tour of active duty will be in accordance with current directives which govern the discharge of Regular Air Force personnel. Personnel completing their active duty tours will not be discharged but will be relieved from active duty and furnished Department of Defense Form 217AF, "Certificate of Service."

§ 864.63 Enlistment in the Regular Air Force. Reservists accepted for active military service under the provisions of §§ 864.51 to 864.63 may be enlisted in the Regular Air Force under the provisions of Part 883 of this chapter (16 F. R. 641). Separation for the purpose of immediate enlistment will be effected under the provisions of current directives.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amdt. 4]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR FILING; AND WHOLESALE PRICES FOR BRANDED ARTICLES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 4 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1872) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment extends until May 30, 1951, the date by which retailers under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 must file their pricing charts. Although retailers for the categories originally listed in the regulation had their filing time extended by a previous amendment, the addition to the coverage of the regulation of many new categories of merchandise imposed an additional burden, which requires the extension here granted. This was especially true for sellers brought under the coverage of the regulation for the first time by the addition of categories under Amendment 2, effective April 10, 1951. Although most retailers will not require the additional time extended to them by this amendment, the Director believes that the extension here granted will be ample for all.

Section 43 of the regulation provides for the establishment of fixed retail resale prices of branded articles by special orders. In operating under that section the Director has encountered in a number of situations a manufacturer's practice of fixing not only uniform prices at retail but a similar line of prices at the wholesale level as well. This practice has been incidental to the fixing of the uniform retail prices, and its continuation appears to be desirable and necessary for efficient pricing of branded lines. Accordingly, section 43 has been amended to permit the Director, when he fixes uniform prices for branded articles at retail, to likewise establish for those articles uniform prices for sales at wholesale.

The amendment makes one additional change in the regulation. Section 16 (a) was originally inserted into the regulation to provide relief for retailers who, up to the time they were frozen under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, had maintained their prices notwithstanding the receipt of goods at increased costs. The provision stated that if a retailer had received an invoice subsequent to January 1 but his price on the list date was unchanged from his initial offering price based on the next to the last invoice, he could list the net cost on the next to the last invoice. The relief provision just quoted, of course, would not be effectual to any practical extent in the case of cost listings for the list date on March 31, 1951. In order to give the same measure of relief to the sellers for whom the list date is March 31, 1951, as is afforded to sellers whose list date is February 24, 1951, the existing provision has been amended to provide that in the situation described above, the seller may use as his net cost the net cost on the next to the last invoice received prior to February 24, 1951.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

1. Section 5 is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951."

2. Section 11 (a) is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951."

3. Section 11 (b) is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951."

4. Section 11 (c) is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951."

5. Section 12 is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951," and by changing the date "May 30, 1951" to "June 30, 1951."

6. Section 16 (a) is amended by inserting in the second sentence after the clause "next to the last invoice which you had received for that article" the phrase "prior to February 24, 1951," and by inserting at the end of the sentence after the word "invoice" the phrase "received prior to February 24, 1951."

7. Section 43 is amended in the following respects: (a) In section 43 (a) insert the phrase "and ceiling prices for sales at wholesale for the same articles" after the phrase "prices for branded articles" in the first sentence.

(b) Add a new subparagraph (3) to paragraph (a) of section 43 to read as follows:

(3) If the applicant had a policy of uniform prices for sales at wholesale for his branded merchandise for a period immediately prior to January 26, 1951 and can establish that the merchandise when resold at wholesale was sold at substantially uniform prices, except for a limited area, the OPS in establishing uniform retail ceiling prices for the merchandise may also establish uniform resale wholesale ceiling prices for the merchandise.

(c) Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of section 43 is amended to read as follows:

(1) An order may be issued under this section establishing uniform ceiling prices for all retail sales or sales at wholesale of an article covered by this regulation, although such sales may not otherwise be subject to this regulation.

(d) In section 43 (b) (2) insert the word "generally" after the phrase "under this section."

(e) In section 43 (b) (4) add the following sentence: "Such an order in appropriate instances may also establish wholesale ceiling prices."

(f) In section 43 (d) (2) (iv) insert the phrase "and wholesalers" after the word "retailers."

(g) In section 43 (d) (2) add a new subdivision (vi) to read as follows: (vi) His suggested price for sales at wholesale, if any, immediately prior to January 26, 1951 (including evidence to show his method of price maintenance), or if he had no such suggested price prior to January 26, 1951, or did not attempt to enforce such suggested price but can show that the merchandise was sold at substantially uniform prices, he should submit evidence similar to that specified for retail prices in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph.

(h) In section 43 (d) (3) insert the phrase "and wholesale" after the word "retail."

8. Section 52 (a) (2) is amended by changing the date "April 30, 1951" to "May 30, 1951."

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This Amendment 4 shall become effective on the 27th day of April 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 3 to Supplementary Regulation 1 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1895) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment reflects action taken in an amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 issued simultaneously herewith, extending the dates for filing list date charts and reports and for acknowledging those charts and reports to May 30, 1951, and June 30, 1951, respectively. The grounds for the extension are stated in the concurrently issued amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 6 (c) (1) is amended by substituting the date May 30, 1951, for the date April 30, 1951.

2. Section 6 (c) (3) is amended by substituting the date June 30, 1951, for the date May 30, 1951.

3. Section 6 (d) is amended by substituting the date June 30, 1951, for the date May 30, 1951.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-19 as Amended April 26, 1951]

M-19—CADMIUM

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this amendment has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action and because the order affects a large number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-19 as follows: It relaxes the limitations on the use of cadmium to permit cadmium plating of additional items in section 5, and makes certification unnecessary in connection with delivery of subassemblies which are ready for assembly into final end-products. As so amended, NPA Order M-19 reads as follows:

Sec
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Use of cadmium.
4. Production of cadmium-containing items.
5. Production of cadmium-plated products.
6. Delivery of cadmium, cadmium-containing items, or cadmium-plated products.
7. Defense orders for cadmium-containing items and cadmium-plated products.
8. Inventories.
9. Applications for adjustment or exception.
10. Records and reports.
11. Communications.
12. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order controls deliveries of cadmium from a producer or distributor. The order also states the purposes for which cadmium, cadmium-containing items, and cadmium-plated items may be produced. In addition, the order imposes inventory controls on cadmium.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Cadmium" means all grades of metallic cadmium, oxide, or plating salts produced directly from ores, concentrates, or other primary materials, or redistilled, remelted, or otherwise recovered from cadmium scrap or any secondary cadmium-bearing material; and cadmium-bearing materials suitable for the manufacture of pigments.

(d) "Distributor" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying cadmium and selling the same in forms suitable for general fabrication or electroplating. It also includes laboratory supply houses to the extent they are engaged in buying and selling cadmium in any form to laboratories.

SEC. 3. Use of cadmium. No person may use any cadmium in any fashion except to produce the cadmium-containing items listed in section 4 of this order or to produce an electroplated coating on the products listed in section 5, and then only to the extent necessary to meet applicable specifications or for the proper service performance of the end-products. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a person may use cadmium in laboratories for research, control, analysis, synthesis, assaying, or educational work. The provisions of sections 4, 5, and 6 do not prohibit the completion of items containing cadmium or cadmium-plated products not listed in sections 4 or 5 if they were in the process of manufacture on or before January 1, 1951, and such completion is effected not later than January 31, 1951.

SEC. 4. Production of cadmium-containing items. No person shall produce any cadmium-containing item except those listed in paragraphs (a) through (p) of this section, and then only for the purposes and subject to the qualifications set forth in said paragraphs (a) through (p):

(a) Pigments for the following:

(1) Luminescent paint for military uses.

(2) Luminescent printing ink for military uses.

(3) Luminescent paper for military and Government Printing Office uses.

(4) Luminescent plastic for military uses.

(5) Signal and illuminating glassware for safety, religious, military, and industrial uses.

(6) Thermometer tubing.

(7) Rubber sea buoys.

(8) Dental purposes.

(9) Artists' colors.

(10) X-ray fluoroscopic screens for medical purposes.

(11) Luminescent coatings for cathode ray tubes, except tubes to be used in signs, lighting fixtures, or lamps.

(12) Pigments for all other purposes: Provided, however, That no person shall use in any one month in the production of pigments for such other purposes a quantity of cadmium by weight in excess of 40 percent of his average monthly use of cadmium for such purposes during the base period.

(b) Silver brazing alloys containing no more than 19 percent by weight of cadmium (except that silver solder containing not in excess of 95 percent cadmium may be used where centrifugal stresses are encountered at operating temperatures over 500° F.).

(c) Copper-base alloys containing no more than 1.25 percent by weight of cadmium for the following:

(1) Current carrying parts of electrical current interruption devices to the extent that sufficient contact pressure cannot be maintained in service with other less critical materials.

(2) Parts inside electronic tubes.

(3) Resistance welding electrodes.

(4) Overhead electrical contact wire in railroad (including industrial and mines), streetcar, and trolley bus systems.

(5) Multistrand railroad signal bond wire.

(6) Shunt wire leads for motors and generators.

(7) Flexible terminals of resistors, condensers, and field coils.

(d) Low melting point alloys for the following:

(1) Dry-type rectifier elements.

(2) Fire protective systems, safety devices, and electrical fuses.

(3) Plugs for screwless fasteners in rimless metal spectacles.

(4) Dental use.

(5) Seals between brass and glass parts of liquid high voltage fuses.

(e) Low melting point alloys containing no more than 10 percent by weight of cadmium for the following:

(1) Plastic fire control instruments for the mounting of optics.

(2) Gold alloy for gold-filled spectacle frames.

(3) The manufacture of inspection gauges.

(4) Bending of thin wall tubes.

(5) Bending of finished roll-formed and extruded shapes.

(f) Low melting point alloys containing no more than 6.5 percent by weight of cadmium for the following:

(1) Anchorage of punch press dies and bushings in drill jigs.

(2) Location of control points and surfaces (except floor grouting) in construction of fixtures.

(g) Zinc-base alloys, containing no more than 0.5 percent by weight of cadmium, for rolling.

(h) Type metal containing no more than 0.5 percent by weight of cadmium.

(i) Lead-base alloys, containing no more than 3 percent by weight of cadmium, for the coating of copper wire.

(j) Items classified as secret, to the extent that certification of engineering necessity accompanies orders issued by the military services of the United States, the Atomic Energy Commission, or the United States Coast Guard.

(k) Standard cells.

(m) Cadmium-impregnated carbon or cadmium-silver alloys for use as contacts in electric current interruption devices.

(n) Bearings for rolling mills and heavy duty diesel engines.

(o) Cadmium chemicals for any use other than the manufacture of pigments or for use in the manufacture of pigments permitted under paragraph (a) of this section. The manufacturer of cadmium chemicals may sell such chemicals without requiring the certificate called for in section 6: Provided, however, No person may sell such chemicals if he knows or has reason to know that they will be used in the manufacture of pigments not permitted by paragraph (a) of this section.

(p) Copper tinsel wire containing not more than 1 percent cadmium by weight.

SEC. 5. Production of cadmium-plated products. No person shall produce any cadmium-plated product except those listed in paragraphs (a) through (y) of this section and then only for the purposes and subject to the qualifications set forth in said paragraphs (a) through (y):

(a) Functional parts which in service are subjected to frequent and extended periods of intermittent immersion in sea water or wet sprays of sea water to the extent that other finishes cannot be used for reasons of close tolerance or performance.

(b) Heddles and pin boards used in textile plants to the extent that corrosive action makes the use of other materials impracticable.

(c) Ferrous hardware parts in direct contact with fabric or leather to be used on the following:

(1) Aircraft parachutes.

(2) Aircraft safety belts.

(3) Aircraft shoulder harnesses.

(4) Aircraft bomb slings.

(d) Moving parts which require close tolerances for proper functioning and on parts adjacent to such moving parts to the extent that the tolerances cannot be maintained in service with other finishes because of mechanical or electrical interference by the products of corrosion or wear.

(e) Operating parts of electric controllers and switches.

(f) The following ferrous parts which in service reach a temperature of 500° F. or higher and on parts in contact with such ferrous parts:

(1) Aircraft parts requiring corrosion protection.

(2) Functional parts subject to the combined effect of corrosion and stress.

(g) Parts which serve to maintain an electrical contact for the suppression of radio interference to the extent that one of the contacted surfaces is aluminum, magnesium, or their alloys.

(h) Electrical contact parts of aircraft ignition harnesses and propeller hubs.

(i) Parts of electrical equipment to the extent that they, for performance reasons, must be soldered with the use of non-corrosive fluxes and where other finishes do not provide required corrosion protection.

(j) The following parts of electronic equipment:

(1) Surfaces involved in unsoldered butt joints which must remain constant in electrical or radio frequency resistance or both.

(2) Surfaces which require good conductivity for radio frequency current.

(3) Non-ferrous parts in contact with aluminum parts for prevention of electrolytic corrosion.

(k) Ferrous nuts, bolts, screws and other threaded parts, washers, hi-shear rivets, lock bolts, and cotter pins for use in aircraft.

(l) Nuts, bolts, machine screws, and studs having threads $\frac{3}{8}$-inch diameter and smaller and/or having 16 or more threads per inch for use in ship construction by the United States Army and Navy, Maritime Administration, and the United States Coast Guard.

(m) Parts subject to frictional contact at least one of which is a moving part to the extent that other finishes of required thickness and corrosion protective value cause gouging, seizure, or binding.

(n) Parts which in service are subjected to the corrosive action of chlorine except on items which contact chlorine only during laundry operations.

(o) Parts of items classified as secret, to the extent that certification of engineering necessity accompanies orders issued by the military services of the United States, the Atomic Energy Commission, or the United States Coast Guard.

(p) Ferrous springs (including lock washers), and parts which of necessity have been assembled with such springs before the plating operation, to the extent that other finishes do not provide necessary corrosion protection during use, and where their application causes embrittlement of the spring which cannot be removed satisfactorily by low temperature heat treatment.

(q) Carburetor and magneto parts for aircraft engines, and parts of automotive and aircraft fuel pumps which come in contact with fuel.

(r) Hose clamps for aircraft.

(s) External parts of engines for combat aircraft, excluding attachments which are not integral parts of the engine proper, such as clips, clamps, lugs, and further excluding such parts on which alternative finishes have proven satisfactory in service and newly designed parts performing similar functions.

(t) Hydraulic fitting coupling sleeves made of copper-base alloys for use in aircraft.

(u) Electrical contact parts which touch parts of aluminum, magnesium, or their alloys.

(v) Threaded fittings of gray and malleable iron to the extent that other finishes do not provide required corrosion protection and tolerance.

(w) Synthetic yarn and cotton twisters.

(x) High carbon wire for carding.

(y) Aircraft battery hold-down bars.

SEC. 6. Delivery of cadmium, cadmium-containing items, or cadmium-plated products. (a) Commencing on April 1, 1951, no person may deliver cadmium or any cadmium-containing item or cadmium-plated product unless he obtains directly, or through a dealer, from the person who will receive delivery thereof a signed certification as follows:

The undersigned, subject to statutory penalties, certifies that the cadmium, cadmium-containing items, and cadmium-plated products herein ordered will be used by the undersigned only for the purposes and to the extent permitted by NPA Order M-19.

This certification constitutes a representation to the seller and to the National Production Authority that the cadmium, cadmium-containing items, and cadmium-plated products delivered will be used only for purposes permitted by this order and that such use is not prohibited by other applicable orders or regulations of the National Production Authority.

(b) The provisions of this section will not apply to deliveries of: (1) Cadmium to any agency of the United States for its stockpile of strategic materials; (2) cadmium, cadmium-containing items, or cadmium-plated products for purposes of resale only; (3) cadmium-containing items or cadmium-plated products in connection with retail sales; or (4) finished subassemblies ready for assembly by purchaser into final end-product.

SEC. 7. Defense orders for cadmium-containing items and cadmium-plated products. Notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 which establishes a priorities system, unless otherwise directed by the National Production Authority, rated orders calling for cadmium-containing items or cadmium-plated products are subject to the provisions of sections 4, 5, and 6 of this order.

SEC. 8. Inventories. No person obtaining cadmium, cadmium-containing items, or cadmium-plated products for any purpose may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of such materials if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation during the succeeding 30-day period. NPA Reg. 1, relating to inventory control, will apply to such materials except as otherwise provided by this section.

SEC. 9. Applications for adjustment or exception. (a) Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that any provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

(b) To enable the National Production Authority to evaluate applications for adjustment or exception in cases where it is not practicable to substitute other less scarce materials for cadmium, such applications in the form of requests for authorization to use cadmium for purposes not permitted by this order should be forwarded to the National Production Authority by letter, in duplicate, setting forth the following information:

(1) Period of time, not exceeding 6 months, for which adjustment is requested.

(2) Quantity of cadmium applicant proposes to consume monthly (i) for purposes permitted by this order and (ii) for purposes covered by the application, stating the sources from which the latter cadmium will be obtained.

(3) Description (and for cadmium-containing alloys, the alloy composition), function, specification number, and cadmium requirement of each part or of each group of parts fulfilling related functions.

(4) The "DO" symbol, if the order or contract bears a "DO" classification.

(5) Justification, including reasons why substitutes are not satisfactory; e. g., faulty performance, lack of facilities, or shortage of manpower.

(6) Such other information as the applicant may wish to submit.

SEC. 10. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act. (Public Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139-139F)

SEC. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-19.

SEC. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act.

This order, as amended, shall take effect, except as otherwise specifically stated, on April 26, 1951.

[NPA Order M-49 as Amended April 28, 1951]

M-49—COLUMBIUM AND TANTALUM

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, in the formulation of this order, as amended, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of its issuance has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the order affects a large number of different trades and industries, and because of the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-49, dated March 15, 1951, by amending sections 5 (c) and 7; by redesignating section 10 as section 10 (b) and adding a new paragraph designated as (a) to said section 10. As so amended NPA Order M-49 reads as follows:

12. Communications.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve and to provide for the distribution and use of "columbium and tantalum," as hereinafter defined, so as best to serve the interests of the national defense program and of defense supporting activities. It makes "columbium and tantalum" subject to allocation. It prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, deliveries of "columbium and tantalum," except by authorizations to be issued monthly by the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA").

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order: (a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Columbium and tantalum" means and includes ferrocolumbium, ferrotantalum, and ferrocolumbium-tantalum.

SEC. 3. Relation to other regulations and orders. The provisions of this order supersede NPA Order M-3 and all other NPA regulations and orders to the extent that they are in conflict herewith, but in all other respects such regulations and orders continue in full force and effect. The NPA may, from time to time, issue directives as to deliveries or use of "columbium and tantalum" and, unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

SEC. 4. Substitution required. No person, whether pursuant to a DO rated order or otherwise, shall incorporate any "columbium and tantalum" into any product or material in any case in which the incorporation of a substitute or substitutes will meet the requirements for use to be made of any such product or material.

SEC. 5. Allocation authorization required. (a) After April 1, 1951, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use "columbium and tantalum" in any month except in accordance with the terms of an allocation authorization issued for such month by NPA in accordance with this section. In the case of a person who keeps separate inventory records for any separate operating or producing units, each such separate operating or producing unit shall be deemed a person for purposes of this section.

(b) NPA may, from time to time, allocate the supply of "columbium and tantalum" and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses may be made or withheld. Any person seeking to place a purchase order for "columbium and tantalum" may be required to place the same with one or more particular suppliers.

(c) An application for an allocation must be filed with NPA by the applicant on Forms NPAF-15 and NPAF-41, not later than the seventh day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is sought. Such application must furnish all information required by said forms.

(d) The authorization allocation (Form NPAF-41) issued will be sent by NPA to the appropriate supplier or suppliers and a copy furnished to the purchaser. The authorization will require a supplier to make delivery to the extent of the purchaser's orders within the limits of the authorization.

SEC. 6. Exceptions to allocation requirements. The provisions of section 5 of this order shall not apply to:

(a) Deliveries to the General Services Administration, or any other duly authorized governmental agency, for the purpose of stockpiling.

(b) Deliveries to any person whose total receipts from all sources during the current calendar month are not thereby made to exceed 10 pounds of contained "columbium and tantalum," and who delivers a signed certification to his supplier as follows:

Certified under M-49

Such certification constitutes a representation to the supplier and to the NPA that the purchaser is authorized under the provisions of this order to accept delivery of "columbium and tantalum" as permitted hereby, and that his receipt of the shipment in the amount requested, during the month of specified delivery, will not bring his total receipts of "columbium and tantalum" during that month above 10 pounds (columbium and tantalum content).

(c) Deliveries of columbium- and tantalum-bearing scrap: Provided, That any such scrap which is fit for re-melting must be disposed of in such a manner that it will be used in the production of columbium- and tantalum-bearing steel.

(d) Deliveries of columbium- and tantalum-bearing ores and concentrates by any producer, dealer, or processor.

(e) Deliveries of the pure metal tantalum or columbium in any amount.

SEC. 7. Limitations on inventory. No person shall place an order for "columbium and tantalum" calling for delivery, and no person shall accept delivery of "columbium and tantalum" at a time when his inventory exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery, would be made to exceed 45 days' requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation. Any person who, on the effective date of this order or at any other time, has outstanding orders for "columbium and tantalum" calling for delivery earlier or in quantities greater than he would be permitted to receive under this section, shall forthwith notify his supplier of the extent to which delivery cannot be accepted as scheduled, and such orders shall be adjusted accordingly. Imported as well as domestic "columbium and tantalum," except when such imported "columbium and tantalum" has been purchased for resale, is subject to this section and so is to be included in computing inventory as aforesaid. "Columbium and tantalum" which has been subjected to minor processing, but has not yet been actually incorporated into a finished or partially finished product, is likewise to be included in computing inventory. This section is applicable irrespective of whether or not any such orders or deliveries are made in accordance with an allocation authority.

SEC. 8. Records to be kept. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 9. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 10. Reports. (a) Every person who at any time in a calendar month had in his possession or under his control or who, during a calendar month, consumed more than 10 pounds of columbium and tantalum shall report to NPA on Form NPAF-15 on or before the seventh day of the following month. However, if he applies on such form for an allocation of columbium and tantalum for delivery during a succeeding month, his application serves also as the required report.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for an adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-49.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority, or who willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 26, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

Chapter X—Defense Solid Fuels Administration, Department of the Interior

[Solid Fuels Order 2]

SFO 2—DIRECTIVES FOR SPECIFIC SHIPMENTS OF SOLID FUELS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, it was impracticable to consult with industry representatives because the order merely makes provision for the issuance of specific directives for the delivery of solid fuels in individual cases as the needs of the national defense may require.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 9 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950 (15 F. R. 6105); sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951 (16 F. R. 61); DPA Del. 1, Jan. 24, 1951 (16 F. R. 738), as corrected February 5, 1951.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order establishes procedures for the issuance, from time to time as necessary, by DSFA of directives requiring or forbidding specific deliveries or shipments of solid fuels by or to any person.

SEC. 2. Definitions: As used in this order:

(a) "DSFA" means Defense Solid Fuels Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) "Solid Fuels" includes all forms of anthracite, bituminous, sub-bituminous and lignitic coals, and coke.

(c) "Person" means any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, association, or any other form of entity, public or private.

SEC. 3. Directives. Whenever it finds it to be necessary in the interest of the national defense, DSFA may issue directives requiring or forbidding specified shipments or deliveries of solid fuels. Any such directive shall set forth therein:

(a) The name and address of the person to whom it is directed;

(b) The quantity and kind of solid fuels directed to be shipped;

(c) The name and address of the person to whom the solid fuels shall be shipped; and

(d) If the directive contains a requirement to divert shipments, the name and address of the person from whom the shipment will be diverted.

Such directives may be sent by mail or by telegram. Copies thereof shall be sent to all persons named therein.

SEC. 4. Compliance with directives. When a person receives a directive, he shall comply with it fully and completely. If he is unable, for any reason, to so comply, he shall promptly notify DSFA by registered mail or telegram, or as otherwise directed in the directive, setting forth the reason for such inability. Any shipment made under any such directive shall be on terms mutually satisfactory to the shipper and purchaser, but in no event shall the price exceed the lawful ceiling price and charges for the solid fuels shipped.

SEC. 5. Exemption from damages or penalties. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties under any contract for any default which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with the provisions of any directive issued under this order.

SEC. 6. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order, or by any directive issued hereunder, may file with DSFA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that its enforcement against him would be unduly prejudicial and not in the interest of the national defense. In considering any such request, consideration will be given to the requirements of the defense program and the public health and safety.

SEC. 7. Reports and records. Each person participating in any transaction ordered by a directive issued under this order, shall promptly notify DSFA in writing as to whether the terms of the directive have been complied with. Each such person shall also retain in his possession for at least two years records of each shipment or receipt of solid fuels shipped pursuant to such directive. All such records shall be made available at such persons' usual place of business for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of DSFA.

SEC. 8. Violations. Any person who wilfully fails to comply with the provisions of this order or with any directive issued under this order, or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order or any directive issued pursuant to this order, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of solid fuels or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of priorities assistance.

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications concerning this order or any directive issued pursuant to this order shall be addressed to "Defense Solid Fuels Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C."

This order shall take effect on April 30, 1951.

DEFENSE SOLID FUELS ADMINISTRATION,
CHAS. W. CONNOR,
Defense Solid Fuels Administrator.

TITLE 36—PARKS, FORESTS, AND MEMORIALS

Chapter I—National Park Service, Department of the Interior

PART 20—SPECIAL REGULATIONS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Paragraph (c), entitled Speed, of § 20.5, entitled Mount Rainier National Park, is amended to read as follows:

(c) Speed. The maximum speed of automobiles and other vehicles, except ambulances and Government cars on emergency trips, shall not exceed the following prescribed limits:

(1) On curves which are posted as dangerous, 15 miles per hour.

(2) Over that portion of U. S. Highway No. 410 from the north park boundary to its junction with the East Side Road at Cayuse Pass, 50 miles per hour.

(3) Over roads other than that portion of U. S. Highway No. 410 mentioned in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, 35 miles per hour unless a lower maximum permissible speed is posted.

(4) Trucks of a ton and one-half capacity or over, 30 miles per hour.

(5) Cars towing trailers or other cars or vehicles of any kind, 30 miles per hour.

2. Paragraph (b), entitled Fishing, of § 20.7, entitled Rocky Mountain National Park, is amended to read as follows:

(b) Fishing. (1) Along the eastern shores of Shadow Mountain Lake and the Granby Reservoir fishing shall be done in conformity with the laws and regulations of the State of Colorado only.

(2) Elsewhere in the Park, fishing shall be done in conformity with the laws and regulations of the State of Colorado regarding hours for fishing, minimum size limits, and the method of handling and returning undersized fish to the water: Provided, however, That the following additional restrictions shall be applicable:

(i) The open season for fishing shall begin with the opening date set by the State of Colorado for areas adjacent to the Park and shall end at sunset on September 30.

(ii) The use of seines, throw lines, set lines, or any other method of catching fish, except by rod and line held in the hand, is prohibited.

(iii) The use of minnows, small fish, or eggs, of any kind or type as bait, or the release or freeing thereof in any of the waters is prohibited.

(iv) The number of fish that may be taken by any person in any one day is limited to 10 fish (not exceeding a total of 10 pounds). The possession of more than one day's catch by any person at any one time is prohibited.

(v) Fishing in rearing ponds or other posted waters is prohibited.

(vi) Tonahutu Creek is closed to fishing for a distance of 3 miles upstream from the park boundary.

3. Section 20.13 entitled Yellowstone National Park, is amended as follows:

a. Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b), entitled Speed, is amended to read as follows:

(2) On the Norris Junction-Canyon Junction road and the Mammoth-North Entrance road, 30 miles per hour.

b. Paragraph (e), entitled Fishing, is amended as follows:

Subdivision (i) of subparagraph (2), entitled Limited open season, is amended to read as follows:

(i) All streams emptying into Yellowstone Lake, including the mouths of such streams, the Yellowstone River and its tributaries from a point 10 yards above Fishing Bridge to the Upper Falls at Canyon are open to fishing from sunrise on July 1 to sunset on October 15: Provided, however, That fishing is prohibited in Yellowstone River for a distance of 250 yards on either side of the center of Yellowstone Cascades.

Subparagraph (5) entitled Limit of catch and in possession, is amended to read as follows:

(5) Limit of catch and in possession. The limit of catch per day by each person fishing, and the limit of fish in possession at any one time by any one person, shall be 10 pounds of fish (dressed weight with heads and tails intact), plus one fish, not to exceed a total of 5 fish.

Subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (6), entitled Restriction on use of bait, is amended to read as follows:

(ii) Only artificial flies, with a single hook, may be used as lures in the Firehole River, Madison River, Squaw Lake, and that section of the Gibbon River extending from the mouth of the stream to the crest of Gibbon Falls. The use of any lures, other than artificial flies, in these waters is prohibited.

4. Subparagraph (1), entitled Open season, of paragraph (a), entitled Fishing, of § 20.16, entitled Yosemite National Park, is amended to read as follows:

(1) Open season. The open season for fishing within the Park shall begin with the opening date set by the California State Fish and Game Commission for areas adjacent to the Park and shall end one hour after sunset on October 15.

5. Paragraph (b), entitled Fishing, of § 20.22, entitled Grand Teton National Park, is amended to read as follows:

(b) Fishing. (1) Snake River for a distance of 135 feet from the lower face of the Jackson Lake Dam and Cottonwood Creek from a point 100 feet above the Boat Dock at the outlet of Jenny Lake to a point 100 feet below the CCC Bridge behind the Jenny Lake Store are closed at all times to fishing. All other waters within the Park (Drainage Area 1) shall be open to fishing from July 1 to October 31, inclusive, with the following exceptions:

(i) The First, Second, and Third Creeks, Spring Creek, Teton Lodge Ponds, Swan Lake at Moran, Braman McKinstry and Two Ocean Creek, J O Ponds, Moose Ponds, Beaver Ponds, Sawmill, Huckleberry and Schoolhouse Ponds, Jenny, String, Leigh, and Phelps Lakes, and the Farrel and Allen Budge Ponds will open May 1 and close October 31.

(ii) Jackson Lake shall be open during the calendar year except during the period from September 10 to October 31, inclusive.

(2) Only one artificial fly or lure such as a spinner, wobbler or plug with a single hook may be used, except in Jackson Lake where one multiple hook may be used. Dead minnows may be used also in Jackson Lake only.

(3) With the exception of Jackson Lake where the limit of catch and possession limit for any person per day is six fish, the limit of catch per person per day elsewhere in the Park is six fish and a possession limit of not more than two days' catch.

(4) The seining or trapping of fish in the Park is prohibited, except by special permission of the Superintendent.

(5) Use of rafts or boats propelled by any type of motor is prohibited on Leigh Lake and the use of rafts or boats of any type is prohibited within 500 feet of the lower face of Jackson Lake Dam.

(Sec. 3, 39 Stat. 535, as amended; 16 U. S. C. 3)

Issued this 20th day of April 1951.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR, Part 18]

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND ALTERATION OF AIRFRAMES, POWERPLANTS, PROPELLERS, AND APPLIANCES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board a revision of Part 18 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received by May 31, 1951, will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules. Copies of the communications received will be available after June 5, 1951, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Currently effective Part 18 establishes rules and procedures for the maintenance, repair, and alteration of certificated aircraft, aircraft engines, propellers, and instruments and describes the various operations constituting routine maintenance, repairs, and alterations.

On December 9, 1949, there was circulated for public comment a proposed revision of this part. As a result of our consideration of the comments received, we have made major changes in the proposed regulatory plan in this field. It is our opinion that the revised proposal published herein meets basic industry conditions and needs as indicated in response to our previous notice of proposed rule making. However, we believe it desirable, under current circumstances, to resubmit our revised proposals for public comment so that we may be fully advised of the adverse effect, if any, of this proposal on the ability of the agencies and individuals affected to do the important work in support of our defense effort to which so many of them are now assigned.

The revision hereby proposed restates and clarifies the standards for the performance of maintenance, repair, and alteration of any certificated aircraft or component thereof. It also sets forth the classes of persons authorized to perform and to approve maintenance, repair, and alteration operations, and describes the required records.

The revised part, with certain exceptions, provides that only certificated mechanics, persons operating under the supervision of certificated mechanics, or repair stations shall be authorized to work on aircraft or aircraft components. The pertinent exceptions are pilots who will be authorized to perform certain preventive maintenance functions on their personally owned aircraft[1] and manufacturers who will be permitted to rebuild or alter their own products, without obtaining repair station certificates, when utilizing the same personnel and processes as are used in the current manufacture of the same or closely related products. In addition, except as hereinbefore indicated as permissive work by manufacturers, the part restricts the performance of work on instruments and the making of major repairs and alterations on propellers to appropriately rated repair stations. (See proposed Part 52, F. R. Doc. 51-4922, promulgated concurrently herewith for new requirements for certification of repair agencies.)

[1] Preventive maintenance is defined to mean simple or minor preservation operations and the replacement of small standard parts not involving complex assembly operations. It is anticipated that the Administrator will publish, as part of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18, the various operations constituting preventive maintenance of the several types of aircraft.

We are also requiring that an aircraft be flight tested only after it has undergone major repair or major alteration operations, thus eliminating the requirement that an aircraft be test flown after it has undergone maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration operations. Further, we are deleting the requirement now contained in § 18.12 that a private pilot shall have at least 200 hours of pilot time before being eligible to conduct a flight test on aircraft after certain repairs or alterations, because this requirement has, in effect, been superseded by the more recently adopted provisions of § 43.21 which contains no such requirement.

The proposed revision of Part 18 is set forth below.

This revision is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 302, 601-610, 52 Stat. 985, as amended, 1007-1012, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 452, 551-560)

Dated April 23, 1951, at Washington, D. C.

By the Bureau of Safety Regulation.

[SEAL] JOHN M. CHAMBERLAIN,
Director.

PART 18—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND ALTERATION OF AIRFRAMES, POWERPLANTS, PROPELLERS, AND APPLIANCES

§ 18.0 Applicability of this part. This part establishes rules for the performance of maintenance, repair, and alteration of aircraft for which airworthiness certificates have been issued by the Administrator, or any component thereof.[2]

§ 18.1 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the words listed below shall be defined as follows:

(1) Aircraft. An aircraft shall mean any contrivance now known or hereafter invented, used, or designed for navigation of or flight in the air, including airframe, powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(2) Airframe. Airframe shall mean all parts of an aircraft less powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(3) Alteration. An alteration shall mean any appreciable change in the design of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.

(4) Appliances. Appliances shall mean instruments, equipment, apparatus, parts, appurtenances, or accessories, of whatever description, which are used, or are capable of being or intended to be used, in the navigation, operation, or control of aircraft in flight (including communication equipment, electronic devices, and any other mechanism or mechanisms installed in or attached to aircraft during flight, but excluding parachutes), and which are not a part or parts of airframes, powerplants, or propellers.

(5) Approved. Approved, when used either alone or as modifying such words as aircraft, airframe, powerplant, propeller, appliances, methods, or techniques, shall mean approved by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics in accordance with the applicable requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

(6) Authorized representative of the Administrator. An authorized representative of the Administrator shall mean any employee of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, or any private person authorized by the Administrator to perform any of the duties delegated to the Administrator by the provisions of this part.

(7) Certificated mechanic. A certificated mechanic shall mean a mechanic holding a mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(8) Certificated repair station. A certificated repair station shall mean a repair station holding a repair station certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(9) Component. A component shall mean a constituent part of an aircraft.

(10) Maintenance. Maintenance, which includes preventive maintenance, shall mean the inspection, upkeep, and preservation of airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances, including the replacement of parts.

(11) Major alteration. A major alteration of an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean

(i) An alteration which results in an appreciable change in its weight, balance, structural strength, powerplant operation, or flight characteristics, or an alteration which creates a possible hazard, or

(ii) An alteration which cannot be executed by means of elementary operations.

(12) Major repair. A major repair to an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean a repair the accomplishment of which might affect the basic structure and or the performance of an aircraft or any component thereof.

(13) Manufacturer. A manufacturer shall mean any person who

(i) Holds a production certificate for an aircraft, airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance and manufactures such aircraft, airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance in accordance with the terms of such production certificate, or

(ii) Manufactures an appliance in accordance with the terms and specifications of an applicable Technical Standard Order issued by the Administrator.

(14) Minor alteration. A minor alteration of an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean an alteration other than a major alteration, including any alteration which can be executed by means of elementary operations.

(15) Minor repair. A minor repair shall mean any repair other than a major repair.

(16) Person. Person means any individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint-stock association, or body politic; and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other similar representative thereof.

(17) Powerplant. Powerplant shall mean an aircraft engine and its component parts, less propeller.

(18) Preventive maintenance. Preventive maintenance shall mean simple or minor preservation operations and the replacement of small standard parts not involving complex assembly operations.

(19) Propeller. Propeller shall mean a device for propelling an aircraft through the air, having blades mounted on a power-driven shaft, which when rotated produces by its action on the air a thrust approximately parallel to the longitudinal axis of the aircraft.

(20) Repair. Repair shall mean the restoration of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance to a condition for safe operation after damage or deterioration.

(21) Type. Type shall mean all aircraft of the same basic design, including all modifications thereto except those modifications which result in a change in handling or flight characteristics.

PERFORMANCE RULES

§ 18.10 Standard of performance; general. All maintenance, repair, and alterations shall be accomplished in accordance with approved methods, techniques, and practices.

§ 18.11 Standard of performance; maintenance and repair. All maintenance and repair shall be accomplished in such a manner and the materials used shall be of such quality and strength that the condition of the part of the aircraft on which such work has been performed shall, with regard to aerodynamic and mechanical function, structural strength, resistance to vibration and deterioration, and other qualities affecting airworthiness, be at least equivalent to its original or properly altered condition.

§ 18.12 Standard of performance; alterations. All alterations shall be so designed and accomplished that the altered airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance will comply with the airworthiness requirements for the airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.[3]

§ 18.13 Persons authorized to perform maintenance, preventive maintenance, repair, and alterations.[4] (a) Except as

[2] The Administrator will publish Civil Aeronautics Manual 18 which sets forth a list of operations considered to be maintenance (including preventive maintenance), repair, and alteration. This manual may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

[3] For those major alterations for which it would be desirable to secure prior approval by the Administrator, refer to CAM 18.

[4] The Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission require that all transmitter adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing, or maintenance of a radio station licensed by the Federal Communications Commission, which may affect the proper operation of such station, shall be made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class radio operator license issued by the Federal Communications Commission, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph, as may be appropriate for the class of station concerned, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment.

provided in paragraphs (b) and (c), of this section no person shall perform maintenance, preventive maintenance, repair, or alterations on civil aircraft of United States registry.

(b) An appropriately rated certificated mechanic, a person who works under the direction supervision of such a mechanic, or an appropriately rated repair station may perform maintenance, preventive maintenance, repair, and alterations[5] on aircraft or aircraft components for which rated as provided in Parts 24 and 52 of this chapter, respectively: Provided, That instrument repair and alterations and propeller major repair and major alterations, except where rebuilt or altered by the original manufacturer, shall be performed only by a certificated repair station having the proper rating.

(c) A certificated pilot may perform, on aircraft owned or operated by him, such preventive maintenance as may be authorized by the Administrator.

(d) A manufacturer may rebuild or alter a product when such work is performed in the same manner and by the same personnel as are engaged in the current manufacture of the same or closely related products. In all other cases a manufacturer shall be subject to the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section.

§ 18.14 Persons authorized to approve maintenance, repair, and alterations. (a) Any airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance which has undergone maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration may be approved and returned to service by any person authorized to perform such work or by an appropriately rated certificated repair station.

(b) No airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance, which has undergone any major repair or major alteration shall be returned to service until examined, inspected, and approved as airworthy by an authorized representative of the Administrator or, where the work has been performed by them, by certificated repair stations or original manufacturers of the airplane, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.

§ 18.15 Flight tests. When an aircraft has undergone any major repair or major alteration, such aircraft, prior to carrying passengers, shall be test flown by at least a private pilot appropriately rated for such aircraft. The pilot shall make a written notation in the aircraft repair and alteration records to the effect that he has flown such aircraft and has found the flight operation to be satisfactory.[6]

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND ALTERATION RECORDS

§ 18.20 Required records. (a) A permanent record of every maintenance, repair, or alteration of any airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance shall be kept. When major repairs and major alterations result in any change in the aircraft limitations or data contained in the aircraft flight manual, appropriate amendments shall be made thereto.

(b) No record of any preventive maintenance of any airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance need be kept.

§ 18.21 Content of repair and alteration records. (a) The record of all maintenance, repair, rebuilding, and alteration, of any airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance or the installation or removal of an appliance shall contain the information set forth in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph:

(1) An adequate description of the work performed,

(2) The date of completion of the work performed,

(3) The name of the individual, repair station, or manufacturer performing the work,

(4) The signature, and if a certificated mechanic the certificate number, of the person approving as airworthy the work performed and authorizing the return of the aircraft or component to service.

§ 18.22 Form and disposition of repair or alteration records. (a) All major repairs and major alterations of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance shall be entered on a form prescribed by the Administrator. Such form shall be executed in duplicate; the original shall be delivered to the owner of the aircraft so repaired or altered, and a duplicate shall be delivered to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

(b) The record of maintenance, minor repairs, and minor alterations of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance may be kept in any suitable form: Provided, That such form contains at least the information specified by § 18.21.

§ 18.23 Records maintained by scheduled air carriers. A scheduled air carrier may establish its own system for recording repairs and alterations: Provided, That the information specified in § 18.21 is furnished.

MECHANIC CERTIFICATES AND LIMITED MECHANIC CERTIFICATES WITH PROPELLER AND APPLIANCE RATINGS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board a revision of Part 24 of the Civil Air Regulations and an extension of Special Civil Air Regulation SR-348.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received by May 31, 1951, will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules. Copies of the communications received will be available after June 5, 1951, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Currently effective Part 24 establishes requirements for the certification and rating of aircraft mechanics and aircraft engine mechanics. It also provides that an individual, in order to return to service any aircraft or component thereof which has undergone any maintenance, repair, or alteration, is required to hold a mechanic certificate with an aircraft and/or an aircraft engine rating. However, Special Civil Air Regulation SR-348, effective until July 31, 1951, authorizes the issuance of limited mechanic certificates with propeller and aircraft appliance ratings to individuals who supervise the inspection, repair, or overhaul of propellers or appliances performed by manufacturers or certificated repair stations, and exempts such individuals from meeting the certificate requirements of Part 24. Thus, a limited mechanic is relieved from the requirements that he have a specified amount of experience and skill and accomplish successfully prescribed theoretical and skill examinations.

On December 9, 1949, there was circulated for public comment a proposed revision of this part. As a result of our consideration of the comments received, we have made major changes in the proposed regulatory plan in this field. It is our opinion that the revised proposal published herein meets basic industry conditions and needs as indicated in response to our previous notice of proposed rule making. However, we believe it desirable, under current circumstances, to resubmit our revised proposals for public comment so that we may be fully advised of the adverse effect, if any, of this proposal on the ability of the agencies and individuals affected to do the important work in support of our defense effort to which so many of them are now assigned.

The revision of Part 24 establishes requirements for the issuance of mechanic certificates and ratings for mechanics, delineates the privileges of such certificates, and establishes basic operating rules for the holders thereof.

In view of the almost unanimous adverse reaction from all industry segments to our original proposal to issue propeller, radio, instrument, and accessory ratings to individual mechanics, we have decided to provide standards for mechanic certificates with only airframe and powerplant ratings (corresponding exactly to current aircraft and engine ratings, respectively). However, in proposed Part 52 (F. R. Doc. 51-4922, infra) we have made provision for the issuance to repair stations of propeller, radio, instrument, and accessory ratings of several different classes, and in proposed Part 18 (F. R. Doc. 51-4924, supra), we have required that instrument repair and alterations and major propeller repairs and alterations be performed by a certificated repair station. Part 52 makes the repair station responsible for the competence of its personnel directly in charge of its certificated activities, and provides for the designation as certificated airmen of individuals selected and warranted as competent by the repair station.

However, since Part 52 provides that its provisions shall not become applicable to a given repair station until a reinspection and issuance of a new certificate have been accomplished by the Administrator, we propose to extend the provisions of Special Regulation SR-348 for another year.

The revised part requires an applicant to take a practical examination appropriate to the rating sought. It is intended that this examination will be designed to permit an applicant to demonstrate that he possesses a well-rounded, basic knowledge of the work which the rating applied for authorizes him to perform. It is believed that all examinations serving to qualify an individual for a mechanic certificate should be conducted by the Administrator to insure that all applicants meet the same general standards.

We believe that current holders of mechanic certificates are able to meet these requirements, and we have, therefore, provided that these individuals may exchange such certificates for certificates issued in accordance with this part.

Revised Part 24 also specifies the recent experience requirements which must be met by each certificated mechanic before he is considered qualified to exercise the privileges of his certificate and ratings. These are similar to those currently contained in Part 24. Subject to these recent experience requirements, the holder of a certificate and rating could work on any category of aircraft without specific authorization therefor being endorsed on his certificate or rating.

Although the part does not provide for the issuance of mechanic certificates on the basis of competence gained while in the armed forces of the United States, the experience gained while in the armed forces may be credited toward the total experience required for a particular rating.

The proposed revision of Part 24 is set forth below.

This revision is proposed under authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

PART 24—MECHANIC CERTIFICATES

§ 24.0 Applicability of this part. This part establishes requirements for the issuance of mechanic certificates and ratings, delineates the privileges of such certificates, and establishes basic operating rules for the holders thereof.

§ 24.1 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the words listed below shall be defined as follows:

(1) Accessory. An accessory shall mean an appliance other than an instrument, radio, radar, or device for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(2) Aircraft. An aircraft shall mean any contrivance now known or hereafter invented, used, or designed for navigation of or flight in the air, including airframe, powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(3) Airframe. Airframe shall mean all parts of an aircraft less powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(4) Alteration. An alteration shall mean any appreciable change in the design of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.

(5) Appliances. Appliances shall mean instruments, equipment, apparatus, parts, appurtenances, or accessories, of whatever description, which are used, or are capable of being or intended to be used, in the navigation, operation, or control of aircraft in flight (including communication equipment, electronic devices, and any other mechanism or mechanisms installed in or attached to aircraft during flight, but excluding parachutes), and which are not a part or parts of airframes, powerplants, or propellers.

(6) Approved. Approved, when used either alone or as modifying such words as aircraft, airframe, powerplant, propeller, appliance, methods, or techniques, shall mean approved by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics in accordance with the applicable requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

(7) Authorized representative of the Administrator. An authorized representative of the Administrator shall mean any employee of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, or any private person authorized by the Administrator to perform any of the duties delegated to the Administrator by the provisions of this part.

(8) Certificated mechanic. A certificated mechanic shall mean a mechanic holding a mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(9) Certificated repair station. A certificated repair station shall mean a facility for the maintenance, repair, and alteration of airframes, powerplants, propellers, or appliances, holding a repair station certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(10) Component. A component shall mean a constituent part of an aircraft.

(11) Instrument. An instrument shall mean a device utilizing internal mechanism to indicate visually or aurally the attitude, altitude, performance, or operation of an aircraft or any component thereof, and shall include radar instrumentation and devices for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(12) Maintenance. Maintenance, which includes preventive maintenance, shall mean the upkeep and preservation of airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances, including the replacement of parts.

(13) Major alteration. A major alteration of an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean:

(i) An alteration which results in an appreciable change in its weight, balance, structural strength, powerplant operation, or flight characteristics; or

(ii) An alteration which cannot be executed by means of elementary operations.

(14) Major repair. A major repair to an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean a repair the accomplishment of which might affect the basic structure and/or the performance of an aircraft or any component thereof.

(15) Minor alteration. A minor alteration of an aircraft or any component thereof shall mean an alteration other than a major alteration, including any alteration which can be executed by means of elementary operations.

(16) Minor repair. A minor repair shall mean any repair other than a major repair.

(17) Powerplant. Powerplant shall mean an aircraft engine and its component parts, less propeller.

(18) Preventive maintenance. Preventive maintenance shall mean simple or minor preservation operations and the replacement of small standard parts not involving complex assembly operations.

(19) Propeller. Propeller shall mean a device for propelling an aircraft through the air, having blades mounted on a power-driven shaft, which when rotated produces by its action on the air a thrust approximately parallel to the longitudinal axis of the aircraft.

(20) Radio. Radio shall mean an appliance for the transmission and reception of signals by means of electric waves without a connecting wire.

(21) Repair. Repair shall mean the restoration of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance to a condition for safe operation after damage or deterioration.

CERTIFICATION RULES

§ 24.5 Application for certificate. Application for certificates and ratings shall be made on a form and in a manner prescribed by the Administrator.

§ 24.6 Issuance. (a) Mechanic certificates and ratings shall be issued by the Administrator to applicants who meet the requirements of this part.

(b) Pending a review of an application and supporting documents by the Administrator and the issuance of a mechanic certificate and ratings, an authorized representative of the Administrator may, subject to such terms and conditions as the Administrator may specify, issue a temporary mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings to an applicant for a mechanic certificate and ratings who has met the requirements of this part.

§ 24.7 Duration. (a) A mechanic certificate and ratings shall remain in effect until surrendered, suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated by order of the Board, except that a certificate issued to an individual other than a United States citizen shall remain in effect for only one year. After revocation, and upon request of the Administrator after suspension, the certificate shall be returned to the Administrator.

(b) A temporary mechanic certificate shall remain in effect for 90 days.

§ 24.8 Outstanding mechanic certificates and ratings. After the effective date of this part a person holding a mechanic certificate with an aircraft mechanic rating shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with an airframe rating, a person holding a mechanic certificate with an aircraft engine mechanic rating shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with a powerplant rating, and a person holding a mechanic certificate with aircraft mechanic and aircraft engine mechanic ratings shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with both airframe and powerplant ratings. The Administrator may, in such form and manner as he may establish, require the exchange of outstanding certificates for certificates issued in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 24.9 Display. When issued to the individual, the mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings shall be in the personal possession of the mechanic at all times while exercising the privileges of such certificate, and shall be available for inspection by any authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board, or by any authorized State or local law enforcement officer.

§ 24.10 Change of address. Within 30 days after any change in the permanent mailing address of a holder of a mechanic certificate, the holder shall notify the Administrator in writing of such change. Such notice shall be mailed to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, Attention Airman Records Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

GENERAL CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

§ 24.15 Citizenship. An applicant shall be a citizen of the United States or of a foreign government which grants or has undertaken to grant reciprocal mechanic certificate privileges to citizens of the United States on equal terms and conditions with citizens of such foreign government.

§ 24.16 Age. An applicant shall be at least 18 years of age.

§ 24.17 Education. An applicant shall be able to read, write, speak, and understand the English language. Provided, That if an applicant is employed by a United States air carrier holding a mechanic certificate which authorizes him to perform inspections required by the Administrator, and his duties require him to perform such inspections in the English language, he may be issued a certificate with the limitation that he exercise the privileges of his certificate only in the performance of such duties.

§ 24.18 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate within 120 days after graduation shall be issued a certificate with such ratings as are appropriate to the curriculum from which he graduated, if he passes the written, oral, and practical examinations prescribed by the Administrator for the issuance of such certificate and ratings. Failure to apply within the 120-day period or failure to pass the prescribed examinations shall require the graduate to meet the requirements of § 24.19.

§ 24.19 Experience requirements. An applicant who does not meet the requirements of § 24.18 shall present documentary evidence satisfactory to the Administrator of at least 18 months of practical experience in the construction, maintenance, or alteration of aircraft or aircraft components for the rating or ratings sought. Provided, That the Administrator may reduce the experience requirements of this section by not more than 6 months for applicants who have successfully completed a course of training at a school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter.

§ 24.20 Application for additional rating. An applicant for a rating subsequent to the original issuance of a mechanic certificate with appropriate rating shall meet the knowledge, experience, and skill requirements for the rating applied for.

§ 24.21 Substantiation of experience. An applicant shall submit evidence satisfactory to the Administrator to substantiate the experience qualifications for the mechanic certificate and rating applied for.

§ 24.22 Ratings. The following mechanic ratings shall be issued:

(a) Airframe,

(b) Powerplant.

MECHANICAL KNOWLEDGE, EXPERIENCE, AND SKILL REQUIREMENTS

§ 24.30 Mechanical knowledge. An applicant for a mechanic certificate with airframe or powerplant rating shall successfully accomplish a written and oral examination prescribed by the Administrator covering the construction, maintenance, repair, and inspection of the part of an aircraft appropriate to the rating sought, the provisions of this part, the applicable provisions of Part 43 of this chapter, and the provisions of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18.

§ 24.31 Mechanical experience. (a) An applicant for a mechanic certificate with either an airframe or powerplant rating shall have had at least 18 months of practical experience with the procedures, practices, materials, tools, machine tools, and equipment generally used in the inspection, maintenance, repair, and alteration of airframes or powerplants, respectively.

(b) The experience required for each rating shall be acquired in the exclusive performance of the duties appropriate to such rating: Provided, That an applicant for an airframe and a powerplant rating must for issuance each rating, if he has performed concurrently the duties appropriate to both such ratings for at least 30 months.

§ 24.32 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate within 120 days after graduation shall be issued a certificate with such ratings as are appropriate to the curriculum from which he graduated, if he passes the written, oral, and practical examinations prescribed by the Administrator for the issuance of such certificate and ratings. Failure to apply within the 120-day period or failure to pass the prescribed examinations shall require the graduate to meet the requirements of § 24.33.

§ 24.33 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate with airframe or powerplant rating shall successfully accomplish a written and oral examination prescribed by the Administrator covering the construction, maintenance, repair, and inspection of the part of an aircraft appropriate to the rating sought, the provisions of this part, the applicable provisions of Part 43 of this chapter, and the provisions of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18.

§ 24.34 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate within 120 days after graduation shall be issued a certificate with such ratings as are appropriate to the curriculum from which he graduated, if he passes the written, oral, and practical examinations prescribed by the Administrator for the issuance of such certificate and ratings. Failure to apply within the 120-day period or failure to pass the prescribed examinations shall require the graduate to meet the requirements of § 24.35.

§ 24.35 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate with airframe or powerplant rating shall successfully accomplish a written and oral examination prescribed by the Administrator covering the construction, maintenance, repair, and inspection of the part of an aircraft appropriate to the rating sought, the provisions of this part, the applicable provisions of Part 43 of this chapter, and the provisions of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18.

§ 24.36 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate within 120 days after graduation shall be issued a certificate with such ratings as are appropriate to the curriculum from which he graduated, if he passes the written, oral, and practical examinations prescribed by the Administrator for the issuance of such certificate and ratings. Failure to apply within the 120-day period or failure to pass the prescribed examinations shall require the graduate to meet the requirements of § 24.37.

§ 24.37 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate with airframe or powerplant rating shall successfully accomplish a written and oral examination prescribed by the Administrator covering the construction, maintenance, repair, and inspection of the part of an aircraft appropriate to the rating sought, the provisions of this part, the applicable provisions of Part 43 of this chapter, and the provisions of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18.

§ 24.38 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school certificated under Part 53 of this chapter who applies for a mechanic certificate within 120 days after graduation shall be issued a certificate with such ratings as are appropriate to the curriculum from which he graduated, if he passes the written, oral, and practical examinations prescribed by the Administrator for the issuance of such certificate and ratings. Failure to apply within the 120-day period or failure to pass the prescribed examinations shall require the graduate to meet the requirements of § 24.39.

§ 24.40 Mechanic privileges; general. A certificated mechanic may perform or supervise the maintenance, repair, inspection, and alteration of any part of an aircraft, or component thereof, for which he is rated, and may perform additional work in accordance with the privileges and limitations stated in §§ 24.41 and 24.42: Provided, That he shall not supervise the maintenance, repair, inspection, or alteration of or return to service any part of an aircraft, or component thereof, for which he is rated unless he has previously performed the particular operation involved.

§ 24.41 Airframe rating. A certificated mechanic with an airframe rating may release the airframe, or any component thereof, for service after maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration has been accomplished thereon.

§ 24.42 Powerplant rating. A certificated mechanic with a powerplant rating may make minor repairs or minor alterations to a propellor, and may release the powerplant or propeller, or any component thereof, for service after maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration has been accomplished thereon.

OPERATING RULES

§ 24.50 General. A certificated mechanic shall not exercise the privileges of his certificate and ratings unless he is familiar with the current manufacturers' instructions and the airworthiness manuals pertinent to the particular operation to be performed.

§ 24.51 Recent experience requirements. A certificated mechanic shall not exercise the privileges of his certificate and ratings unless he

(a) Has served as a mechanic under the terms of his certificate and ratings for at least 6 months during the preceding 24-month period, or attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received by May 31, 1951, will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules. Copies of the communications received will be available after June 5, 1951, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

(b) Has satisfied an authorized representative of the Administrator that he is competent to perform the duties of such certificate and ratings.

Currently effective Part 52 establishes requirements for the issuance of repair station certificates and ratings and basic operating rules for the holders thereof.

On December 9, 1949, there was circulated for public comment a proposed revision of this part. The only major change in this proposal is to establish repair station designation of personnel directly in charge of the maintenance, repair, alteration, or inspection of aircraft or aircraft components for which the station is rated as the requirement for certification as airmen in order to meet the statutory obligations of section 610 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. It is expected that the Administrator under Public Law 858 will authorize responsible officials of a repair station to issue individual certificates to qualified persons, or to certify such persons to the Administrator, for the duration of their employment at the repair station. Thus, it is believed that statutory requirements will be met without compromising the principle of organizational responsibility which we and the industry believe to be the best method of obtaining the most satisfactory work. This proposal is being recirculated for comment because of its close relationship to the proposals for revised Parts 18 and 24.

The most important innovations in the previously proposed revision of Part 52 are provisions for the issuance of repair station ratings for radio, instruments, and accessories, and for the issuance of ratings limited to the performance of specialized services. Under the terms of the proposed revision the following general ratings may be issued to repair stations: airframe, powerplant, propeller, radio, instrument, and accessory. In addition to these general ratings a limited rating may be issued authorizing an applicant to work on some particular type of airframe, powerplant, etc. or to perform some specialized maintenance, repair, or overhaul function. Thus, an applicant may, if he so desires, simply apply for the ratings for which he is able to furnish the required facilities, equipment, materials, and personnel. An applicant for a powerplant rating would not, for example, have to be equipped to repair all powerplants, but may choose the powerplants which he is to be authorized to repair.

The proposed revision of Part 52 is set forth below.

This revision is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

PART 52—REPAIR STATION CERTIFICATES

§ 52.0 Applicability of this part. This part establishes requirements for the issuance of repair station certificates and ratings and operating rules for the holders thereof.

§ 52.1 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the words listed below shall be defined as follows:

(1) Accessory. An accessory shall mean an appliance other than an instrument, radio, radar, or device for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(2) Aircraft. An aircraft shall mean any contrivance now known or hereafter invented, used, or designed for navigation of or flight in the air, including airframe, powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(3) Airframe. An airframe shall mean all parts of an aircraft, less powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(4) All-metal construction. All-metal construction, when that phrase is used to describe the composition of an airframe, shall mean that the structure of the airframe is made of metal only, irrespective of the kind of powering utilized.

(5) Alteration. An alteration shall mean any appropriate change in the design of an airframe, powerplant, propeller or appliance.

(6) Appliance. Appliance [illegible]

(7) Certificated air carrier. A certificated air carrier shall mean an air carrier holding an air carrier operating certificate issued by the Administrator.

(8) Certificated airman. An individual designated by a repair station as directly in charge of the inspection, maintenance, overhaul, or repair of aircraft or aircraft components which the repair station is authorized to perform, and certificated by the Administrator in accordance with the requirements of this part.

(9) Certificated mechanic. A certificated mechanic shall mean a mechanic holding a mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(10) Certificated repair station. A certificated repair station shall mean a facility for the maintenance, repair, and alteration of airframes, powerplants, propellers, or appliances, holding a repair station certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(11) Component. A component shall mean any constituent part of an aircraft.

(12) Composite construction. Composite construction, when that term is used to describe the composition of an airframe, shall mean that the structure of the airframe is made of at least two types of substances, such as metal and wood.

(13) Instrument. An instrument shall mean a device utilizing internal mechanism to indicate visually or aurally the attitude, altitude, performance, or operation of an aircraft or any component thereof, and shall include radar instrumentation and devices for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(14) Maintenance. Maintenance shall mean the upkeep, inspection, and preservation of airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances, including the replacement of parts.

(15) Person. Person means any individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint-stock association, or body politic; and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other similar representative thereof.

(16) Powerplant. Powerplant shall mean an aircraft engine and its component parts, less propeller.

(17) Propeller. Propeller shall mean a device for propelling an aircraft through the air, having blades mounting on a power-driven shaft, which when rotated produces by its action on the air a thrust approximately perpendicular to the [illegible]

(18) Radio. Radio shall mean any apparatus for the transmission and reception of signals by means of energy [illegible]

issued to an individual other than a United States citizen shall remain in effect for only one year. After revocation, and upon request of the Administrator after suspension, the certificate shall be returned to the Administrator.

(b) A temporary mechanic certificate shall remain in effect for 90 days.

§ 24.8 Ooutstanding mechanic certificates and ratings. After the effective date of this part a person holding a mechanic certificate with an aircraft mechanic rating shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with an airframe rating, a person holding a mechanic certificate with an aircraft engine mechanic rating shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with a powerplant rating, and a person holding a mechanic certificate with aircraft mechanic and aircraft engine mechanic ratings shall be deemed to hold a mechanic certificate with both airframe and powerplant ratings. The Administrator may, in such form and manner as he may establish, require the exchange of outstanding certificates for certificates issued in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 24.9 Display. When issued to the individual, the mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings shall be in the personal possession of the mechanic at all times while exercising the privileges of such certificate, and shall be available for inspection by any authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board, or by any authorized State or local law enforcement officer.

§ 24.10 Change of address. Within 30 days after any change in the permanent mailing address of a holder of a mechanic certificate, the holder shall notify the Administrator in writing of such change. Such notice shall be mailed to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, Attention Airman Records Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

GENERAL CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

§ 24.15 Citizenship. An applicant shall be a citizen of the United States or of a foreign government which grants or has undertaken to grant reciprocal mechanic certificate privileges to citizens of the United States on equal terms and conditions with citizens of such foreign government.

§ 24.16 Age. An applicant shall be at least 18 years of age.

§ 24.17 Education. An applicant shall be able to read, write, speak, and understand the English language: Provided, That if an applicant is employed by a United States air carrier outside of the United States, such applicant shall not be required to meet this requirement, and in that event his certificate shall be appropriately endorsed by the Administrator.

§ 24.18 Examinations and tests. Examinations and tests shall be conducted by an authorized representative of the Administrator at such times and places as the Administrator may designate.

§ 24.19 Reexamination after failure. An applicant for a mechanic certificate who has failed any prescribed written or practical examination or test may not apply for reexamination within a 30-day period unless he presents a statement signed by a certificated mechanic holding an appropriate rating, a certificated ground instructor, or an equally qualified individual acceptable to the Administrator, which attests that the applicant has received an additional 5 hours of instruction in each of the subjects failed and that the applicant is considered competent for reexamination.

§ 24.20 Application for additional rating. An applicant for a rating subsequent to the original issuance of a mechanic certificate with appropriate rating shall meet the knowledge, experience, and skill requirements for the rating applied for.

§ 24.21 Substantiation of experience. An applicant shall submit evidence satisfactory to the Administrator to substantiate the experience qualifications for the mechanic certificate and rating applied for.

§ 24.22 Ratings. The following mechanic ratings shall be issued:

(a) Airframe.

(b) Powerplant.

MECHANICAL KNOWLEDGE, EXPERIENCE, AND SKILL REQUIREMENTS

§ 24.30 Mechanical knowledge. An applicant for a mechanic certificate with airframe or powerplant rating shall successfully accomplish a written and oral examination prescribed by the Administrator covering the construction, maintenance, repair, and inspection of the part of an aircraft appropriate to the rating sought, the provisions of this part, the applicable provisions of Part 43 of this chapter, and the provisions of Civil Aeronautics Manual 18.

§ 24.31 Mechanical experience. (a) An applicant for a mechanic certificate with either an airframe or powerplant rating shall have had at least 18 months of practical experience with the procedures, practices, materials, tools, machine tools, and equipment generally used in the inspection, maintenance, repair, and alteration of airframes or powerplants, respectively.

(b) The experience required for each rating shall be acquired in the exclusive performance of the duties appropriate to such rating: Provided, That an applicant for an airframe and a powerplant rating may be issued such ratings, if he has performed concurrently the duties appropriate to both such ratings for at least 30 months.

§ 24.32 Graduates of certificated mechanic schools. A graduate of a mechanic school holding an air agency certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator shall be deemed to have met the experience requirements of this part for a rating if, within 60 days after graduation, he presents an appropriate certificate of graduation and successfully accomplishes the examination prescribed by the Administrator for the rating sought.

§ 24.33 Mechanical skill. An applicant for a mechanic certificate with a particular rating shall, in a manner prescribed by the Administrator, demonstrate his competency to maintain, repair, inspect, and alter any part of an aircraft for which a rating is sought.

PRIVILEGES AND LIMITATIONS OF A MECHANIC CERTIFICATE

§ 24.40 Mechanic privileges; general. A certificated mechanic may perform or supervise the maintenance, repair, inspection, and alteration of any part of an aircraft, or component thereof, for which he is rated, and may perform additional work in accordance with the privileges and limitations stated in §§ 24.41 and 24.42: Provided, That he shall not supervise the maintenance, repair, inspection, or alteration of or return to service any part of an aircraft, or component thereof, for which he is rated unless he has previously performed the particular operation involved.

§ 24.41 Airframe rating. A certificated mechanic with an airframe rating may release the airframe, or any component thereof, for service after maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration has been accomplished thereon.

§ 24.42 Powerplant rating. A certificated mechanic with a powerplant rating may make minor repairs or minor alterations to a propellor, and may release the powerplant or propeller, or any component thereof, for service after maintenance, minor repair, or minor alteration has been accomplished thereon.

OPERATING RULES

§ 24.50 General. A certificated mechanic shall not exercise the privileges of his certificate and ratings unless he is familiar with the current manufacturers' instructions and the airworthiness manuals pertinent to the particular operation to be performed.

§ 24.51 Recent experience requirements. A certificated mechanic shall not exercise the privileges of his certificate and ratings unless he

(a) Has served as a mechanic under the terms of his certificate and ratings for at least 6 months during the preceding 24-month period, or

(b) Has satisfied an authorized representative of the Administrator that he is competent to perform the duties of such certificate and ratings.

REPAIR STATION CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board a revision of Part 52 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received by May 31, 1951, will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules. Copies of the communications received will be available after June 5, 1951, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Currently effective Part 52 establishes requirements for the issuance of repair station certificates and ratings and basic operating rules for the holders thereof.

On December 9, 1949, there was circulated for public comment a proposed revision of this part. The only major change in this proposal is to establish repair station designation of personnel directly in charge of the maintenance, repair, alteration, or inspection of aircraft or aircraft components for which the station is rated as the requirement for certification as airmen in order to meet the statutory obligations of section 610 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. It is expected that the Administrator under Public Law 858 will authorize responsible officials of a repair station to issue individual certificates to qualified persons, or to certify such persons to the Administrator, for the duration of their employment at the repair station. Thus, it is believed that statutory requirements will be met without compromising the principle of organizational responsibility which we and the industry believe to be the best method of obtaining the most satisfactory work. This proposal is being recirculated for comment because of its close relationship to the proposals for revised Parts 18 and 24.

The most important innovations in the previously proposed revision of Part 52 are provisions for the issuance of repair station ratings for radio, instruments, and accessories, and for the issuance of ratings limited to the performance of specialized services. Under the terms of the proposed revision the following general ratings may be issued to repair stations: airframe, powerplant, propeller, radio, instrument, and accessory. In addition to these general ratings, a limited rating may be issued authorizing an applicant to work on some particular type of airframe, powerplant, etc., or to perform some specialized maintenance, repair, or overhaul function. Thus, an applicant may, if he so desires, apply only for the rating for which he is able to furnish the required facilities, equipment, materials, and personnel. An applicant for a powerplant rating would not, for example, have to be equipped to repair all powerplants, but may choose the horsepower limits within which he desires to work.

All applicants would be required to furnish housing, facilities, equipment, materials, and personnel adequate to perform competently the work authorized by the particular rating sought. The exact type and amount of such housing, facilities, equipment, materials, and personnel will, in all probability, vary in each instance. This proposal sets forth the main functions to be performed by a repair station holding a particular rating. It is believed that these functions are stated in such terms as to permit an applicant and a CAA examining agent to determine jointly the facilities and equipment required to be furnished for a particular rating without resort, as under current regulations, to a detailed mandatory list of facilities and equipment. This provision also is designed to provide applicants with an incentive to provide more efficient methods of accomplishing the required functions.

The proposed revision of Part 52 is set forth below.

This revision is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

PART 52—REPAIR STATION CERTIFICATES

§ 52.0 Applicability of this part. This part establishes requirements for the issuance of repair station certificates and ratings and operating rules for the holders thereof.

§ 52.1 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the words listed below shall be defined as follows:

(1) Accessory. An accessory shall mean an appliance other than an instrument, radio, radar, or device for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(2) Aircraft. An aircraft shall mean any contrivance now known or hereafter invented, used, or designed for navigation of or flight in the air, including airframe, powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(3) Airframe. An airframe shall mean all parts of an aircraft, less powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(4) All-metal construction. All-metal construction, when that phrase is used to describe the composition of an airframe, shall mean that the structure of the airframe is made of metal only, irrespective of the kind of covering utilized.

(5) Alteration. An alteration shall mean any appreciable change in the design of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.

(6) Appliances. Appliances shall mean instruments, equipment, apparatus, parts, appurtenances, or accessories, of whatever description, which are used, or are capable of being or intended to be used, in the navigation, operation, or control of aircraft in flight (including communiction equipment, electronic devices, and any other mechanism or mechanisms installed in or attached to aircraft during flight, but excluding parachutes), and which are not a part or parts of airframes, powerplants, or propellers.

(7) Certificated air carrier. A certificated air carrier shall mean an air carrier holding an air carrier operating certificate issued by the Administrator.

(8) Certificated airman. An individual designated by a repair station as directly in charge of the inspection, maintenance, overhaul, or repair of aircraft or aircraft components which the repair station is authorized to perform, and certificated by the Administrator in accordance with the requirements of this part.

(9) Certificated mechanic. A certificated mechanic shall mean a mechanic holding a mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(10) Certificated repair station. A certificated repair station shall mean a facility for the maintenance, repair, and alteration of airframes, powerplants, propellers, or appliances, holding a repair station certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(11) Component. A component shall mean any constituent part of an aircraft.

(12) Composite construction. Composite construction, when that term is used to describe the composition of an airframe, shall mean that the structure of the airframe is made of at least two types of substances, such as metal and wood.

(13) Instrument. An instrument shall mean a device utilizing internal mechanism to indicate visually or aurally the attitude, altitude, performance, or operation of an aircraft or any component thereof, and shall include radar instrumentation and devices for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(14) Maintenance. Maintenance shall mean the upkeep, inspection, and preservation of airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances, including the replacement of parts.

(15) Person. Person means any individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint-stock association, or body politic; and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other similar representative thereof.

(16) Powerplant. Powerplant shall mean an aircraft engine and its component parts, less propeller.

(17) Propeller. Propeller shall mean a device for propelling an aircraft through the air, having blades mounted on a power-driven shaft, which when rotated produces by its action on the air a thrust approximately parallel to the longitudinal axis of the aircraft.

(18) Radio. Radio shall mean an appliance for the transmission and reception of signals by means of electric waves without a connecting wire.

(19) Repair. Repair shall mean the restoration of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance to a condition for safe operation after damage or deterioration.

(20) Type. Type of airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance shall mean an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance of the same basic design, including all modifications thereto except those modifications which result in a change in the handling, flight, or operating characteristics.

GENERAL CERTIFICATIONS RULES

§ 52.5 Application for certificate. Application for a repair station certificate with appropriate ratings, and any modification or amendment thereof, shall be made on a form and in a manner prescribed by the Administrator.

§ 52.6 Issuance. A repair station certificate with appropriate ratings prescribing such operating specifications and limitations as may be reasonably required in the interest of safety will be issued to an applicant whom the Administrator finds is properly and adequately equipped and able to maintain, repair, or alter airframes, powerplants, propellers, or appliances in accordance with the applicable requirements hereinafter specified. No person shall operate as a certificated repair station without, or in violation of, the terms of a repair station certificate.

§ 52.7 Duration. (a) A repair station certificate issued to a person who is a citizen of the United States shall remain in effect until surrenderd, suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated by order of the Board, after which it shall be returned to the Administrator.

(b) A repair station certificate issued to a person who is a citizen of a foreign country shall expire one year after the date of issuance, unless sooner surrendered, suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated by order of the Board, after which it shall be returned to the Administrator.

§ 52.8 Exchange of certificates. The Administrator shall, not later than one year from the effective date of this part, reinspect all repair stations certificated prior to the effective date of this part. Upon the conclusion of such inspection the certificates and ratings of such repair stations shall expire. A new certificate with appropriate ratings may be issued in accordance with the provisions of this part, if such inspection indicates compliance therewith. Until such inspection has been completed and a new certificate has been issued, a repair station shall comply with the requirements of this part prior to this revision.

§ 52.9 Display. The repair station certificate shall be on display in the repair station for which the certificate was issued and available for inspection by any authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board.

§ 52.10 Change of location. No change in the location of a certificated repair station shall be made without the prior written approval of the Administrator.[1]

§ 52.11 Advertising. Any advertising conducted by a certificated repair station which indicates that it is a certificated repair station shall clearly indicate the work for which it is rated under its certificate.

§ 52.12 Inspection. An authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board shall be permitted at any time to make inspections or examinations to determine a repair station's compliance with the provisions of the Civil Air Regulations.

§ 52.13 Nontransferability of certificate. A repair station certificate is not transferable.

DOMESTIC CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

§ 52.20 Requirements for issuance of certificate. An applicant for a certificate for a repair station to be located within the United States shall be a citizen thereof. No such certificate shall be issued until the requirements of §§ 52.21 through 52.24 and §§ 52.30 through 52.36, as appropriate, are met.

§ 52.21 Housing and facilities. An applicant shall provide:

(a) Sufficient housing to accommodate the necessary equipment and material, and suitable working space for the performance of the work for which the repair station rating is sought;

(b) Suitable facilities for the proper storage, segregation, and protection of materials, parts, and supplies; and

(c) Suitable facilities for the proper protection of parts and subassemblies during disassembly, cleaning, inspection, repair, alteration, and assembly.

§ 52.22 Personnel. (a) Each applicant shall have an adequate number of personnel competent to perform, supervise, and inspect the work for which the repair station is rated.

(b) Any individual who is directly in charge of the inspection, maintenance, overhaul, or repair functions shall have have had at least 18 months of experience with the procedures, practices, inspection methods, materials, tools, machine tools, and equipment generally used in such functions as related to the work for which the repair station is rated.

§ 52.23 Designation of certificated airman. A responsible officer of the repair station shall certify, in a form and manner prescribed by the Administrator, that each individual directly in charge of overhaul, repair, alteration, or inspection is competent to perform and to supervise the work to which he is assigned. This certification shall remain in effect no longer than the period of employment in the certifying repair station.

§ 52.24 Records of supervisory and inspection personnel. Each repair station shall maintain current records of personnel who are directly in charge of overhaul, repair, alteration, or inspection and shall furnish copies thereof to the Administrator in a manner and form prescribed by him. These records shall contain such information concerning the qualifications of each such individual as is necessary to show compliance with the experience qualifications of this subchapter. No certificated repair station shall utilize the services of an individual directly in charge of overhaul, repair, alteration, or inspection unless current records are maintained for such individual as required herein.

§ 52.25 Inspection system. An applicant for a repair station certificate shall have an inspection system adequate for satisfactory quality control.

§ 52.26 Ratings. The following repair station ratings shall be issued:

(a) Airframe—Class 1. Composite construction up to and including 12,500 lbs. maximum certificated weight,

Class 2. Composite construction above 12,500 lbs. maximum certificated weight,

Class 3. All-metal construction up to and including 12,500 lbs. maximum certificated weight, Class 4. All-metal construction above 12,500 lbs. maximum certificated weight.

(b) Powerplant—Class 1. Engines up to and including 400 horsepower,

Class 2. Engines above 400 horsepower,

Class 3. Jet engines.

(c) Propeller—Class 1. Fixed-pitch type,

Class 2. All other types, by make and model.

(d) Radio[2]—Class 1. Communication equipment,

Class 2. Navigational equipment,

Class 3. Radar (less instrumentation).

(e) Instrument — Class 1. Mechanical,

Class 2. Electrical,

Class 3. Gyroscopic,

Class 4. Radar instruments.

(f) Accessory—Class 1. Mechanical, by type.

Class 2. Electrical, by type.

§ 52.27 Limited ratings. The ratings specified in § 52.26 may be issued with appropriate limitations, where found appropriate by the Administrator, to a repair station which engages solely in the maintenance, repair, or alteration of a particular type of airframe, powerplant, radio, or instrument, or the components thereof, or engages in a specialized service with respect to the maintenance, repair, or alteration of an aircraft, or the components thereof.

§ 52.30 Equipment and materials; general. An applicant for a repair station certificate shall have such equipment and materials as are necessary for the competent and efficient performance of the functions appropriate to the rating or ratings sought.

§ 52.31 Equipment and materials; airframe rating. An applicant for an airframe rating shall be equipped to perform maintenance, repair, alteration, and inspection operations on such of the following as are appropriate to the rating sought.

(a) Steel structural components,

(b) Wood structure,

(c) Alloy skin and structural components,

(d) Fabric covering,

(e) Control systems.

(f) Landing gear systems,

(g) Electric wiring systems.

§ 53.32 Equipment and materials; powerplant rating. An applicant for a powerplant rating shall be equipped to:

(a) Maintain, repair, and alter powerplants, including replacement of parts,

(b) Inspect all parts, using appropriate inspection aids,

(c) Accomplish routine machine work,

(d) Perform assembly operations, and

(e) Test overhauled powerplants in compliance with manufacturers' recommendations or shall have made suitable arrangements for the performance of this function in lieu thereof.

§ 52.33 Equipment and materials; propeller rating. An applicant for a propeller rating shall be equipped to:

(a) Maintain, repair, and alter propellers, including installation and the replacement of parts,

(b) Inspect components, using appropriate inspection aids,

(c) Repair or replace components,

(d) Balance propellers, and

(e) Test propeller pitch-changing mechanisms.

§ 52.34 Equipment and materials; radio rating. An applicant for a radio rating shall be equipped to:

(a) Diagnose radio malfunctions,

(b) Maintain, repair, and alter radios, including installation and the replacement of parts,

(c) Inspect and test radios,

(d) Make transmitter frequency checks, and

(e) Perform such calibrations as are necessary for the proper operation of radio aids to navigation.

§ 52.35 Equipment and materials; instrument rating. An applicant for an instrument rating shall be equipped to:

(a) Diagnose instrument malfunctions,

(b) Maintain, repair, and alter instruments, including installation and the replacement of parts, and

(c) Inspect, test, and calibrate instruments.

§ 52.36 Equipment and materials; accessory rating. An applicant for an accessory rating shall be equipped to:

(a) Diagnose accessory malfunctions,

(b) Maintain, repair, and alter accessories, including the replacement of parts, and

(c) Inspect, test, and, where necessary, calibrate accessories.

DOMESTIC REPAIR STATION OPERATING RULES

§ 52.40 Domestic operating rules; general. All certificated repair stations located in the United States shall comply with the following operating rules.

§ 52.41 Privileges of certificate. A certificated repair station shall be authorized:

(a) To perform maintenance, repair, and alteration work on any airframe, powerplant, propeller, instrument, radio, or accessory for which it is rated, and

(b) To return to service such airframes, powerplants, propellers, instruments, radios, or accessories after the required maintenance, repair, or alteration work has been performed.

§ 52.42 Limitations of certificate. A certificated repair station shall not perform any maintenance, repair, or alteration on any airframe, powerplant, propeller, instrument, radio, or accessory for which such station is not rated, or any such work for which rated when such maintenance, repair, or alteration would require special technical data, equipment, or facilities not available to such station.

§ 52.43 Maintenance of facilities, equipment, and material. The holder of a repair station certificate shall maintain all facilities, equipment, and materials in conformity with the standards required for the original issuance of the certificate.

§ 52.44 Standard of performance. All maintenance, repair, and alteration work shall be performed in accordance with the standards prescribed in Part 18 of the Civil Air Regulations.

§ 52.45 Inspection of work performed. Each airframe, powerplant, propeller, instrument, radio, and accessory which has undergone any maintenance, repair, or alteration shall, prior to being returned to service, be inspected by a qualified inspector. When the complexity of a particular maintenance, repair, or alteration operation so warrants, the inspector shall be a person other than the one who accomplishes the operation. The repair station shall certify on the maintenance, repair, and alteration record for such airframe, powerplant, propeller, instrument, radio, or accessory that it is airworthy.

§ 52.46 Performance records and reports. A certificated repair station shall maintain adequate records of all work performed. Such records shall indicate the name of the individual by whom the work was performed, the name of the individual by whom it was inspected, and the name of the certificated mechanic directly in charge thereof, if other than the individual performing the work or inspecting it. Such records shall be kept for at least 2 years.

§ 52.47 Report of defects or unairworthy conditions. Unless otherwise prescribed by the Administrator, a certificated repair station shall submit to the Administrator an immediate report of all serious defects in, or other recurring unairworthy conditions of, an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or any component thereof, on a form and in a manner prescribed by the Administrator: Provided, That if such repair station is operated by a certificated air carrier which maintains base repair records, such records may be furnished in lieu of the report required by this section.

FOREIGN REPAIR STATION CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

§ 52.50 Requirements for issuance of foreign repair station certificate. A certificate with appropriate ratings for a repair station located outside of the United States may be issued to a citizen of the United States, or to a citizen of a foreign government, only where the Administrator finds that such repair station is necessary to provide for the maintenance, repair, or alteration of United States registered aircraft outside of the United States. No person shall be issued such repair station certificate until the requirements for the issuance of a domestic repair station certificate, excepting §§ 52.22 through 52.24, are met.

§ 52.51 Scope of work authorized. A foreign repair station certificate shall be limited to the performance of work on United States registered aircraft which are used in operations conducted in whole or in part outside the United States and shall contain such operating specifications and limitations as the Administrator may prescribe to insure compliance with applicable aircraft airworthiness requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

§ 52.52 Personnel. An applicant shall have adequate personnel competent to perform, supervise, and inspect the work for which the repair station is rated.

FOREIGN REPAIR STATION OPERATING RULES

§ 52.60 General. A certificated foreign repair station shall comply with the operating rules prescribed for a domestic repair station, excepting §§ 52.46 and 52.47.

§ 52.61 Required records and reports. An applicant shall maintain such records and make such reports with respect to United States registered aircraft as the Administrator finds necessary for the satisfactory administration of this part.

MECHANIC SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board a revision of Part 53 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulations, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received by May 31, 1951, will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules. Copies of the communications received will be available after June 5, 1951, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Currently effective Part 53 establishes certification and rating requirements for mechanic schools, provides for aircraft, aircraft engine, and combined aircraft and aircraft engine ratings and curricula, and establishes basic operating rules for the holders of mechanic school certificates.

[1] Requests for approval of a change of location should be submitted to the Regional Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for the region in which the repair station is located.

[2] The Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission require that all transmitter adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing, or maintenance of a radio station licensed by the Federal Communications Commission which may affect the proper operation of such station shall be made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class radio operator license issued by the Federal Communications Commission, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph as may be appropriate for the class of station concerned, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment.

This proposal establishes new requirements for the issuance of mechanic school certificates and ratings and basic operating rules for the holders thereof. The only ratings to be issued are airframe and powerplant which correspond to the previously issued aircraft and aircraft engine ratings, respectively. The requirements for facilities, equipment, material, and personnel are stated as general standards to be met by each applicant. The type and amount of such facilities, equipment, materials, and personnel must be determined by the requirements of the particular rating sought and the maximum number of students expected to be in attendance at any particular time. Justification as to compliance with such general standards is the primary responsibility of the applicant.

We do not propose to establish requirements for the certification or operation of schools for instrument, radio, or accessory mechanics in view of the fact that such mechanics are not to be issued individual certificates for the performance of work outside of repair stations. It should be noted, however, that the part does not in any way purport to prohibit the establishment of specialized courses or schools for such mechanics or to prevent the graduates of such schools from obtaining employment as certificated airmen in repair stations. (See proposed Part 52, F. R. Doc. 51-4922, released concurrently with this part.)

The proposed revision of Part 53 is set forth below.

This revision is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 302, 601-610, 52 Stat. 985, as amended, 1007-1012, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 452, 551-560)

Dated: April 23, 1951, at Washington, D. C.

[SEAL] JOHN M. CHAMBERLAIN, Director.

PART 53—MECHANIC SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

§ 53.0 Applicability of this part. This part establishes the requirements for the issuance of mechanic school certificates and ratings and basic operating rules for the holders thereof.

§ 53.1 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the words listed below shall be defined as follows:

(1) Accessory. An accessory shall mean an appliance other than an instrument, radio, radar, or device for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(2) Aircraft. An aircraft shall mean any contrivance now known or hereafter invented, used, or designed for navigation of or flight in the air, including airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliances.

(3) Airframe. Airframe shall mean all parts of an aircraft less powerplant, propeller, and appliances.

(4) Alteration. An alteration shall mean any appreciable change in the design of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance.

(5) Appliances. Appliances shall mean instruments, equipment, apparatus, parts, appurtenances, or accessories, of whatever description, which are used, or are capable of being or intended to be used, in the navigation, operation, or control of aircraft in flight (including communication equipment, electronic devices, and any other mechanism or mechanisms installed in or attached to aircraft during flight, but excluding parachutes), and which are not a part or parts of airframes, powerplants, or propellers.

(6) Certificated mechanic. A certificated mechanic shall mean a mechanic holding a mechanic certificate with appropriate ratings issued by the Administrator.

(7) Component. A component shall mean a constituent part of an aircraft.

(8) Instrument. An instrument shall mean a device utilizing internal mechanism to indicate visually or aurally the attitude, altitude, performance, or operation of an aircraft or any component thereof, and shall include radar instrumentation and devices for the automatic control of aircraft in flight.

(9) Maintenance. Maintenance shall mean the upkeep and preservation of airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances, including the replacement of parts.

(10) Person. Person means any individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint-stock association, or body politic; and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other similar representative thereof.

(11) Powerplant. Powerplant shall mean an aircraft engine and its component parts, less propeller.

(12) Propeller. Propeller shall mean a device for propelling an aircraft through the air, having blades mounted on a power-driven shaft, which when rotated produces by its action on the air a thrust approximately parallel to the longitudinal axis of the aircraft.

(13) Radio. Radio shall mean an appliance for the transmission and reception of signals by means of electric waves without a connecting wire.

(14) Repair. Repair shall mean the restoration of an airframe, powerplant, propeller, or appliance to a condition for safe operation after damage or deterioration.

(15) Transport category aircraft. Transport category aircraft shall mean aircraft which have been certificated in accordance with the requirements of Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations, or under the transport category performance requirements of Part 4a thereof.

CERTIFICATION RULES

§ 53.5 Application for certificate. Application for a mechanic school certificate and ratings, or any modification or amendment thereof, shall be made on a form and in a manner prescribed by the Administrator.

§ 53.6 Issuance. A mechanic school certificate with appropriate ratings prescribing such operating specifications and limitations as may be reasonably required in the interest of safety shall be issued to an applicant whom the Administrator finds is properly and adequately equipped, has sufficient qualified personnel, and is able to conduct a mechanic school in accordance with the requirements hereinafter specified. No person may operate as a certificated mechanic school without, or in violation of, the terms of a mechanic school certificate.

§ 53.7 Duration. A mechanic school certificate with appropriate ratings shall remain in effect until surrendered, suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated by order of the Board, after which it shall be returned to the Administrator.

§ 53.8 Exchange of certificates. All mechanic school certificates and ratings issued prior to the effective date of this part shall expire on January 1, 1952. Each person holding such a certificate shall, on or before January 1, 1952, surrender such certificate to the Administrator who shall issue a new certificate in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 53.9 Display. The mechanic school certificate with appropriate ratings shall be on display in the mechanic school for which the certificate was issued and available for inspection by any authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board.

§ 53.10 Change of location. No change in the location of a certificated mechanic school shall be made without the prior written approval of the Administrator.[1]

§ 53.11 Inspection. An authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board shall be permitted at any time to make inspections or examinations to determine a mechanic school's compliance with the provisions of the Civil Air Regulations.

§ 53.12 Nontransferability of certificate. A mechanic school certificate is not transferable.

§ 53.13 Advertising. No certificated mechanic school shall in any manner make any statement pertaining to such school which is false or is designed to mislead any person contemplating enrollment in such school. Any advertising which indicates that such school is approved by the Administrator shall clearly differentiate between those subjects which have been approved by the Administrator and those which have not.

§ 53.14 Ratings. The following mechanic school ratings may be issued:

(a) Airframe,

(b) Powerplant,

(c) Airframe and powerplant.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

§ 53.20 Certificate requirements; general. No applicant for a mechanic school certificate or a rating shall be issued such certificate or rating until the appropriate requirements of §§ 53.21 through 53.42 are met.

[1] Requests for approval of a change of location shall be submitted to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, attention Airman Division, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 53.21 Citizenship. An applicant shall be a citizen of the United States or of a foreign government which grants or has undertaken to grant reciprocal mechanic school certificate privileges to citizens of the United States on equal terms and conditions with citizens of such foreign government.

§ 53.22 Number of students. Each applicant shall state in his application the maximum number of students expected to be instructed at any particular time.

§ 53.23 Facilities, equipment, and materials; general. Each applicant shall have at least the facilities, equipment, and materials specified in §§ 53.25 through 53.27 appropriate to the rating sought, and such additional facilities, equipment, and materials as are determined by the Administrator to be necessary for a particular curriculum to train individuals to perform properly the work appropriate to the mechanic rating sought. The Administrator shall publish in the Civil Aeronautics Manual an outline of the equipment, facilities, and materials which are necessary for compliance with this part.

§ 53.24 Modification of facilities, equipment, and materials. No substantial modification or change in the facilities, equipment, and materials approved by the Administrator for a particular curriculum shall be made without the prior written approval of the Administrator.[1]

§ 53.25 Required space facilities. Each applicant shall have such of the following facilities as are appropriate to the rating sought which the Administrator shall determine to be adequate or necessary to accommodate the maximum number of students expected to be instructed at any particular time. Such facilities shall be properly heated, lighted, and ventilated.

(a) A drafting room with drafting tables and equipment,

(b) A stock room set up to insure the proper segregation of materials,

(c) Suitable separate space having proper ventilation and temperature control for doping,

(d) Suitable separate space equipped with adequate cleaning equipment,

(e) Suitable separate space provided with test stands and test clubs for running-in engines,

(f) Suitable separate space provided with adequate equipment to disassemble, repair, assemble, test, service, and inspect the following:

(1) Ignition, electrical equipment, and appliances,

(2) Carburetors and fuel systems,

(3) Hydraulic and vacuum systems as applying to the actuation of aircraft, engines, and their appliances,

(g) Suitable space with adequate equipment for the disassembly, inspection, assembly, and rigging of an aircraft,

(h) Suitable space with adequate equipment for the disassembly, inspection, overhaul, assembly, and timing of engines.

[1] Requests for modifications or changes should be submitted to the Regional Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for the region in which the mechanic school is located.

§ 53.26 Required instructional equipment. Each applicant shall have such of the following instructional equipment as is appropriate to the rating sought which need not be in an airworthy condition and which may have been damaged, but it shall have been repaired sufficiently for complete assembly. All airframes, powerplants, propellers, appliances, and components thereof on which instruction is to be given and practical experience is to be obtained shall be sufficiently diversified to indicate the different manners of construction, assembly, inspection, and operation when installed in an aircraft for use, and shall be provided in sufficient number to assure that not more than eight students shall work on any single unit thereof at any one time.

(a) Various types of fuselages, wings (wing sections if of aircraft of more than 12,500 lbs. maximum take-off weight), control surfaces, landing gears, radios, instruments, propellers (including propellers of fixed type, wood and metal, and adjustable and controllable metal), and aircraft engines (including at least one opposed type, one in-line type, one radial type of not less than 350 horsepower, and one supercharged type).

(b) At least one modern-type aircraft complete with powerplant, propeller, instruments, radio (two-way), landing lights, flares, and other items of equipment and accessories on which a mechanic might to required to work and with which he should be familiar.

§ 53.27 Required materials, tools, and shop equipment. Each applicant shall have an adequate supply of materials and such of the following shop equipment, special tools, and other miscellaneous tools and equipment as are appropriate to the rating sought and used in the construction, maintenance, and repair of aircraft to insure that each student will receive proper instruction in the construction, maintenance, and repair of aircraft. All tools and shop equipment shall be in satisfactory working condition and shall be of a type proper for the purpose for which they are to be used.

(a) Suitable equipment for checking the alignment of crankshafts and master and connecting rods,

(b) Air riveting hammer with controls and indicator,

(c) Heat-treating equipment for rivets and small structural parts,

(d) Bending and forming tools and equipment,

(e) Suitable equipment for sand, seed, or hull blasting,

(f) Cable splicing equipment,

(g) Suitable equipment for localized etching of propellers,

(h) Suitable equipment for measuring propeller pitch angles,

(i) Suitable assortment of go and no-go gauges,

(j) Suitable equipment for steaming and bending aircraft wood,

(k) Suitable equipment for making and testing glued wood joints,

(l) Air compressor with suitable attachments, and

(m) Battery chargers and testers.

§ 53.28 Curriculum; general. An applicant shall offer a curriculum designed to qualify the individuals undergoing instruction to perform the duties of a mechanic for a particular rating or ratings. Each curriculum shall provide at least the number of hours of instruction specified in § 53.29 and shall include instruction in the subjects specified in §§ 53.40 and 53.41. Each curriculum shall be approved by the Administrator, and no change therein shall be made without his prior written approval.

§ 53.29 Curriculum; number of hours. At least the following number of hours of instruction shall be offered for each of the following curricula:

(a) Airframe—960 hours,

(b) Powerplant—960 hours,

(c) Combined airframe and powerplant—1,650 hours.

§ 53.40 Airframe curriculum. The airframe curriculum shall include the following subjects:

(a) Parts 1, 4a, 4b, 15, 18, 24, 52, and 62 of the Civil Air Regulations, as amended, appropriate to the curriculum,

(b) Tools, instruments, equipment, their use and care,

(c) Shop practice and procedures, use of forms,

(d) Woodworking,

(e) Welding steel structures and fittings,

(f) Aluminum alloy structures and fittings,

(g) Sheet metal, steel, stainless steel, terneplate, aluminum and aluminum alloy,

(h) Welding, riveting, and heat-treating of steel, stainless steel, aluminum, aluminum alloy, structure, stock, and fittings,

(i) Controls and control surfaces,

(j) Splicing cables, bonding, brazing, and soldering,

(k) Hydraulic systems,

(l) Vacuum systems,

(m) Electrical systems,

(n) Fuel systems,

(o) Covering, fabric and stressed skin,

(p) Landing gear assembly,

(q) Assembly and rigging,

(r) Appliances: instruments, radio, floats, flares, heaters, etc.,

(s) Inspection of certificated aircraft, use of forms, etc.,

(t) Aircraft theory and practice, and

(u) Mechanical drawing.

§ 53.41 Powerplant curriculum. The powerplant curriculum shall include the following subjects:

(a) Parts 1, 4a, 4b, 13, 14, 18, 24, 52, and 62 of the Civil Air Regulations, as amended, appropriate to the curriculum,

(b) Instruments and equipment, their use and care,

(c) Shop practice and procedures, use of forms,

(d) Fundamental powerplant requirements,

(e) Mechanical drawing,

(f) Powerplant design and construction,

(g) Carburetor and fuel injection systems,

(h) Ignition systems,

(i) Supercharging systems,

(j) Starting, generating, and regulating systems,
(k) Fuels and fuel systems,
(l) Lubrication systems,
(m) Operation and trouble shooting,
(n) Disassembly, overhaul, repair, and assembly,
(o) Inspection, use of inspection tools, theory of magniflux and fluorescent penetrant,
(p) Block testing,
(q) Propeller installation and maintenance,
(r) Powerplant installation,
(s) Powerplant maintenance,
(t) Turbojet, turboprop, and compound engines,
(u) Theory and principle of powerplant operation, and
(v) Aircraft powerplant development.

§ 53.42 Instructors. An applicant shall have that number of instructors holding appropriate mechanic certificates and ratings and such other qualified personnel as the Administrator determines necessary to provide adequate instruction and supervision of the students.

OPERATING RULES

§ 53.50 Operating rules; general. All holders of mechanic school certificates with appropriate ratings shall, in the conduct of the school, comply with the operating rules set forth in §§ 53.51 through 53.57.

§ 53.51 Quality of instruction. The quality of instruction shall be such that at least 80 percent of the students who apply, within 60 days after graduation, for mechanic certificates and ratings appropriate to the curriculum from which they were graduated will be able to qualify for such certificates and ratings.

§ 53.52 Hours of attendance. No student shall be required to attend any class or classes of instruction for more than 8 hours in any day, or more than 6 days or 40 hours in any seven-day period.

§ 53.53 Examinations. Upon completion of each subject included in any approved curriculum each student shall be given an appropriate examination.

§ 53.54 Transcript of grades. A certificated mechanic school shall furnish a transcript of grades for each graduate and each student leaving the school prior to graduation. The transcript shall be properly authenticated by an official of the school, and it shall state the curriculum and courses in which the student was enrolled, whether the student satisfactorily completed the particular curriculum and courses, and the final grades received in each course.

§ 53.55 Graduation certificate. A certificated mechanic school shall furnish each graduate a graduation certificate properly authenticated by an official of the school. Each graduation certificate shall show the date of graduation.

§ 53.56 Required student records. A certificated mechanic school shall maintain a current record of each student enrolled, showing the student's attendance, courses in which enrolled, examinations, and grades. These records shall be retained by the school for at least 2 years from the date of termination of enrollment. During such period the records shall be available for inspection by an authorized representative of the Administrator or the Board.

§ 53.57 Maintenance of facilities, equipment, and material. The holder of a mechanic school certificate shall maintain all facilities, equipment, and material in conformity with the standards required for the original issuance of the certificate.

Federal Maritime Board and Maritime Administration

ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

The statements of organization and functions and delegations of authority of the Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration issued in 15 F. R. 3195, 15 F. R. 5711, 16 F. R. 44-46, and 16 F. R. 2642, are hereby revoked and the following substituted therefor:

1. Establishment. The Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration were established in the Department of Commerce by Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950, effective May 24, 1950. In performance of their functions the Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration are guided by the broad declaration of policy stated in Title I of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 (49 Stat. 1985), as follows:

It is necessary for the national defense and development of its foreign and domestic commerce that the United States shall have a merchant marine (a) sufficient to carry its domestic water-borne commerce and a substantial portion of the water-borne export and import foreign commerce of the United States and to provide shipping service on all routes essential for maintaining the flow of such domestic and foreign water-borne commerce at all times, (b) capable of serving as a naval and military auxiliary in times of war or national emergency, (c) owned and operated under the United States flag by citizens of the United States insofar as may be practicable, and (d) composed of the best-equipped, safest, and most suitable types of vessels, constructed in the United States and manned with a trained and efficient citizen personnel. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to foster the development and encourage the maintenance of such a merchant marine.

2. Organization of the Federal Maritime Board. The Federal Maritime Board is composed of three members appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The President designates one of the members to serve as Chairman of the Federal Maritime Board. The Chairman serves as the chief executive and administrative officer of the Federal Maritime Board. Any two members in office constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the Federal Maritime Board, and the affirmative votes of any two members are sufficient for the disposition of any matter which may come before the Federal Maritime Board.

The Federal Maritime Board has the following organizational components: (a) Office of the Chairman of the Federal Maritime Board; (b) Offices of the Members of the Federal Maritime Board; (c) Secretary's Office; (d) Regulation Office; and (e) Hearing Examiners' Office.

Insofar as he deems desirable, the Chairman of the Federal Maritime Board makes use of the officers and employees of the Maritime Administration to perform activities for the Federal Maritime Board.

3. Functions of the Federal Maritime Board—(a) Regulatory functions. Under Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 the Federal Maritime Board is independent of the Secretary of Commerce in the performance of the following functions: (1) All functions under the provisions of sections 14 to 20, inclusive, and sections 23 to 33, inclusive, of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, which functions relate to the regulation and control of rates, services, practices, and agreements of common carriers by water and of other persons;

(2) All functions with respect to the regulation and control of rates, fares, charges, classifications, tariffs, regulations, and practices of common carriers by water under the provisions of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, as amended;

(3) The functions with respect to the making of rules and regulations affecting shipping in the foreign trade to adjust or meet conditions unfavorable to such shipping, and with respect to the approval, suspension, modification, or annulment of rules or regulations of other Federal agencies affecting shipping in the foreign trade, under the provisions of section 19 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, as amended, exclusive of subsection (1) (a) thereof;

(4) The functions with respect to investigating discriminatory rates, charges, classifications, and practices in the foreign trade, and with respect to recommending legislation to correct such discrimination, under the provisions of section 212 (e) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936; and

(5) So much of the functions with respect to requiring the filing of reports, accounts, records, rates, charges, and memoranda, under the provisions of section 21 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, as relates to its functions under items (1) through (4) above.

(b) Subsidy contracts. Under Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 the Federal Maritime Board is guided by the general policies of the Secretary of Commerce in performing the following functions:

(1) The functions with respect to making, amending, and terminating construction (reconstruction or reconditioning) differential subsidy contracts, including contracts for the construction, reconstruction, or reconditioning of ships and contracts for the sale of ships to subsidy applicants or contracts to pay a differential subsidy and the cost of national defense features. In the exercise of this function the Federal Maritime Board investigates and determines the relative cost of construction of comparable ships in the United States and foreign countries and the extent and character of aids and subsidies granted by foreign governments to their merchant marines;

(2) The functions with respect to making, amending, and terminating operating differential subsidy contracts, and subsequent to entering into an operating differential subsidy contract, making determinations with respect to employment and wage conditions, and taking action on readjustment of operating cost differentials and the sale, assignment or transfer of the contract. In the exercise of this function the Federal Maritime Board investigates and determines the relative cost of operating ships under the registry of the United States and under foreign registry, and the extent and character of aids and subsidies granted by foreign governments to their merchant marines;

(3) The functions with respect to investigating and reporting on relative construction and operating costs in the United States and foreign maritime countries, and the relative advantages of operating under United States or foreign registry, and on marine insurance, navigation laws, and ship mortgages as authorized under section 12 of the Shipping Act, 1916; and

(4) The functions with respect to requiring the filing of reports, accounts, records, rates, charges and memoranda as relates to its functions as set forth in items (1), (2), and (3), above.

(c) Charters under the Merchant Ship Sales Act, 1946, as amended by Public Law 591, 81st Congress. The Federal Maritime Board makes determinations, after public hearings, as to whether the bareboat charter of war-built dry-cargo ships owned by the United States is required in the public interest in any service then not adequately served and for which privately owned American-flag ships are not available for charter by private operators on reasonable conditions and rates, and certifies its findings to the Secretary of Commerce (Maritime Administrator) together with any restrictions and conditions which it determines to be necessary or appropriate to protect the public interest in respect to such charters and to protect privately owned ships against competition from Government ships chartered by the Secretary of Commerce (Maritime Administrator). All such charters are reviewed annually by the Federal Maritime Board for the purpose of making recommendations to the Secretary of Commerce (Maritime Administrator) as to whether conditions exist justifying the continuance of the charters.

(d) War risk insurance. Pursuant to Public Law 763, 81st Congress, the Federal Maritime Board makes determinations of the fair and reasonable value of ships insured under the provisions of Title XII of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended.

(e) In carrying out its functions under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) above, the Federal Maritime Board adopts rules and regulations; makes reports and recommendations to Congress; subpoenas witnesses; administers oaths; takes evidence; requires the production of books, papers and documents as necessary; issues opinions; promulgates orders; engages in enforcement and other legal proceedings; and performs all functions formerly performable by the Maritime Commission, which have been transferred to the Federal Maritime Board pursuant to Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950.

(f) Specific functions of organizational components: (1) The Office of the Chairman of the Federal Maritime Board executes and administers the activities of the Federal Maritime Board;

(2) The Offices of the Members of the Federal Maritime Board are responsible for rendering assistance as may be required on matters being handled by the Federal Maritime Board;

(3) The Secretary's Office is responsible for receiving documents required to be filed with the Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration; preparing dockets and maintaining records of meetings; and issuing orders and notices of actions;

(4) The Regulation Office is responsible for examining and maintaining a record of tariffs of offshore carriers and terminal operators and agreements under the Shipping Act, 1916; processing complaints of violations of shipping laws; registering and reviewing practices of forwarders; and recommending with respect to rules and regulations affecting shipping; and

(5) The Hearing Examiners' Office is responsible for conducting hearings under the Administrative Procedure Act and shipping statutes arising from formal complaints or investigations alleging unlawful shipping practices; applications for operating-differential subsidy; establishment of minimum wages, etc.; and applications for charters.

4. Organization of the Maritime Administration—(a) Maritime Administrator. The Chairman of the Federal Maritime Board is ex officio the Maritime Administrator. When serving as Maritime Administrator, he reports and is responsible to the Secretary of Commerce, and will be guided by the Secretary's policies.

(b) Deputy Maritime Administrator. The Martime Administrator is assisted in his duties by a Deputy Maritime Administrator, who is the Acting Maritime Administrator during the absence or disability of the Maritime Administrator and, unless the Secretary of Commerce designates another person, during a vacancy in the office of the Maritime Administrator. The Deputy Martime Administrator is appointed by the Secretary of Commerce, after consultation with the Maritime Administrator. The Deputy Maritime Administrator at no time sits as a member of the Federal Maritime Board.

(c) Organizational components. The Maritime Administration has the following organizational components:

(1) Office of the Maritime Administrator;
(2) Budget Office;
(3) Program Planning Office;
(4) Personnel Office;
(5) Division of Claims;
(6) Office of the General Counsel;
(7) Office of the Comptroller;
(8) Office of Maritime Training;
(9) Office of Subsidy and Government Aid;
(10) Office of Property and Supply;
(11) Office of Ship Construction;
(12) National Shipping Authority;
(i) Office of Ship Requirements and Allocations;
(ii) Office of Ship Operations;
(iii) Office of Tanker Services;
(iv) Office of Maritime Labor Policy; and
(13) Offices of the Coast Directors.

(d) Use of officers and employees of the Federal Maritime Board. Insofar as he deems desirable, the Maritime Administrator makes use of officers and employees of the Federal Maritime Board under his supervision as Chairman to perform activities for the Maritime Administration.

5. Functions of the Maritime Administrator—(a) General. The Maritime Administrator is responsible for: (1) Performing activities for the Federal Maritime Board as determined desirable by the Federal Maritime Board;

(2) Exercising the powers and authorities, which powers and authorities are hereby delegated, and performing the functions, vested in the Secretary of Commerce by: (i) Section 204 of Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950, other than the authority to establish general policies for the guidance of the Federal Maritime Board in exercising its functions under section 105; (ii) Public Law 591, 81st Congress, 2d Session, which authorizes the chartering of passenger and war-built dry-cargo ships; (iii) Public Law 763, 81st Congress, 2d Session, which authorizes government war risk insurance of merchant ships, except that the authority "to find that insurance adequate to the needs of the water-borne commerce of the United States cannot be obtained on reasonable terms and conditions in companies authorized to do an insurance business in a State of the United States" is reserved to the Secretary of Commerce; and (iv) Public Law 911, 81st Congress, 2d Session, which authorizes the construction of merchant ships when required for national security.

(3) Performing the functions and exercising the powers and authorities vested in the Secretary of Commerce by Executive Order 10161, Executive Order 10200 (and Defense Production Administration Delegation No. 1), and Executive Order 10219 with respect to intercoastal, coastwise, and overseas shipping, including the use thereof, and delegated to the Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation and redelegated to the Maritime Administrator; and

(4) Representing the United States in dealing with shipping agencies of allied and associated governments in matters related to the use of shipping, acting within the framework of the national policy and under the guidance of the Department of State on matters of foreign policy and relations (Executive Order 10219).

(b) Specific functions of organizational components. (1) The Office of the Maritime Administrator directs the activities of the Maritime Administration and includes personnel who render staff services to the Maritime Administrator;

(2) The Budget Office develops and presents budgetary requests and justifications and allots and maintains budgetary control of appropriated funds for the Maritime Administration and the Federal Maritime Board;

(3) The Program Planning Office develops and recommends long-range merchant marine policy and programs, reviews existing policies and programs in the light of adopted long-range policy, and approves economic studies connected with policy formulation of the Maritime Administrator and the Federal Maritime Board;

(4) The Personnel Office administers the personnel functions of the Maritime Administration and the Federal Maritime Board related to employment and position classification, including recruitment, placement, separations, disciplinary actions, counseling and grievance appeal services, training and safety programs, and wage rate studies;

(5) The Division of Claims is responsible for analyzing and recommending the basis of settlement of claims in favor of or against the Maritime Administration arising out of the operations of the former Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration and out of current operations;

(6) The Office of the General Counsel serves as the law office of the Maritime Administration and Federal Maritime Board, renders legal advice and opinions to them, and represents them in any litigation in which either is interested. The Office of the General Counsel has the following divisions: Division of Contracts, Division of Legislation, and Division of Litigation;

(7) The Office of the Comptroller is responsible for the accounting, auditing, and insurance activities of the Maritime Administration and the Federal Maritime Board. The Office of the Comptroller has the following divisions: Division of Accounts, Division of Audits, Division of Insurance, and Division of Credits and Collections;

(8) The Office of Maritime Training is responsible for developing, coordinating, and maintaining programs of seamen services and training of merchant marine personnel; and administering a medical and health program. The Office of Maritime Training has the following divisions: Division of Cadet Corps Training, Division of Maritime Service Training, and Division of State Maritime Academies;

(9) The Office of Subsidy and Government Aid is responsible for the processing of applications to the Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration for subsidy or other government aid and the administration of government aid contracts after their execution, and for the coordination of the work of other organizational components in connection therewith. The Office of Subsidy and Government Aid has the following divisions: Division of Contracts, Division of Operating Costs, Division of Construction Costs, Division of Ship Statistics, and Division of Trade Routes;

(10) The Office of Property and Supply is responsible for the procurement and disposal of real and personal property; the disposal of ships; the maintenance or operation of warehouses, marine terminals, and reserve shipyards; port development; and the rendering of office services. The Office of Property and Supply has the following divisions: Division of Purchase and Sales, Division of Ports and Facilities, and Division of Office Services;

(11) The Office of Ship Construction is responsible for the conduct of activities of the Maritime Administration and the Federal Maritime Board relating to ship design and construction, and the rendering of technical direction to the National Shipping Authority with respect to the reconversion, betterment and reconditioning of Maritime Administration-owned ships. The Office of Ship Construction has the following divisions: Division of Preliminary Design, Division of Estimates, Division of Technical Development, and Division of Production; and contains the Trial and Guarantee Survey Boards;

(12) The National Shipping Authority is responsible for the conduct of activities relating to requirements for and allocation of oceangoing merchant shipping; charter, operation, repair, and reconversion of Maritime Administration-owned or acquired merchant ships; maintenance of reserve fleets; maritime labor policy; and recommendations for purchase, charter in, or requisition of merchant ships for government use. The National Shipping Authority has the following offices: (i) The Office of Ship Requirements and Allocations, responsible for determining requirements for and allocation of available shipping; calculating freight rates; issuing and administering priorities for transportation of ship cargo; and administering freight forwarding and other traffic activities. The Office of Ship Requirements and Allocations has the following divisions: Division of Requirements, Division of Allocations, Division of Freight Rates, and Division of Ship Warrants; (ii) The Office of Ship Operations, responsible, in connection with Maritime Administration-owned or acquired passenger and dry-cargo ships, for supervising operation and charter; contracts for stevedoring and other port services; repair and maintenance; the Maritime Administration reserve fleet; and preparing and administering of related regulations and orders. National Production Authority

[NPA Delegation 10]

ADMINISTRATOR OF PRODUCTION AND MARKETING ADMINISTRATION

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO EXERCISE CERTAIN FUNCTIONS VESTED IN ADMINISTRATOR OF NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY

1. The Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, and the Administrator of the National Production Authority, United States Department of Commerce, have certain allocation and priority functions under the Defense Production Act of 1950, vested in them by Executive Orders Nos. 10161 and 10200 (15 F. R. 6105; 16 F. R. 61), Defense Production Administration Delegation 1 (16 F. R. 738), Department of Commerce Order 123 as amended (15 F. R. 6726; 16 F. R. 1129), and Defense Food Delegation No. 1 (15 F. R. 6424; 16 F. R. 2446; 16 F. R. 3311). The Administrators have entered into a certain agreement, signed by them on March 30 and April 13, 1951, respectively (16 F. R. 3410), applicable to the exercise of their respective allocation and priority functions regarding foods which have industrial uses.

2. Pursuant to the aforesaid authorities, and in furtherance of the said agreement:

(a) The Administrator of the National Production Authority hereby delegates to the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration the requisite authority to exercise the allocation and priority functions under Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950 vested in him to the extent necessary to effectuate the provisions of the said agreement, as from time to time amended or supplemented.

(b) In exercising such authority, the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration is authorized to exercise the functions vested in the Administrator of the National Production Authority under sections 902 (a) and 902 (b) of said Executive Order No. 10161.

This delegation shall take effect on April 26, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

Office of International Trade

[Case No. 99]

GAMBARO CORP. CONSTRUCTION CO. ET AL.

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSING PRIVILEGES

In the matter of: Gambaro Corporation Construction Company, Hans Gambaro, Johann Gambaro, Lucerne, Switzerland; respondents.

This proceeding was begun by the issuance of a charging letter, dated September 28, 1950, wherein the Office of International Trade charged Hans Gambaro, Johann Gambaro and Gambaro Corporation Construction Company (also known as Gambaro A G), of Lucerne, Switzerland, hereinafter called the respondents, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 7) and the regulations issued thereunder.

It was alleged in said charging letter that the respondents placed with a certain supplier in the United States, on or about November 30, 1949, an order for shipment of three paving machines and parts to the respondents in Switzerland; that they caused said supplier to make application for and obtain a validated export license for shipment of said pavers on the basis of representations that their ultimate destination would be Switzerland. It was alleged further that respondents, through their supplier, caused exportation to be made under said license, pursuant to bills of lading wherein they described the shipments as being made to respondents in Switzerland; that the respondents intended ultimate destination for said pavers was not Switzerland but Hungary, as they then knew; and that the respondents actually attempted to re-export, divert or transship said pavers from Switzerland to Hungary, via Austria, at which latter place they were detained by authorities of the United States.

The charging letter, by its terms, temporarily suspended the privileges of respondents to participate in any exportation from the United States under any validated license, pending final action in this compliance proceeding.

The respondents filed written answer to the charging letter denying the allegations therein or that they otherwise violated the the export control law and regulations. They did not request an oral hearing, and, accordingly, the answer and the evidentiary materials in the possession of the Investigation Staff of the Office of International Trade were presented to the Compliance Commissioner at a hearing held before him in Washington, D. C., on February 2, 1951, and the Compliance Commissioner has filed his report thereon, dated April 17, 1951, with the Assistant Director for Export Supply.

It appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that in November 1949, the respondents placed an order for three (3) pavers and spare parts with a United States supplier who applied for and obtained a validated export license which was used to export to the respondents in Switzerland the said pavers, valued at $94,400, including freight and insurance; that both as to the order and the license application the respondents stated and represented orally and in writing that the said pavers were for their own use in Switzerland for certain construction projects.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that the said pavers arrived in Switzerland on or about April 29, 1950, and that between May 3 and May 15, 1950, the respondents represented to U. S. Foreign Service officials in Switzerland that the said pavers were to be resold and re-exported outside of Switzerland, but not to Hungary; that the respondents sold, consigned and shipped the pavers to a foreign purchaser at Budapest, Hungary, and that the said pavers were and are now detained by authorities of the United States at Salzburg, Austria.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that the respondents are closely associated in the contracting and machinery import business in Switzerland; that they have heretofore engaged in the importations of machinery from the United States; that Hans Gambaro visited in the United States to establish trade connections for machinery imports into Switzerland shortly before the period involved in this case.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that the close personal and business connections between respondents Hans and Johann Gambaro, the specific community of interest in the said pavers, and the other facts and circumstances found in the record, clearly indicate equal culpability on the part of all the respondents for the actions and conduct causing the false representations to be made and transshipment to be effected.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that the representations of respondents to the United States supplier as to end use and ultimate destination upon which the said supplier relied in applying for export license, were false; that respondents' representations to U. S. Foreign Service officials in Switzerland thereon were likewise false and were made for the purpose of inducing the issuance and maintenance in effect of said export license and to effectuate the re-export, diversion or transshipment of said pavers outside Switzerland; that such false representations induced the Office of International Trade to issue the validated license authorizing the exportation of the equipment to Switzerland and induced the Collector of Customs to authenticate the Shipper's Export Declarations; that respondents purchased the paving machines and parts knowing and intending that the same were for resale and transshipment to Hungary; and that respondents exported from the United States, resold and attempted to transship said pavers to Hungary, all in violation of the Export Control Law and regulations.

The Compliance Commissioner has recommended in his report that the respondents should be subjected, for the duration of export controls, to an order barring them from participating in exports. He has stated in his report that the culpability of the respondents with respect to the violations charged has been established, and that such violations were committed by the respondents deliberately and were effected through the devices of falsification and connivance for the purpose of circumventing the Export Control Law, and thus demonstrated the respondents' disregard for export control regulations and their untrustworthiness insofar as concerns future compliance.

The Compliance Commissioner has therefore recommended that all outstanding export licenses issued to respondents or any of them be revoked; that all export license privileges of respondents be suspended for the duration of export control; and that such suspension extend not only to the named respondents but also to any person, firm, corporation or organization which respondents may now or hereafter control or with which respondents Johann Gambaro or Hans Gambaro may hold a position of responsibility in the conduct of export trade.

The findings and recommendations of the Compliance Commissioner have been carefully considered, together with the evidentiary material submitted by the Office of International Trade, and it appears that such findings are supported by the evidence and that such recommendations are reasonable and should be adopted. Now, therefore, it is ordered as follows:

(1) All outstanding export licenses held by or issued in the names of respondents or any of them are hereby revoked and shall be forthwith returned to the Office of International Trade for cancellation.

(2) Respondents and each of them are hereby denied the privilege of obtaining or using or participating directly or indirectly in the obtaining or using of export licenses, including general as well as validated export licenses, for the duration of export control. Such denial of export license privileges shall be deemed to include and prohibit participation as a party, or as a representative of a party, to any export license application or to any exportation under either general or validated license in any manner or capacity, including the financing, forwarding, transporting or other serving of exports.

(3) Such revocation and denial of export license privileges shall extend not only to the named respondents but also to any person, firm, corporation or other business organization with which they or any of them may be now or hereafter related by ownership or control or with which respondents Johann Gambaro or Hans Gambaro may hold a position of responsibility involving the preparation, filing, procurement or use of any export control documents or the supervision of any person so engaged.

Dated: April 20, 1951.

JOHN C. BORTON,
Assistant Director for Export Supply.

[Case No. 100]

IHSAN M. BEYDOUN

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSING PRIVILEGES

In the matter of: Ihsan M. Beydoun, 85–86 London House, Loveday Street, Johannesburg, Union of South Africa.

This proceeding was begun by the issuance of a charging letter, dated May 31, 1950, wherein the Office of International Trade charged Ihsan M. Beydoun, Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, hereinafter referred to as the respondent, with having violated the United States Export Control Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 7) and the regulations issued thereunder.

It was alleged in said charging letter that for the purpose of inducing the Office of International Trade to issue an export license for the shipment of a quantity of jute bags of the respondents then in the Foreign Trade Zone at New York City, intransit from India to Venezuela under consignment to the respondent, said respondent falsely represented to the Office of International Trade, through his American freight forwarder who was the applicant for said license, that such jute bags were destined for Venezuela, whereas, as respondent then well knew and intended, such jute bags would be diverted or transshipped to South Africa, and, further, that upon the subsequent issuance of said export license and exportation of such jute bags from the United States, respondent caused the same to be diverted or transshipped to South Africa.

The charging letter temporarily suspended the privilege of respondent to participate in any exportation from the United States under any validated license pending final action in this compliance proceeding.

The respondent submitted a letter to the Office of International Trade, dated September 8, 1950, requesting an oral hearing, but thereafter failed or refused to establish a date for such hearing although the Office of International Trade transmitted several notices to respondent offering him an opportunity to be heard, and, accordingly, the evidentiary materials in the possession of the Investigation Staff of the Office of International Trade were presented to the Compliance Commissioner at a hearing held before him in the offices of the Department of Commerce at Washington, D. C., on February 2, 1951, at which the Office of International Trade was represented by counsel, but respondent did not appear in person or by counsel.

The Compliance Commissioner filed his report of such proceeding, dated April 20, 1951, with the Assistant Director for Export Supply.

It appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that respondent is, and at all times relevent to this proceeding was, a British subject residing and maintaining his business in Johannesburg, South Africa; that between March 1949 and June 1949, respondent purchased in India some 700,500 new jute bags, allocated to the jute bag quota for Venezuela; that the purchase of such bags was partially or entirely financed by Societe de Finance Commerciale, S. A., Geneva, Switzerland; that such bags were exported by respondent from India for delivery to respondent at Caracas, Venezuela, via New York, under bills of lading providing for no transshipment; that upon arrival of such jute bags at the Foreign Trade Zone at New York City, in transit, respondent was required to obtain validated export license to export such bags from the United States under applicable regulations so providing; that respondent employed an American freight forwarder in New York City to file application for export license in his behalf to ship such bags to Venezuela and in such application caused said agent to make representations and statements that respondent was the ultimate consignee and that Venezuela was the country of ultimate destination of such jute bags; that in reliance upon the aforesaid representations and statements in said application, the Office of International Trade, on July 6, 1949, issued validated license authorizing the export of such jute bags from the United States to respondent at Caracas, Venezuela.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that the said jute bags were thereafter exported from the United States on a vessel which left the port of New York on July 30, 1949, and that when said vessel arrived at Durban, South Africa, respondent caused legal action to be instituted in the courts of that country for the delivery of such jute bags there; that such legal proceedings were opposed by the carrier and by representatives of the United States Government; that respondent thereupon withdrew the suit and abandoned the same; that thereafter the Office of International Trade regulations affecting foreign-made jute bags moving in transit through the United States were amended to permit such commodity to be exported from the United States without validated license; that in view of such amendment respondent was permitted to land such jute bags, then on said vessel in South African waters, in South Africa, although the right to proceed against respondent by administrative action or criminal action, or both, was reserved by the Office of International Trade.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that at all the times hereinbefore mentioned it was the intention and purpose of respondent to divert or transship such jute bags to South Africa; that in pursuance of such intention and between the period of the shipment of such bags from India and the exportation of same from the United States respondent made numerous attempts to divert or transship such jute bags to South Africa by fraudulent scheme, trick and device.

It further appears from the record and the Compliance Commissioner's report that to induce the Office of International Trade to issue a validated license authorizing the export of such jute bags from the United States respondent made and caused to be made through his agent false representations to the Office of International Trade that such jute bags were destined for Venezuela when respondent then knew and intended that such bags would be diverted or transshipped as aforesaid; that respondent caused such jute bags to be exported from the United States and to effect such export caused the validated license, shipper's export declarations and bills of lading to be filed with the United States Collector of Customs at New York, wherein such shipment was falsely represented as being made to Venezuela as the country of ultimate destination; that respondent thereby knowingly made and caused to be made false representations to the Office of International Trade and to the United States Collector of Customs as to the ultimate destination of such shipment, and thereby knowingly made and caused such shipment to be made from the United States and diverted to South Africa without export license so authorizing, thus violating the law and regulations relating to export control.

The Compliance Commissioner has recommended in his report that respondent should be subjected to an order barring him from participating in exports for the duration of export controls. He has stated in his report that respondent has shown himself to be untrustworthy and not above resort to subterfuge and falsehood. The report further states that respondent's actions in this matter clearly stamp him as one whose disregard of the integrity of the export control law warrants no further trust as a satisfactory recipient of export license privileges and that a suspension of his export license privileges for the duration of export control is entirely justified.

The Compliance Commissioner has therefore recommended that all outstanding export licenses issued to respondent be revoked; that all export license privileges of respondent be suspended for the duration of export control; and that such suspension extend not only to the respondent but also to any person, firm, corporation or organization which respondent may now or hereafter control or with which he may hold a position of responsibility in the conduct of export trade.

The findings and recommendations of the Compliance Commissioner have been carefully considered, together with the evidentiary material submitted by the Office of International Trade and of the entire record, and it appears that such findings are supported by the evidence and that such recommendations are reasonable and should be adopted. Now, therefore, it is ordered as follows:

(1) All outstanding export licenses held by or issued in the name of respondent are hereby revoked and shall be forthwith returned to the Office of International Trade for cancellation.

(2) Respondent is hereby denied the privilege of obtaining or using or participating directly or indirectly in the obtaining or using of export licenses, including general as well as validated export licenses, for the duration of export control. Such denial of export license privileges shall be deemed to include and prohibit participation as a party, or as a representative of a party, to any export license application or to any exportation under either general or validated license in any manner or capacity, including the financing, forwarding, transporting or other servicing of exports.

(3) Such revocation and denial of export license privileges shall extend not only to the named respondent but also to any person, firm, corporation or other business organization with which respondent may be now or hereafter related by ownership or control or with which respondent may hold a position of responsibility involving the preparation, filing, procurement or use of any export control documents or the supervision of any person so engaged.

Dated: April 24, 1951.

Assistant Director for Export Supply.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. G-1142, G-1158, G-1508]

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO. ET AL.

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

APRIL 24, 1951.

In the matters of United Gas Pipe Line Company, and Willmut Gas & Oil Company, et al., Docket Nos. G-1142 and G-1508; v. United Gas Pipe Line Company, Docket No. G-1158.

By order of the Commission issued November 30, 1950, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 7, 1950 (15 F. R. 8684), these proceedings were set for hearing to commence February 28, 1951, at 10:00 a. m. e. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C.

Thereafter, upon request of Staff Counsel, dated February 1, 1951, the Secretary of the Commission, on February 16, 1951, served upon all parties to these proceedings notice of continuance of the hearing in these matters to May 1, 1951, which notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 22, 1951 (16 F. R. 1776).

On April 20, 1951, United Gas Pipe Line Company, Respondent in these proceedings, filed with the Commission a motion requesting that the hearing scheduled to commence on May 1, 1951, be postponed subject to further orders of the Commission.

In its motion, Respondent states its willingness to meet with the Staff of the Commission in an endeavor in good faith and with reasonable diligence to devise and work out a tariff mutually acceptable to it and the Commission. By our order issued October 16, 1950, in Docket No. G-1508, we ordered Respondent to file with us in conformity with Part 154 of our general rules and regulations—as amended by Order No. 144 issued on October 30, 1948, and made effective on December 1, 1948—a tariff constituting a restatement of all of Respondent's effective schedules of rates, charges, classifications, practices, regulations and contracts for the transportation or sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, except as otherwise permitted by Part 154.

Respondent also states that during the postponement it will not take or apply for further relief in suit No. 4680-50 in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, nor institute any other court action relative to Order No. 144.

Respondent further states that its willingness to meet with the Staff of the Commission as set out above is predicated on these proceedings and said suit No. 4680-50 remaining in status quo.

The Commission finds: Good cause has been shown and it would be in the public interest to postpone the hearing in these proceedings.

The Commission orders: The public hearing in these proceedings now fixed to commence on May 1, 1951, at Washington, D. C., be and the same is hereby postponed to a date and place to be hereafter fixed by further order of the Commission.

Date of issuance: April 25, 1951.

By the Commission.

TEXAS ILLINOIS NATURAL GAS PIPELINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 24, 1951.

Take notice that Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation of 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 6, Illinois, filed on April 17, 1951 an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing certain deliveries and sales of natural gas in interstate commerce for resale in certain cities and communities in the State of Illinois, and authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas transmission pipeline facilities for, in part, effecting the said deliveries and sales, all subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission, as hereinafter described.

Applicant has heretofore been authorized to construct and operate certain facilities constituting a natural gas pipeline transportation system commencing in the State of Texas and extending through the States of Arkansas and Missouri into Illinois, with termini near Joliet and Volo, Illinois, with an authorized sales capacity of 374,000 Mcf per day as metered, equivalent to 383,350 Mcf as billed.[1] Out of the 7,705 Mcf of Applicant's previously authorized but unallocated delivery or sales capacity, Applicant by its aforesaid application of April 17, 1951 seeks authorization to sell and deliver to the following proposed purchasers the quantities of gas listed here below for resale and distribution by such purchasers in the Illinois communities and cities listed:

Proposed purchaser	Illinois communities to be served	Volumes (Mcf) proposed as of Nov. 1
		1951	1952	1953
1. Illinois Power Co.	Shattuck, Sanford, Junction City	300	345	400
2. Monarch Gas Co.	Altamont	500	550	605
3. City of Sullivan	Sullivan	599	630	662
4. Citizens Gas Co.	Bement, Lovington	427	454	483
		372	404	429
		799	858	922
5. City of Salem, Ill.	Salem, Odin	1,150	1,250	1,350
6. Allied Gas Co. (Paxton Division)	Paxton, Rantoul, Gibson City, Ludlow	[1] 1,500	[1] 1,500	[1] 1,500
Total		4,768	5,089	5,379

[1] The 1,500 Mcf per day proposed for Allied Gas Company (Paxton Division) is in addition to the 711 Mcf conditionally provided for that company by the Commission's order dated December 1, 1950, in Docket No. G-1477.

Additionally, Applicant seeks authorization to construct and operate at an estimated cost of $91,256, to be financed out of cash on hand, four metering and regulating stations for making the above proposed deliveries and sales of natural gas to the Citizens Gas Company and the cities of Salem and Sullivan, Illinois. Applicant states that the facilities for which construction was authorized by the certificates issued in Docket Nos. G-1246 and G-1477 will be adequate to provide deliveries of the additional quantities of gas proposed to be supplied to Allied Gas Company, Illinois Power Company, and Monarch Gas Company.

Applicant requests that its application be processed pursuant to the shortened procedure as provided in § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)).

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure on or before the 14th day of May 1951.

[1] Certificates issued by Commission Opinion No. 195 and order entered June 13, 1950 in Docket No. G-1246 and findings and order entered December 1, 1950, as amended February 27, 1951, in Docket No. G-1477.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

VOLUNTARY CREDIT RESTRAINT

REQUEST TO FINANCING INSTITUTIONS

Request by Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System under section 708 of Defense Production Act of 1950 to financing institutions to act pursuant to a Program for Voluntary Credit Restraint as amended.

This "Request" is addressed to all financing institutions in the United States, including without limitation all individuals, firms, partnerships, corporations and other organizations of any kind which are engaged in the business of extending credit, making loans, or purchasing, discounting, selling, distributing, dealing in, or underwriting securities, any and all of such institutions being hereinafter referred to as "financing institutions".

Pursuant to the provisions of section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (hereinafter called the "act") and of section 701 of Executive Order No. 10161, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System consulted with representatives of financing with a view to encouraging the making of voluntary agreements and programs to further the objectives of the act. As a result of such consultations, such representatives prepared a "Program for Voluntary Credit Restraint", including as a part thereof a Statement of Principles. The Board of Governors approved the Program and found it to be in the public interest as contributing to the national defense. Certain amendments to the Program have now been suggested by the Voluntary Credit Restraint Committee created under the Program. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System hereby approves these amendments to the Program, approves the Program as thus amended, and finds the Program as thus amended to be in the public interest as contributing to the national defense. The Program as thus amended, which is hereinafter referred to as the "Program", is set forth below.

Under section 708 of the said act and section 701 of the said order, acts or omissions to act pursuant to this Request and the Program which occur while said section 708 is in effect and before the withdrawal of this Request or of the finding of the Board referred to in the preceding paragraph are not construed to be within the prohibitions of the antitrust laws or of the Federal Trade Commission Act of the United States.

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has consulted with the Attorney General and with the Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission on and before April 5, 1951, said date being not less than ten days before the date of this Request, with regard to the provisions of the Program, the finding by the Board above mentioned, and this Request; and the Attorney General has approved this Request.

Every financing institution in the United States is hereby requested by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System to act, and to refrain from acting, pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of the Program. The Voluntary Credit Restraint Committee created pursuant to the provisions of the Program, each and every subcommittee created or to be created pursuant to the provisions of the Program, and each and every individual who is or may become a member of the Voluntary Credit Restraint Committee or of any of said subcommittees are hereby requested by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System to act, and to refrain from acting, pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of the Program.

By order of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System this 20th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] S. R. CARPENTER,
Secretary.

PROGRAM FOR VOLUNTARY CREDIT RESTRAINT AS AMENDED TO APRIL 20, 1951

PREAMBLE

The task of restraining strong inflationary pressures is one of the most difficult and most important in the whole range of economic problems today.

One part of this task—the restraint of unnecessary credit expansion—presents a challenge to the financing institutions throughout the Nation.

Section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 authorizes the President to encourage financing institutions to enter into voluntary agreements and programs to restrain credit, which will further the objectives of that act. By executive order, the President has delegated to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System his authority with respect to financing under this section of the act upon the required condition that it consult with the Attorney General and with the Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, and that it obtain the approval of the Attorney General before requesting actions under such voluntary agreements and programs.

At the invitation of the Board, and in company with it, representatives of the American Bankers Association, the Life Insurance Association of America and the Investment Bankers Association of America have been examining the possibilities of this method of credit restraint.

While it is recognized that the proposed Program is addressed only to one limited source of inflationary pressure, the vital importance of this problem to the stability of the economy, and the necessity to extend credit only in such a way as to restrain inflationary pressures outside the financing of the Defense Program should be emphasized to all financing institutions.

It is appropriate to point out that this Program of voluntary credit restraint does not have to do with such factors as inflationary lending by federal agencies, unnecessary spending, federal, state or local, and the wage-price spiral and other much more seriously contributing factors. These should be vigorously dealt with at the proper places. It assumes that the proper governmental authorities will exercise the requisite fiscal and monetary controls.

DEFINITIONS

As used herein:

The terms "financing institution" or "financing institutions" mean banks, life insurance companies, investment bankers engaged in the underwriting, distribution, dealing or participating, as agents or otherwise, in the offering, purchase or sale of securities, and such other types or groups of financial institutions as the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may invite to participate in the Program.

The terms "loan," "loans," "lending" and "credit," in addition to their ordinary connotations, mean the supplying of funds through the underwriting and distribution of securities (either on a firm commitment, agency or "best efforts" basis), the making or assisting in the making of direct placements, or otherwise participating in the offering or distribution of securities.

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 708 (a) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and with the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in accordance with the functions delegated to it by Section 701 (a) (2) of Executive Order 10161, this Statement of Principles has been drafted to which all financing institutions are asked to conform.

It shall be the purpose of financing institutions to extend credit in such a way as to help maintain and increase the strength of the domestic economy through the restraint of inflationary tendencies and at the same time to help finance the defense program and the essential needs of agriculture, industry and commerce.

Inflation may be defined as a condition in which the effective demand for goods and services exceeds the available supply, thus exerting an upward pressure on prices.

Any increase in lending at a more rapid rate than production can be increased exerts an inflationary influence. Under present conditions of very high employment of labor, materials and equipment, the extension of loans to finance increased output will have an initial inflationary effect; but loans which ultimately result in a commensurate increase in production of an essential nature are not inflationary in the long run whatever their temporary effect may be. It is most important, however, that loans for nonessential purposes be curtailed in order to release some of the Nation's resources for expansion in more vital areas of production.

Cooperation with this program of credit restraint makes it increasingly necessary for financing institutions to screen loan applications on the basis of their purpose, in addition to the usual tests of credit worthiness. The criterion for sound lending in a period of inflationary danger boils down to the following: Does it commensurately increase or maintain production, processing and distribution of essential goods and services?

In interpretation of the foregoing, the following types of loans would be classified as proper:

1. Loans for defense production, direct or indirect, including fuel, power and transportation.

2. Loans for the production, processing and orderly distribution of agricultural and other staple products, including export and import as well as domestic, and of goods and services supplying the essential day-to-day needs of the country.

3. Loans to augment working capital where higher wages and prices of materials make such loans necessary to sustain essential production, processing or distribution services.

4. Loans to securities dealers in the normal conduct of their business or to them or others incidental to the flotation and distribution of securities where the money is being raised for any of the foregoing purposes.

This Program would not seek to restrict loans guaranteed or insured, or authorized as to purpose by a Government agency, on the theory that they should be restricted, in accordance with national policy, at the source of guaranty or authorization. Financing institutions would not be restricted in honoring previous commitments.

The following are types of loans which in general financing institutions should not make under present conditions, unless modified by the circumstances of the particular loan so as not to be inconsistent with the principles of this program:

1. Loans to retire or acquire corporate equities in the hands of the public, including loans for the acquisition of existing companies or plants where no over-all increase of production would result.

2. Loans for speculative investments or purchases. The first test of speculation is whether the purchase is for any purpose other than use or distribution in the normal course of the borrower's business. The second test is whether the amounts involved are disproportionate to the borrower's normal business operations.[1] This would include speculative expansion of real estate holdings or plant facilities as well as speculative accumulation of inventories in expectation of resale instead of use.

The foregoing principles should be applied in screening as to purpose on all loans on securities not covered by Regulations U or T.

* * * * *

Recognizing that the maximum estimate of the percentage of our 1951 production which will be devoted directly or indirectly to national defense is between 20 percent and 30 percent, a very substantial proportion of the lending of the country will be devoted to the financing of the production and growth of our industrial and commercial community. In these circumstances, it is felt that each financing institution can help accomplish the objectives outlined above by careful screening of each application for credit extension.

In carrying out such screening, financing institutions should not only observe the letter of the existing regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with respect to real estate credit, consumer credit, security loans, etc., but should also apply to all their lending the spirit of these and such other regulations and guiding principles as the Government may from time to time announce in the fight against inflation.

This Program is necessarily very general in nature. It is a voluntary Program to aid in the over-all efforts to restrain inflation. To be helpful, this Program must rely on the good will of all financing institutions and the over-all intention to comply with its spirit.

PROCEDURE FOR IMPLEMENTING THE PROGRAM

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 708 (b) and (c) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and upon full compliance with the terms and conditions thereof:

1. A "Voluntary Credit Restraint Committee" (hereinafter referred to as "the Committee") will be appointed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (hereinafter referred to as "the Board"). Members shall be appointed for such terms as the Board may prescribe. Initially, the Committee will consist of twelve members, four representing the life insurance companies, four representing the investment bankers, and four representing the banks. The membership of the Committee may from time to time be expanded as deemed advisable or appropriate by the Board to insure adequate representation thereon of other types or groups of financing institutions which may participate in the Program. The Board may appoint one or more alternates from each group to serve on the Committee in case of the absence of a member or members of the Committee representing such group. In selecting and appointing the members of the Committee and alternates, the Board shall have due regard to fair representation thereon for small, for medium and for large financing institutions, and for different geographical areas. The Committee will:

(a) With such assistance from the Board and the Federal Reserve Banks as may be necessary, distribute this statement of the Program, including the Statement of Principles, to financing institutions to such extent as may be deemed desirable in view of any distribution previously made;

(b) Appoint the subcommittees referred to below in 2;

(c) Meet for the purpose of considering the functioning of the Program, advising the Board with respect thereto, and suggesting for the consideration of the Board such changes in the Program, including the Statement of Principles, as may from time to time appear appropriate. Meetings of the Committee shall be held at the call of an official of the Federal Reserve System, designated by the Board; shall be under the chairmanship of such an official; and an agenda for such meetings shall be prepared by such an official. Full and complete minutes of each meeting shall be made by such an official and copies shall be kept in the files of the Board available for public inspection.

(d) Issue bulletins or memoranda from time to time to the subcommittees or to financing institutions regarding general matters relating to the Program and related credit problems, including statements implementing or clarifying the Statement of Principles, and describing the types of credits which, in the Committee's opinion, should or should not be regarded as proper under the terms of the Program.

(e) Request the chairman of the Committee to designate an employee of the Board of Governors to serve as secretary. Such secretary, in consultation with the chairman of the Committee, is authorized to conduct correspondence on behalf of the Committee in conformity with actions taken by the Committee within the scope of the Program.

2. Subcommittee may be established for each type of financing institution participating in the Program. One of the members of each subcommittee located in any city in which there is a Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof will be a Federal Reserve representative designated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or by such Federal Reserve Bank or branch; and such member shall attend each meeting of the subcommittee. For the investment bankers, the life insurance companies, and the banks there may in each case be one or more subcommittees organized. All such subcommittees will meet only for the purposes specified in the Program; will maintain records of their actions; and will make reports directly to the Committee regarding the actions taken by them, including statements of the types of cases considered and the nature of the advice given. The subcommittees will be available for consultation with individual financing institutions to assist them in determining the application of the Statement of Principles with respect to specific loans for which application has been made to such financing institutions. In consulting with a subcommittee, a financing institution shall not be required to disclose the identity of the applicant for any loan. No financing institution shall be required to consult with any subcommittee with respect to any loan or loans, or any application or applications therefor. Consultation with a subcommittee shall be wholly within the individual and independent discretion of a financing institution. The final decision with respect to making or refusing to make any particular loan or loans shall likewise remain wholly within the individual and independent discretion of each financing institution, whether or not it has consulted with any of the subcommittees.

In setting up the subcommittees, the Committee shall have due regard for fair representation thereon for small, for medium and for large financing institutions, and for different geographical areas. It shall also inform the Board of all subcommittee appointments.

The chairman of each subcommittee will be designated by the Committee and in the absence of such chairman, the subcommittee may elect an acting chairman from among its members. The Committee may appoint one or more alternates to serve at the request of the chairman of a subcommittee in case of the absence of a member or members of the subcommittee. The Federal Reserve Bank or branch, as the case may be, may provide an alternate to the subcommittee member designated by it whenever necessary. Each subcommittee may appoint a secretary who may be a member of the subcommittee or otherwise, and he may conduct correspondence on behalf of the subcommittee in conformity with actions taken by the subcommittee within the scope of the Program.

3. The Committee shall be furnished with such compilations of statistical data on extension of credit by financing institutions as may be required to show the amounts and direction of credit use and to watch the operation of the Program. Such statistics shall be compiled by the Board. To assist the Board in making such compilations, data shall be supplied for the investment bankers, jointly by the Investment Bankers Association and the National Association of Securities Dealers, and for the life insurance companies, jointly by the Life Insurance Association of America and the American Life Convention. Compilations of data made by the Board shall not reveal the identity of individual financing institutions or borrowers. Such compilations shall be kept on file with the Board and shall be available for public inspection.

4. Financing institutions participating in the Program will keep records of individual loans, as to purpose, in such form as to be available for future analysis.

5. Any change in the Program, including the Statement of Principles, shall be passed upon by the Committee and shall be made in accordance with the requirements of Section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

All actions pursuant to and under the Program will be automatically terminated by all participating financing institutions as of the termination of the authority conferred under Section 708 of the Defense Production Act of 1950; or upon withdrawal by the Board of its request for action under the Program. If the Committee, after study of the operation of the Program, concludes that it is no longer necessary or is not making a substantial contribution to the solution of the problem for which the Program was established, it shall so advise the Board.

[F. R. Doc. 51-4899; Filed, Apr. 27, 1951; 8:49 a. m.]

[1] Loans additional to those needed for a borrower's normal business may, of course, be regarded as proper when they are for the purpose of defense production or otherwise conform to the types of loans listed as proper in this Statement of Principles.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATOR OF FEDERAL CIVIL DEFENSE

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO PROCUREMENT OF SUPPLIES AND SERVICES

1. Pursuant to authority vested in me by provisions of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (Public Laws 152 and 754, 81st Congress), hereinafter called the act, authority is hereby delegated to the Administrator of Federal Civil Defense to exercise the following authority in connection with establishment and operation of training schools and staff colleges within the continental limits of the United States as authorized by section 201 (e) of Public Law 920, 81st Congress:

a. To procure, for the purposes above specified, supplies and services, including space in buildings by lease or permit, as he may determine to be in the public interest, in accordance with section 302 of the act.

2. This authority shall be exercised strictly in accordance with the act, particularly section 307 requiring written findings and in certain instances preservation of data and reports to the General Accounting Office.

3. The authority herein delegated may be redelegated to any officer or employee of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, subject to the limitations of section 307 of the act.

This delegation of authority shall be effective as of the date hereof.

Dated: April 21, 1951.

[Rev. S. O. 874, Gen. Permit 18]

EVANS MILLING CO. AND DECATUR MILLING CO.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act serving Evans Milling Company, Indianapolis, Indiana, and Decatur Milling Company, Decatur, Illinois, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to Bulk Mixed Feed, when Evans Milling Company or Decatur Milling Company advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because of inability of loading device to load to within 24 inches of roof of cars, except at ends of car. However, the total weight of such shipments shall be or exceed 80,000 pounds.

The waybills shall show reference to this General Permit and Evans Milling Company or Decatur Milling Company shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this Permit and also car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars loaded with Bulk Mixed Feed shipped; such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This General Permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 25, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this General Permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this Permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of April 1951.

NIAGARA HUDSON POWER CORP.

ORDER AND DECLARATION OF DISSOLUTION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April A. D. 1951.

Niagara Hudson Power Corporation ("Niagara Hudson"), a registered holding company, having filed an application pursuant to section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") requesting the Commission to enter an order declaring that Niagara Hudson has ceased to be a holding company under said act by virtue of the fact that pursuant to the Commission's order dated August 25, 1943, as supplemented by its order dated September 7, 1950, approving the Dissolution Plan of Niagara Hudson pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, and the order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York dated November 4, 1949, and the supplemental order of said court dated September 28, 1950, approving said plan, Niagara Hudson has made distribution of its assets and was dissolved on December 21, 1950; and

Said application having been filed on March 12, 1951, and notice of said filing having been duly published, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect thereto within the period specified in said notice or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that Niagara Hudson has ceased to be a holding company;

It is therefore ordered and declared, Pursuant to section 5 (d) of the act, that Niagara Hudson has ceased to be a holding company, and that the registration of such company shall forthwith cease to be in effect.

NATIONAL POWER & LIGHT CO. ET AL., RESPONDENTS

ORDER REVOKING PART OF PREVIOUS ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April A. D. 1951.

The Commission, in connection with its order requiring the dissolution of National Power & Light Company ("National"), a registered holding company, having further ordered on November 9, 1942, among other things, that "On or before the 20th day of each month from and after December 1, 1942, National Power & Light Company shall submit to the Commission its actual corporate income and surplus statements for the calendar monthly period next preceding the date of the filing thereof * * *"; and

National having requested that such requirement be rescinded on the ground that since the company's assets now consist almost entirely of cash and cash items, monthly reports have become repetitious and of no practical value and that the preparation thereof imposes a burden on the present small organization of the company; and

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate to grant such request:

It is ordered, effective forthwith, That the portion of the Commission's order of November 9, 1942, requiring that "On or before the 20th day of each month from and after December 1, 1942, National shall submit to the Commission its actual corporate income and surplus statements for the calendar monthly period next preceding the date of the filing thereof * * *", be, and hereby is revoked.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP. AND JERSEY CENTRAL POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF POST EFFECTIVE AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION-DECLARATION AND ORDER MODIFYING PREVIOUS ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April 1951.

By order dated March 14, 1951 (Holding Company Act Release No. 10444), pursuant to Rule U-23 promulgated under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), this Commission granted and permitted to become effective a joint application-declaration of General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, and its utility subsidiary, Jersey Central Power & Light Company ("Jersey Central"), proposing, inter alia: (i) the issuance and sale by Jersey Central, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 under the act, of $1,500,000 principal amount of first mortgage bonds and 40,000 shares of preferred stock; (ii) the issuance and sale by Jersey Central and the purchase by GPU of 350,000 shares of common stock for an aggregate cash consideration of $3,500,000, and (iii) the issuance and sale by GPU to commercial banks of $3,500,000 principal amount of promissory notes for the purpose of providing funds with which to purchase the common stock of Jersey Central. Said issuances and sales by Jersey Central were approved as a single transaction by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey.

GPU and Jersey Central have filed a post effective amendment to said joint application-declaration in which it is stated that, pursuant to the permission granted by said order of this Commission dated March 14, 1951, Jersey Central invited bids for the purchase of said bonds and preferred stock and in response to said invitation received but one bid for the bonds and one bid for the preferred stock, which bids were returned to the bidders unopened, it being Jersey Central's opinion that effective competitive bidding was not possible under the circumstances. However, GPU did issue and sell the $3,500,000 principal amount of its notes to commercial banks. The amendment further sets forth that in the opinion of Jersey Central the state commission's order approving the proposed issuance and sale of securities will become null and void unless the authority therein granted is fully exercised within sixty days of the date thereof; that Jersey Central has determined to defer action with respect to the proposed sale of the bonds; and that an appropriate modification of the state commission's order is being sought so as to permit the proposed issuance and sale of preferred and common stocks as separate transactions.

Pursuant to the provisions of Rule U-24 (c) (2) under the act, this Commission's order of March 14, 1951, will, upon any modification of the state commission's order, be automatically revoked and terminated to the extent that it permits the issuance and sale of securities by Jersey Central as a transaction expressly authorized by the state commission. In view of the provisions of Rule U-24 (c) (2), the amendment seeks a modification of this Commission's order of March 14, 1951, so as to permit said issuance and sale of preferred and common stocks by Jersey Central when the same shall have been expressly authorized as separate transactions by the state commission. In addition, Jersey Central requests that the issuance and sale of the preferred stock be excepted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and that Jersey Central be permitted to enter into negotiations looking to the private sale of such preferred stock.

Notice is hereby given that any interested person may, not later than May 7, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held with respect to said requested exception from the provisions of Rule U-50, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said requested exception which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time after May 7, 1951, said requested exception may be granted without further notice.

The Commission having considered the post effective amendment to the application-declaration herein and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the Commission's order herein dated March 14, 1951, should be modified as requested in such post effective amendment:

It is hereby ordered, That the Commission's order entered in these proceedings under date of March 14, 1951, be, and the same hereby is, modified to permit the issuance and sale by Jersey Central of 40,000 shares of preferred stock and 350,000 shares of common stock, when such issuances and sales shall have been expressly authorized by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey, as separate transactions subject, however, to the terms and conditions of Rule U-24 and the further condition that Jersey Central shall take no steps in the negotiation for private sale of such preferred stock unless and until a further order of this Commission shall have been entered herein granting the requested exception from the provisions of Rule U-50 (b) and (c).

By the Commission.

HARRISBURG GAS CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 24th day of April A. D. 1951.

The Harrisburg Gas Company ("Harrisburg"), a gas utility subsidiary of The United Gas Improvement Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to the third sentence of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Harrisburg proposes the issuance and sale of $1,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 3.15 percent Series due 1976, for $1,000,000 in cash to the following institutions in the principal amounts designated: The Philadelphia Saving Fund Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, $600,000, and the Beneficial Saving Fund Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, $400,000. Said bonds will be issued under and secured by the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated May 1, 1946, of Harrisburg Trust Company, Trustee, and the various indentures supplemental thereto, including specifically a supplemental indenture to be dated as of May 1, 1951, to be entered into between Harrisburg and the Harrisburg Trust Company, as Trustee.

The applicant represents that the proceeds from the sale of the said bonds will be used to repay certain notes and open account indebtedness and to finance Harrisburg's construction program for 1951.

Said application having been filed on March 30, 1951, and amendments thereto on April 16 and 20, 1951; notice of said filing having been given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 under said act; and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said application, as amended, within the period prescribed in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed issue and sale by Harrisburg of its bonds are solely for the purpose of financing the business of the company and that such issue and sale have been expressly authorized by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission which is the State Commission of the State in which the applicant is organized and is doing business, and having determined that it is not necessary to impose any terms or conditions other than those prescribed by Rule U-24, and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant applicant's request that our order authorizing the proposed transactions become effective upon issuance;

It is ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that said application, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

UNION ELECTRIC CO. OF MISSOURI AND UNION ELECTRIC POWER CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of April 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by Union Electric Company of Missouri ("Union"), a registered holding company and an electric utility subsidiary of the North American Company, also a registered holding company, and by Union Electric Power Company ("Union Electric Power"), a wholly owned electric utility subsidiary of Union. The applicants-declarants have designated sections 6 (b), 9 (a), and 10 of the act and Rule U-44 thereunder as applicable to the transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 29, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission, in writing, that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact and law raised by said application-declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed as follows: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after 5:30 p. m., on May 29, 1951, said application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed which is summarized as follows:

Union Electric Power proposes to issue and sell to Union from time to time during the period ending December 31, 1952, $7,000,000 aggregate par value of additional shares of its Common Stock, of the par value of $20 per share, which will be pledged by Union with the trustee of Union's mortgage securing its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds. Union Electric Power proposes to use the proceeds from the sale of its stock for the construction of new facilities.

The application-declaration states that authorization for the proposed transaction has been sought from the Missouri Public Service Commission and the Illinois Commerce Commission, the state commissions of the states in which Union and Union Electric Power operate.

Applicants-declarants request that the Commission's order herein be issued by May 31, 1951, and that such order become effective upon issuance.

By the Commission.

That the domiciliary, personal representatives, heirs, next-of-kin, legatees, and distributees, names unknown, of Marie Trommershausen, of Clementine Mencke, of Friedrich Karte and of Stefanie Steinwarz; the spouse, parents and issue, names unknown, of Marie Trommershausen, of Clara Schroder (Mencke), of Clementine Mencke, of Frieda Rubke Loescher, of Johanna Giesler, of the widow of Rudolf Pielsticker, of Friedrich Karte, of Friedrich Drees, of the children of Lisette Hollenberg, of the children of Lina Voss, of Anna Witte, of Stefanie Steinwarz, of Vera Guinand; the issue, names unknown, of Frieda Lappe, of Wilhelm Rubke, of the widow of Wilhelm Mester, of the widow of Ernst Mester, of Adele Dittwald, of Lisette Hollenberg, of Lina Voss, of the widow of Heinrich Karte, Sr., of Milly Voullieme, of Frederick Lagemann except Erica Bauer-Schlichtegroll, a resident of the United States, and of the widow of Rudolf Karte, who there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Germany, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. That all right, title, interest and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of the persons identified in subparagraphs 1 and 2 hereof, and each of them except Erica Bauer-Schlichtegroll, a resident of the United States, in and to and arising out of or under that certain Trust Agreement dated April 16, 1924, by and between Charles W. Lagemann, Donor, and The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Frederick Lagemann, Alfred Lagemann, Walter Lagemann and Eric Lagemann, Trustees, and amendments thereto dated May 23, 1925, and April 14, 1931, and that certain Agreement dated April 16, 1924, by and between Walter Lagemann, Eric Lagemann, and Anna Lagemann, parties of the first part, Charles W. Lagemann, party of the second part, and The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Frederick Lagemann, Alfred Lagemann, Walter Lagemann and Eric Lagemann, trustees as aforesaid, parties of the third part, at present being administered by City Bank Farmers Trust Company, Eric Lagemann, Walter Lagemann, and C. H. A. Mott, New York, New York, as trustee, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons identified in subparagraph 1 hereof and the domiciliary, personal representatives, heirs, next of kin, legatees and distributees, names unknown, of Marie Trommershausen, of Clementine Mencke, of Friedrich Karte and of Stefanie Steinwarz; the spouse, parents and issue, names unknown, of Marie Trommershausen, of Clara Schroder (Mencke), of Clementine Mencke, of Frieda Rubke Loescher, of Johanna Giesler, of the widow of Rudolf Pielsticker, of Friedrich Karte, of Friedrich Drees, of the children of Lisette Hollenberg, of the children of Lina Voss, of Anna Witte, of Stefanie Steinwarz, of Vera Guinand; the issue, names unknown, of Frieda Lappe, of Wilhelm Rubke, of the widow of Wilhelm Mester, of the widow of Ernst Mester, of Adele Dittwald, of Lisette Hollenberg, of Lina Voss, of the widow of Heinrich Karte, Sr., of Milly Voullieme, of Frederick Lagemann, except Erica Bauer-Schlichtegroll, a resident of the United States, and of the widow of Rudolf Karte, are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in Section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 23, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2923

MOTHER'S DAY, 1951

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the strength of our Nation reflects the strength of the American home, which is based on the virtues fostered by the mothers of our country; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of the services rendered by American mothers, the Congress, by a joint resolution approved May 8, 1914 (38 Stat. 770), set aside the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day and lauded American mothers for their influence toward good government and their contributions to the moral and religious uplift of humanity;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby direct the appropriate officials of the Government to arrange for the display of the flag of the United States on all public buildings on Mother's Day, May 13, 1951, and I call upon the people to display the flag on that day at their homes or other suitable places as a public expression of honor for our mothers.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 26th day of April in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-one, [SEAL] and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

PROCLAMATION 2924

ENLARGING HOVENWEEP NATIONAL MONUMENT, COLORADO AND UTAH

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Proclamation No. 1654 of March 2, 1923, established the Hovenweep National Monument on certain public lands in southwestern Colorado and southeastern Utah for the purpose of protecting and preserving four groups of ruins including structures of the finest prehistoric masonry to be found in the United States; and

WHEREAS it has been determined that the public lands described and set apart as the said Hovenweep National Monument do not include the lands containing one of the said groups of ruins known as the Hackberry Ruin; and

WHEREAS another ruin, known as the Goodman Point Ruin, situated in the vicinity of the Hovenweep National Monument, has been found to be of significance comparable to, and suitable for preservation with, the ruins comprising the said Monument; and

WHEREAS it is deemed desirable in the public interest that the lands embracing the Hackberry Ruin and the Goodman Point Ruin be added to and reserved as parts of the Hovenweep National Monument:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 2 of the act of June 8, 1906 (ch. 3060, 34 Stat. 225, 16 U. S. C. 431), do proclaim that, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the following-described tracts of land in Colorado are hereby added to and reserved as parts of the Hovenweep National Monument:

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10241

AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 9835 ENTITLED "PRESCRIBING PROCEDURES FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF AN EMPLOYEES LOYALTY PROGRAM IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT"

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes of the United States, including the Civil Service Act of 1883 (22 Stat. 403) as amended, and section 9A of the act approved August 2, 1939 (5 U. S. C. 118j), and as President of the United States, it is ordered that paragraph 1 of Part V of Executive Order No. 9835 of March 21, 1947, (entitled "Prescribing Procedures for the Administration of an Employees Loyalty Program in the Executive Branch of the Government", be, and it is hereby, amended to read as follows:

"1. The standard for the refusal of employment or the removal from employment in an executive department or agency on grounds relating to loyalty shall be that, on all the evidence, there is a reasonable doubt as to the loyalty of the person involved to the Government of the United States."

REORGANIZATION PLAN NO. 1 OF 1951

Prepared by the President and Transmitted to the Senate and the House of Representatives in Congress Assembled, February 19, 1951, Pursuant to the Provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1949, Approved June 20, 1949 [1]

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION

SECTION 1. Administrator of the Corporation. There is hereby established the office of Administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, hereinafter referred to as the Administrator. The Administrator shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and shall receive compensation at the rate of $17,500 per annum.

SEC. 2. Deputy Administrator. There is hereby established the office of Deputy Administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, who shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall receive compensation at the rate of $16,000 per annum, shall perform such duties as the Administrator may from time to time designate, and shall be Acting Administrator and perform the functions of the Administrator, including his functions as a member and the Chairman of the Loan Policy Board hereinafter provided for, during the absence or disability of the Administrator or in the event of a vacancy in the office of Administrator.

SEC. 3. Other employment prohibited. No person shall while holding the office of Administrator or Deputy Administrator engage in any business, vocation, or employment other than that involved in the holding of such office.

SEC. 4. Loan Policy Board. There is hereby established the Loan Policy Board of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which shall be composed of the following members, all ex officio: The Administrator, as Chairman, the Deputy Administrator, as Vice Chairman, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Commerce, and one other member who shall be designated from time to time by the President from among the officers of the United States who are required to be appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Either of the said Secretaries and the said designee of the President may designate an officer of his department or agency to act in his stead as a member of the Loan Policy Board with respect to any matter or matters.

SEC. 5. Functions transferred to Administrator. All functions of the Board of Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, including those of the members and chairman of the said Board and including those with respect to the management of the Corporation, are hereby transferred to the Administrator, except as the said functions are otherwise vested by the provisions of sections 6 and 7 of this reorganization plan.

SEC. 6. General policies. The Loan Policy Board shall establish general policies (particularly with reference to the public interest involved in the granting and denial of applications for financial assistance by the Corporation and with reference to the coordination of the functions of the Corporation with other activities and policies of the Government) which shall govern the granting and denial of applications for financial assistance by the Corporation.

SEC. 7. Financial assistance procedure. All applications for loans or other financial assistance totaling in excess of $100,000 to any borrower shall be referred to a board of review, and such board shall submit a recommendation in each case to the Administrator. Any board of review shall consist of not less than five persons who shall be designated by the Administrator from among personnel of the Corporation having major responsibilities assigned to them and who shall receive no additional compensation for service hereunder. Whenever any loan or purchase of obligation shall be approved or declined in any case wherein the board of review has recommended otherwise, the Administrator shall place in the records of the Corporation a memorandum setting forth his reasons for granting or denying the financial assistance involved.

SEC. 8. Delegation of functions. The Administrator may from time to time make such provisions as he shall deem appropriate with respect to the performance by any officer, employee, or administrative unit under his jurisdiction of any function of the Administrator under the provisions of this reorganization plan.

SEC. 9. Abolition of present Board. The Board of Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, including the offices of the members of such Board, is hereby abolished, and the Administrator shall provide for winding up any outstanding affairs of the said Board not otherwise provided for in this reorganization plan.

SEC. 10. Effective date. Sections 4 to 9, inclusive, of this reorganization plan shall become effective when, and not until, the Administrator first appointed hereunder enters upon office pursuant to the provisions of this reorganization plan.

[DESIGNATION OF ACTING DEFENSE PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATOR]

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
APRIL 27, 1951.

MR. E. T. GIBSON
Deputy Defense Production Administrator
Defense Production Administration
Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. GIBSON:

I hereby designate you Acting Defense Production Administrator effective upon the resignation of Mr. William H. Harrison, present Defense Production Administrator. You will serve in this capacity until Mr. Harrison's successor assumes office.

You are authorized to serve without compensation during the period of your incumbency as Acting Defense Production Administrator. While serving in this capacity the exemptions generally applicable to employees serving without compensation are extended to you, and the requirements of Section 301 of Executive Order 10182, as amended by Executive Order 10205, are waived.

During the period of your incumbency as Acting Defense Production Administrator, you are authorized to exercise all the powers delegated to the Defense Production Administrator except those powers relating to voluntary agreements under Section 708 of the Defense Production Act, which powers are temporarily transferred to the Director of Defense Mobilization.

Very truly yours,

HARRY S. TRUMAN

[DELEGATION OF POWERS RELATING TO VOLUNTARY AGREEMENTS UNDER DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT]

APRIL 27, 1951.

Honorable CHARLES E. WILSON
Director
Office of Defense Mobilization
Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. WILSON:

At your suggestion, I have designated Mr. E. T. Gibson, Deputy Defense Production Administrator, as Acting Defense Production Administrator during the period between Mr. Harrison's resignation and the assumption of office of Mr. Harrison's successor.

During the period of Mr. Gibson's incumbency as Acting Defense Production Administrator, I hereby delegate to you the powers relating to voluntary agreements delegated to the Defense Production Administrator under Section 708 of the Defense Production Act.

Very truly yours,

HARRY S. TRUMAN

RULES AND REGULATIONS

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 907—MILK IN THE MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER REGULATING HANDLING

§ 907.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order, amending the order effective on May 1, 1951. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order will seriously threaten the orderly marketing of milk in the Milwaukee marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers and producers, the public hearing having been held on April 17, 1951, and no special preparation is necessary to comply therewith by the persons affected thereby. Therefore, it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations or producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (February 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 907.72, paragraph (b) of § 907.30, and paragraph (b) of § 907.60.

2. In § 907.31 (a) delete the words "including for the months of April through July such producer's deliveries of base milk and excess milk."

3. In § 907.71, delete, in its entirety, the introductory language following the title and prior to the first colon therein and substitute the following: "For each month the market administrator shall compute for each handler the uniform price per hundredweight of producer milk in the following manner."

4. In § 907.80 (a) delete the phrase "of the months of August through March" and substitute the word "month".

5. Delete § 907.90 and substitute the following:

§ 907.90 Producer handlers. Sections 907.40 to 907.47, 907.50 to 907.51, 907.60 to 907.61, 907.70 to 907.71, and 907.80 to 907.85, inclusive, shall not apply to a producer handler.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C. this 30th day of April 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of May 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

PART 506—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES RECORDATION

Acting pursuant to authority appearing in sections 308 and 503 of the Civil Acronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and in accordance with sections 3 and 4[1] of the Administrative Procedure Act, I hereby adopt Part 506 to read as follows:

Sec.
506.1 Basis and purpose.
506.2 Requirements.

AUTHORITY: §§ 506.1 and 506.2 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 503, 52 Stat. 1006; 49 U. S. C. 523.

§ 506.1 Basis and purpose. The basis for this part is found in section 503 (g) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The purpose of the regulations in this part is to require recordation of the extent of compliance and noncompliance wth all outstanding airworthiness directives applicable to an aircraft or to major components thereof.

§ 506.2 Requirements. When the date of transfer of ownership of an aircraft precedes the final date for compliance with any published airworthiness directives applicable to that aircraft or a major component thereof, the owner, prior to the transfer of ownership, shall record in the appropriate logbook, or other historical record, the extent of his compliance and noncompliance with those directives.

This part shall become effective May 1, 1951.

[SEAL] S. J. MARRIOTT,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

CIVIL AIRWAY ALTERATIONS

The civil airway alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.11 is amended to read:

§ 600.11 Green civil airway No. 1 (U. S.-Canadian Border via Millinocket, Maine, to the U. S.-Canadian Border). From the intersection of the east course of the Megantic, Quebec, Canada, radio range and the U. S.-Canadian Border via the Millinocket, Me., radio range station to the intersection of the east course of the Millinocket, Me., radio range and the U. S.-Canadian Border.

2. Section 600.602 is amended to read:

§ 600.602 Blue civil airway No. 2 (Montgomery, Ala., to Erie, Pa.). From the intersection of the southeast course of the Craig, Ala., AFB radio range and the south course of the Birmingham, Ala., radio range via the Birmingham, Ala., radio range station; the intersection of the north course of the Birmingham, Ala., radio range and the southwest course of the Chattanooga, Tenn., radio range via the Chattanooga, Tenn., radio range station to the intersection of the northeast course of the Chattanooga, Tenn., radio range and the west course of the Knoxville, Tenn., radio range. From the Elkins, W. Va., radio marker station via the Pittsburgh, Pa., radio range station; the Butler, Pa., non-directional radio beacon; the intersection of the east course of the Youngstown, Ohio, radio range and the south course of the Erie, Pa., radio range to the Erie, Pa., radio range station.

3. Section 600.606 is amended to read:

4. Section 600.631 is amended to read:

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984 as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 302, 52 Stat. 985, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 452)

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t. May 1, 1951.

[SEAL] J. S. MARRIOTT,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

Chapter I—Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior

Subchapter L—Irrigation Projects; Operation and Maintenance

PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

BLACKFEET INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

APRIL 23, 1951.

On March 22, 1951 there was published in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of intention to modify §§ 130.130 Basic agreement, 130.131 Excess water assessment and paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of § 130.132 Payment, of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with the irrigable lands of the Blackfeet Indian Irrigation Project, Montana. Interested persons were thereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the amendments by submitting data or written arguments within 30 days from date of publication of the notice.

Communications to the Area Director have been received protesting extension of certain provisions of the regulations heretofore promulgated and the effect of the proposed modification of certain provisions. The objection to the recission of § 130.132 (b) is considered valid. Therefore, that section as heretofore published will be continued in full force and effect until further notice. All other protests are considered to be without justification; accordingly §§ 130.130, 130.131 and 130.132 are hereby amended as follows, to be effective for the season of 1951 and thereafter until further order:

§ 130.130 Basic agreement. Pursuant to the acts of Congress approved August 1, 1914, May 18, 1916 and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583; 39 Stat. 142; 45 Stat. 210; 25 U. S. C. 385, 387), the basic rate of assessment of operation and maintenance charges against the irrigable lands under the Blackfeet Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, for the season of 1951 and until further notice, is hereby fixed at $1.80 per acre per annum for the delivery of water, on an application basis, of not to exceed 1½ acre-feet per acre during each irrigation season.

§ 130.131 Excess water assessment. Additional water may be delivered in excess of $1\frac{1}{2}$ acre-feet per acre per annum at the rate of $1.00 per acre-foot or fraction thereof.

§ 130.132 Payment. (a) The assessments fixed in §§ 130.130 and 130.131 shall be due and payable at the time of the filing of the application for water. Payments must be made to the proper officer at Browning, Montana before water is delivered.

(b) Delinquent assessments which accrued prior to 1939 against land covered by an application for water shall not prevent the delivery of water for the calendar year 1939 and until further order.

PAUL L. FICKINGER,
Area Director.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 23]

CPR 23—LIVE CATTLE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.); Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105); Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 2 (16 F. R. 738) Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture to the Economic Stabilization Agency with respect to the Allocation of Meat (16 F. R. 1272) and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 5 (16 F. R. 1273) this Ceiling Price Regulation 23 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes maximum amounts which slaughterers who slaughter 10 or more cattle during an accounting period may pay for all steers, heifers, cows, stags, and bulls slaughtered during an accounting period and within 120 days of the date of purchase.

The regulation specifically exempts from the maximum payment restrictions, purchases of cattle from recognized farm youth organizations, and purchases of cattle exhibited in competition at a fair, show or exhibition.

The Necessity for the Present Regulation

Beef is an important cost of living item. About 44.1 percent of the consumers' meat diet in 1949 (excluding poultry) consisted of beef. Thus, if the cost of living is to be controlled, effective measures must be taken to stabilize beef prices. A major step in stabilizing beef prices is to control prices paid for live cattle.

Cattle prices have shown a sharp upward trend since last June although they were already near a record high level when the Korean conflict began. The increase in average prices per hundredweight at Chicago for choice steers, the most important source of beef at retail, is shown by the following table:

June 22, 1950	$29.85
Jan. 26, 1951	34.93
Apr. 13, 1951	36.81

Nationally, average prices paid to farmers for beef cattle on June 15, 1950, were 137 percent of parity, which is an index of farmers' cost rates. Prices have advanced relative to parity as well as in dollars and cents since that time, as follows:

	Per cwt.	Percent of parity
June 15, 1950	$29.70	137
Jan. 15, 1951	27.00	141
Mar. 15, 1951	29.70	151

The need for establishing uniform dollar-and-cent ceilings on wholesale prices for dressed beef has been set forth in the Statement of Considerations accompanying CPR 24, Dressed Beef and Wholesale Cuts. With a strong civilian and military demand for beef at the ceilings, cattle prices, if uncontrolled, are likely to crowd upward, place many slaughterers under hardship, and make it difficult to hold the wholesale and retail ceilings on beef.

The tendency for cattle prices to rise even though beef prices are under ceilings is caused in part by the varying operating efficiency and the varying degree of integration of slaughterers. If the supply of cattle and beef is inadequate for the demand, the low-cost slaughterers and those performing many processing operations are in position to bid strongly for cattle to obtain an increased share of the scarce supply. This places slaughterers with somewhat higher costs or doing little or no processing in a price squeeze.

Control over cattle prices that will provide generally fair and equitable margins for slaughterers is necessary to meet the requirements of the Defense Production Act. It also is an essential instrument in maintaining the beef ceilings at wholesale and retail and minimizing black market sales.

Distribution Regulation 1 of the Office of Price Stabilization is designed to hold demand of each packer for cattle to his fair share of the available offerings. This will place some restraint on buying, but, taken alone, is not deemed sufficient to hold cattle prices fully in line in view of the anticipated strong demand for beef.

From the over-all food production standpoint, a further rise in beef cattle prices is not justified. It would tend to divert feed and labor resources from other livestock, including dairy cattle, where maintenance of at least the present level of production is deemed desirable.

Basic Price Level Established

The regulation provides for two sets of maximum prices which slaughterers are permitted to pay, on the average, for cattle of the various grades. The first set of prices are effective for each slaughterer's first accounting period beginning on or after May 20, 1951; the second set becomes effective for accounting periods beginning on or after July 29, 1951. This latter set of prices are about $4\frac{1}{2}$ percent lower than those which become effective in May. A further reduction of approximately this same amount will be instituted for the accounting period beginning on or after September 30, 1951.

The first set of prices are at about the level prevailing December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, specified as the base period in the General Ceiling Price Regulation. When that regulation was issued, the Director announced that he would establish controls on livestock prices. Moreover, that regulation froze most prices including beef prices at the January level. Therefore, persons who acquired an inventory of cattle after the January date did so with the knowledge that controls of live cattle prices were to be issued and prices were to be stabilized at the January levels. The prices fixed in the regulation are the lowest prices which would protect cattle feeders against inventory losses on cattle acquired before the freeze date. Feeder cattle are an essential part of beef production. They are the source of about 30 percent of the total beef supply. To set lower prices now would mean substantial inventory losses for some feeders and would disrupt normal channels of marketing.

As feeder inventories are sold, prices will be reduced effective July 29, 1951 and September 30, 1951. The level of prices reached after these reductions is generally fair and equitable for the following reasons: First, by providing three months before the first reduction and five months before the second one, it permits feeders a reasonable time in which to dispose of inventories acquired at higher prices. Moreover, the reduction takes place at a time when the numbers of livestock in feed lots are at a relatively low level. Second, the reduced levels of prices will be substantially above 100 percent of parity. The prices prevailing until July 29 will reflect about 135 percent of parity. Those pertaining for the period of July 29 to September 30 will reflect about 130 percent of parity, while those after September will reflect approximately 120 to 125 percent of parity. Third, the level of prices will be above the legal minimum of the highest price received during the period from May 24 to June 24, 1950, inclusive, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. The prices prevailing during this period were among the highest prices ever received up to that time and were sufficient to encourage a marked expansion in livestock numbers. Fourth, the level of prices for beef cattle will tend to prevent the disruption of milk production by bringing beef cattle prices more in line with dairy prices. Fifth, the level of prices prescribed are believed to be more than adequate in relation to total beef cattle production costs to maintain the present level of beef cattle numbers, and if feed supplies will permit, will undoubtedly lead to further expansion in beef cattle inventories.

The prices which slaughterers are permitted to pay for livestock are related to the dressed grade and the slaughter yield obtained. For example, the maximum prices which slaughterers in Chicago are allowed to pay, on the average, during the accounting periods between May 20, 1951, and July 29, 1951, for cattle of various grades which have the dressing yields specified below as follows:

Dressed grade	Percent yield	Maximum price per cwt.
Prime	62	$37.00
Choice	59	34.20
Good	56	31.50
Commercial	53	27.90
Utility	47	21.80
Cutter and canner	44	19.70

For cattle of each grade which yield more than the dressing yield specified above, correspondingly higher prices can be paid. It appears, for example, from data collected that the average yield on cattle slaughtered in Chicago and producing Prime grade carcasses is about 63 percent. For such cattle, the maximum amount the slaughterer can pay, on the average, and remain in compliance with this regulation, is about 57 cents per hundredweight higher than the price set forth above. Similarly, for cattle of each grade which yield less than the standard dressing yields listed, the maximum payment would be correspondingly lower.

Provisions of the Accompanying Regulation

This regulation prohibits a slaughterer, who has slaughtered in a particular establishment during an accounting period ten or more cattle, from purchasing (i) steers, heifers, cows and stags, and (ii) bulls, slaughtered by him in that establishment during that accounting period at an adjusted cost for each category in excess of the maximum permissible cost for each category. The regulation limits the total amount a slaughterer can legally pay for each category of cattle he slaughters in a monthly accounting period, on the basis of their dressed grades and yields. Use of this method is due to the fact that the grade and yield of the individual animal can only be determined accurately after slaughter. Moreover, no organization for official grading on a live basis is available. Cattle vary widely in value on the hoof, depending on the grade of beef they will produce and cattle of the same carcass grade vary substantially in their worth to the slaughterer depending on the amount of beef produced per 100 pounds of live weight. Hence, cattle prices are not suited to control by one over-all ceiling.

Maximum prices, called "maximum calculated prices" to be used by the slaughterer in determining the maximum permissible cost for his monthly drove will be calculated by each slaughterer separately for each category of cattle by a formula provided in the regulation. In the formula, the slaughterer will use the dressed beef ceilings, by grades, applicable to his establishment, under the provisions of CPR 24, Beef Carcasses and Wholesale Cuts. He will multiply these beef ceilings by conversion or yield factors specified in the regulation. To these products, he will add specified amounts, representing the approximate average difference between the value of the by-products and the expense of buying cattle, killing, chilling the carcasses, preparing by-products, selling, administration, overhead and profit. The sums obtained are the maximum calculated prices for each grade of beef derived from all (i) steers, heifers, cows and stags, and (ii) bulls, slaughtered during the accounting period on which cost must be reported. These calculations are made by grades for all cattle except for bulls.

Determining the maximum permissible cost. To determine the maximum permissible cost for the cattle he slaughtered in his monthly accounting period, the slaughterer divides the chilled dressed weight of beef separately for each category of cattle by the applicable yield or conversion factors to obtain calculated live weights. These calculated live weights are multiplied by the maximum calculated prices, as determined above, applicable at the slaughtering establishment. The amounts obtained are added and the result is the maximum permissible cost for all (i) steers, heifers, cows and stags, and (ii) bulls, slaughtered during the accounting period on which cost must be reported. Here again the calculations are made by grades for all cattle except for bulls.

Basis for the maximum calculated prices. The conversion or yield factors specified in the regulation are based on reports by slaughterers of actual yields obtained from cattle of the various grades. By-product values were calculated from ceiling prices for the various items, and from by-product yield data obtained from industry sources. For most of these products, slaughterers' ceiling prices are the same over the entire United States.

In the western states, condemnations of livers run higher than the national average. Also, ceiling prices for hides produced in the western states are lower than those applicable in the rest of the country. To allow for these lower realizations, the specified additions referred to above for the net values of the by-products over expenses are 15 cents per hundredweight lower in states west of and including Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico than in all other states.

Expense rates were based on data submitted by representative slaughterers in different sections of the United States. These expenses, particularly for selling, run higher on the better grades of cattle which are sold primarily to retailers than on the low grades of cattle sold largely to processors.

By computing the maximum calculated prices on an individual plant basis, the gross margins allowed, if cattle are purchased at the maximum prices, are relatively uniform for all slaughterers. They also are believed to be generally fair and equitable and to be adequate for nonprocessing slaughterers.

Adequacy of the maximum price differentials. The differentials between the ceilings for various grades of beef together with the differences in yield associated with the grades provide differentials between maximum calculated prices for live grades that are believed to be adequate to encourage normal cattle finishing operations. These differentials on a live basis will be approximately as follows:

	Per cwt.
Prime (62 percent) over Choice (59 percent)	$2.85
Choice (59 percent) over Good (56 percent)	2.70
Good (56 percent) over Commercial (53 percent)	4.20

The feed required to make Choice cattle into Prime, with the indicated change in yield, will be substantially greater than to change Good cattle to Choice or to make Commercial cattle into Good. Hence, it is believed that the price relationships will not encourage producing undue numbers of Prime cattle which would be a wasteful use of feed resources. They will definitely encourage placing cattle that would produce Commercial and Good Carcasses, but are suitable for further finish, into the feedlot to be carried to a higher grade, thus adding to the beef supply.

When slaughterers are buying cattle at the maximum permissible cost, the various grades may not be selling at their individual maximums. Some may be under and some may be over their maximums, depending upon relative supply and demand. So long as the slaughterer's adjusted cost for the purchase of cattle of each category, slaughtered during the accounting period does not exceed the maximum permissible cost, individual or lot purchases at prices above the maximum calculated prices do not constitute a violation of the regulation.

No seasonal variation is provided directly in the regulation. However, since compliance is on a total drove basis, for each category of cattle, it will permit some of the usual seasonal variation by grades. In the spring, low grades usually are scarce and well-finished cattle fairly plentiful, so that slaughterers may be able to offset relatively strong prices for low grades by purchases of high grades at prices below their maximums. In the fall, high prices for well finished cattle may be offset by low prices for low grades which are relatively plentiful at that time.

How the Slaughterer Determines His Adjusted Cost

Costs to be included. To calculate his adjusted cost for compliance with the maximum permissible cost, the slaughterer must include the purchase cost of the cattle, including the transportation and feeding and bedding charges enroute specified in the regulation. If any of his cattle are slaughtered more than 10 days but not more than 120 days after purchase, he must add 70 cents per head per day for such cattle, beginning with the day of purchase. This amount roughly approximates at present prices the daily cost of feeding where cattle are being full-fed. It will tend to keep the reported cost of packer-fed cattle in line with the cost of those bought for immediate slaughter. Since cattle on feed will gain in carcass weight and grade, the maximum permissible cost is increased by feeding. Requiring slaughterers to add to the purchase cost an allowance for feeding will minimize the use of cattle from the slaughterer's feedlot as a means of keeping in compliance on cattle slaughtered immediately after purchase.

Slaughterers, in determining their adjusted cost for compliance purposes, must add 20 cents per hundred pounds, live weight to the purchase weight of all cattle not bought at those public stockyards, other than auction markets, under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921, as amended. Since the range in value of live cattle due to variations in dressed grade and yield are wide, many producers prefer to sell on public markets because of the skilled selling service available there and the possibility of receiving bids from a greater number of skilled buyers than when selling at local points. However, selling on public stockyards involves greater expense to the seller for transportation, yardage and commission, and it involves greater shrink in transit which is only partially recovered by the practice of filling at such yards. The price differential provided by this regulation will help to maintain the normal pattern of movement of cattle through the usual marketing channels.

Permitted deductions. From the sum of the purchase cost, transportation, public market addition and feedlot addition, the slaughterer is allowed to make certain deductions in arriving at the adjusted cost.

First, he is permitted to take out the cost of any condemned cattle. This will remove the possibility that a slaughterer will be thrown out of compliance by unexpectedly high condemnations.

Second, slaughterers east of the line following the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, the eastern boundaries of Indiana, and the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to the Gulf of Mexico are allowed to deduct up to 85 percent (but not exceeding $1.25 per cwt.) of the freight paid on cattle they purchased at distant points and shipped to their plants for slaughter. Slaughterers located in other parts of the country may make deductions up to 50 percent of the freight (but not exceeding .75 per cwt.) paid on similar shipments. These deductions are permitted in order to enable slaughterers to continue normal purchases of live cattle in surplus areas and to maintain normal distribution of beef supplies. It is believed that these deductions will largely offset tissue shrink on shipped cattle and permit slaughterers located away from the surplus livestock to compete with slaughterers located close to the source of the supplies.

Separate compliance on bulls. The regulation requires cost compliance on bulls separately from other cattle. Demand for bulls for sausage production is likely to be especially strong. Since slaughterers handling all classes of cattle can pay more than the maximum for one class if they can buy others below their maximums, prices for bulls would be likely to be high relative to their maximum if they were grouped with other cattle. A limited number of slaughterers engaged primarily in sausage production customarily slaughter nothing but bulls. Hence, if bulls sell above their maximum calculated prices, such slaughterers are not in position to stay in cost compliance through the lower cost of other cattle. Requiring all slaughterers to keep in compliance on bulls alone will help to hold bull prices in line with their maximum calculated prices and thus avoid hardship to specialized slaughterers who handle bulls exclusively. To carry out this provision, the regulation requires that bulls be bought and sold separately from other cattle.

Exemptions. Purchases of cattle from members of recognized farm youth organizations and purchases of show, fair or exhibition cattle, under specified conditions, are exempted from the pricing provisions of this regulation because such organizations and shows have a well-recognized educational value and stimulate interest in the improvement of livestock. To deter evasion all exempted purchases are subject to the record and reporting provisions of the regulation.

Conditions of purchase. The regulation requires that purchases of live cattle be made separately for each category of cattle and that animals be weighed separately for each category as far as possible. The slaughterer's adjusted cost is based on the purchase cost of cattle and the cattle are deemed purchased on the date of weighing.

Prohibition against evasion. The regulation contains a basic prohibition against the direct or indirect evasion of the provisions of the regulation. Among other examples of indirect evasion, section 5 (b) provides that a purchaser of cattle is prohibited from selling or transferring title to such animals to a slaughterer at a lower price than he paid for such animals unless he sells such animals to or transfers title to a slaughterer with whom he has no affiliation. The purpose of this provision is to prevent slaughterers from entering into special arrangements with affiliated cattle purchasers by virtue of which they are able to manipulate cattle cost figures and thus remain in apparent compliance with the regulation. The accompanying definition is intended to remove any doubt as to what is meant by the term "price * * * paid for such animals." This explanation is deemed desirable to avoid dispute as to the application of the principle to various plans differing in detail or in legal form.

Penalties. The regulation imposes the usual criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for damages provided by the Defense Production Act for violations of this regulation. In addition, a quota restriction penalty will be invoked against a slaughterer whose adjusted cost for a given establishment for a given accounting period exceeds his maximum permissible cost for that accounting period. This quota restriction penalty is deemed to be the most immediate and effective method of deterring violation of and facilitating compliance with the regulation.

Records and reports. The regulation stipulates that slaughterers and operators of slaughtering establishments must keep certain records to make possible a check on compliance with the maximum permissible cost provisions. Slaughterers must file a report with the Office of Price Stabilization on Form 13, "Drove Compliance Report," for each accounting period and for each establishment, showing adjusted cost of cattle and maximum permissible cost. Slaughterers must also file with the Office of Price Stabilization Form 14, "Slaughterer's Maximum Calculated Prices Statement," showing in detail the computation of the maximum calculated prices.

Findings of the Director of Price Stabilization

In light of these considerations, the Director of Price Stabilization finds (i) that the price of live cattle has risen unreasonably above the price prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, (ii) that such price increase has materially affected the cost of living and the national defense, (iii) the imposition of a ceiling is necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950, (iv) it is practicable and feasible to impose such ceiling, and (v) such ceiling will be generally fair and equitable to sellers and buyers of cattle and to sellers and buyers of related or competitive materials and services.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

All provisions of this regulation, their effect upon business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution in the industry or industries affected, have been carefully considered. No provisions which might have the effect of requiring a change in such practices, means, aids or methods established in the industry or industries affected have been included in the regulation unless such provisions have been found necessary to achieve effective price control and to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation. To the extent that the provisions of this regulation compel or may operate to compel changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution established in the industry or industries affected, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this regulation and of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Titles I and IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation establishes maximum amounts which slaughterers may pay for (a) all steers, heifers, cows and stags, and (b) all bulls slaughtered during an accounting period and within 120 days of the date of purchase.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. This regulation applies to all purchases by a slaughterer of live cattle wherever made for slaughter within the 48 States of the United States or the District of Columbia except those exempt purchases specified in section 6.

SEC. 3. Conditions of purchase of live cattle. The following conditions shall apply to purchases of live cattle by slaughterers:

(a) All purchases of cattle shall be deemed to be made on the date of weighing.

(b) Purchases of live cattle shall, as far as possible, be made separately for each of the following classifications, and animals of each such classification shall be weighed separately:

(1) Steers and or heifers and or cows and or stags.

(2) Bulls.

SEC. 4. Prohibition against purchasing live cattle at an adjusted cost in excess of the maximum permissible cost. (a) On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, if a slaughterer has slaughtered in a particular establishment during an accounting period ten or more cattle, (1) his adjusted cost for all steers, heifers, cows and stags slaughtered by him in that establishment during that accounting period and slaughtered within 120 days of purchase, may not exceed his maximum permissible cost for such steers, heifers, cows and stags and (2) his adjusted cost for all bulls slaughtered by him in that establishment during that accounting period and slaughtered within 120 days of purchase may not exceed his maximum permissible cost for such bulls.

(b) The manner in which adjusted cost is to be computed is explained in the Instructions which are attached to and which are part of this regulation.

(c) The manner in which maximum permissible cost is to be computed is explained in the Instructions which are attached to and which are part of this regulation.

SEC. 5. Prohibitions against evasion. (a) No slaughterer or operator of a slaughtering establishment shall evade, or attempt to evade, directly or indirectly, any provisions of this regulation or shall attempt to do, directly or indirectly, any act in violation of this regulation, and no seller or buyer of cattle or other person shall conspire or agree with any slaughterer or operator of a slaughtering establishment to do any act in violation of this regulation or shall aid or abet or counsel or command or induce or procure or cause the commission of any act in violation of this regulation.

(b) A purchaser of cattle is prohibited from selling or transferring title to such animals to a slaughterer at a lower price than he paid for such animals unless he sells such animals to, or transfers title to, a slaughterer with whom he has no affiliation.

For purpose of this section 5 (b), the "price" paid for live cattle shall be the total cost thereof, including purchase price, transportation, feeding and bedding in transit, yardage and commissions, if any, incurred by the original purchaser prior to the sale or transfer to the buyer. In the event that the purchaser separates into lots for resale purposes live cattle purchased by him and covered by one purchase invoice, the total amount received by the original purchaser, upon resale of such lots, must be no less than the total price paid by him for all such lots unless all such animals are sold to or their title transferred to a person with whom he has no affiliation.

(c) A slaughterer is prohibited from purchasing cattle from an owner thereof, on condition, or with the understanding or agreement, that dressed carcasses or wholesale cuts derived from such cattle or any other livestock be sold or delivered to any designated person.

(d) A slaughterer is prohibited from purchasing live cattle on condition that he pay for such cattle in whole or in part by the transfer, delivery or exchange of some other commodity (such as tankage) or by the rendition of a service.

(e) A slaughterer is prohibited from purchasing live cattle subject to a tie-in sale.

6. Exempt purchases. The following purchases are exempt from this regulation:

(a) Purchases of live cattle from members of 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized farm youth organization, if the purchases are duly approved and are made at the place and time of a fair, show or exhibition. In such case prior approval of the purchases in writing must be obtained from a district office of the Office of Price Stabilization by a county agent, county club agent, vocational agricultural instructor or the chief administrator of the state department of agriculture.

(b) Purchases of live cattle which have been exhibited in competition at a fair, show or exhibition, if the following conditions have been complied with:

(1) Such purchases are made in the course of a regularly scheduled public sale held at the time and place of such fair, show or exhibition.

(2) Permission for purchasing on an exempt basis at such regularly scheduled public sale has been obtained from the Director of the appropriate district office of the Office of Price Stabilization prior to the sale. The Director of any appropriate district office of the Office of Price Stabilization hereby is authorized to grant such permission by order, whenever the following conditions are met:

(i) Written request for such permission has been made by the president, secretary or manager of the organization promoting such fair, show or exhibition.

(ii) Such fair, show or exhibition is recognized generally as being of state, regional (embracing more than one state) or national character.

(iii) The organization promoting such fair, show or exhibition has been in existence prior to 1951; or is an organization that is the legal successor to an organization which was in existence prior to 1951, such succession having occured prior to April 1, 1951.

(iv) The fair, show or exhibition has been promoted and held as a regular event prior to 1951 by an organization meeting the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph.

(v) The traditional events occurring at such fair, show or exhibition until 1951 included a regularly scheduled public sale for slaughter of some or all of the live cattle exhibited.

(3) Each head or lot of cattle so purchased by any purchaser at such fair, show or exhibition in the course of such regularly scheduled public sale is certified in writing to such purchaser by the secretary or manager of the organization promoting such event as follows:

(i) To have been entered and officially accepted for exhibition purposes at such fair, show or exhibition.

(ii) To have been exhibited in competition at such fair, show or exhibition.

(4) The cattle in question have actually participated in competitive exhibition in such a fair, show or exhibition. For the purposes of this paragraph, live cattle which, as the result of the official action of any representative of the organization promoting such a fair, show or exhibition, have been rejected for, or barred from competitive exhibition prior to the holding of the event in which competition winners are selected, shall not be deemed to have been exhibited at such fair, show or exhibition.

(5) Notwithstanding any exemption specified in this section, exempt purchases shall be subject to the record and reporting provisions of sections 7 and 8 of this regulation.

SEC. 7. Records—(a) Records of purchases required of slaughterers and sellers. Complete and accurate records of each purchase of cattle by a slaughterer shall be kept by such slaughterer and by the person from whom the slaughterer made such purchase. Such records shall show:

(1) The date of purchase;

(2) The name and address of the seller or the commission firm in the case of a purchase through a public stockyard, subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended;

(3) The place at which the live cattle were weighed;

(4) The weight and number of live cattle purchased showing separately the weight and number of bulls purchased.

(5) The price paid for such live cattle showing separately the price paid for bulls.

(6) Whether such purchase is exempt under Section 6 of this regulation and, if so, the basis of the exemption.

(b) Other records. Each slaughterer must keep the records containing the data on the basis of which he has computed his adjusted cost in accordance with the instructions which are attached to and which are part of this regulation, including records sufficient to enable him to determine the length of time each lot of cattle slaughtered by him has been fed by him.

(c) Records required of operators of slaughtering establishments—(1) Tags. The operator of each slaughtering establishment with respect to all cattle slaughtered in such slaughtering establishment shall attach, or cause to be attached, to each side of each dressed carcass of cattle derived from such slaughter, or to each quarter, if the carcass is broken into quarters while hanging in the cooler, a tag in the manner specified herein showing:

(i) The serial number of the carcass;

(ii) The date the animal was slaughtered; and

(iii) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the dressed weight (hot weight basis) of the entire carcass.

The tags for each carcass shall carry the same serial number. One tag shall be attached securely to each side, or to each forequarter and each hindquarter if the carcass has been broken into quarters, and shall remain so attached until the meat is removed from the cooler for transfer or delivery.

(2) Work sheets. In addition to the foregoing, each operator of a slaughtering establishment shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization a daily work sheet showing for each killing lot the serial number of each dressed carcass, its hot weight (except as provided herein) and its weight as adjusted to show the chilled carcass weight 24 hours after slaughtering. However, if the operator elects, he may show the adjusted chilled carcass weight by grades in total instead of for each individual carcass. In adjusting from hot weight to chilled carcass weight 24 hours after slaughtering, the operator shall use the shrink allowance specified below that is appropriate to his method of weighing:

(i) If the hot weight is taken before washing and shrouding, deduct 1¾ percent from the hot weight;

(ii) If the hot weight is taken after washing and before shrouding, deduct 2½ percent from the hot weight;

(iii) If the hot weight is taken after washing and after shrouding, deduct 2½ percent from the hot weight and deduct the actual tare for the shroud and for all pins, neck cloths, kidney cloths and shank cloths. Under all methods of weighing, the operator shall deduct the actual tare for hooks and rollers or trolleys.

In the event that the operator of the slaughtering establishment does not have facilities for obtaining hot weights, he shall attach or cause to be attached the tags in the manner set forth above at the point of first weighing, each tag showing in addition to the information required by subparagraph (1) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph the actual weight of the dressed carcass at the time of weighing. In such instances, the daily work sheet shall show the serial number, the weight of each carcass at the time of weighing and the weight as adjusted to show the chilled carcass weight 24 hours after slaughtering. However, if the operator elects, he may show the adjusted total chilled carcass weight for all carcasses in a given grade instead of for each individual carcass. A statement of the method of weighing used and the formula for adjusting the actual weight to chilled carcass weight 24 hours after slaughtering must be filed with the slaughterer's OPS Form 13 for his first accounting period. This formula or any change therefrom is subject to the approval of the Office of Price Stabilization.

The daily work sheets required by this subparagraph shall be made with indelible pencil and shall bear a statement signed by the weigher that it is the original sheet on which he recorded such information.

(3) Records of custom slaughter. With respect to cattle owned by any person other than the operator of such establishment, and slaughtered in such establishment for purposes of sale in any form, the operator shall keep at the office of his slaughtering establishment for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization, complete and accurate records showing the name and address of each such person, the number and kind of cattle killed for each by the operator and the dressed weights and grades of each carcass derived therefrom.

A person shall be deemed to be an operator of a slaughtering establishment during an entire accounting period even though he leases, sub-leases or otherwise relinquishes control of such establishment to other persons on a part-time basis.

(d) Preservation of records. Each person subject to this regulation must keep all records required under this regulation and a copy of each form and statement which he is required to file pursuant to section 8 for a period of two years after the effective date of this regulation.

(e) Inspection of records. Every slaughterer and operator of a slaughtering establishment must permit any accredited representative of the Office of Price Stabilization to enter his office or slaughtering establishment and to inspect and examine all records and operations pertaining to the slaughterer's or operator's compliance with the provisions of this regulation. Such examination and inspection shall include, but not be limited to, the weighing, the accuracy of the scales, the cooler shrink allowance and tare allowances used by the slaughterer in weighing, the taking of the carcass weights, the making and preservation of required records, and the purchases of live cattle.

SEC. 8. Reports required of slaughterers. (a) OPS Public Form 13, Drove Compliance Report, containing the information specified in the attached Instructions, shall be filed by a slaughterer for each accounting period during which he is subject to the provisions of this regulation and during which he has slaughtered at any one establishment ten or more cattle. OPS Public Form 13 shall be filed separately for each such establishment. A slaughterer who slaughters in any one establishment less than ten cattle during an accounting period, shall, with respect to each such establishment file a signed statement to this effect covering that accounting period in lieu of OPS Public Form 13. OPS Public Form 13 or the statement in lieu thereof shall be filed not later than the 5th day following the close of the accounting period.

(b) OPS Public Form 14, Slaughterer's Maximum Calculated Prices Statement, containing the information specified in the attached Instructions, shall be filed by a slaughterer for each establishment at which he slaughters cattle on or before May 20, 1951. A revised OPS Public Form 14 shall be filed thereafter whenever there is a change in a slaughterer's maximum calculated prices for a given establishment with the first OPS Public Form 13 filed with respect to such establishment after the change.

(c) Class 1 and Class 1A slaughterers shall file their forms with the Washington office of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., and Class 2 and 2A slaughterers shall file their forms with the regional office for the region in which each such establishment is located.

(d) Copies of OPS Public Form 13 and OPS Public Form 14 may be obtained from the Washington office or any regional or district office of the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 9. General Penalties. On and after the effective date of this regulation, any person violating any provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for damages provided by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 10. Quota adjustment. If a slaughterer's adjusted cost for cattle slaughtered in a given establishment during a given accounting period exceeds his maximum permissible cost for that establishment for that accounting period, then the slaughterer may slaughter in that establishment during the next accounting period no more than the number of pounds live weight of cattle which he would be permitted to slaughter in that establishment under the quota allotted to him pursuant to the provisions of Distribution Regulation 1, as amended, reduced by a percentage determined as follows:

(1) Subtract the slaughterer's maximum permissible cost for that establishment for the accounting period in which the overpayment occurred from the amount of the slaughterer's adjusted cost for cattle slaughtered in that establishment for that accounting period;

(2) Divide the figure obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph by the slaughterer's maximum permissible cost;

(3) Multiply the fraction obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by 100;

(4) Multiply the percentage obtained in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph by 5;

(5) The result is the percentage by which the slaughterer's quota in pounds live weight of cattle should be reduced.

SEC. 11. Definitions. When used in this regulation the term:

(a) "Accounting period" means the customary accounting period of a calendar month or a period of at least four weeks and not more than five weeks in length used by the slaughterer in keeping his books and records, and shall be the same period used by him in making reports required by the U. S. Department of Agriculture covering his slaughtering operations and in making reports to the Office of Price Stabilization pursuant to Distribution Regulation 1, as amended.

(b) "Affiliation" means the relationship existing between two persons when one is owned or controlled by the other or when both are owned or controlled by the same person or when one is an employee or agent of the other. "Own or control" means to own or control directly or indirectly a partnership equity or in excess of 10 percent of any class of outstanding stock or to have made loans or advances in excess of 5 percent of the other person's monthly sales.

(c) "Beef" means any meat graded as beef pursuant to Distribution Regulation 2 and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef" of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(d) "Cattle" means any animals the dressed carcasses of which are graded as beef.

(e) "Bulls" means cattle classified as such pursuant to Distribution Regulation 2 and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef" of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. All other cattle are steers, heifers, cows or stags. If there is any question as to the classification after slaughter, the finding of the official grader shall be conclusive.

(f) "Calves" means any animals which produce meat graded as veal or calf pursuant to Distribution Regulation 2 and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Veal and Calf Carcasses" of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(g) "Establishment" means each separate plant within the 48 States of the United States or the District of Columbia where cattle are slaughtered.

(h) "Grade" means any of the grades of beef determined pursuant to Distribution Regulation 2 and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef" of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(i) "Live weight" means the purchase weight of cattle slaughtered.

(j) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of the political subdivisions or any agency of the foregoing.

(k) "Slaughterer" means a Class 1, Class 2, Class 1A or Class 2A slaughterer as defined in Distribution Regulation 1 who owns cattle at the time they are killed. This regulation does not apply to Class 3 slaughterers or to persons who slaughter cattle only for home consumption in accordance with section 6 of Distribution Regulation 1.

(l) "To slaughter" means to kill or to have killed for you cattle which you own at the time of killing.

Effective date. This regulation shall be effective for each accounting period commencing on or after May 20, 1951. In no event shall this regulation apply to purchases of cattle made prior to the issuance date of this regulation.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

APRIL 30, 1951.

APPENDIX A—INSTRUCTIONS

I

These Instructions are part of this CPR 23. They explain how to determine adjusted cost and how to determine maximum permissible cost under section 4 of this CPR 23. They also explain how to fill out OPS Public Form 13, Drove Compliance Report and OPS Public Form 14, Slaughterer's Maximum Calculated Prices Statement.

Section 8 of this CPR 23, sets forth who must file these forms and under what circumstances and when and where they must be filed.

II

Report the following in OPS Public Form 13:

Items 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9 and 18. These items are self-explanatory.

Item 6. Enter in Item 6 your customary accounting period as defined in this CPR 23.

Items 10 and 11. Enter separately in Items 10 and 11 the number of cattle in each classification condemned after slaughter as unfit for human consumption by an inspector of the U. S. Department of Agriculture or of any state or local governmental agency or by a licensed veterinarian. If your establishment is not under inspection of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, attach a certificate or certificates by the inspector or veterinarian making the condemnation covering each condemned animal.

Item 12. Enter in Item 12 the number of cattle owned by you which were slaughtered in your establishment during the accounting period and which were purchased by you more than 120 days before the date of slaughter and after the issuance date of this regulation. Purchases are deemed made on the day the cattle are weighed to you.

Item 13. Enter in Item 13 in total and for each exempted category the number of cattle owned by you which were slaughtered in your establishment during the accounting period and which are exempted by section 6, CPR 23.

If any such exemption is claimed for purchases of cattle from members of 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America or other recognized farm youth organizations, attach to OPS Public Form 13 the written approval required by section 6 (a) of CPR 23. If any such exemption is claimed for purchases of fair, show or exhibition cattle, attach to OPS Public Form 13 the certificate required by section 6 (b) of CPR 23.

Item 14. Enter in Item 14 the number of all steers, heifers, cows and stags which were slaughtered during the accounting period and slaughtered within 120 days of the date of purchase. Purchases are deemed made on the day the animals are weighed to you. Include animals the carcasses of which were graded as beef, even though you may have purchased them as calves.

Exclude all cattle purchased prior to the issuance date of this regulation and all exempt cattle.

Item 15. Enter in Item 15 the purchase weight of the animals reported in Item 14. If any of them have been fed by you for more than 10 days but not more than 120 days, report their transfer weight from the feedlot. In the event that steers, heifers, cows or stags are purchased in lots mixed with calves or with bulls or with both and the actual live weight of the steers, heifers, cows or stags is not obtainable, report their computed live weight in accordance with the formula in the next paragraph. However, any animals, the carcasses of which were graded as beef, must be reported as cattle even though you purchased them as calves.

If animals of more than one classification are purchased in a single lot and the actual live weight of the animals in a given classification is not obtainable, the computed live weight of such animals shall be obtained by dividing the dressed weight of the meat derived from animals of such classification by the average dressed yield of the entire lot. For purposes of this paragraph, steers, heifers, cows and stags shall be one classification, bulls shall be a second classification and calves shall be a third.

Item 16. Enter in Item 16 the number of all bulls which were slaughtered during the accounting period and slaughtered within 120 days of the date of purchase. Purchases are deemed made on the day the animals are weighed to you. Include animals the carcasses of which were graded as beef, even though you may have purchased them as calves. Exclude all bulls purchased prior to the issuance date of this regulation and all exempt bulls.

Item 17. Enter in Item 17 the purchase weight of the bulls reported in Item 16. If any of them have been fed by you for more than 10 days but not more than 120 days, report their transfer weight from the feed lot.

In the event that bulls are purchased in lots mixed with calves or with steers, heifers, cows or stags, or with both and the actual live weight of the bulls is not obtainable, report their computed live weight in the manner described in the instruction for Item 15.

III

Determine adjusted cost as follows:

Item 19 (a). Enter separately in Item 19 (a) the purchase cost of (i) all steers, heifers, cows and stags reported in Item 14 and (ii) all bulls reported in Item 16. If animals of more than one classification were purchased in a single lot and you cannot segregate the purchase cost of one classification from the purchase cost of another classification compute the purchase price of steers, heifers, cows and stags (as one classification) or of bulls (as a second classification) by multiplying the average price per pound alive of the lot by the computed live weight of such classification. The computed live weight of a given classification shall be determined in the manner described in the instruction for Item 15. The purchase price of calves, the carcasses of which were not graded as beef, need not be reported.

Do not include in the purchase price any commission or similar service charges or any allowance for shrinkage.

Item 19 (b). Enter separately in Item 19 (b), for each classification of cattle, charges for transportation to your slaughtering establishment, including charges for feeding and bedding en route. Determine the transportation charges for animals transported in mixed lots by multiplying the weight per hundredweight of the animals in each classification by the average freight rate per hundredweight. Do not include in your charges for transportation, (i) charges for transportation from a point within the corporate limits of or the zone adjacent to, and commercially a part of, the same municipal corporation in which the establishment is located, or (ii) the cost of transportation facilities owned or operated by you and used for hauls of 25 miles or less, one way.

If your own facilities are used for hauls longer than 25 miles, one way, you must include in your charges for transportation the equivalent common carrier rate for such hauls.

Item 19 (c). Enter separately in Item 19 (c) for each category of cattle a feed lot cost addition of 70 cents per head per day, beginning with the date of purchase, for all animals slaughtered more than 10 but not more than 120 days after purchase.

Item 19 (d). Enter separately in Item 19 (d) for each classification of cattle an addition of 20 cents per live hundredweight using the purchase weight for all cattle you did not purchase in a public stockyard, excluding auction markets, under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended.

Item 19 (f). Enter in Item 19 (f) an allowance for the transportation cost of cattle slaughtered by you and shipped by rail or for more than 25 miles by truck. The allowance shall be calculated separately for all cattle purchased at each market during the accounting period.

If your establishment is located east of a line following the eastern side of Lake Michigan, the eastern boundary of Indiana and the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to the Gulf of Mexico, it shall not exceed (i) 85 per cent of the actual cost of freight paid on such cattle, or (ii) $1.25 per live hundred weight, whichever is lower, the deduction to be calculated on the railroad weights if shipped by rail and on the purchase weight if shipped by truck. If your establishment is located west of such a line, it shall not exceed (i) 50 per cent of the actual cost of freight paid on such cattle, or (ii) 75 cents per live hundredweight, whichever is lower, the deduction to be calculated on the railroad weights if shipped by rail and on the purchase weight if shipped by truck.

In computing this allowance for animals transported in mixed lots, determine the actual transportation cost for each classification of cattle as described in the instruction for Item 19 (b).

If any such allowance is claimed, attach to OPS Public Form 13 a separate sheet giving the weight (whether railroad weight or purchase weight as applicable) of the cattle purchased in each market for which a deduction is made, the total amount of freight paid on cattle from each market, and the deduction for freight from each such market. If you fail to submit this separate sheet at the time that you submit OPS Public Form 13 you may not claim this allowance.

Item 19 (g). Enter separately in Item 19 (g) for each classification of cattle the cost of cattle, the carcasses of which were condemned. If the cost is not known, use as the cost of each condemned animal the average cost per head of the lot in which such animal was purchased.

Item 19 (e) (h) (i). Enter in Item 19 (e) the sum of Item 19 (a), (b), (c), and (d) for steers, heifers, cows and stags. Subtract from this sum, the sum of the amounts in Item 19 (f) and (g), entered in Item 19 (h) for steers, heifers, cows and stags. The result is entered in Item 19 (i) and is your adjusted cost for steers, heifers, cows and stags. You obtain your adjusted cost for bulls in the same way.

IV

Determine maximum permissible cost as follows:

Item 20 (1). Enter separately in Item 20 (1) the chilled carcass weight, as determined below, of beef derived from all steers, heifers, cows and stags by grade as listed in the "Grade" column, Item 20.

In computing the chilled carcass weight include the weight of beef produced from cattle slaughtered during the accounting period and slaughtered within 120 days of the date of purchase. Exclude the weight of condemned cattle as defined in the instructions for Items 10 and 11 and the weight of cattle exempted from this regulation by section 6 and cattle purchased prior to the issuance date of this regulation.

Then separate the remainder of the weight of beef into two categories (i) steers, heifers, cows and stags, and (ii) bulls. The meat should be graded as required by Distribution Regulation 2. The carcass weight should be adjusted to the equivalent of chilled weight 24 hours after slaughter, without shrouds and after trimming. Adjust the weights at time of weighing in the manner required by section 7 (c) (2) of CPR 23.

Item 20 (3). Enter separately in Item 20 (3) the calculated live weight of such animals for each grade obtained by dividing the chilled carcass weight by grades in Item 20 (1), by the conversion factors listed in Item 20 (2). These conversion factors are: Prime, 62%; Choice, 59%; Good, 56%; Commercial, 53%; Utility, 47%; Cutter and canner, 43%; Bulls (all grades), 55%.

Item 20 (4). Enter separately in Item 20 (4), the maximum calculated price per hundredweight by grades, applicable to the establishment in which the cattle were slaughtered, from your OPS Public Form 14.

Item 20 (5). Enter separately in Item 20 (5), the results obtained by multiplying the amounts entered in Item 20 (4), by the amounts in Item 20 (3) and divide by 100.

The total of Item 20 (5) will be the maximum permissible cost for all steers, heifers, cows and stags slaughtered in the establishment during the accounting period.

Item 22. The entries in Item 22 should be made in the same manner as the entries in Item 20.

V

The maximum calculated price per hundred weight referred to in the instructions for Item 20 (4), OPS Public Form 13 is computed on OPS Public Form 14 as follows:

Items 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. These items are self-explanatory.

Item 6 (1). Enter separately in Item 6 (1) by grades the base ceiling price for beef carcass in dollars per hundredweight for each grade as found in section 20 of CPR 24.

Item 6 (2). Enter in Item 6 (2) the appropriate zone differential from section 40 of CPR 24 assuming that the distribution point is your slaughtering establishment.

Item 6 (3). Enter separately by grades in Item 6 (3) the sum of Item 6 (1) and 6 (2).

Item 6 (5). Enter separately by grades in Item 6 (5) the result obtained by multiplying the amounts in Item 6 (3) by the conversion factors listed in Item 6 (4). These conversion factors are: Prime, 62%; Choice, 59%; Good, 56%; Commercial, 53%; Utility, 47%; Cutter and canner, 43%; Bulls (all grades), 55%.

Item 6 (6). Enter separately in Item 6 (6) and Item 7 (6) the following amounts by grades, depending upon the location of the slaughtering establishment.

	Plants in all States west of and including Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, and New Mexico	All other States and District of Columbia
Prime	$1.55	$1.50
Choice	1.60	1.55
Good	1.65	1.60
Commercial	1.70	1.65
Utility	1.45	1.40
Cutter and canner	1.50	1.45
Bulls (all grades)	1.15	1.10

Item 6(7). Enter separately by grades in Item 6(7) the result obtained by adding Item 6(5) and Item 6(6) rounded to the nearest 5 cents. The sums obtained by these additions are your respective maximum calculated prices, per hundredweight of calculated live weight, by grades, of steers, heifers, cows and stags, applicable in determining the maximum permissible cost of such cattle.

Item 7. The entries in Item 7 should be made in the same manner as the entries in Item 6.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 3, Amendment 1]

CPR 3—Coal, Except Pennsylvania Anthracite, Delivered From Mine or Preparation Plant

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 3 (16 F. R. 1008), is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The amendments to Ceiling Price Regulation 3 contained in this document are intended to clarify and strengthen certain provisions of the original regulation and to permit the acceptance of premiums on coal sold under premium-and-penalty contracts.

A paragraph (d) is added to section 3 to permit producers and distributors to receive compensation over ceiling prices in accordance with premium-and-penalty contracts. The additional compensation must be included in the realization reported under the regulation, however.

The original regulation did not contain specific provisions outlining a method under which a producer who purchases coal from other producers and sells it as a mixed product may determine his cost increase under section 4 (d) of CPR 3. The amendment sets forth a formula which provides that such producer shall include the cost increase of all the coal, if any, he produces from his own mines and of purchased coal.

Section 6 (b) has been amended to clarify and strengthen the procedure the Director may follow in considering such applications and requesting additional information needed to arrive at a decision.

Section 6 (g) has been amended to refer to coal, as defined in the regulation, and to authorize distributors to add transportation charges to the ceiling prices of coal. The latter change puts them on an equal footing with the producers and brings this section in line with a similar section in the CPR 4, Anthracite Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant. The references to transportation charges in the base period and January 1 to 15, 1951, are deleted to bring this paragraph in line with the CPR 4 and to relieve an inequitable situation which developed from an inadvertent inclusion of the references now being removed.

Section 9 has been amended to require filing of the monthly reports of realization on the last day of the month following the month for which the report is made, instead of the 20th day of such month. Many producers in the industry reported that because of the additional statistical load related to the defense program they are unable to make this report earlier than the last day of the month.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 3 is hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 2 (b) "Producer," is amended to read as follows:

(b) "Producer" means a person engaged in the business of (1) mining, (2) preparing coal at a preparation plant which is an adjunct of a mine or mines, (3) mining, stripping, and/or loading coal under contract with a producer or other person, or (4) assembling, loading or otherwise handling, and shipping coal from a ramp or other loading facility; and any person acting as an agent of a producer.

2. A new paragraph (d) is hereby added to section 3 as follows:

(d) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a producer or distributor may sell and deliver coal pursuant to a contract which contains a premium and penalty provision based on the specifications of such coal, and may demand and receive compensation in an amount per ton, in addition to the ceiling price provided by said contract: Provided, however, That the basic price contained in such contract does not exceed the ceiling price established under this regulation and in effect at the time of delivery: And provided further, That the terms of such premium and penalty provision are reasonable and are not more favorable to the producer or distributor then premium and penalty provisions contained in similar contracts of the producer or other producers or distributor or other distributors in effect since July 1, 1948. The amount received as a premium hereunder shall be included in monthly realization reported by the producer.

3. Section 4 (e) is relettered 4 (f).

4. Section 4 (f) is relettered 4 (g).

5. The last clause of section 4 (a) is amended to read as follows: "as provided in section 9 of this regulation."

6. The last clause of section 4 (c) is amended to read as follows: "as required by section 9 (a) of this regulation."

7. A new section 4 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) (1) A producer that operates a preparation plant, a ramp, or other loading facility, and that by usual custom obtains all or part of its coal from another producer or producers, may increase its ceiling prices and its ceiling weighted average realization by an amount representing a weighted average of the increased cost, if any, of all the producer's own coal and purchased coal (as certified by the supplier to the producer) processed or loaded at such preparation plant, ramp or other loading facility resulting from wage and salary advances and related payroll items which became effective on or after January 1, 1951, and prior to July 1, 1951, and which satisfy the policy and requirements of the Wage Stabilization Board of the Economic Stabilization Agency: Provided, That where such cost increases on purchased coal are not available to the producer, the amount, if any, which the supplier has added to the price of the coal sold to the producer in February and March, 1951, as authorized by CPR 3, may be used in computing the weighted average adjustment applicable to the preparation plant, ramp, or other loading facility.

(2) In determining the proportion of the producer's own coal and the coal purchased from suppliers for the purpose of computing the weighted average increase referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the nearest period of one month or longer prior to February 1, 1951, which is representative of the future supply of coal for such preparation plant, ramp or other loading facility shall be used.

8. The reference to "paragraph (b)" in section 4 (f) is amended to refer to "paragraph (c)".

9. The word "petition" in section 6 (a) is deleted and the word "application" is substituted.

10. Section 6 (b) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) (1) In the event a mine or group of mines were not in operation during all or part of the base period, or in the event all or a portion of a mine or group of mines' production as presently produced has been affected by unusual circumstances or is of a special or enhanced quality due to the installation of preparation or other facilities during or since the base period, such producer may file an application seeking the establishment of ceiling prices and a ceiling weighted average realization that are fair and equitable.

(2) The producer shall prepare its application in accordance with the provisions of pertinent provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1 issued by the Economic Stabilization Agency, effective December 18, 1950 (15 F. R. 9055), including the requirement that the petition be filed in duplicate, and with the pertinent provisions of this regulation. In addition to other required information, the producer shall state the name of the mine or mines for which the application is filed, the name or number of the seam in which the mine is operating, the county and the state in which the mine or mines are located, the type of operation (whether underground or strip), a detailed description of the manner, if any, in which the coal is prepared, cleaned or treated, and the present ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization, if any, for said mine or mines. In addition, the producer shall state the same information for the nearest mine or mines in the same seam producing coal with the same or similar mining methods, with the same or similar preparation and cleaning facilities, and the applicable ceiling prices for such mine. If there was no such mine or mines in the same seam, the producer shall furnish the same comparative information for the nearest mine having substantially similar mining methods and preparation facilities in a substantially similar seam.

The Director may request any other information deemed necessary by him to a fair and reasonable determination of the issues raised in the application.

(3) For 60 days after filing the application, such coals of the applicant shall be sold at temporary ceiling prices no higher than the ceiling prices established under this regulation for the coals which are produced at the nearest mine or mines in the same seam or in a substantially similar seam and similarly processed. After 60 days from the filing of this application, if no action has been taken by the Director, the prices as requested in the application shall be the ceiling prices for such coals. The filing date herein shall be the date on which the application is received by the Director in the principal office of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C.

(4) The Director may at any time review and revise ceiling prices or ceiling weighted average realizations proposed or established under this section if they appear to be inconsistent with the provisions of this regulation.

11. Section 6 (g) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(g) Where coal is delivered from a mine or preparation plant in any transportation facilities owned or subject to the control of the producer or distributor or subsidiary or affiliate of the producer or distributor, or in any transportation facilities hired by the producer or distributor, there may be added to the applicable ceiling prices established herein a sum not in excess of the actual transportation costs incurred by such producer or distributor, or subsidiary or affiliate thereof, determined in a reasonable manner, but in no event to exceed the lowest common carrier rate, if any, for a haul between the same points: Provided, That there may also be added by a producer or distributor, to the applicable maximum price established herein, an amount not in excess of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 if said producer incurred such tax and if he separately states the amount of the tax in sales to all purchasers except the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, any state government or any political subdivision thereof.

12. Section 9 (d) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(d) Each producer shall report monthly the monthly realization to the Director on forms provided by him and in accordance with his instructions on or before the last day of the month following the month for which the report is being filed.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. The above amendments shall be retroactive and shall become effective as of February 1, 1951.

NOTE. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this supplementary regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 26]

CPR 26—CEILING PRICES OF KOSHER BEEF ITEMS SOLD AT RETAIL

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture to the Economic Stabilization Agency with Respect to the Allocation of Meat, Jan. 26, 1951, 16 F. R. 1272, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5, Feb. 8, 1951, 16 F. R. 1273, this Ceiling Price Regulation 26 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes dollar and cent ceiling prices for retail sales of kosher beef cuts and most kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products. This regulation supplements and is substantially identical with Ceiling Price Regulation No. 25. The Statement of Considerations issued in connection with that regulation applies equally to this regulation and therefore is incorporated herein. There are, however, a few differences between the two regulations which are discussed below.

This regulation treats all sellers of kosher beef as independent retailers (Class 1 or 2 stores) and does not classify them into three groups, since the overwhelming majority of such sellers are small independent stores. Accordingly, this regulation does not provide for price adjustment from "Class 3 or 4" stores to "Class 1 or 2".

Since most kosher retailers buy from wholesalers, the ceiling prices established in this regulation reflect the wholesale addition of $2.25 per cwt. provided for in Ceiling Price Regulation 24.

It is not customary for kosher retailers to operate locker plants and, therefore, no special provision is made for locker plants in this regulation.

Kosher retail prices have been determined by the same procedure as was used for non-kosher prices. In computing the retail ceilings for kosher beef cuts, the wholesale ceiling prices for kosher beef for the period through July 31, 1951, were used. In order to issue this regulation at the earliest practicable time, the regulation omits the price lists for the periods beginning August 1 and October 1, 1951. The regulation will be amended shortly to include those lists and will thereby reflect the decreases in livestock and wholesale prices which become effective on those dates.

Kosher butchers generally have charged higher prices than non-kosher butchers, principally because of their higher costs for kosher killed beef, and for rabbinical inspection. The cutting tests used in fixing the prices in this regulation were those conducted by the Office of Price Administration in connection with Maximum Price Regulation No. 394.

Conclusion.—In formulating these regulations, it has not been practicable to advise or consult with industry representatives. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defensive Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes specific ceiling prices for most retail sales of kosher beef cuts and of certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products. It also fixes ceiling prices for sales of these products by stores to eating places and to other retailers for resale purposes and sets forth the conditions under which such sales may be made. The ceiling prices established by this regulation supersede those established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. This regulation does not establish ceiling prices for retail sales of other types of kosher beef products such as sterile canned beef or sausage, which remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. In addition, this regulation defines and standardizes kosher retail beef cuts and prohibits the sale of non-standardized kosher cuts.

SEC. 2. Where this regulation applies. This regulation shall be applicable in the 48 States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices for specifically enumerated kosher beef products.—(a) Kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products. Your ceiling price for all retail sales to consumers is the price specified in section 30 for kosher beef cuts, or in section 31 for certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products, for your zone. Your zone is determined by Appendix 1. Your ceiling price for sales of these items to eating places and to other retailers is determined under Article II. You may obtain a copy of the price lists containing your ceiling prices from your Office of Price Stabilization District or Regional Office.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices for certain kosher beef items which are not specifically listed in section 3.—(a) Kosher variety meats and beef by-products. If you sell a kosher beef variety meat or beef by-product which is not listed in Appendix 5, your ceiling price is established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) Cured beef items. Your ceiling prices for cured, corned, cooked, smoked, barbecued, and dried kosher beef items which you sold during the calendar year 1950 or which you purchase for resale, shall be your ceiling prices established therefor by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. You must, however, file the report and keep the records required for these items by that regulation. If you did not sell these items in 1950 or do not purchase them for resale, see section 4 (c).

(c) New cured kosher beef items. If you desire to sell a kosher beef item listed in section 4 (b) which you did not sell during 1950 and which you do not purchase for resale, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization in Washington, D. C., for a ceiling price. In your application you shall state the information required in section 12. The Director of Price Stabilization may authorize a ceiling price for such item if your application includes sufficient facts to enable him to find that:

(1) You have made a substantial financial investment which cannot be utilized except in the sale of such kosher beef item;

(2) The sale of this product is to constitute at least 10 percent of your dollar volume of business;

(3) Production of this item will not divert an abnormal amount of beef from low cost to high cost items; and

(4) Approval of your application will be generally fair and equitable, will not adversely affect the price structure established by this regulation, and will not otherwise have an inflationary effect.

SEC. 5. Limitations on the sale of kosher beef cuts, ground and cubed beef.—(a) Limitations on the sale of kosher retail cuts. Appendix 4 of this regulation describes the retail cuts of kosher beef which you may sell and how they are to be cut. You may not sell kosher retail cuts other than those specified in Appendix 4.

(b) Special limitations on the sale of kosher cubed beef. You are not permitted to pre-cube kosher steaks from any wholesale or retail cut of kosher beef.

(c) Special orders of ground, cubed, boned and rolled kosher beef.—(1) General limitations. You may not grind, cube, bone, or roll any cut or grade of kosher beef not authorized to be pre-ground, pre-cubed, pre-rolled, or pre-boned, in Appendix 4, except in accordance with the provisions of this section. You may on special order from the customer grind, cube, roll or bone kosher beef in a way not authorized by Appendix 4, if it is done in the customer's presence so he can observe it or in accordance with section 5 (c) (3); if you make no charge for the grinding, cubing, rolling and boning; and if you comply with the applicable provisions of section 5 (c) (2).

(2) Special limitations on the sale of kosher ground beef.—(i) Limitations on ground beef inventory. You may not sell any kosher ground beef unless it is ground beef as defined in Appendix 4. Moreover, you shall not have in your store, refrigerator, cooler, or warehouse any kosher ground beef except ground beef as defined in Appendix 4 or kosher beef which has been bought by a customer and ground at his request and which is wrapped and marked with his name or, if you are authorized by section 5 (c) (3) to fill telephone orders, kosher beef which has been prepared, wrapped and marked with a customer's name as a result of an order telephoned by him.

(ii) Observation by customer of grinding operation. The customer will be permitted to observe the grinding of kosher beef by either of the following methods:

(a) The grinding operation may be performed at the meat counter; or

(b) The grinding operation may be performed in the refrigerator if the meat is shown to the customer immediately before and after grinding, if the right to observe the grinding operation is granted to every customer requesting such grinding, and if printed notice of such right is posted in two or more conspicuous places at or near where your meat sales are made and where your customers can easily see and read it. Such notices shall consist of letters one inch high and shall be in the following form:

Meat grinding equipment kept under refrigeration. We invite you to watch the grinding of your meat. OPS grants you this right. Ask the clerk.

(3) Special telephone orders. You may fill bona-fide telephone orders for special ground, boned, rolled or cubed cuts of kosher beef even though the customer is not present to observe the preparation. The authorization granted under the provisions of this section 5 (c) (3) will end on notice to you by your OPS District Office to that effect. Every seller authorized to fill telephone orders for ground, boned, rolled or cubed cuts of kosher beef in accordance with the preceding provisions of this section 5 (c) (3) must comply with the following rules:

Rule 1. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be placed on display to the public;

Rule 2. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be wrapped immediately after preparation;

Rule 3. The wrapper containing the ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be marked with the customer's name, the cut, grade and weight of the beef before preparation, the price per pound, and the total charge;

Rule 4. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be sold, offered, delivered, or diverted in any manner to any customer other than the one making the telephone order;

Rule 5. You must not pre-grind, pre-bone, pre-roll, or pre-cube any cut or grade of beef in anticipation of telephone orders except as generally authorized in Appendix 4 of this regulation;

Rule 6. No addition may be charged the customer for the grinding, boning, rolling, cubing or any other special preparation; and Rule 7. No addition may be charged the customer for delivery service.

SEC. 6. Display.—(a) Beef cuts. You may not display together kosher beef cuts having different ceiling prices, but must put them in separate trays, compartments or sections of your showcase, according to the difference in ceiling price, even though the beef cuts are of the same kind. You must place the appropriate ceiling price on each separate display so that your customers can see and read it. If you fail to make this separation, or if you fail to place the appropriate ceiling price on each separate display so that your customers can see and read it, the price you charge or offer to charge for any such kosher beef cuts must not be more than the maximum price fixed in this regulation for the same retail or wholesale cut of the lowest grade of kosher beef.

(b) Beef variety meats and beef by-products. You must not put different types of beef variety meats or beef by-products, or variety meats or edible by-products coming from different kinds of animals, together in your showcase.

SEC. 7. Posting ceiling prices. Not later than twenty days after the effective date of this regulation, you must post at your store your "Official OPS List of Retail Kosher Beef Prices". You may use an exact copy of the OPS List if the printing is as legible and at least as large. Put it at or near the place where your meat sales are made and where your customers can easily see and read it. You must have at least one list posted for each 20 feet of meat counter space. You may get your official copies of the price lists for posting or copying from your District Office. When you display a kosher beef cut or certain kosher beef variety meat or beef by-product the ceiling price of which is specified in this regulation, you must put your selling price for that product on the display.

SEC. 8. Customary sales receipts. You shall give customers the sales slip, receipt or other record of purchase you have customarily given. In addition, you shall, upon request by any customer, give him a receipt showing the date of sale, your name and address, the name, weight and the price you receive for each kosher beef cut or certain kosher beef variety meat or beef by-product sold and the grade of each kosher beef cut sold.

SEC. 9. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a retail sale of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 10. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If at any time after December 31, 1950, you acquired in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carried on the business or continued to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 11. Records—(a) General records. You shall make and preserve, for a period of two years after the effective date of this regulation, the same records you have customarily kept. In addition you must preserve the invoices, freight bills or other written records provided by your meat supplier or suppliers which pertain to purchases of meat made by you. You shall also continue to preserve all records required to be preserved by section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. (Section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation requires you to preserve the following records:

(1) Those records in your possession showing the prices charged by you for the commodities or services which you delivered or offered to deliver during the period from December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951, inclusive (hereinafter referred to as the "base period"), and also sufficient records to establish the latest net cost incurred by you prior to the end of that period in purchasing the commodities; and

(2) As to all of your deliveries and offers for delivery of commodities, a statement showing the categories of commodities in which you made deliveries and offers for delivery during the base period; or if you sold services, a statement listing the services which you delivered or offered to deliver during the base period; and

(3) As to all of your deliveries and offers for delivery of commodities, a ceiling price list showing the commodities in each category (listing each type, style and kind), or the services, delivered or offered for delivery by you during the base period together with a description or identification of each such commodity or service and a statement of the ceiling price. (Your ceiling price list may refer to an attached price list or catalogue. You may satisfy the requirements of this paragraph (3) by recording on your purchase invoice covering the commodities (including every type, style and kind) delivered or offered for delivery by you during the base period, the price at which you sold, offered the commodities for delivery, during the base period); and

(4) A statement of your customary price differentials for terms and conditions of sale and classes of purchasers, which you had in effect during the base period.

(b) Microfilming records. All records required to be preserved under this section may, after the expiration of 90 days after the date of the transaction to which they relate, be transferred to and preserved thereafter on microfilm.

(c) Inspection by OPS representatives. You shall show the records required by this section to be preserved to any OPS representative upon request.

SEC. 12. Reports on cured beef items. If you apply for a ceiling price on an item described in section 4 (c), your application shall include the following data:

(a) A description of the item, including the name of the item.

(b) The cut and grade of beef used in the item.

(c) A complete description of its preparation.

(d) The type of wrapping or packaging used.

(e) The manner in which the product differs from the most similar type of product of the same type for which a ceiling price is established in section 3.

(f) The cost of any operations which are added to or eliminated from the manufacture of the most similar product of the same type for which a ceiling price is established in section 3.

SEC. 13. Evasion. (a) You shall not evade the provisions of this regulation, by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation or agreement relating to the sale, delivery, purchase, transfer or receipt of beef, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, wrapping, packaging, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing the selection, grading or the style of dressing, cutting, trimming, cooking or otherwise processing, or the wrapping or packaging of beef or otherwise.

(b) Among other, the following practices are considered evasions and are prohibited:

(1) Boning and/or rolling of any rib roast of beef other than those of utility or cutter and canner grades, at any time prior to receiving a specific order from a customer for the particular rib roast which is to be boned and/or rolled.

(2) Pre-cubing of steaks from any kosher beef cut.

(3) Selling or delivering or offering to sell or deliver kosher beef cuts or certain kosher beef variety meats or beef by-products at a price higher than the ceiling price established by Ceiling Price Regulation 25 for the corresponding non-kosher item or at the ceiling price fixed herein, unless you maintain a store at or through which you regularly and generally sell kosher meats.

(4) Adding any charge for delivery service.

(5) Selling to consumers wholesale kosher beef cuts for which retail prices have not been established in section 30 of this regulation.

(6) Keeping in your store, refrigerator, cooler or warehouse any beef which does not have the grade name or grademark on each wholesale kosher cut.

(7) Falsely or incorrectly invoicing or grading beef.

(8) Offering, selling or delivering a beef cut, beef variety meat or beef by-product on condition that the buyer purchase another commodity or service.

(9) Removing the grademark from any kosher carcass or kosher beef cut, except when the removal cannot be avoided in preparing a retail kosher beef cut in accordance with the specifications listed in Appendix 4.

(10) Buying, receiving, selling or offering for sale any retail kosher beef cut obtained from a kosher carcass or wholesale kosher beef cut which has not been graded or grade marked in accordance with Office of Price Stabilization Distribution Regulation 2,

(11) Buying, receiving, selling or offering for sale any wholesale kosher beef cut which has not been graded or grade marked in accordance with Office of Price Stabilization Distribution Regulation 2.

SEC. 14. Prohibitions—(a) Selling at prices above ceiling. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligations, (1) you shall not sell or deliver any kosher beef item at a price higher than the ceiling price established for such item by this regulation; (2) you shall not buy or receive, in the regular course of trade or business, any kosher beef item at a price higher than the ceiling prices established for such item by this regulation; and (3) you shall not agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Selling other than defined items. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, you shall not sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver a kosher beef item unless such item is listed in Appendixes 3, 4 or 5. However, this shall not prevent you from selling cured beef items described in section 4 (b) if you sold them during the calendar year 1950 or purchase them for resale, nor shall it prevent you from selling other beef variety meats, beef by-products, sausage or sterile canned beef items.

SEC. 15. Enforcement. On and after the effective date of this regulation, if you violate any provision of this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950. Also, any person who in the course of trade or business buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

SEC. 16. Petitions for amendment. If you seek an amendment of any provision of this regulation, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1, issued by OPS.

SEC. 17. Less than ceiling prices. You may charge, demand, pay or offer lower prices for kosher beef items than are established by this regulation.

SEC. 18. Ceiling prices for non-graded and improperly cut cuts. (a) If, in violation of the requirements of a regulation issued by OPS, a kosher beef cut has either not been graded and grade-marked or the grade mark has been removed (except when such removal cannot be avoided in preparing a retail beef cut in accordance with the specifications listed in Appendix 4), your ceiling price for that kosher cut shall be the price for that same cut of utility grade.

(b) If a kosher beef cut does not satisfy the standard cut specifications provided in Appendixes 3 or 4, your ceiling price for that cut shall be, in the case of a kosher wholesale cut, the ceiling price specified for shank of utility grade, and in the case of a kosher retail cut, the ceiling price specified for plate (bone in) of utility grade.

(c) Nothing in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section shall in any way excuse the violation of the grading, grade marking or cutting requirements of Distribution Regulation 2 or of this regulation.

ARTICLE II—SALES TO EATING PLACES AND OTHER RETAILERS

SEC. 20. Stores selling less than 25 percent to eating places—(a) Limitation on sales. You may not during any calendar month sell more than 25 percent of your total dollar volume of meat sales during that month to eating places unless you comply with the provisions of section 21.

(b) Ceiling prices. If you do not exceed the 25 percent limit in any calendar month your ceiling prices for sales of kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products to eating places shall be the same as the ceiling prices for sales to consumers as set forth in section 3. If, however, during any calendar month you sell more than the 25 percent limit, you shall not only be in violation of section 20 (a) but your ceiling prices for sales to eating places of kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 32.

SEC. 21. Stores customarily selling more than 25 percent to eating places—(a) Limitations on sales. If your store during any calendar quarter in 1950 sold more than 25 percent of its dollar volume of meat sales to eating places, you may sell to eating places the same percentage of dollar sales of meat as you sold in the corresponding quarter in 1950 provided you file the report provided for in section 21 (c) and keep the appropriate records required by section 24. If your total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places during any current three-month period is in excess of the dollar volume permitted by this section or if you otherwise violate or fail to comply with its requirements you shall thereafter be subject to the limitations provided in section 20 (a).

(b) Ceiling prices. If, in accordance with section 21 (a) you are permitted to sell and you do sell more than 25 percent of your dollar volume of meat sales to eating establishments for any quarter, your ceiling prices for sales of kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products to eating places for that quarter and for all subsequent periods, shall be those set forth in section 32 of this regulation.

(c) Reporting requirements. If you desire to sell more than 25 percent of your total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places you shall file with your OPS District Office a signed statement containing:

(1) The name and address of your store;

(2) The total dollar volume of your meat sales to eating places during each calendar quarter of 1950; and

(3) The total dollar volume of meat you sold during each calendar quarter.

You shall mail this report to your OPS District Office by registered mail, return receipt requested. You shall retain the receipt for a period of two years. Any statement filed in accordance with this Section shall also satisfy the similar filing requirements of Ceiling Price Regulation 25.

SEC. 22. Adjustment for local shortages. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 20 or 21, upon a finding by the Director of Price Stabilization that there is not within an area or areas meat sufficient to supply the requirements of eating places, and that this condition has occurred because of an increase in population in such area or areas by the establishment and maintenance of a project or projects connected directly with the defense effort, the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., may, by order, designate such area as a deficiency area for such period as he may prescribe. Upon the Director's designation of any specific area as a deficiency area, the OPS District Director for the District in which the deficiency area is located may authorize any store customarily serving such area to sell kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products, at or below the ceiling prices specified in section 32, to eating places located in such area in such volume and subject to such terms and conditions as he deems necessary.

SEC. 23. Sales to other retailers. You may sell from your store to other retailers for resale, or buy from the stores of other retailers for resale, kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and edible beef by-products if you comply with the rules set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(a) Rules for selling to other retailers.

Rule 1. You (the retailer who is selling) must sell to consumers more than 50 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store during each current month;

Rule 2. During any month you must not sell to other retailers more than 40 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store;

Rule 3. You must keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store;

Rule 4. You must keep records in the same form as those you keep under Rule 3, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales to other retailers and eating places, if any, from your store;

Rule 5. You must not sell the buying retailer wholesale kosher cuts of beef; and Rule 6. You must not charge the buying retailer for kosher beef cuts or certain kosher beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the ceiling prices provided in section 32.

(b) Rules for buying from other retailers.

Rule 1. You (the retailer who is buying) must not buy wholesale kosher cuts of beef from the selling retailer;

Rule 2. You must keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat bought from the selling retailer;

Rule 3. You must not pay the selling retailer for kosher beef cuts or certain kosher beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the ceiling prices provided in section 32; and Rule 4. You must not charge your customers for kosher beef cuts or certain kosher beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the respective ceiling prices provided in sections 30 and 31.

(c) Violation of rules. If you violate any one of the foregoing rules provided for you in this section, you may not thereafter sell to, or buy from, other retailers kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products.

SEC. 24. Records of sales to eating places and other retailers. On all sales of meat to eating places you shall keep records, and give receipts to each buyer, showing the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, your name and address, and the details of each order, including the name, weight, grade and price charged for each kosher beef cut, and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products. If you are permitted to sell kosher beef cuts and certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products to other retailers for resale purposes, you must keep records of each transaction and give receipts showing the same facts you are required to show on your sales to eating places. Moreover, if you sell meat to eating places or other retailers, you shall keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales to all buyers and the total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places and the total dollar volume of meat sales to other retailers during the same period. You shall also keep the records or data upon which you base the report you submit pursuant to section 21 (c).

Appendix 3—Wholesale Kosher Beef Cut Definitions

When used in this regulation the term wholesale kosher beef cut means and is limited to any of the following, excluding the hindquarter, derived from the beef carcass, but excluding the offal and any item not included herein. Each cut shall be derived from beef slaughtered, approved and stamped as kosher under rabbinical supervision and shall be sold after preparation according to Jewish dietary law. (All measurements prescribed herein shall be made with a rigid straight ruler. All cuts shall be made according to the definite guides and measurements specified. Ribs are designated as 1st to 13th, inclusive, counting as the 1st rib that one which is nearest the neck end of the side). You must cut the beef carcasses, side, quarter or combination cut of beef into the following cuts before you make the standard kosher retail cuts.

(a) Hindquarter means the posterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 12-rib forequarter from the side, and comprising the round, full loin including the 13th rib, flank, kidney and hanging tender all in one piece, which posterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib while cutting down the length of the rib to the point at the end of the rib where the rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, from which point passing through the cartilage and meat of the flank and short plate in the same straight line, completing the cut.

(b) Forequarter means the anterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 1-rib hindquarter from the side and comprises the rib, regular chuck, brisket, short plate and fore-shank, all in one piece, which anterior portion contains the first to the twelfth ribs, inclusive. No heart (mediastinal) fat or neck sweetbreads and not more than ½ inch of the fibrous part (centrum tendineum) of the skirt (diaphragm) shall appear in the forequarter and otherwise it shall be dressed in accordance with the specifications applicable to "beef carcass" as set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 24.

(c) Cross cut chuck means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib and short plate from the forequarter, and comprising the regular chuck, brisket, and foreshank all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by cutting through the forequarter in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib while cutting to the point where the 5th rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, at which point the cut shall continue in the same straight line through the cartilage, the breast bone (sternum) and the meat of the brisket and short plate to complete the severance. The cross cut chuck shall contain five (5) ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive).

(d) Regular chuck means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the foreshank and brisket from the cross cut chuck, and containing most of the blade bone (scapula), part of the (humerus) arm bone, parts of the five ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive), that section of the back bone attached to the ribs, and the neck bone (cervical vertebrae from 1 to 7, inclusive), which portion shall be obtained by a cut through the cross cut chuck made in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the cross cut chuck (thereby separating the brisket and foreshank from the cross cut chuck) starting at a fixed point on the inside of the 5th rib determined by measuring off ten (10) inches along the 5th rib in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra, continuing in the same straight line to the tip of the forward end of the breast bone (forward end of 1st segment of sternum), and passing through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 5th rib joins the 5th thoracic vertebra.

(e) Foreshank means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and brisket from the cross cut chuck, which portion shall be obtained (after separation of the regular chuck) by separation from the brisket by a cut following the natural seam and leaving the entire lip, or web muscle on the brisket.

(f) Brisket means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and foreshank from the cross cut chuck, which portion contains parts of four ribs (2d to 5th, inclusive), part of the breast bone and the rib (costal) cartilages which connect the ends of the rib bones with the breast bone. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat shall be removed from the brisket.

(g) Rib means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and short plate from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), that section of the backbone attached to the ribs, posterior tip and cartilage of the blade bone (scapula), part of the blade bone (scapula) which portion shall be obtained (by separation from the short plate) by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to and through a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurements shall be made from the centers of the protruding edges of the 6th and 12th thoracic vertebra, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(h) Short plate means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and the rib from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), the rib (costal) cartilages attached to them, and part of the breast bone.

(i) Triangle means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib from the forequarter, and containing the short plate, brisket, foreshank and regular chuck all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by removing the rib from the forequarter by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside of the protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra, and severing the rib from the forequarter by a second cut made in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib to the point where the second cut meets the end of the first cut.

NOTE: Measurements shall be from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 6th thoracic vertebra, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

Appendix 4—Retail Kosher Beef Cut Definitions

When used in this regulation the term retail kosher beef cut means and is limited to any of the following cuts, derived from OPS wholesale kosher beef cuts. Each cut shall be derived from beef slaughtered, approved and stamped as kosher under rabbinical supervision and shall be sold after preparation according to Jewish dietary law. All cuts covered in the following specifications shall be trimmed as described before the cuts may be weighed or sold to the customer. No fat shall be added to any of the cuts before they are weighed and sold to the customer.

(a) From the standard wholesale rib—(1) Rib roast and rib steak, 10-inch rib. Rib roast, 10-inch ribs and rib steak, 10-inch rib are made from the standard primal rib. The blade bone or blade cartilage shall be removed from roasts or steaks.

(2) Rib roast and rib steak, 7-inch rib. Rib roasts or steaks, 7-inch rib or ribs, are cut from the standard primal rib. The rib bone, or bones, in these cuts shall measure no larger than 7 inches in a straight line from the protruding edge of the chine bone.

(3) Short ribs. Short ribs are the ends of the ribs which are removed when making a 7-inch rib.

(4) Rib roast (boneless, rolled—Utility and cutter and canner grade beef only). Boneless and rolled rib roast refers to the boneless meat of the primal 10-inch rib roast of utility and cutter and canner grades of kosher beef only. All bone, gristle, cartilage and excess fat must be removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle. Fat must not be added before the boneless and rolled rib roast is weighed or sold. The boneless rib must be rolled and tied.

(b) From the standard wholesale short plate—(1) Plate (bone in). Plate (bone in) is made from the standard primal plate without removing the bones. The diaphragm or skirt muscle may or may not be removed, but the membrane on each side of the skirt and on the inside of the plate, and all loose fat shall be removed.

(2) Plate (boneless). Boneless plate refers to the boneless meat of the primal plate after all bones, gristle, cartilage, membrane and excess fat have been removed. The boneless meat may be sold as boneless plate pot-roast, stew meat (boneless) or ground beef.

(c) From the standard wholesale brisket—(1) Brisket (bone in) fresh or cured. Brisket (bone in) is made from the standard primal brisket without removing the bones. No more than 1 inch of fat may be left on the brisket (bone in).

(2) Brisket (boneless) fresh or cured. Boneless brisket, fresh or cured, refers to the boneless meat of the primal brisket after all bone, gristle, cartilage and excess fat have been removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle. The boneless brisket may be sold as boneless pot-roast, stew meat or ground beef.

(d) From standard wholesale chuck—(1) Blade pot-roast and steak. Blade pot-roasts and blade steaks are made from the blade bone portion of the standard primal chuck. No portion of the arm knuckle shall be included in any blade pot-roast or blade steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from these cuts.

(2) Arm pot-roast and steak. Arm pot-roasts and arm steaks are made from the shoulder arm bone portion of the standard primal chuck. The arm knuckle shall not be left in any arm pot-roasts or arm steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from these cuts.

(3) English cut. The English cut may be made from the standard primal chuck following the usual procedure in each locality.

(4) Chuck (boneless). Boneless chuck pot-roasts or arm steak are made from the blade bone and arm bone portions of the standard primal chuck. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from the boneless chuck.

(5) Neck (bone in). The arm knuckle bone and the Atlas joint shall be removed from the neck. The throat side of the neck shall be trimmed and all fat in excess of one inch shall be removed, the neck may then be sold in pieces with the bone in.

(6) Neck (boneless). The boneless neck is the meat remaining after all the bone, cartilage, fat, tendon, gristle and throat trimmings have been removed from the neck. It may be sold as boneless pot-roast, stew or ground beef.

(e) From standard wholesale foreshank—(1) Foreshank (bone in). Remove the knee bone. Cut the shank into pieces with the bone in.

(2) Foreshank (boneless). The boneless shank meat refers to the boneless meat from the foreshank after all bone, gristle, cartilage and sinews have been removed. The boneless shank meat may be sold as stew meat or as ground beef.

(f) Ground beef. Ground beef (hamburger, hamburg steak, hamburger steak, chili meat) is ground, chopped or comminuted fresh lean muscle beef, including skirt, shank, neck, plate, brisket or lean beef trimmings (but not including head meat) which contains no offal, added blood, cartilage, bone, cereal product, water or ice, or any adulterant or other foreign substance except seasoning, and which does not have a fat content in excess of 30 percent by chemical analysis. "Ground beef" shall be ground twice, the final grinding through a plate with holes not more than $^{5}/_{16}$ of an inch in diameter, or $^{3}/_{8}$ of an inch in the case of chili meat, or chopped in a rotary cutter or by other means giving equivalent results.

Appendix 5—Certain Kosher Beef Variety Meats and Beef By-Products Definitions

When used in this regulation, the term certain kosher beef variety meats and beef by-products means and is limited to any of the following edible by-products of cattle which is clean, sound, has at all times been handled in a sanitary manner, is free from foreign materials, mucus and hair and is derived from beef slaughtered, approved and stamped as kosher under rabbinical supervision and sold after preparation according to Jewish dietary law. The term:

(a) Brains means both brain lobes, the small knob at the base of the brain and a short piece of spinal cord approximately three quarters of an inch in length.

(b) Cheek meat of cattle means the lean meat on the inside and outside of the lower jaw, trimmed free of the salivary glands, with no more than 20 percent trimmable fat.

(c) Head meat means the lean meat, exclusive of cheek meat, trimmed from the head of cattle.

(d) Hearts means bright colored beef hearts, free from blood clots, trimmed free from large gristly blood vessels.

(e) Kidneys means kidneys free from spots and reasonably free from fat. They shall be removed by first loosening the suet from the outside surface of the kidney and then cutting off the vein, leaving sufficient fat in the vein so that the fat will be flush with the surface of the kidney.

(f) Lips means the meat and tissue from the side of the jaw when removed from cattle.

(g) Livers means all beef livers of any weight, bright and uniform in color, from light to chocolate brown, moderately short and plump and which are free from all mutilations other than minor cuts or silent skin breaks caused by the removal of the gall bladder by separating the liver from the carcass by hooks, or caused during the examination of the portal glands by MID inspectors, where such minor cuts or slight skin breaks do not impair the quality of the liver. The large blood vessel lying along the side of the liver should be trimmed even with the surface of the liver.

(h) Lungs means the lungs from cattle. The trachea (windpipe) is to be cut off close to the body of the lungs.

(i) Melts means the spleens.

(j) Sweetbreads, heart means the thymus gland adjacent to the heart (heart sweetbreads). They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

(k) Sweetbreads, neck means the thymus gland (neck sweetbreads) removed from the neck only of beef cattle. They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

(l) Tails means tails of cattle. Ragged edges of tissue, loose fat and the last two joints of the tip end are to be removed.

(m) Tongues means tongues from cattle, cut off at a point that leaves the epiglottis on the tongue. The entire gullet including the soft palate shall be removed and the hinge bone shall not protrude over the end of the tongue. One-half inch of fat may be left on the understide of the tongue, which shall be trimmed smooth in removing the glands. The tip may be cut up to a point where cross section thickness does not exceed one and one-half inches.

(n) Tripe, cooked means tripe which has been thoroughly cooked by boiling in water, cooled and washed; any excess fat is to be removed from tripe.

(o) Tripe, honeycomb means cooked beef tripe showing the characteristics of honeycomb markings. If the pocket is split, the apron around the open end cannot be more than three inches wide.

(p) Tripe, scalded means paunches (stomachs) thoroughly cleaned by washing and scalding according to BAI instructions or similar good commercial methods.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 4, Amendment 1]

CPR 4—Anthracite Delivered From Mine or Preparation Plant

Miscellaneous Amendments

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to CPR 4 is hereby issued.

Statement of Considerations

Since Ceiling Price Regulation 4 became effective on February 1, 1951, it has been found desirable to amend the regulation in recognition of two types of transactions which were prevalent in the industry prior to the establishment of price controls. Approval of these pricing practices does not involve substantial relaxation of price control but does serve to remove an obstacle to selling arrangements which were followed in the past.

The first amendment recognizes a situation where a limited number of retail coal dealers had been serving certain customers with a high quality coal in carload lots. Their prices generally were above the mine prices but the customers were willing to pay a higher price for the service offered by the supplier. The amendment recognizes this situation and authorizes these retail coal dealers, only in respect to customers they served in this manner during the calendar year 1950, to continue such practice and to add the same mark-up charged during that period. The amendment does not authorize these dealers to extend this service to new customers nor does it permit dealers who had not previously sold coal on this basis to start doing so now.

The next amendment recognizes the sales of premium and penalty contracts which, when the coal exceeds a certain quality, entitles the seller to premium compensation. This amendment authorizes the seller to demand and receive this additional compensation which would otherwise result in a price above the ceiling price established under the regulation. This type of contract is well recognized in the industry and is desired by consumers since it results in higher quality fuel. Furthermore, the regulation permits new contracts of this type and permits new sellers to sell coal under this arrangement provided the terms are reasonable and are in line with other similar contracts.

The last amendment spells out in detail the records and data which must be preserved and kept available for inspection.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 4 is hereby amended, as follows:

1. Section 3 is amended by adding thereto the following paragraphs (d) and (e).

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, retail coal dealers who during the calendar year 1950 acted as a distributor by purchasing coal from a mine or mines and resold such coal to certain consumers during the calendar year 1950, at a price calculated by adding a service charge to the f. o. b. mine price of the coal, said retail coal dealers acting as distributors may continue to sell and ship coal directly from a mine to each such consumer at a price calculated by adding a service charge no higher than the highest service charge said retail dealer charged each such consumer during the calendar year 1950 to the f. o. b. mine price of the coal which he buys and ships to each said consumer: Provided, Said retail coal dealer acting as a distributor shall file, by letter, with the Solid Fuels Branch of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a statement showing the name and address of each such customer and the amount of the highest mark-up used in sales of coal during the calendar year 1950 to each such customer. This statement shall be filed by letter prior to the sale and shipment of any coal intended to be priced under this paragraph.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a producer or distributor may sell and deliver or contract to sell and deliver, anthracite coal pursuant to a bona fide written contract which contains a premium and penalty provision based upon the specifications of such coal, and may demand and receive compensation in an amount per ton, in addition to the ceiling price provided by said contract: Provided, however, That the basic price contained in such contract does not exceed the ceiling price established under this regulation and in effect at the time of delivery: And provided further, That the terms of such premium and penalty provisions are reasonable and are not more favorable to the producer or distributor than premium and penalty provisions contained in similar contracts of the producer or other producers or distributor or other distributors in effect January 25, 1951.

2. Section 12 (a) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) Each producer and distributor shall make and keep available for inspection all records showing the price or prices per ton f. o. b. the mine at which he sold and delivered or offered to sell and deliver anthracite coal after February 1, 1951, which records shall contain information, when pertinent, regarding quality standards, size specifications and other information necessary to determine whether the prices charged are in compliance with the ceiling prices established under this regulation. There shall also be maintained and kept available for inspection all records showing the prices charged for special services during the month of January 1951, or if there were no such charges made during that month, the nearest month prior thereto, together with data revealing the type of special services and the occasions for rendering such services or making pocket charges; and there shall also be maintained and kept available for inspection records showing transportation charges and taxes added to the prices charged after February 1, 1951. The Director may require the maintenance and preservation of such other records as he deems necessary in order to effectuate this regulation.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date: The above amendments shall become effective as of February 1, 1951.

NOTE. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of the amendatory provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 7]

GOR 7—EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN FOOD AND RESTAURANT COMMODITIES, INEDIBLE PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation 7 is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This General Overriding Regulation 7 is an across-the-board regulation which exempts certain commodities from any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization.

The commodities exempted by this regulation are of minor significance which have but a trifling effect upon the cost of living, the cost of the defense effort, or the general current of industrial costs. These commodities are not so related to any other commodities which are important to the cost of living, to the cost of the defense effort, or to the general current of industrial costs as to have effect on the controls of other commodities remaining under ceiling price restrictions. Furthermore, any ceiling price restrictions imposed on these commodities would involve an administrative enforcement burden out of all proportion to the importance of keeping such commodities under price control.

In view of the nature of the commodities exempted, this regulation will not have any material effect on the general level of prices.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Exemption.

EXCEPTED COMMODITIES

3. Certain inedible products.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation exempts all sales of the commodities hereinafter enumerated from any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 2. Exemption. No ceiling price regulation heretofore issued or which may hereafter be issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to sales of the commodities covered by this regulation and amendments thereto.

EXCEPTED COMMODITIES

SEC. 3. Certain inedible products. Dead stock or dead animals when sold for the recovery of inedible products.

Effective date. This General Overriding Regulation shall become effective May 5, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 6, Amdt. 5]

CPR 6—FATS AND OILS

DEAD STOCK

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 5 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Under the provisions of Amendment 2 to CPR 6, a difficulty has developed in establishing prices of dead stock. Because of the heterogeneous nature of this commodity, further, because it is impossible for this Agency to impose prices on this dead stock, from an administrative standpoint, and finally since this commodity does not enter significantly into the cost of living, the Director has decided to remove this category of raw material from price control.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended as follows:

1. In section 16 (d) the following phrase is added: "* * * except dead stock."

2. In section 16 a new paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Dead stock means dead animals sold for the recovery of inedible products.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 5, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 24]

CPR 24—CEILING PRICES OF BEEF SOLD AT WHOLESALE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 2 (16 F. R. 738), Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture to the Economic Stabilization Agency with respect to the Allocation of Meat (16 F. R. 1272) and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 5 (16 F. R. 1273) this Ceiling Price Regulation 24 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes specific ceiling prices for all grades of most beef and beef products sold at wholesale.

The beef industry is vital to the farmer, the meat packer, and the consumer. Its importance is enhanced under present conditions by the need for constantly increasing supplies of meat and meat products to satisfy the national food requirements. Beef cattle production accounted for about 17 percent of the farmers' cash income in 1949. Cattle and calves accounted for 57 percent of the total farm cash income of $8,395,000,000 obtained in 1949 from all meat animals, including cattle and calves, hogs, sheep and lamb. The industry engaged in wholesale slaughtering of meat and packing, accounts for a total product value that is surpassed in amount by only the automotive and steel industries. About 44 percent of the consumer's meat diet (excluding poultry) in 1949 consisted of beef. This was equivalent to 63 pounds per capita.

At the time of issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation it was recognized that it was not well adapted to the control of some commodities except for a short period of time. This is true in the case of beef. During the base period there were sufficient variations between the prices which different packers and wholesalers charged for beef to establish substantial differences between their ceiling prices. The General Ceiling Price Regulation did not fix ceiling prices for live cattle. Therefore, those slaughterers who had higher ceiling prices for beef were able to bid more for live cattle. This resulted in hardship on those slaughterers who had established lower ceiling prices for their beef. Since their selling prices are lower, they are forced either to curtail operations or to purchase cattle at the higher price and operate at reduced margins. Furthermore, the prices of live cattle have risen since the base period so that the operating margins of many slaughterers have been seriously reduced below normal levels. Under these conditions the issuance of this regulation is of paramount importance as a means of establishing normal margins in the meat business and of stabilizing the cost of beef to retailers and restaurants. On the basis of these relatively uniform wholesale costs to retailers, dollar and cent retail prices will be established for beef.

The contrast between the inadequacies of a freeze regulation such as the General Ceiling Price Regulation and the success of the tailored type of regulation used by OPA makes it imperative that ceiling prices in the beef industry be fixed on a dollar and cent basis at the earliest possible date. Continuing study of the data upon which the ceiling prices established by this regulation are based and of new data may indicate that these prices are either too high or too low. In either event, this regulation will be revised to reflect the results of the study.

Beef Products Covered by the Regulation

The regulation establishes ceiling prices throughout the United States for the following beef and beef products:

	Section
1. Beef carcasses and wholesale cuts	20
2. Fabricated cuts	21
3. Boneless beef cuts	22
4. Boneless processing beef	23
5. Frozen boneless beef (military specifications)	24
6. Beef, processing (military specifications)	25
7. Beef variety meats and by-products	26
8. Prefabricated quick frozen and packaged retail cuts	3

Because of inequities created by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, it is essential that this regulation be issued at the earliest possible time. For that reason it is not possible to include all beef products in this regulation. Thus cured, smoked, cooked, barbecued, and dried beef items and a few beef by-products and beef variety meats are not included at this time, nor, save for the over-all ceiling, have specific ceiling prices been provided for specialty steak products, because sufficient information to fix specific ceiling prices is not readily available. Likewise prices for sausage and canned products containing beef are not fixed because of their more difficult and peculiar pricing problems, requiring separate regulations. These beef products, therefore, remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Basic Price and Grade Differential

This regulation establishes one set of prices to be effective until August 1, 1951 and another set which lowers prices on August 1, about 4½ percent. A third set of prices which will be lower by an additional 4½ percent, effective October 1, 1951, will be issued later. The August 1 schedules printed herein include only beef carcasses and wholesale cuts and 4-way military beef.

The prices established herein allow a reasonable margin for the slaughterer over live cattle prices. In determining the proper margin for beef slaughterers, three basic factors were considered: (1) The proportion of live weight of cattle that is represented by dressed carcass; (2) the value of the byproducts; and (3) the fair operating margin for slaughterers. Average yields of dressed carcasses and byproducts from each grade of cattle were computed on the basis of data submitted by members of industry. The value of the byproducts was computed on the basis of the ceiling prices established by this and other regulations for these commodities. In computing the slaughterers' cost, a study was made of representative companies and the margin selected was generally fair and equitable to processing and nonprocessing slaughterers.

Standard Wholesale Cuts

Beef is sold at wholesale not only in the form of carcasses, sides and quarters, but also in the form of wholesale or primal cuts. Prices cannot be established for these cuts except in conjunction with precise definitions. If the cuts being priced were not defined with precision, the established prices could be readily evaded by cutting into the higher-priced cuts substantial quantities of meat from the lower-priced cuts. Moreover, the prices fixed by the regulation are nation-wide, and beef is shipped over large areas so that uniformity in the commodity being priced is obviously essential. Therefore, no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control other than requiring that beef cuts be standardized.

The permitted wholesale cuts represent a reconciliation between the need for anatomically precise description and the customary practices of the industry. Numerous conferences were held with the industry and cutting tests performed before the definitions were finally settled. In the opinion of the Director they can be readily understood and followed, and will satisfy the customary needs of the greater part of the industry. Provision is made for the sale of miscuts at the lowest price for any wholesale cut.

The regulation provides for primary wholesale cuts and additional cuts made by combinations of various primary cuts. The hindquarter is broken from the forequarter by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs, leaving only one rib on the hindquarter.

The names of the primary cuts and the percentage that each constitutes of the carcass of beef are shown below:

	Percent
Carcass	100
Forequarter	51.25
Regular chuck	25.0
Rib	9.0
Brisket	5.5
Short plate	7.5
Foreshank	4.0
Hindquarter	48.75
Round	23.75
Sirloin	17.00
Short loin
Flank	4.50

(Kidney, suet, hanging tenderloin, bone, waste and shrink account for the remainder.)

In addition to the above cuts, certain combinations are permitted. A back may be made by leaving the regular chuck and rib combined; a cross cut chuck by leaving the regular chuck, the brisket and the fore shank in one piece; a triangle may be made by leaving in one piece the regular chuck, fore shank, brisket and short plate; an arm chuck, by combining the foreshank and regular chuck; and a trimmed full loin by combining the sirloin and short loin.

Fabricated Cuts

No other wholesale cut or combination may be sold, except to a purveyor of meals, such as hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, etc., many of whom, like the ordinary housewife, require their meat cut into roasts, steaks, stews, etc., and otherwise made ready for cooking without further preparation. To allow the suppliers to continue to perform the services rendered in the past, the regulation permits the fabrication for sale to hotels, restaurants, and other purveyors of meals of smaller standardized cuts which include the principal types customarily sold in the past to these buyers.

The prices which have been established for the various standard primal cuts were determined by reference to the price relationships between cuts which have existed in the past, and as reported by various packers. With the spreads between cuts given and with a fixed percentage yield of each cut, the prices of the cuts are determined by the level of prices placed upon the carcass.

Boneless Cuts and Processing Beef

Prices are also established for 4-way boneless beef for the Armed Forces on the basis of test information supplied both by members of the industry and by representatives of the Armed Forces. Studies were made to determine the costs involved in the production of this type of meat as well as the amount of the by-product credits obtained in the normal course of producing this meat for the Armed Forces. The yield figures used were obtained from tests on more than 2,000,000 pounds of meat. The costs determined for labor, for supplies, and for freezing represent average costs submitted by several substantial producers of this type of meat.

Special consideration is given to the problem of the non-slaughtering producer of 4-way military beef and other boneless beef, particularly to the expense involved in bringing the carcass beef to the non-slaughterer's boning plant. These special studies indicate that the non-slaughtering producer of 4-way military beef requires a differential over and above the price provided for the slaughtering producer of this type of meat, and, accordingly, a differential of $2.00 per cwt. is provided in the regulation.

Ceiling prices for other types of boneless beef are established for sales to processors for the preparation of products for the armed services. Boneless beef for use in the manufacture of domestic sausage, canned meat products, hamburger, cube steaks, etc., is also priced, as are certain boneless beef cuts from low grade beef carcasses. These prices are established on the basis of data in regard to boning yields and other information supplied by the industry.

Prices for boneless beef and boneless beef cuts as set forth in this regulation are for sales f. o. b. selling establishment only. They are established in relation to prices of the bone-in carcass at point of boning. This method of pricing was used to insure boners a fair margin wherever their selling plant is located. It is believed, therefore, that the prices being established for boneless beef and boneless beef cuts are most equitable when sales are made on an f. o. b. basis.

The Zone Differentials

The regulation provides for fixing prices at any point in the United States in relation to a price in a base zone. In general, a transportation addition is used for determining ceiling prices in zones other than the base zone. The amount of this addition for a delivery at any point may be determined on the basis of the use of a specified percentage of the carload freight rate for shipments of fresh meat. The prices outside of the base zone are to be determined by use of the freight rate from Omaha, Nebraska, or Denver, Colorado, whichever is lower. The proposed map covering the zone structure of the beef regulation was distributed among members of the meat industry which endorsed the principle of the zoning technique used. The Industry Advisory Committee made recommendations for changes in the map and most of these proposed changes have been incorporated into the present zone structure.

The zone structure set forth in this regulation should generally permit vendors to distribute their meats in a normal manner throughout the entire country. The base prices are applicable to the area in the Midwest where supplies of slaughter cattle and slaughtering facilities are most heavily concentrated. The industry is characterized, in general, by the movement of dressed beef carcasses, and to a lesser extent, live cattle, from this zone to the coastal areas. The technique employed in this regulation for the most part reflects the pricing relationships which exist in a normal market.

About 50 percent of the prime and choice grade beef is produced in the States of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and South Dakota, and an area generally comprising these States is defined as zone 1 for the purpose of pricing these top grades of beef. The lower grades of cattle are produced mostly in the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, North Dakota, and parts of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, and Wisconsin; and this area has been defined as zone 2. There also are substantial numbers of these lower grades of cattle produced in other sections of the country; but, this production is seasonal and, during most of the year, the consumption of beef exceeds production in these areas. Since the only significant movement from zone 1 to zone 2 is beef of prime and choice grades, no freight price differential has been allowed in zone 2 except on those two top grades of beef.

The western part of the country is designated as zone 3. Normally, this region brings in grass fed cattle from zone 2 and places them in the feed lots to be fattened for slaughter in that area. In addition to cattle from their own feed lots, the western packers also purchase live animals from the zone 1 markets, and consequently it is necessary to provide an adequate zone differential to permit the normal movement of these animals to the consuming area on the West Coast. The meat produced in zone 1 which goes to the West Coast normally moves by truck. The truck rate plus icing, is approximately equal to the railroad rate for fresh meat. Consequently the price differential for all grades is the base price plus the rail rates from Denver.

The situation on the East Coast which is designated as zone 4 is somewhat different from the West Coast in that there is very little feeding in that area. Practically all of the two top grades of cattle must be brought in from the Midwest, either in the form of live animals or dressed carcasses. Consequently, the zone differential has been designed so as to permit the flow of both live animals and dressed meat to the large populous areas in the East. The meat moving to the eastern part of the country normally goes by rail shipment and accordingly the zone differential is established at 115 percent of the railroad carload freight rate. The additional 15 percent is intended to cover initial icing and reicings en route.

There is a small area designated as zone 2a in eastern Wisconsin which has a large urban population and which normally competes directly with the Chicago area for the required supplies of prime and choice cattle, but which has only slightly better supplies of other grades of cattle than Illinois and eastern points. Accordingly a special provision is made in the regulation to enable the packers in this area to maintain their normal competitive position with packers in the Chicago area. This is done by allowing an addition to the base price on the basis of 60 percent of the freight rate from Omaha for the lower grades of cattle and 115 percent for the choice and prime cattle.

There is a peculiar problem in the southern part of Florida which requires special consideration. This area is predominately a resort area and during certain months of the year enjoys an influx of visitors from other parts of the country. To obtain supplies for this trade, it is customary for suppliers in that area to buy from the New York and Boston markets. This is due to the fact that the kosher trade in the northeast uses the fore-quarters from the top grades of beef, thereby leaving a substantial surplus of loins and ribs. These prime and choice grade loins and ribs are the principal cuts required by the larger hotels and restaurants. The regulation establishes prices for the eastern part of the country on the basis of freight from Omaha, and the transportation addition for the southern part of Florida is inadequate to cover the cost of slaughtering cattle in New York and Boston and transportation of the meat to Florida. Accordingly, this normal business practice has been recognized in the regulation to the extent that a special differential of $2.00 per cwt. has been authorized on sales of certain cuts derived from the two top grades of beef.

Distribution Points

The distribution point is the key to the determination of the ceiling price for any beef item priced in the regulation. The prices in the base zones are established and specified in the regulation and to these basic prices may be added certain additions. One of the additions is the zone differential which represents the transportation charges normally applicable between Omaha or Denver and the distribution point, in those cases where the distribution point is located outside the base zone. In cases where the distribution point lies within the base zone, there is no permitted zone addition.

Since the beef pricing structure is predicated on carload movements of meat, there is necessarily some difference in handling situations involving carload and less-than-carload sales of beef. There is little difficulty in determining the distribution point with respect to carload sales. The distribution point is the seller's place of business in every case except where the meat is consigned to the buyer and the seller pays the transportation charges to the buyer's place of business. In such a situation the seller may at his option treat his plant as the distribution point and make a local delivery charge for transportation to the buyer, or he may elect to treat the rail unloading point nearest the buyer's place of business as the distribution point.

In the case of L. C. L. sales to buyers other than to purveyors of meals, the distribution point is the seller's place of business in those situations where the buyer comes to the plant to pick up the meat, as well as in those cases where the seller makes a local delivery to the buyer. However, where the seller delivers to the buyer by common or contract carrier, the distribution point must be the unloading point nearest the buyer's place of business. One of the important considerations involved in the establishment of the distribution point near the buyer in L. C. L. sales is to preserve the retailers' and wholesalers' operating margins since their selling prices are predicated on the prices prevailing in the localities in which they are located.

Purveyors of meals have normally and customarily obtained meat supplies by means of express or other fast shipment and frequently have paid the transportation charges incurred in such specialized deliveries. Accordingly, the regulation permits purveyors of meals to buy on an f. o. b. seller's plant basis. Since most of these purchases are in L. C. L. quantities, this proviso represents an exception to the general rule prescribing the distribution point as the unloading point nearest the buyer's place of business on L. C. L. sales.

In the case of boneless beef cuts and boneless processing beef the distribution point is always the seller's place of business. This is necessary in order to prevent suppliers of this type of meat from obtaining substantially higher prices for their products by shipping them to distant markets, than could be realized by sales in the immediate vicinity of the seller's plant. This will tend to preserve the pattern of distribution of this type of meat on a more normal historical basis.

Local Delivery

To permit the continuation of store-door delivery, a specific addition may be made to the base price for local delivery. On sales of no more than 3,000 pounds to one place in one day, a fixed amount has been allowed for each specified distance, this amount being determined on the basis of data obtained from the industry based on average costs. On sales in larger quantities, the seller is permitted to add his actual cost of local delivery to the buyer's place of business, or the lowest commercial rate for such service, or the amount permitted for local delivery of less than 3,000 pounds, whichever is lower. This provision is designed both to fairly compensate for the local delivery and to minimize the freight burden on the purchaser of L. C. L. shipments in excess of 3,000 pounds of beef.

Other Additions to Ease Prices

To assure a continued flow of beef through ordinary channels and in conformity with the customary practices of the industry, certain other price adjustments are necessary. The more important of these adjustments are to cover the costs of specified types of sellers who perform specialized functions.

Wholesalers have usually secured a major part of their operating margin through their ability to purchase beef, generally in large quantities, at prices which would enable them to compete favorably with packers and packer branch houses. However, in a short market the independent wholesaler often finds it difficult, if not impossible, to make such favorable purchases, and accordingly, he would need a higher selling price to provide him with his normal operating margin. The regulation permits the independent wholesaler an addition of $2.25 per cwt. on sales to retailers and purveyors of meals, 75¢ per cwt. on sales to other wholesalers, and $1.25 per cwt. on sales to all other buyers. A study of operating results experienced by wholesalers indicates that these additions will permit them to obtain the normal operating margins which they enjoyed in the past.

Sales to Purveyors of Meals

There are approximately 600 business establishments in the United States whose chief function is that of preparing and fabricating meat cuts and selling them (along with other meat products), to hotels, restaurants, and other purveyors of meals. These establishments are generally known as hotel supply houses. Some meat packing companies and wholesalers also perform this function as a part of their operations, either directly at their plants or branch houses or through subsidiary companies.

Functions performed by sellers of fabricated cuts to purveyors of meals include providing special selections, aging and trimming of primal cuts which may be sold as such or fabricated into steaks, roasts, stews and ground meat to fulfill the varying specifications of different types of purveyors of meals. Frequent and sometimes small deliveries are required. Because of these special services, costs are considerably higher than are involved in the wholesale distribution of meat to retailers, and special pricing provisions on fabricated cuts are necessary to make possible continuation of the services the hotel supply units render.

Establishments which sold less than 25 percent of their volume to purveyors of meals and, also, packer-owned hotel suppliers physically attached to a defined parent or controlling selling establishment, are given ceiling prices on sales of fabricated cuts reflecting the higher costs for these specialized services.

A combination distributor, which during 1950 sold between 25 and 70 percent of its volume of all meats to purveyors of meals is given slightly higher ceiling prices for fabricated cuts. This is to compensate for additional costs over a packer-owned hotel supplier which is physically attached. Operating as a separate selling establishment, the overhead expenses of such a combination distributor are likely to be higher. Since such a combination distributor's operation is part a wholesale and part a fabricated cut operation, it is given an allowance of $2.00 per cwt. on sales of beef carcasses, wholesale cuts or boneless cuts which is more than the amount allowed for hotel supply houses but a lesser markup on the sales of fabricated cuts. A combination distributor owned and controlled by a packer will have expenses greater than those of a hotel supplier owned and controlled by a packer and attached to such packer, but less costs than a hotel supply house. In a period of tight supply, such an establishment will not buy from wholesalers to any great extent.

Ceiling prices for sales of fabricated cuts to purveyors of meals by hotel supply houses are slightly higher than prices for similar sales by combination distributors. A hotel supply house, whose sales to purveyors of meals must represent at least 70 percent of its total volume of meat sold in 1950, provides these specialized services for most of its sales. Especially in periods of tight supply, it has no parent company upon which to rely for its continued supply, and, therefore, its costs of procuring meat may be higher.

On sales of beef carcasses, wholesale cuts, or boneless cuts, an addition of $1.50 is allowed for hotel supply houses and $2.00 for combination distributors.

Peddler-truck sellers

In some market areas, sales by peddler-trucks operated by driver-salesmen are important elements in the distribution of meat, especially to the smaller retailers in the outlying sections. This form of distribution is distinguished from the usual methods by the fact that sales are made customarily out of stock carried on the truck, so that the sale and delivery are made concurrently. The addition of $2.50 per cwt. allowed for this type of sale of beef is based on information received from representatives of this branch of the industry in various parts of the country and at meetings held by the Office of Price Stabilization.

Kosher Beef

Heavy demand for kosher slaughtered beef is concentrated in the northeastern part of the country, particularly in and around New York and Boston. In response to this demand kosher slaughtering facilities have developed in that area on a sufficiently large scale to draw a substantial quantity of live cattle from the west. In addition to the extra expense necessarily incident to kosher slaughtering methods, these packers experience a loss by tissue shrink as a result of transporting the live cattle long distances. Data covering an extended period shows that kosher beef has commanded a premium at least equal to the extra costs. Accordingly, the regulation allows an addition for kosher beef derived from cattle slaughtered in zone 4a sufficiently high to cover the necessary costs.

Conclusion

In formulating these regulations the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 50 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Titles I and IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation establishes specific ceiling prices for most sales of beef, beef cuts and beef products, except for sales at retail. These ceiling prices supersede those established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation for these items. This regulation does not, however, establish ceiling prices for sterile canned beef, or sausage. In addition, this regulation defines and standardizes the beef cuts which you may sell and prohibits the sale of non-standardized cuts.

SEC. 2. Where this regulation applies. This regulation shall be applicable in the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices for specifically enumerated beef products.—(a) Beef carcasses and wholesale cuts. Your ceiling price for each grade of beef carcass or beef wholesale cut shall be the price specified in section 20, plus any applicable additions permitted in Article IV.

(b) Fabricated beef cuts. Your ceiling price for each grade of fabricated beef cut shall be the price specified in section 21, plus the applicable additions permitted in sections 40 and 41.

(c) Boneless beef cuts. Your ceiling price for each boneless beef cut shall be the price specified in section 22, plus the applicable additions permitted in sections 41, 42, 45 and 46.

(d) Boneless processing beef. Your ceiling prices for boneless processing beef shall be the prices specified in section 23, plus the applicable additions permitted in sections 41 and 45.

(e) Boneless beef (military specifications). Your ceiling prices for frozen boneless beef (4-way, military specifications) and beef, processing (military specifications, JAN–B–617) shall be the prices specified in sections 24 and 25 respectively. You may not include any of the additions specified in Article IV.

(f) Beef variety meats and by-products. Your ceiling prices for certain beef variety meats and beef by-products shall be the prices specified in section 26, plus the applicable additions permitted in sections 41, 42, 45 and 46.

(g) Prefabricated quick frozen and packaged retail cuts. Your ceiling prices for prefabricated quick frozen and packaged retail cuts, delivered to any retail store, properly equipped with such facilities as are necessary to maintain such cuts in a solid frozen condition, shall be 80 percent of the retail ceiling price (Group 1 and 2 stores as established by Ceiling Price Regulation 25) for the corresponding grade and type of fresh retail cut applicable in the retail zone area in which the buyer's store is located. In determining this figure, the retail ceiling price shall first be converted to a per cwt. basis and the result shall be rounded to the nearest 10 cents per cwt. The weights for determining such ceiling price shall be the net weight of the prefabricated quick frozen retail cut indicated on each package. None of the additions in Article IV may be added.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices for certain beef products which are not specifically listed in section 3.—(a) Variety meats and edible by-products. If you sell a beef variety meat or a beef by-product which is not included in section 26, your ceiling price is established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) Cured beef items. If you sold cured, corned, cooked, smoked, barbecued, or dried beef items during 1950, your ceiling prices are established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. You must, however, file the report required under section 10 (b). If you did not sell these items during 1950, see section 4 (d).

(c) Specialty steak products. If you sold specialty steak products such as chip steaks, frosted steaks, sandwich steaks, French steaks, tenderedy steaks or similar specialty beef products during 1950, your ceiling prices are established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, but in no event shall they exceed $2.00 per pound. You must, however, file the report required by section 10 (b). If you did not sell these items in 1950, see section 4 (d).

(d) New cured beef and specialty steak products. If you desire to sell a beef product listed in section 4 (b) or section 4 (c) which you have not sold during 1950, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization in Washington, D. C., for a ceiling price. In your application you shall describe the product and state the same information required in section 10 (b) (1) through (6), inclusive. The Director of Price Stabilization may authorize a ceiling price for such product if your application includes sufficient facts to enable the Director of Price Stabilization to find:

(1) That you have made a substantial financial investment which cannot be utilized except in the sale of such beef product;

(2) That the sale of this product is to constitute at least 10 percent of your dollar volume of business;

(3) That production of this item will not divert an abnormal amount of beef production from low cost to high cost items; and

(4) That approval of your application will be generally fair and equitable, will not adversely affect the price structure established by this regulation, and will not otherwise have an inflationary effect.

SEC. 5. Exempt sales. The provisions of this regulation shall not apply:

(a) To sales at retail; or

(b) To sales or deliveries of any beef product to a buyer if, prior to the effective date of this regulation, this beef product has been received for shipment to such buyer by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller.

SEC. 6. Adjustment for transportation to critical areas. Upon a finding that a critical shortage of meat has occurred in a specific area because customary sources of supply are unavailable and because the established ceiling prices do not contain a sufficient allowance to cover the cost of transporting meat to that area from other sources of supply, the Director of Price Stabilization may by order designate such area as a critical area for such period as he may prescribe, and may in writing authorize you to charge and receive, for beef products sold to buyers in that area, an amount in excess of the applicable ceiling price.

SEC. 7. Export sales—(a) Ceiling prices. The ceiling prices at which you may export any beef product shall be your domestic ceiling price for the beef product f. o. b. your place of business (in this instance your distribution point shall be your place of business) plus any of the following costs actually incurred incidental to exportation of the product:

(1) Cost of transportation to the dock.
(2) Export packing costs.
(3) Demurrage or warehouse charges.
(4) Ocean freight costs.
(5) Insurance costs.
(6) Consular fees.
(7) Freight forwarders' fees.

You may not however add any of the additions specified in Article IV of this regulation except the additions set forth in section 40 and section 42, where applicable.

(b) Records. You shall make and preserve the records required in section 9 (a) and in addition to the information required to be shown in paragraphs (1) through (4) therein, you shall also separately list any of the actual costs incurred in paragraph (a) (1) through (7) of this section. You shall furnish the buyer a written statement showing all this information.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) You shall not evade the provisions of this regulation, by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation or agreement relating to the sale, delivery, purchase, transfer or receipt of beef, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, wrapping, packaging or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing the selection, grading, or the style of dressing, cutting, trimming, cooking or otherwise processing, or the wrapping or packaging of beef, or otherwise.

(b) Among others, the following practices are considered evasions and are prohibited:

(1) Falsely or incorrectly grading or invoicing beef.

(2) Selling or invoicing kosher beef to purchasers who are not bona fide buyers of kosher meat.

(3) Selling or invoicing fabricated beef cuts to buyers other than purveyors of meals, hotel supply houses, combination distributors, or ship suppliers.

(4) Offering, selling or delivering a beef product on condition that the buyer purchase another beef product or any other commodity or service.

(5) Making or receiving a charge for delivery on the basis of a route different from that actually followed and in excess of that permitted for the route by which the beef was actually delivered.

(6) Selling or transferring to a slaughterer title to live cattle by the owner thereof or buying or receiving title to live cattle by a slaughterer from the owner thereof, on condition, or with any understanding or agreement, that dressed carcasses or wholesale cuts derived from such cattle, or from other cattle, be sold or delivered to any designated person: Provided, however, That this prohibition shall not apply to the sale or transfer of title to cattle certified to be club cattle.

(7) Charging, paying, billing, or receiving any consideration for or in connection with any service for which a specific allowance has not been provided in this regulation.

(c) The following payments shall not be construed as evasions of this regulation if made under the following conditions:

(1) A payment of not to exceed 17½ cents per cwt. in excess of the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation, if paid by a buyer to a broker who had, prior to the issuance date of this regulation, rendered services as a broker, for services rendered by the broker to the buyer if the broker has no business affiliation with the seller.

(2) A payment by a buyer to a seller for icing services performed by the seller before delivery of any beef or beef product to a carrier, if the carrier's freight charges are paid directly by the buyer and if the amount paid for such icing services does not exceed the actual commercial rates for such icing services.

(3) Where the distribution point is the seller's place of business and the transportation charges are paid by the seller to the carrier, a payment by a buyer to a seller of the buyer's proportion of that transportation charge, if such payment appears on the seller's invoice.

SEC. 9. Records—(a) Records which must be preserved. On or after the effective date of this regulation, each of you who sells or transfers and each of you who, in the course of trade or business, buys or receives any beef, beef cut or beef product shall make and preserve for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization for a period of two years complete and accurate records of each such sale, transfer, purchase or receipt showing:

(1) The date thereof;

(2) The names and addresses of the buyer or the recipient and the seller or the transferor;

(3) The descriptive name or type of cut or item, the grade, including sex identification as to stag or bull, and the quantity and weight of all beef products sold, transferred, delivered or purchased, received or acquired;

(4) The price charged, received, or paid therefor.

You shall also continue to preserve all records required to be preserved by Section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

All records required to be preserved under this section 9 may after the expiration of 90 days after the date of the transaction to which they relate be transferred to and preserved thereafter on microfilm.

(b) Records which must accompany deliveries. (1) Except as provided in section 9 (b) (2), (3) and (4) each of you who sells, transfers, or delivers any beef product shall furnish to the buyer at the time of delivery a written statement showing information set forth in section 9 (a).

(2) In case of a shipment made to a buyer located beyond a radius of twenty-five miles from the seller's place of business, other than a C. O. D. shipment, you shall send with each such shipment a copy of the written statement referred to in section 9 (a) hereof: Provided, however, that if the shipment made to the buyer is commenced before 12 o'clock noon, that portion of the statement with respect to the price charged and received therefor, may be omitted but must be mailed to the buyer on the same day. If the shipment made to the buyer is commenced after 12 o'clock noon, that portion of the statement with respect to the price charged or received therefor, may be omitted but must be mailed to the buyer before 12 o'clock noon the following business day.

(3) Where the shipment made constitutes the entire content of a common carrier freight car or truck, a copy of the statement referred to in section 9 (a) shall be posted in the freight car or truck near or on the door. Where the shipment made constitutes only a part of the content of a common carrier freight car or truck, the copy shall be securely attached in a conspicuous place to one of the items included within the shipment. Where the shipment made is by vehicle other than a common carrier, the copy referred to shall be given to and carried by the driver and he shall be authorized to display it to any enforcement officer on request.

(4) If you transfer any beef product, which constitutes the entire content of a vehicle, to a business establishment or warehouse controlled or operated by you, you shall send with each vehicle making such transfer, a statement showing the name and address of the owner, the point of destination and that the beef products are not being transferred to a buyer in connection with a sale. The transfer must be identified in the same manner as required in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

SEC. 10. Reports.—(a) Kosher slaughter located in Zone 4a. If you kosher slaughter cattle in a slaughtering plant or plants located in Zone 4a you shall file with the Office of Price Stabilization at Washington, D. C., a true copy of the abattoir stamp together with the name and address of the slaughtering plant at which such abattoir stamp is used.

(b) Cured beef products and specialty steaks. If you sell any beef product for which a ceiling price is provided under section 4(b) or (c) you shall file within 30 days of the effective date of this regulation with the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report including:

(1) A description of the product, including the name of the item.

(2) The wholesale cut and grade of beef used therein.

(3) A complete description of its preparation.

(4) The type of wrapping or packaging used.

(5) The manner in which the product differs from the most similar product of the same type for which a ceiling price is provided in section 3 of this regulation.

(6) The cost of each operation which is added to or eliminated from the manufacture of the most similar product of the same type for which a ceiling price is provided in section 3 of this regulation and a ceiling retail price, the cost of the product.

(7) Your ceiling price for that product under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(8) The total dollar volume you sold of the product during the calendar year 1950.

(9) The total dollar volume of all your sales of all meat products during the calendar year 1950.

(c) For other reports required by this regulation see sections 21, 42 and 46.

SEC. 11. Prohibitions.—(a) Selling at prices above ceiling. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, (1) you shall not sell or deliver any beef product at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this regulation, (2) you shall not buy or receive in the regular course of trade or business any beef product at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this regulation, and (3) you shall not agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. You may, however, charge, demand, pay or offer lower prices for beef products than are established by this regulation.

(b) Selling other than defined cuts. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, except for beef products the ceiling prices of which are controlled by section 4, you shall not sell or deliver and you shall not buy or receive in the regular course of trade or business any beef product or any part or portion thereof unless such beef product is listed in Appendixes 2 through 7, inclusive.

SEC. 12. Enforcement. On or after the effective date of this regulation, if you violate any provision of this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

SEC. 13. Petitions for amendment. If you seek an amendment of any provision of this regulation, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1, issued by the Office of Price Stabilization.

SPECIAL ADJUSTMENTS

(1) If any beef carcass or wholesale cut is not cut in accordance with the specifications prescribed in Appendix 2, you may not sell such cut above the ceiling price prescribed for flanks.

(2) If any beef carcass or wholesale cut does not clearly bear a correct grade mark, you shall not sell the cut above the ceiling price prescribed for the corresponding wholesale cut of the lowest grade.

(3) If you are a hotel supply house, you may add $1.50 per cwt. to the prices listed above.

(4) If you are a combination distributor, you may add $2.00 per cwt. to the prices listed above.

(5) If a buyer sends you a written request in duplicate for tender-ray processing of any beef carcass or wholesale cut, stating therein that he will absorb the expense of the tender-ray processing, you may add an amount not exceeding two percent of the appropriate price listed above to that price. A copy of the buyer's written request must be forwarded to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., before such addition may be taken.

(b) Effective August 1, 1951, the following prices will supersede those in section 20 (a).

(b) Effective August 1, 1951 the following prices will supersede those in section 24 (a).

ARTICLE III—DISTRIBUTION POINT

SEC. 30. Distribution point. The distribution point applicable to each of your sales determines the zone differential (section 40) and the local delivery addition (section 41), if applicable. In determining the distribution point applicable to each sale, you shall be governed as follows:

(a) Beef products priced under sections 22 through 26, inclusive. On sales of beef products priced under sections 22 through 26, inclusive, the distribution point is the seller's place of business.

(b) Beef products priced under sections 20 and 21 sold to purveyors of meals. On sales of beef products priced under sections 20 and 21 to purveyors of meals, the distribution point may be, at the option of the seller:

(1) The point at which the meat consigned to the purveyor of meals is delivered to a carrier for shipment to the purveyor, who pays the shipping charges directly to the carrier; or

(2) Any of the points designated in paragraphs (c) or (d) of this section.

(c) Beef products priced under sections 20 and 21—less than carload shipments. On sales of less than carload shipments of beef products priced under sections 20 and 21, the distribution point may be, at the option of the seller:

(1) The seller's place of business. If the buyer comes to the seller's plant to pick up the meat; or

(2) The seller's place of business if the seller makes a local delivery beginning at his place of business and continuing to the buyer's place of business; or

(3) The unloading station nearest the buyer's place of business.

(d) Beef products priced under sections 20 and 21—carload shipments. On sales of carload shipments of beef products priced under sections 20 and 21, the distribution point may be, at the option of the seller:

(1) The point at which the buyer takes actual physical possession of the meat; or

(2) The seller's place of business if the seller makes a local delivery beginning at his place of business and continuing to the buyer's place of business; or

(3) The point from which the meat consigned to the buyer is delivered to a carrier for shipment at the carload rate to the buyer who pays the shipping charges directly to the carrier; or

(4) The unloading station nearest the buyer's place of business.

(e) Substituted distribution points. If no carload freight rates are established to the applicable point listed in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, the nearest point to which such freight rates are established shall become the applicable distribution point.

ARTICLE IV—ZONE DIFFERENTIALS AND ADDITIONS

SEC. 40. Addition 1—Zone differentials.—(a) Zone 1. No amount may be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 1.

(b) Zone 2. For beef grade prime or choice, the amount to be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 2 shall be the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate from Omaha, Nebraska, to the distribution point, or from Denver, Colorado, to the distribution point, whichever is lower, adjusted to the nearest 10¢ per cwt.

For beef graded good, commercial, utility, cutter or canner, no amount may be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 2.

(c) Zone 2a. For beef graded prime or choice, the amount to be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 2a shall be determined by multiplying by 115 percent the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate from Omaha, Nebraska, to the distribution point, adjusted to the nearest 10¢ per cwt.

For beef graded good, commercial, utility, cutter or canner, the amount to be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 2a shall be determined by multiplying by 60 percent the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate from Omaha, Nebraska, to the distribution point, adjusted to the nearest 10¢ per cwt.

(d) Zone 3. The amount to be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 3 shall be the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate from Denver, Colorado, to the distribution point, adjusted to the nearest 10¢ per cwt.

(e) Zone 4, Zone 4a and Zone 4b. The amount to be added as a zone differential where the distribution point is located in Zone 4, Zone 4a, or Zone 4b shall be determined by multiplying by 115 percent the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate from Omaha, Nebraska, to the distribution point, adjusted to the nearest 10¢ per cwt.

SEC. 41. Addition 2—Local delivery. (a) Where you make (or pay a contract carrier to make) a local delivery of not in excess of 3,000 pounds in any one day to the delivery point designated by the buyer, you may add to the prices specified in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and VII, the amount indicated for the distances set forth below:

[The charge for local delivery for any fraction of a cwt. shall be reduced proportionately.]

Amount	Distance of delivery[1]
$0.40	Up to 35 miles.
$0.60	35 to 75 miles.
$1.00	75 to 150 miles.
$1.20	Over 150 miles.

[1] In terms of shortest railroad and/or truck route.

(b) Where you made a local delivery in excess of 3,000 pounds in any one day to the delivery point designated by the buyer, you may add to the prices specified in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and VII, for local delivery, the lowest of the following three amounts:

(1) The regular commercial rate

(2) The actual cost of making the delivery

[1] For fabricated cuts, you may substitute 125 percent of the fresh meat railroad carload freight rate where 115 percent is allowed, 110 percent where actual fresh meat railroad carload freight rate is allowed, and 70 percent where 60 percent is allowed in this section 40.

(3) The amount specified in (a) above for local delivery for a corresponding distance.

SEC. 42. Addition 3—Wholesaler's addition. On the sale of any beef product (not obtained through custom slaughtering):

(a) To retailers or purveyors of meals, you may add $2.25 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, and VII, or

(b) To another wholesaler, you may add $.75 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III and VII, or

(c) To other buyers, you may add $1.25 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III and VII.

You may not add this wholesaler's selling addition unless you are a wholesaler as defined in section 50 and unless you have filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Stabilization a signed statement containing the following:

(1) Your name.

(2) The address of your selling establishment.

(3) The date that you began doing business as a wholesaler.

(4) The type or types of customers to whom you regularly and customarily sell your product.

SEC. 43. Addition 4—Freezing for defense procurement agencies. On sales of beef carcasses or wholesale cuts to a defense procurement agency, you may add to the prices specified in Schedule I 65¢ per cwt. for freezing.

SEC. 44. Addition 5—Wrapping. If any beef carcass or wholesale cut is wrapped, you may add to the price specified in Schedule I an amount equal to the cost of such wrapping, but such addition shall not be in excess of 35¢ per cwt.

SEC. 45. Addition 6—Packing in shipping containers. For packing beef products in the following containers you may add to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, IV and VII the amount specified below opposite the type of container used.

	Cwt.
All returnable containers	$0.50
5/15 Lbs. Wood, metal or solid fibre containers	1.80
16/35 Lbs. Wood, metal or solid fibre containers	1.50
36/65 Lbs. Wood, wire-bound crates, or solid fibre boxes	1.00
65 Lbs./Up Wood, wire-bound crates, or solid fibre boxes	0.80
Barrels	0.70
Sacks	0.50
Corrugated boxes (all)	0.70

No more than one container addition may be made for any one product.

SEC. 46. Addition 7—Peddler truck selling addition. On a peddler truck sale to a buyer's store door or place designated by the buyer for delivery, you may add $2.50 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, and VII.

You may not add this addition unless you make a peddler truck sale as defined in section 50 and unless you have filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Stabilization a signed statement containing the following:

(a) Your name.

(b) Your business address

(c) The date you began doing business as a peddler truck operator.

(d) The type or types of customers to whom you regularly and customarily sell your product.

SEC. 47. Addition 8—Kosher forequarters and kosher wholesale cuts. For any grade of kosher beef triangle or kosher wholesale cut obtained from the triangle sold to a bona fide purchasher of kosher meat, you may add $1.20 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedule I.

For any grade of kosher forequarter sold to a bona fide purchaser of kosher meat, you may add $1.00 to the prices specified in Schedule I.

SEC. 48. Addition 9—Kosher beef from cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a. For the following kosher beef cuts derived from cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a (in addition to the amount permitted in section 47), you may add the following amounts.

Item	Amount (per cwt.)
Brisket	$4.00
Plate	3.00
Chuck	2.00
Foreshank	2.00
Forequarter	1.50

[You shall not add these amounts unless the meat is sold to a bona fide buyer of kosher meats and clearly shows the appropriate abattoir stamp]

ARTICLE V—GENERAL DEFINITIONS

SEC. 50. General definitions. When used in this regulation, the term:

(a) Affiliated means the relationship existing between two persons when one is owned or controlled by the other, or both are owned or controlled by the same person, or when one is an employee or agent of the other. Own or control means to own or control directly or indirectly a partnership equity or in excess of 10 percent of any class of outstanding stock, or to have made loans or advances in excess of 5 percent of the other person's monthly sales.

(b) Beef means meat graded as beef pursuant to the provisions of Distribution Regulation 2 and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef" of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) Beef product means a product produced in whole or substantial part from beef, except sausage and canned meats.

(d) Buyer of kosher meat means a person who maintains a selling establishment at or through which he regularly and generally sells kosher meat as such, or a person who is a purveyor of kosher meals.

(e) Carload means

(1) A shipment by rail of fresh or frozen wholesale meat cuts, and/or cured meat cuts, meat or processed products and/or carcasses or any combination of the foregoing to a single delivery point, of at least the minimum weight upon which the railroad carload rate from the point of shipment to the delivery point, as evidenced by the tariff of railroad carriers, is based: Provided, That where the transportation charge for shipment of a lesser weight at the railroad carload rate would be less than the transportation charge for that shipment at the railroad less-than-carload rate, that shipment shall be considered a carload, or

(2) A shipment by motor truck or trucks to a single delivery point of 15,000 pounds or more of fresh or frozen wholesale meat cuts and/or cured meat cuts, meat or processed products and or carcasses, or any combination of the foregoing, as a single bulk sale transaction; or

(3) Any single bulk sale transaction wherein the buyer takes delivery at the seller's place of business of 15,000 pounds or more of fresh or frozen wholesale meat cuts and/or cured meat cuts, meat or processed products and/or carcasses or any combination of the foregoing.

(f) Club cattle means any cattle which have been bred, raised and fed, or fed only, by a member of a 4-H or F.F.A. club under the supervision of the Extension Service of the United States or by an individual participating in a vocational agricultural project under the supervision of a vocational teacher in any recognized Vocational Agricultural Department, and which have been certified in writing to conform to the provisions hereof by the supervisor, club agent, agricultural County Agent or vocational agricultural project teacher under whose supervision such cattle were bred, raised, or fed.

(g) Combination distributor means any establishment

(1) Which sold or delivered to purveyors of meals during 1950 not less than 25 percent of the total volume by weight of all meats, including sausage, variety meats and edible by-products, sold or delivered by it, excluding sales to defense procurement agencies, and

(2) Which is not affiliated with a packing or slaughtering plant, packer's branch house, wholesaler's or other selling establishment to which it is physically attached.

(h) Defense procurement agency means the Department of Defense (including the Department of the Army, the Department of the Navy, and the Department of the Air Force), the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce, the Marine Corps, the United States Coast Guard, the Department of Agriculture, the Veterans Administration or any agency of the foregoing.

(i) Fresh meat carload freight rate or carload freight rate means the charge solely for transportation of a carload of fresh beef (exclusive of any charge for services, e. g. icing) including the federal transportation tax thereon.

(j) Grades means the uniform grades required under Distribution Regulation 2.

(k) Hotel supply house means any establishment

(1) Which sold or delivered to purveyors of meals during 1950 not less than 70 percent of the total volume by weight of all meats, including sausage, variety meats and edible by-products, sold or delivered by it, excluding sales to defense procurement agencies, and

(2) Which is not affiliated with a packing or slaughtering plant, packer's branch house, wholesaler's or other selling establishment.

(l) Local delivery means delivery commencing at the distribution point and continuing to the buyer's place of business or to the delivery point designated by the buyer.

(m) Peddler truck sale means a sale of beef from a truck by a person

(1) Who purchases beef at or below the ceiling price from a seller with whom he has no other financial affiliations or relationships;

(2) Who takes delivery at the seller's place of business;

(3) Who does not sell or deal in meat in any manner other than sales out of stock carried in a truck driven by him; and

(4) Who has sold meat in this manner at any time between Jan. 1, 1950, and the issuance date of this regulation.

(n) Purveyor of meals means

(1) Any restaurant, hotel, cafe, cafeteria or establishment which purchases meats and serves meals, food portions or refreshments for a consideration; or

(2) Any hospital, asylum, orphanage, prison or other similar institution; or

(3) Any person who is feeding, pursuant to a written contract with an agency of the United States, personnel of the armed services of the United States, fed under the command of a commissioned or noncommissioned officer or other authorized representative of the armed services of the United States; or

(4) Any person operating an oceangoing vessel or Great Lakes vessel, engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in foreign, coastwise, intercoastal trade, or trade upon the Great Lakes, if meat is delivered for consumption aboard such vessels.

(o) Sales at retail means a sale to an individual for consumption by himself or his family off the seller's premises. A retailer means a person who sells at retail.

(p) Shipment, whenever used in section 9 (b), means commodities which are consigned to a single buyer as part of a single freight car or truck movement or delivery to the place of business or warehouse of the buyer, other than a consignment or delivery of the entire content of a common carrier, freight car or truck to a defense procurement agency.

(q) Ship supplier means any person who sells and/or delivers meats and/or other food products to ship operators.

(r) Slaughterer means a person who owns or is affiliated with a slaughtering plant or slaughtering facilities, or who has livestock slaughtered for him by another person.

(s) Slaughtering facilities means any equipment designed or used for the commercial killing of calves, cattle, lambs, sheep, or hogs.

(t) Slaughtering plant means any place equipped or used for the commercial killing of calves, cattle, lambs, sheep or hogs.

(u) Wholesaler means a person (other than a hotel supply house, combination distributor, peddler truck seller)

(1) Who buys beef for resale; and

(2) Who is not affiliated with any slaughtering plant or facilities, engaged in the slaughtering of cattle; and

(3) Who maintains and operates a separate selling establishment, equipped with reasonable and adequate storage facilities, in such a manner that the total monthly poundage of meats and meat by-products sold out of stock carried in his separate selling establishment constitutes not less than 90 percent of the total monthly poundage of all meats and meat by-products resold by him; and

(4) Who operated in this manner at any time between Jan. 1, 1950 and the issuance date of this regulation.

(v) You or person indicates the person subject to this regulation, including any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing: Provided, That no punishment provided by this regulation shall apply to the United States or to any such government, political subdivision, or agency.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on May 9, 1951. You may, however, adopt in whole the provisions of this regulation at any time before the effective date.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

APRIL 30, 1951.

APPENDIX 1—ZONE DEFINITIONS

(a) Zone 1. Zone 1 means the area described as follows:

The entire States of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, and South Dakota:

The entire State of Missouri, except St. Louis County;

The portion of Colorado included in the following counties: Sedgwick, Phillips, Yuma, Kit Carson, Cheyenne, Logan, Washington, Lincoln, Weld, Morgan, Denver, Adams, Arapahoe, Douglas, Elbert, El Paso, Teller, Pueblo, Crowley, Otero, Bent, Kiowa, and Prowers;

The portion of Wyoming included in the counties of Platte, Goshen and Laramie;

The portion of Wisconsin west of and including the counties of Iron, Price, Taylor, Clark, Jackson, Monroe, Vernon, and Crawford; and

The portion of Minnesota south of and including the counties of Traverse, Grant, Douglas, Todd, Morrison, Mille Lacs, Kanabec, and Pine.

(b) Zone 2. Zone 2 means the area described as follows:

The entire States of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, and North Dakota;

The portion of Wyoming which is not included in Zone 1;

The portion of Colorado which is not included in Zone 1;

The portion of Minnesota which is not included in Zone 1; and

The portion of Montana east of and including the Counties of Phillips, Petroleum, Musselshell, Yellowstone, and Big Horn.

(c) Zone 2a. Zone 2a means the portion of Wisconsin which is not included in Zone 1.

(d) Zone 3. Zone 3 means the area described as follows:

The entire States of California, Utah, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, and Idaho; and

The portion of Montana which is not included in Zone 2.

(e) Zone 4. Zone 4 means that portion of the United States which is not included in Zones 1, 2, 2a, 3, 4a, or 4b.

(f) Zone 4a. Zone 4a means the area described as follows:

The entire States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia;

The portion of New York east of and including the Counties of St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis, Herkimer, Otsego and east and southeast of and including the County of Delaware; and

(g) Zone 4b. Zone 4b means the area described as follows:

The portion of Florida south of and including the counties of Pinellas, Hillsborough, Polk, Orange, Seminole, and Volusia.

APPENDIX 2—BEEF CARCASSES AND WHOLESALE CUTS DEFINITIONS

(a) Section 58 of this regulation contains a chart showing the cuts the technical descriptions of which are given below. When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) Beef carcass means and is limited to two sides of beef or two hindquarters and two forequarters derived in either case from the same beef animal which shall be dressed in the following manner: The head shall be removed by disjointing at the socket joint (occipito-atlis). The hide shall be entirely removed. The belly shall be opened by cutting or sawing through the aitch bone (symphysis-pelvis) down the belly in a straight line to the center of the sternum bone and continuing through the sternum bone to the neck. All the viscera (not including the kidneys and the kidney fat) shall be removed. The heart (mediastinal) fat, caul fat and the sweetbreads from the neck shall be entirely removed. The front feet shall be detached at the lower knee (carpo-metacarpal) joint and the hind legs shall be detached at the hock (tarso-metatarsal joint). The tail shall be removed leaving not more than two tail (caudal) vertebrae remaining attached to the carcass.

In dressing cows the udders shall be entirely removed. In dressing steers, stags, and bulls the entire genito-urinary tract shall be removed. The carcass shall be separated into two sides by splitting or sawing the chine bones as nearly as possible through the center of the spinal column and spinous processes so that the spinal cord is fully exposed. The muscular portion of the skirt (diaphragm) shall be left attached to the carcass but the non-muscular part (centrum tendineum) shall be trimmed so as to leave not more than ½ inch of it remaining adjacent to the red (muscle) meat. Bruises and grubs shall be trimmed out. The hanging tender shall be left on the carcass. The inside of the carcass shall be thoroughly cleaned by washing. The beef carcass shall not be broken in any other manner than as provided below.

Side of beef means a hindquarter and forequarter separated or attached which are derived from one side of a beef animal and which have been dressed in accordance with the specifications applicable to "beef carcass".

Beef wholesale cut means and is limited to any of the following cuts meeting the following minimum specifications, derived from the beef carcass, but excluding the offal and any item not included therein. (All measurements prescribed herein shall be made with a rigid straight ruler. All cuts shall be made according to the definite guides and measurements specified. Ribs are designated as 1st to 13th, inclusive, counting as the 1st rib that one which is nearest the neck end of the side).

(2) Hindquarter means the posterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 12-rib forequarter from the side, and comprising the round, full loin including the 13th rib, flank, kidney and hanging tender all in one piece, which posterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib while cutting down the length of the rib to the point at the end of the rib where the rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, from which point passing through the cartilage and meat of the flank and short plate in the same straight line, completing the cut.

(3) Forequarter means the anterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 1-rib hindquarter from the side and comprises the rib, regular chuck, brisket, short plate and fore-shank, all in one piece, which anterior portion contains the first to twelfth ribs, inclusive. No heart (mediastinal) fat or neck sweetbreads and not more than one-half inch of the fibrous part (centrum tendineum) of the skirt (diaphragm) shall appear in the forequarter and otherwise it shall be dressed in accordance with the specifications applicable to "beef carcass" as set forth in Appendix 2 (a) (1).

(4) Round means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of untrimmed full loin, and flank from the hindquarter, which portion shall be obtained as follows: The untrimmed full loin and flank shall be severed from the hindquarter by cutting in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the hindquarter. The cut shall be made on a straight line formed by and starting from that point on the backbone which is the juncture of the last (5th) sacral vertebra and the first (1st) tail (caudal) vertebra, and passing through the point which just misses the end of the protuberance of the femur bone and exposes the ball of the femur bone, continuing in the same straight line beyond the second point to complete the cut. Two tail vertebrae shall be left on the round. Attached to the tail bone of the round shall be the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra. All cod, udder and pelvic fat remaining on the round after its severance from the full loin and flank shall remain on the round.

(5) Trimmed full loin means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round, flank, hanging tender (from the open side), kidney knob and excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat from the inside of the loin, from the hindquarter, and comprising the short loin and sirloin (loin end) in one piece, the backbone of which portion shall include one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) thoracic vertebrae, six (6) lumbar vertebrae, and five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebrae shall have been sawed off in severing the round from the full loin and flank), and which portion shall be obtained as follows:

First, part of the kidney knob, all of the kidney and the fat lying closely around the kidney in open (left) and closed (right) sides shall be removed first by a cut starting at the rear end of the kidney and slanting directly to the front edge of the half of the 13th thoracic vertebra at the point of severance of the hindquarter and forequarter.

Second, the hanging tender, which means the cylindrical shaped piece of lean meat attached at one end under the kidney knob in open (left) side hindquarters shall be removed entirely from open side loins by being severed at a point opposite the juncture of the 1st and 2d lumbar vertebrae.

Third, after the severance of the round from the hindquarter, the flank shall be severed from the full loin by a cut starting at the heavy end of the full loin at the ventral point of severance of the round from the hindquarter and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra, but in making the cut no more than one (1) inch of cod or udder fat shall be left on the flank side of the face of the loin.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 12th thoracic vertebra.

Fourth, the excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat shall be trimmed from the inside of the full loin by placing the full loin upon a flat surface, with no other support to change its position, meat side down, and removing all fat which extends above a flat plane parallel with the flat surface supporting the full loin and on a level with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone. Then all fat shall be removed which extends above a flat plane using the following two lines as guides for each edge of the plane: an imaginary line parallel with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone which line extends 1 inch directly above such protruding edge; a line on the inside of the loin two inches from the flank edge and running parallel with such edge for the full length of the loin. All fat obstructing the measurement of the second line shall first be removed. In addition to the foregoing all rough fat in the pelvic cavity of the heavy end of the loin (sirloin) shall be trimmed smooth and trimming by a knife shall be apparent. No fat remaining in the pelvic cavity shall exceed one inch in depth.

(6) Flank means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round and untrimmed full loin from the hindquarter, which shall be obtained after the removal of the round by separation from the untrimmed full loin, starting the cut at the point at the lower end of the loin end (sirloin) which was the ventral point of separation of the full loin and round, leaving no more than 1 inch of cod or udder fat attached to the flank side of the face of the full loin, and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line along the 13th rib from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 12th thoracic vertebra.

(7) Short loin means that portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the sirloin (loin end) from the trimmed full loin, which portion shall be obtained by a cut perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin begun at a point which is the juncture on the chine bone of the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae and continuing in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin to and through a point flush against the end of the hip (pin) bone, but leaving no part of the hip (pin) bone in the short loin. The backbone of the short loin shall include five (5) lumbar vertebrae, one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) thoracic vertebrae and part of the 13th rib.

(8) Sirloin (loin end) means the thick portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the short loin from the trimmed full loin. The backbone of the sirloin shall include one ($1\frac{1}{2}$) lumbar vertebra, five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth (5th) sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in separating the round from the trimmed full loin and flank), and the entire hip bone (illum).

(9) Cross cut chuck (Kosher or traefer) means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib and short plate from the forequarter, and comprising the regular chuck, brisket and foreshank all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by cutting through the forequarter in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib, while cutting to the point where the 5th rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, at which point the cut shall continue in the same straight line through the cartilage, the breast bone (sternum) and the meat of the brisket and short plate to complete the severance. The cross cut chuck shall contain five (5) ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive).

(10) Regular chuck means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the foreshank and brisket from the cross cut chuck, and containing part of the blade bone (scapula), part of the arm bone (humerus), parts of the five ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive), that section of the backbone attached to the ribs, and the neck bone (cervical vertebrae from 1 to 7, inclusive), which portion shall be obtained by a cut through the cross cut chuck made in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the cross cut chuck (thereby separating the brisket and foreshank from the cross cut chuck) starting at a fixed point on the inside of the 5th rib determined by measuring off ten (10) inches along the 5th rib in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra, continuing in the same straight line to the tip of the forward end of the breast bone (forward end of 1st segment of sternum), and passing through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 5th rib joins the 5th thoracic vertebra.

(11) Foreshank means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and brisket from the cross cut chuck, which portion shall be obtained (after separation of the regular chuck) by separation from the brisket by a cut following the natural seam and leaving the entire lip, or web muscle on the brisket.

(12) Brisket means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and foreshank from the cross cut chuck, which portion contains parts of four ribs (2d to 5th, inclusive), part of the breast bone and the rib (costal) cartilages which connect the ends of the rib bones with the breast bone. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat shall be removed from the brisket.

(13) Rib means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and short plate from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), that section of the backbone attached to the ribs, part of the tip and cartilage of the blade bone (scapula), part of the blade bone (scapula) which portion shall be obtained by separation from the short plate) by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside of the protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra, and severing the rib from the forequarter by a second cut made in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib to the point where the second cut meets the end of the first cut.

NOTE: Measurements shall be from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 6th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(14) Short plate means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and rib from the forequarter, and containing the seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), the rib (costal) cartilages attached to them, and part of the breast bone.

(15) Back means the portion of the forequarter remaining after severance of the short plate, brisket and foreshank from the forequarter, and containing the rib and regular chuck all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by one cut made in a straight line starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra, and continuing to a point measured off 10 inches on the inside of the fifth rib along the 5th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra; and a second cut made in a straight line starting from the termination point of the first cut and continuing through a fixed point at the tip of the forward end of the breast bone, including the cartilage in young cattle or the ossified bone in the older cattle (forward end of the 1st segment of sternum), through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

NOTE: Measurements shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 5th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(16) Triangle (Kosher or traefer) means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib from the forequarter, and containing the short plate, brisket, foreshank and regular chuck all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by removing the rib from the forequarter by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside of the protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra, and severing the rib from the forequarter by a second cut made in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib to the point where the second cut meets the end of the first cut.

NOTE: Measurements shall be from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 6th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(17) Arm chuck means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the brisket from the cross cut chuck and containing the regular chuck and foreshank all in one piece.

APPENDIX 3—BONELESS BEEF CUT DEFINITIONS

When used in this regulation the term:

(a) Boneless beef cut means and is limited to mean any of the following cuts which are derived from utility, cutter, or canner grades of beef.

Preparatory to making any "boneless beef cut", the carcass must be separated into "hindquarters" and "forequarters", as specified in Appendix 2 (a) (2) and (3).

The foreshank shall be removed from the forequarter in the following manner: Insert a knife in the elbow joint and draw along the side of the upper forearm, as closely to the bone as possible, to the knuckle joint at the base of the blade bone. Draw the knife over the knuckle joint in such a manner to throw the shank out of the socket joint. A complete separation shall then be made by severing the remaining connective tissue and muscle.

Boneless beef cuts from the hindquarter shall be prepared as follows: The hanging tender shall be removed from the hindquarter as prescribed in Appendix 2 (a) (5). The round is separated from the loin by sawing behind and parallel to the aitch pelvic bone, leaving a small piece of the middle portion of the aitch bone on the round. This cut shall continue in a straight line through the bottom portion of the sirloin and the flank muscle at the proper angle to produce a full knuckle.

The flank shall be removed from the full loin as prescribed in Appendix 2 (a) (6).

The rough rump shall be separated from the loin starting at the center of the fifth sacral vertebra sawing through the knuckle bone, approximately one and one-half inches from the large exposed end of the aitch bone.

(1) Boneless beef inside (top round), outside (bottom round), and knuckle (face) shall be prepared in the following manner:

The "knuckle" shall be separated from the outside at the natural muscle seams between the knuckle and the outside, on the one side, and from the inside muscles on the other side, leaving one and one-half inches of the wedge-shaped piece of meat from the overlapping inside muscle attached to the knuckle. The knuckle shall be completely "faced"; removing all connective tissue, fat, and outside covering tissue, including the wedge-shaped strip of lean meat left on the knuckle when separating from the beef inside. The patella (knee-cap bone) and all cartilage or connecting tissue shall be removed. It shall be free from bruises and blood clots.

The "inside" and "outside" shall be separated by a cut starting at the termination of the gambrel cord separating the shank end portion equally between the inside and outside muscles and continuing the cut in a straight line to a point on the rump end which is just barely on the outside of the large muscle seam visible at this end. All fat on the skin surface shall be trimmed down to one-eighth inch in thickness. The crotch fat on the inside shall be trimmed down to the connective tissue (fel). The gracilis sinew below the crotch shall be completely removed. The popliteal gland and the fat on the cut surface on both the inside and outside muscles are to be removed and trimmed smooth. The inside shank muscle and the heavy sinew ends of the gambrel cord shall be removed from the inside. The shank muscle imbedded in the shank portion of the outside shall not be removed.

(2) Boneless beef shoulder clod shall be prepared in accordance with the same specifications as fabricated "shoulder clod", defined in Appendix 4 (a) (17), and shall be removed in the same manner as prescribed in that paragraph.

The brisket, rib, and short plate are removed in the manner prescribed in Appendix 2 (a) (12), (13) and (14).

(3) Boneless beef strip means that part of the strip loin remaining after all the bones have been removed. The strip loin shall be separated from the sirloin in the manner prescribed in Appendix 4 (a) (9). The boneless strip shall be entirely free from bruises, blood clots, and mutilations. The wing (flank side) shall be removed from the strip by a cut running parallel to the chine bone edge starting one and one-half inches beyond the eye of the strip at the rib end. All loose pieces shall be removed.

(4) Boneless beef sirloin butt means the boneless meat remaining after removal of all bone from the sirloin. All rough, ragged edges, and semi-loose pieces shall be removed. It shall be free from blood clots and bruises.

(5) Boneless beef regular roll (rib eye) means the rib eye muscles with no fat or bones included, free from bruises and blood clots and with the back strap removed. The rib cover shall be removed in such a manner that the wedge-shaped piece of lean meat that lies along the eye of the rib is left attached to the roll.

(6) Boneless beef tenderloin shall be removed from the loin in the manner prescribed in Appendix 4 (a) (11), and the same specifications for trimming the tenderloin, as outlined in that paragraph, shall apply.

(7) Boneless beef flank steak means the flat oval-shaped lean muscle embedded in the cod or udder end of the flank which shall be obtained by loosening the narrow end of the steak piece at the cod or udder end of the flank, cutting through the membrane along both sides of the steak, then pulling and cutting the steak loose and severing it from the fibrous membrane which lies directly under and to which it is attached. None of the fibrous membrane shall be left on the steak. All fat shall be trimmed from the steak, but the thin membrane on the top surface of the steak shall not be removed.

(8) Boneless beef chuck (clod out) means the boneless meat remaining after the clod, back strap and all bones have been removed from the regular chuck in the manner prescribed in Appendix 4 (a) (15) and (16). It shall be free from all cartilage, blood clots and bruises.

(9) Boneless beef rump means that part of the rough rump remaining after all of the bones (including the tail bones) have been removed. All the meat and fat on the inside of the rump bone shall be completely removed by running a knife along the edge of the bone beginning at the knuckle bone side and following closely the surface of the bone to the opposite side of the rump. All loose pieces of meat shall be trimmed smooth and it shall be free from bruises, blood clots and bone splinters.

(10) Boneless beef round means that portion of the round remaining after the rump and all bones have been removed. The cod or udder fat shall be trimmed so that it will not exceed one-quarter inch in thickness and all ragged pieces of meat and other fat in excess of one-quarter inch shall be removed. It shall be free from visible bruises and blood clots.

(11) Ground beef means ground beef as defined in Appendix 4 (a) (33).

(12) Ground beef in casings means ground beef in casings as defined in Appendix 4 (a) (34).

(13) Ground beef patties means ground beef patties as defined in Appendix 4 (a) (35).

(14) Boneless stewing beef means meat prepared from skeletal meat of beef carcasses of any grade except the tenderloin, and kidneys shall not be used. All serous membranes shall be stripped from the flanks, skirts, and short plates. All meat shall be free from bones, cartilage and tendons. Trimmable fat shall not exceed 10 percent. The meat shall be cut into pieces approximately one inch in size and may be formed into loaves (wrapped or plain) of any size from one pound up (quick-frozen or fresh).

The meat shall be packed in a solid fibre, corrugated, or other container. All meat shall be in prime condition at the time of delivery at destination.

(15) Trimmings means any pieces of meat derived from the beef carcass in connection with the production of wholesale cuts, fabricated cuts or boneless beef, and which does not include in excess of 25 percent trimmable fat. Trimmings are to be free from bones, splinters, gristle, blood clots and bruises.

(16) Sterilized trimmings means trimmings which have been passed for sterilization in accordance with the Meat Inspection Division Regulations issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

APPENDIX 4.—FABRICATED BEEF CUT DEFINITIONS

When used in this regulation the term:

(a) Fabricated beef cut means any of the following cuts, meeting the following minimum specifications, and derived from specified beef wholesale cuts, as provided for in Appendix 2. All cuts shall be made according to the specifications provided herein.

(1) Round (rump and shank off). Round (rump and shank off), means that part of a round remaining after the shank and rough rump have been removed.

The shank shall be removed by a cut starting at the bottom end of the gambrel cord, following the natural muscle seam to the stifle (knee) joint, passing through the bones of the joint severing the shank from the round. The rough rump shall be removed by a straight cut starting at a point on the outside or skin surface of the round, so as to meet the top part of the aitch bone, then following the curvature of the aitch bone to the protuberance of the femur bone (round bone) leaving no part of the aitch bone in the round. The rump shall then be separated from the round by sawing through the ball of the femur bone (round bone). All cod or udder fat shall be removed from the round, rump and shank off.

(2) Boneless rump (butt). The boneless rump means that part of the rough rump remaining after all of the bones (including the tail bones) have been removed. Ragged pieces of meat and fat in excess of one inch on the top or outside skin surface shall be removed.

(3) Hind shank. Hind shank means the hind shank of the beef with lean meat attached. It shall be removed from the round as described in Appendix 4 (a) (1).

(4) Boneless round (rump on). Boneless round means that part of the round remaining after all bones (including tail bones) and shank have been removed. The shank shall be removed as described in Appendix 4 (a) (1). The ragged pieces of meat, all cod or udder fat, and other fat in excess of one inch shall be removed.

(5), (6) and (7) Inside (top round), outside (bottom round) and knuckle (face). Inside (top round), outside (bottom round) and knuckle (face) means the three natural muscle pieces into which the round is separated after the rough rump, shank, and femur bone (round bone) have been removed. The shank and rough rump shall be removed as described in Appendix 4 (a) (1). The knuckle shall be separated by cutting through the natural muscle seams between the knuckle and outside muscles on the one side, and the knuckle and the inside muscles on the other side leaving one and one-half inches of the wedge-shaped pieces of meat from the overlapping inside muscle attached to the knuckle. The patella (knee cap bone) and all cartilage or connecting tissue shall be removed.

The inside and outside pieces shall be separated by a cut starting at the termination of the gambrel cord separating the shank and portion equally between the inside and outside, and continuing the cut in a straight line to a point on the rump and which is just barely on the outside edge of the large muscle seam that is visible at this end.

The gland which lies in the center between the inside and outside muscles shall be cut through so as to leave a portion of this gland in both muscles.

The cod or udder fat and all other fat in excess of one inch shall be removed.

(8) Gooseneck boneless round. Gooseneck boneless round means the outside muscle and boneless rump attached. It shall be made by separating the outside muscle with boneless rump attached from the knuckle and inside muscles by the method described in Appendix 4 (a) (5), (6), and (7). All fat in excess of one inch on the top of outside skin surface of the rump shall be removed.

(9) Strip loin (bone in). The strip loin means that part of the full loin, after the full tenderloin, sirloin, protruding edge of the chine bone, and the flank edge of the short loin have been removed, or that part remaining of a short loin after the short tenderloin, protruding edge of chine bone and the flank edge of the short loin have been removed. The strip loin shall be cut from the stripped full loin in a straight line perpendicular to the outside or skin surface of the loin from a point which is the juncture of the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae and continuing in the same straight line through a point flush against the end of the hip (pin) bone, but leaving no part of the hip (pin) bone in the strip loin.

The protruding edge of the chine bone shall be removed by sawing through the lower extremity of the spinal cord groove when the loin is lying with the flesh side down. The flank edge of the strip loin shall be cut off in a straight line from the sawed end of the 12th rib, which is 10 inches from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and continuing in a straight line with full length of the strip loin parallel to the chine bone and perpendicular to the outside skin surface of the strip loin. Rough fat on the inside of the strip loin shall be trimmed smooth and all fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface shall be removed.

(10) Strip loin (boneless). Strip loin (boneless) means that part of a strip loin remaining after all bones have been removed. All fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface shall be removed.

(11) Beef tenderloin. Beef tenderloin means the tenderloin muscle with the attached side strip muscle lying inside of the full loin. The tenderloin shall be removed from the full loin by cutting along the inside of the chine bone following the conformation of this bone from the tip of the loin or at the point where the 13th rib joins the 13th thoracic vertebra at the end of the chine bone or at a point adjacent to the 5th sacral vertebra and by a cut at the butt end of the tenderloin which shall be made along the hip bone following the natural seam (or blue seam) in the sirloin end of the loin. Full beef tenderloin shall be devoid of any head muscle and all the excess fat shall be removed from the back of the tenderloin so as to expose the gland which lies about 6 inches forward from the butt end of the tenderloin. All the fat lying beyond the exposed gland shall be tapered down to a point that in no case shall extend beyond three-quarters of the length of the entire tenderloin.

Beef tenderloin also means the trimmed sirloin tenderloin which is that portion of the tenderloin muscle removed from the sirloin. It shall be devoid of any head muscle and all excess fat shall be removed from the back of the sirloin tenderloin so as to expose the gland as described herein. Beef tenderloin also includes the trimmed tip tenderloin which is the portion of the tenderloin muscle removed from a short loin. The fat on the back of the tenderloin shall be tapered down as described herein and at no point shall exceed one-half inch. All fat from the lower half shall be removed.

(12) Boneless sirloin (butt). Boneless sirloin means that part of a sirloin after all the bone and the sirloin tenderloin have been removed. All flank meat and the fat from the flank side of the boneless sirloin shall be removed. All fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface shall be removed.

(13) Top sirloin (butt). Top sirloin means that part of the boneless sirloin, which is the top lean muscle that covered the hip bone (illium) from the chine bone side of the sirloin to the natural seam (or blue seam) which separates the bottom lean muscle from the top lean muscle.

The top sirloin shall be separated from the bottom sirloin by cutting through the natural muscle seam (or blue tissue) and continuing through the meat with the knife held at a 45 degree angle to the cutting surface of the block. All fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface shall be removed.

(14) Bottom sirloin (butt). Bottom sirloin means that part of the boneless sirloin remaining after the removal of the top sirloin. All flank meat and the fat from the flank side of the bottom sirloin shall be removed. All fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface shall be removed.

(15) Boneless chuck. Boneless chuck means that part of the chuck remaining after all bones and the back strap have been removed. Boneless chuck shall be made only from regular chucks (square cut).

No trimming of boneless chuck is required and the intercostal meat may be left attached.

(16) Boneless chuck (shoulder clod out). Boneless chuck, shoulder clod out, shall be same as the boneless chuck described in (15) except that the shoulder clod shall be removed.

(17) Shoulder clod. Shoulder clod means the thick meaty portion of the regular chuck lying above the blade and rib bones.

It shall be separated from the chuck by a first cut starting at the knuckle joint and continuing in the same line along the ridge of the blade bone through to the chine bone, and by a second cut starting from the extreme corner of the brisket end of the 5th rib following the first natural muscle seam above the rib bones to a point about midway between the knuckle bone and the end of the 5th rib, then upward to the second natural muscle seam above the rib bones and following this natural muscle seam to the knuckle end of the clod. Pull knuckle end of clod upward, separating in the natural muscle seam at the blade bone, then cut along edge of blade bone to enable clod to be pulled loose from the chuck.

(18) Boneless brisket (deckle off). Boneless brisket (deckle off) means that part of the green brisket remaining after all the bones, intercostal meat and deckle have been removed. The deckle means the layer of fat, meat and tissues lying between the rib bones, the rib (costal) cartilages, the breast (sternum) bone and the lean principal muscle of the brisket. The deckle shall be removed at the natural seam leaving the thick layer of fat attached to the deckle and exposing the lean meat surface lying directly below. This lean surface shall be free of all fat except minute flakes of fat that adhere closely to the lean after the deckle has been removed. The hard fat along the sternum edge (the area on the bone side of the brisket which is adjacent to and directly under the sternum bone) of the boneless brisket shall be trimmed level with the boned surface of the brisket and to within ½ inch of the lean lying between this hard fat and the border of skin surface fat. All ragged pieces of meat from both bone and skin side of the boneless (deckle off) brisket and all fat in excess of one inch on the outside skin surface, including the breast curve, shall be removed. The web muscle (full lip) shall be left attached with the thin tissue edge, trimmed to expose the narrow portion of lean meat.

(19) Oven-prepared rib. Oven-prepared rib means that part of the regular seven-bone rib remaining after the chine bone and short ribs have been removed.

The chine bone, or bodies of the thoracic vertebrae, shall be entirely removed by cutting to the point at which they join the feather bones, exposing the lean meat, but leaving the feather bones attached to the rib cut. The short ribs shall be removed by cutting in a straight line perpendicular to the outside skin surface of the rib from a point measured 8 inches along the 12th rib from the protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra to a point measured eight inches along the 6th rib from the protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra (chine bone). All the blade bone, including the cartilage shall be removed.

(20) Short ribs. Short ribs mean that portion of the rib cut off in fabricating oven-prepared ribs, as described in this Appendix 4 (a) (19) and shall include the rib sections of seven ribs.

Plate short ribs means strip pieces cut from the short plate up to and not beyond the point where the ribs join the costal cartilages (rib cartilages).

(21) Rib—boned, rolled and tied. Rib, boned, rolled and tied means that part of the regular 7-rib cut remaining after all bones, including the blade bone and cartilage, have been removed. The intercostal meat shall be removed.

Rib, boned, rolled and tied shall be rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied with at least five loops of string. Ragged pieces on the ends shall be trimmed off.

(22) Spencer roll. Spencer roll means that part of the regular 7-rib cut remaining after the short ribs, all bones, and the blade bone with the meat attached have been removed.

The short ribs shall be cut off as described in (19), the intercostal meat shall not be included and no further trimming is required.

Spencer rolls shall be made only from commercial and utility grades of beef.

(23) Regular roll (rib eye). Regular roll (rib eye) means the rib eye muscles, only, with no fat or bones included. No further trimming is required. Regular rolls (rib eye) shall be made only from commercial and utility grades of beef.

(24) Boneless short plate. Boneless short plate means that part of the short plate remaining after the skirt and all bones have been removed. The fell shall be stripped from the flank side of the plate. All fat exceeding ½ inch shall be removed.

(25) Cube steak. Cube steaks mean any lean muscle meat (not containing an outer surface of fat in excess of one-quarter of an inch) derived from the boneless sirloin or boneless round of prime, choice, good or commercial grade of beef, cut into steaks of uniform size, tenderized in accordance with normal business practice. Cube steaks can be made either by hand or by machine.

(26) Flank steak. Flank steak means the flat, oval-shaped lean muscle of meat embedded in the cod or udder end of the flank which shall be obtained by loosening the narrow end of the steak piece at the cod or udder end of the flank, cutting through the membrane along both sides of the steak, then pulling and cutting the steak loose and severing it from the thick membrane which lies directly under and to which it is attached. None of the thick membrane shall be left on the steak. All fat shall be trimmed from the steak, but the thin membrane on the top surface of the steak shall not be removed.

(27) Club steaks (bone in). Club steaks mean steaks cut from that portion of a short loin or strip loin extending from a point opposite the juncture of the first and second lumbar vertebrae to the forward (anterior) end of the short or strip loin.

The cutting of steaks and the trimming of the flank shall be made as described in this Appendix 4 (a) (29).

No further trimming of the flank or removal of chine bone shall be required on club steaks made from strip loins.

The chine bone on club steaks made from short loins shall be removed by chopping or sawing through the inner extremity of the spinal cord groove.

Only complete club steaks shall be made and all fat in excess of one inch on outside skin surface shall be removed.

(28) Porterhouse steaks (bone in). Porterhouse steak means steak cut from that portion of a short loin extending from a point opposite the center of the fourth lumbar vertebra to the end of the short loin at the point of severance from the sirloin.

The flank shall be removed at a point measured four inches downward from the lower end of the eye muscle. All fat in excess of one inch on the inside or outside skin surface shall be removed.

(29) T-Bone steaks (bone in). T-bone steak means steak cut from that portion of a short loin extending from a point opposite the center of the fourth lumbar vertebra to a point opposite the juncture of the first and second lumbar vertebra. T-bone steaks shall be trimmed as described in this Appendix 4 (a) (28).

(30) Boneless strip steak. Boneless strip steaks mean steaks cut from a boneless strip loin. All fat in excess of one inch shall be removed from the outside skin surface.

(31) Boneless sirloin steaks. Boneless sirloin steaks mean steaks cut from a boneless sirloin, which has been trimmed as described in this Appendix 4 (a) (13). Only complete steaks shall be made.

(32) Top sirloin steaks. Top sirloin steaks mean steaks cut from a top sirloin which has been trimmed as described in this Appendix 4 (a) (4). Only complete steaks shall be made.

(33) "Ground beef"; bulk (hamburger, hamburger steak, hamburg steak, chili meat), means ground, chopped, or comminuted fresh beef derived from the skeletal portion of the dressed carcass (but not including headmeat) which contains no offal, added blood, cartilage, bone, cereal product, water or ice, or any adulterant or other foreign substance except seasoning, and which does not have a fat content in excess of 30% by chemical analysis. "Ground beef" shall be ground twice, the final grinding through a plate with holes not more than $^3/_{16}$ of an inch in diameter or $^3/_8$ of an inch in the case of chili meat, or chopped in a rotary cutter or by other means giving equivalent results.

(34) Ground beef in casings. Ground beef in casings means ground beef stuffed in natural or artificial casings and the total weight of each piece shall not exceed 15 pounds.

(35) Ground beef patties. Ground beef patties means ground beef which has been formed into portions of uniform size and thickness, each of which shall not weigh more than four ounces. They may be formed by hand or machine.

(36) Ground boneless chuck. Ground boneless chuck means ground, chopped or comminuted fresh beef derived from boneless beef chuck (shoulder clod cut), (as defined in this Appendix 4 (a) (15)) of prime, choice, good, commercial or utility grade. It shall be entirely free from bone splinters, cartilage, tendons, and coarse fibrous membranes. It shall contain no added blood, water, or ice, or any adulterations or other foreign substances, except seasoning, and the fat content shall not be in excess of 22 per cent by chemical analysis. The meat shall be ground twice, the final grinding through a plate with holes not more than $^3/_{16}$ of an inch in diameter, or $^3/_8$ of an inch in the case of chili meat. In lieu of grinding the meat may be chopped in a rotary cutter or by other means giving equivalent results. The meat may be formed into loaves and packed in suitable solid fibre, corrugated or other containers; or it may be prepared in bulk containers, wax paper lined. The meat shall be quick-frozen immediately after preparation and shall be in prime condition at the time of delivery at destination. Each container shall be inspected and passed for wholesomeness by an inspector of the Meat Grading Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(37) Stewing beef. Stewing beef means boneless stewing beef as defined in Appendix 3 (a) (14).

Appendix 5.—Boneless Beef (Military Specifications) Definitions

When used in this regulation, the term:

(a) Frozen boneless beef (4-way military specifications) means beef, frozen and boneless, derived from steers or heifers of choice and good grades and satisfying the specifications and requirements contained in "Military Specification, Beef, boneless, Frozen (4-way)" (MIL-B-10017 (QMC)). Any frozen boneless beef which has been rejected by the purchasing agency of a defense procurement agency shall not be sold as "frozen boneless beef (military specifications)."

The seller shall place a sticker or stencil on the container, certifying the appropriate grade of the product contained therein. By placing an official U. S. inspection stamp on the container, the official inspector shall attest the accuracy of the seller's certification.

(b) Beef, processing (military specifications, JAN–B–617) means beef derived from the grades and classes, and satisfying specifications and requirements of the Joint Army-Navy specifications entitled "Beef, Processing" (JAN–B–617). No boneless beef shall be packed as "Beef, Processing (Military Specifications)", except in the presence of an official inspector designated by the U. S. Army or Navy or other U. S. Government Agency.

The seller shall place a sticker or stencil on the container, certifying the appropriate grade of the product contained therein. By placing an official U. S. inspection stamp on the container, the official inspector shall attest the accuracy of the seller's certification.

Appendix 6—Beef Variety Meats and By-Products Definitions

(a) When used in this regulation the term beef variety meat or by-product means any of the following edible by-products of cattle which is clean, sound, has at all times been handled in a sanitary manner, and is free from foreign material, mucus and hair. Referring to variety meats and edible by-products derived from livestock slaughter the term:

1. Brains means both brain lobes, the small knob at the base of the brain and a short piece of spinal cord approximately three quarters of an inch in length.

2. Cheek meat of cattle means the lean muscle on the inside and outside of the lower jaw, trimmed free of the salivary glands, with no more than 20 percent trimmable fat.

3. Hanging tender means the cylindrical shaped piece of lean meat attached at one end under the kidney knob in the open (left) side of the hind quarter. It shall be removed from the open side of the loin by being severed at a point opposite the junction of the first and second lumbar vertebrae.

4. Head meat means the lean meat, exclusive of cheek meat, trimmed from the head of cattle.

5. Hearts means bright colored beef hearts, free from blood clots, trimmed free from large gristly blood vessels.

6. Kidneys means kidneys free from spots and reasonably free from fat. They shall be removed by first loosening the suet from the outside surface of the kidney and then cutting off the vein, leaving sufficient fat in the vein so that the fat will be flush with the surface of the kidney.

7. Lips means the meat and tissue from the side of the jaw when removed from cattle.

8. Lips, scalded means lips thoroughly cleaned by washing and scalding according to B. A. I. instructions—or similar good commercial methods.

9. Livers means all beef livers of any weight, bright and uniform in color, from light to chocolate brown, moderately short and plump and which are free from all mutilations other than minor cuts or slight skin breaks caused by the removal of the gall bladder by separating the liver from the carcass by hooks, or caused during the examination of the portal glands by MID inspectors, where such minor cuts or slight skin breaks do not impair the quality of the liver. The large blood vessel lying along the side of the liver should be trimmed even with the surface of the liver.

10. Lungs means the lungs from cattle. The trachea (windpipe) is to be cut off close to the body of the lungs.

11. Melts means the spleens.

12. Sweetbreads, heart means the thymus gland adjacent to the heart (heart sweetbreads). They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

13. Sweetbreads, neck means the thymus gland (neck sweetbreads) removed from the neck only of beef cattle. They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

14. Tails means tails of cattle. Ragged edges of tissue, loose fat and the last two joints of the tip end are to be removed.

15. Tongues means tongues from cattle, cut off at a point that leaves the epiglottis on the tongue. The entire gullet including the soft palate shall be removed and the hinge bone shall not protrude over the end of the tongue. One-half inch of fat may be left on the underside of the tongue, which shall be trimmed smooth in removing the glands. The tip may be cut up to a point where cross section thickness does not exceed one and one-half inches.

16. Tripe, cooked means tripe which has been thoroughly cooked by boiling in water, cooled and washed; any excess fat is to be removed from tripe.

17. Tripe, honeycomb means cooked beef tripe showing the characteristics of honeycomb markings. If the pocket is split, the apron around the open end cannot be more than three inches wide.

18. Tripe, scalded means paunches (stomachs) thoroughly cleaned by washing and scalding according to B. A. I. instructions or similar good commercial methods.

19. Udders means the severed mammary glands from cows, and shall be carefully drained by slicing according to good commercial practice.

Appendix 7.—Other Beef Product Definitions

When used in this regulation the term:

(a) Boneless processing beef is limited to those items listed in section 23 and means the skeletal portion of carcasses or wholesale cuts of utility, cutter or canner grade, with all bones, cartilage and back strap removed. It shall be free from blood clots and bruises.

(b) Prefabricated quick frozen and packaged retail beef cuts means beef steaks, roasts and ground beef derived from beef carcasses or wholesale cuts of prime, choice, good, commercial, or utility grade, which are separately wrapped in transparent, moisture proof paper, thoroughly frozen at quick freezing temperatures and have clearly visible a tag or other marking showing the name of the cut, the grade and the net weight of the meat contained in the package.

(c) Kosher beef wholesale cut means any beef wholesale cut derived from cattle or calves slaughtered, approved and stamped as kosher under rabbinical supervision, and sold under rabbinical supervision.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 25]

CPR 25—Ceiling Prices of Beef Items Sold at Retail

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law. 774, 81st Cong.) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture to the Economic Stabilization Agency with Respect to the Allocation of Meat, Jan. 26, 1951, 16 F. R. 1272, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5, Feb. 8, 1951, 16 F. R. 1273, this Ceiling Price Regulation 25 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes dollar and cent ceiling prices for retail sales of beef cuts and most beef variety meats and beef by-products.

While the General Ceiling Price Regulation was essential to stop the sharp rise in prices since Korea, it created inequities and raised practical problems which require the issuance of tailored regulations for retail beef at the earliest possible time. Under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, beef wholesalers were permitted to charge retailers the highest price at which beef had been delivered during the base period to a purchaser of the same class. Therefore, a wholesaler could raise his price to a retailer over that charged in the base period if he had sold at this higher price to another retailer who was a purchaser of the same class. Many retailers were thus forced to absorb increases in meat cost and suffered reduced margins. In addition, the regulation created many serious administrative and enforcement problems. The existence of thousands of meat retailers all frozen at individual ceiling prices presents in itself a difficult enforcement problem. Finally, there are bound to be large numbers of new meat retailers and the freeze technique is particularly difficult to apply to sellers who had no base period ceiling price.

This regulation fixes dollar and cent retail ceiling prices for beef by grade. Moreover, it standardizes retail beef cuts and relates the specific dollar and cent prices to a particular standard cut. Dollar and cent ceiling prices by grade and cut provide the simplest and most effective type of price control. Since retailers will be required to post the prices established by the regulation, the housewife will have a simple and easily recognizable list of prices available to her in order to determine whether she is being properly charged for her purchases. Moreover, since these regulations base the retail prices by the calculation of a markup over the wholesale prices fixed by Ceiling Price Regulation 24, they provide an equitable markup for the retailer.

Beef Products Not Covered by This Regulation

Because of inequities created by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, it is essential that this regulation be issued at the earliest possible time. For that reason, it is not possible to include all beef products in this regulation. Thus, most cured, corned, smoked, barbecued and dried beef items and a few beef by-products and beef variety meats are not included at this time nor, save for the over-all ceiling, have specific ceiling prices been provided for specialty steak products, because sufficient information to fix specific ceiling prices is not now available. Similarly, prices for sausage and sterile canned beef items are not fixed because of their more difficult and unique pricing problems, requiring separate regulations. These beef products remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Retail Price and Grade Differentials

The retail prices established by this regulation are based upon a percentage markup from the wholesale prices established by Ceiling Price Regulation 24 for the period through July 31, 1951. In order to issue this regulation at the earliest practicable time, the regulation omits the price lists for the periods beginning August 1 and October 1, 1951. The regulation will be amended to include those lists and will thereby reflect the decreases in livestock and wholesale prices which become effective on those dates.

The retail prices established in this regulation depend largely on the zone prices specified in the wholesale price regulation. Since the wholesale regulation on beef establishes grade differentials based on grade designations established by the Department of Agriculture, these grade prices have been carried through for retail cuts with the exception of ground meats. Since the grade of meat used in pre-ground meat loses its identity a single price is established irrespective of grade. Relatively little prime beef is sold to consumers and, therefore, no separate prices have been provided for such grade. Retailers may sell prime beef at the prices provided for choice beef.

In computing the proper percentage markup, the studies made by the Office of Price Administration and used in fixing the retail beef prices established by MPR 355 were employed as a starting point. Information available to the Director of Price Stabilization indicated that the pre-Korea retail markups on beef were lower than those which had prevailed at the time the Office of Price Administration studies were made and an adjustment was therefore made to reflect this decline. The dollar and cents markup prevailing in the pre-Korea period was then determined and was increased to reflect increases in overhead costs since Korea. This was reconverted to a percentage markup and applied to current wholesale costs. In applying retail markups to retail beef cuts proper allowances have been made for shop fat and bone value. It was also recognized that a considerable shrinkage takes place at the retail level from loss of moisture in the meat and other factors which constitute the expense known in the retail trade as "store shrink." For this reason, margin figures were obtained before shrinkage and a shrinkage factor added. A continuing study of the data upon which the ceiling prices established by this regulation are based and of new data may indicate that these retail prices are either too high or too low. In either event, this regulation will be revised to reflect the results of the study.

In determining the price relationships among the various retail cuts two distinct procedures were followed. In the simplest case where the standardized wholesale cut accurately reflects consumer's preference for certain desired retail cuts no serious problem of establishing ceiling prices exists. In the case of porterhouse steaks, for example, the desired short loin realization for the retailer was computed, the value of shop fat from the short loins was deducted and the number of pounds of salable porterhouse converted into a dollar return which provides the retailer a fair profit. In the more complicated case where the wholesale cut is broken into several retail cuts of different values, historical price relationships among the cuts were generally used. In addition, the advice of retailers was obtained in establishing these relationships, thereby determining fair evaluations for each cut. This procedure was used, for example, in the case of the beef round where there are several retail cuts having different values.

Standard Retail Cuts

Beef is normally sold at retail in the form of a wide variety of retail cuts. Prices cannot be established for these cuts except in conjunction with precise definitions. If the cuts being priced were not defined with precision, the established prices could be readily evaded by cutting into the higher-priced cuts substantial quantities of beef from the lower priced cuts. Uniformity in the commodity being priced is obviously essential when specific dollar and cents ceilings applicable to large areas are being established. Therefore, no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control other than requiring that retail beef cuts be standardized.

The standardized cuts which are permitted have been defined in this regulation. Generally no other retail cuts than those specified may be sold following the effective date of this regulation. However, retailers who have operated locker plants and have sold primal cuts to consumers are permitted to continue their customary practices and to sell these cuts at the wholesaler's price. As additional data are obtained, the prices of these retailers will be changed if they prove to be too high or too low.

In order to prevent price evasion, the regulation also prohibits pre-grinding, pre-boning, pre-rolling and pre-cubing except for certain grades and types of beef. Special provisions are made for the sale of special orders of ground, boned, rolled, or cubed beef not covered by the standard cuts. This beef may not be placed on display, but the grinding, boning, rolling or cubing must be done from the standard cuts in the presence of the customer and at no extra charge. Telephone orders for these kinds of beef are permitted only when done on order for a particular customer without charge, wrapped immediately, and marked with the customer's name and full pricing information.

Upon consultation with the retail industry, it was agreed that the same standardized cuts used in establishing retail beef prices by the Office of Price Administration should be used in this regulation. The standardized cuts are, therefore, based on a series of cutting tests provided by groups of representative retailers throughout the United States. All kinds and grades of beef were tested in these cutting demonstrations and reliable yield figures obtained for each wholesale cut. Various methods of cutting were also tested and agreement reached with retailers as to which should be retained. In each case yields are based on trimming specifications, used by the Office of Price Administration, which retailer representatives agreed were fair and these trimming specifications have been designated in this regulation. The yield figures arrived at from these demonstrations have been used in determining the allowances for salable meat from each wholesale cut.

Store Group Differentials

Retailers are divided into three groups depending on their relative volume of sales and gross profit margins in 1950. The basic store classifications used in this regulation are the same as those in Ceiling Price Regulations 15 and 16, relating to certain dry groceries and perishables and were used for the same reasons. However, data obtained from the retail meat trade indicates that there are no substantial margin differences between most Group 1 and 2 stores and Group 3 and 4 stores. In addition, since certain stores have historically operated their meat departments at lower gross margins, a separate grouping, Group 3B and 4B, has been established for these stores. Thus, the three groups of retailers for which prices are included in this regulation are:

1. Group 1 and 2. Independent stores with annual gross sales of less than $375,000 and with realized gross meat department margins of 17 percent or more during 1950.

2. Group 3 and 4. Other than independent stores or independent stores with annual gross sales of $375,000 or more with realized gross meat department margins of 17 percent or more during 1950.

3. Group 3B and 4B. Stores with realized gross meat department margins of less than 17 percent during 1950.

In thus grouping meat retailers, the Office of Price Stabilization has achieved a relatively simple and enforceable pricing plan which minimizes the diversity of ceiling prices established among stores while, at the same time, recognizing historical differences in margins due to differences in volume of sales of, and special services rendered by, individual stores.

Zone Differentials

The ceiling prices provided for by this regulation vary from zone to zone. These zone differentials are primarily based on cost differentials established by Ceiling Price Regulation 24. Therefore, zone boundaries have been determined to include roughly all retailers having similar costs and the zone differentials generally reflect the different prices retailers in each area pay for their beef items.

A major cost difference to retailers is that created by distance from the producing center or base wholesale zone. In the beef wholesale regulation a transportation addition is used for determining ceiling prices in zones other than the base zone on most grades of beef. The amount of this addition for delivery to any point is determined by the use of a specified percentage, dependent on the zone and grade of beef, of the carload freight rate from Omaha or Denver, whichever is lower. This produces differing wholesale ceiling prices at various points within any one wholesale zone. In order to transpose these differing wholesale prices into a relatively simple, enforceable retail price structure, generally reflecting historical pricing patterns, it was necessary to divide the country into zones which conform to the wholesale zone differentials. Accordingly, zone lines were drawn around areas which had relatively uniform wholesale transportation differentials. An average wholesale transportation differential was computed for each such area and the retail prices for that area were based on this average differential.

Another cost difference to the retailer which has been reflected in the fixing of zone boundaries is the special wholesaler addition provided by Ceiling Price Regulation 24. The retail zone differentials for Group 1 and 2 stores make appropriate allowance for this wholesaler addition by reflecting the addition in proportion to the percentage of meat customarily purchased in each zone by Group 1 and 2 retailers from wholesalers.

Since Ceiling Price Regulation 24 provides for a local delivery addition of 40 cents per cwt. on all local deliveries within a 35 mile radius, and a great majority of retailers' purchasing prices include this local delivery addition, the ceiling price in each zone reflects the 40-cent local delivery addition.

Special Provisions

1. Grade prohibitions. The regulation provides different ceiling prices for different grades of beef cuts. Distribution Regulation 2 requires that carcasses and wholesale cuts be graded and grade marked. This regulation prevents retailers from removing grade marks, which is obviously necessary to prevent evasions of price control. For the same reason retailers are prohibited from buying, selling, or storing any retail or wholesale beef cut obtained from a carcass or wholesale cut which has not been graded and grade marked in accordance with the provisions of Distribution Regulation 2.

2. Posting requirements. One of the most essential elements of effective price control is knowledge by the consumer of the ceiling price which may be charged. The regulation, therefore, provides that the dollar and cent ceiling prices prescribed by this regulation be posted in the store. In addition, in order to prevent evasion of the ceiling price by substitution of lower grade meat, the regulation requires that identical beef cuts having different ceiling prices because of difference in grade be kept in separate trays and that the ceiling price for each display be separately posted.

3. Sales to eating places and other retailers. Sales to eating places, though not strictly speaking sales at retail, are considered as such when made by a retailer the great preponderance of whose business is retail in character. To call upon the ordinary retailer to differentiate between the customer who runs a small boarding house and the one who does not, is obviously to impose, under ordinary circumstances, a difficult burden on him. Yet unless some limit were imposed upon the amount of business which may be done in this manner, combination distributors and hotel supply houses might suffer from unfair competition or be driven to use retailers as a cover for their operations. The regulation therefore limits sales by retailers to eating places to 25 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales and permits retailers to charge the price to consumers for sales up to this volume. Retailers who in 1950 sold more than 25 percent of their total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places may sell up to the same proportion per calendar quarter as they sold in 1950 upon filing a report with the Office of Price Stabilization District Office. However, all of the sales of these retailers must be on the basis of lower ceiling prices established by section 42 of this regulation. Sales by one retailer to another retailer are limited to 40 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales and must be at the lower ceiling prices established by section 42 of this regulation.

4. Adjustment provision. The rigid classification of retailers into price groups which is necessary in this fixed price regulation will work a hardship on certain retailers who fall into the lower price group, whereas their services and previous profit margins entitle them to classification in the higher price group. Provision has been made whereby a retailer performing the same service as one in another class and having a margin as high as one in the other class may be transferred to the other class. These adjustment provisions are not intended for retailers who do not meet these criteria, and adjustments will not be granted unless it can be demonstrated that such reclassification is justified.

Under the Office of Price Administration regulation the criteria for adjustment were based on the total gross margin being more than 25 percent on all sales in the food departments and also, if the store was not an independent store, more than 25 percent on the combined sale of the food departments in all stores of the organization. The percentage figure of more than 25 percent contained in the OPA regulation has been reduced to 23 percent or more in this regulation because the available facts clearly indicated that there had been a lowering of the gross margins for this type of operation. The substantial difference existing between a 23 percent markup and the standard markup of Group 3 and 4 stores should assure that these stores, in fact, have been conducting a different type of operation and that reclassification is justified. To avoid requiring retailers to duplicate their applications under Ceiling Price Regulation 15, it is provided that any order issued under that regulation allowing a Group 3 or 4 store to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices permits such a store to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices under this regulation. In order to eliminate the need for examining the individual adjustment applications under this section immediately, the regulation provides that all those stores which qualified for such adjustment under the OPA regulation will automatically qualify under this regulation upon the filing of an adjustment application, provided they meet the test that their total gross margin in the fiscal year 1950 was 23 percent or more on all sales in their food department and also, if not independent stores, 23 percent or more on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores, for which adjustment is sought, of their organization. These applications will be reviewed later and if an applicant is found not to have qualified with the specific provisions of this regulation, the adjustment will be revoked.

Conclusion

In formulating these regulations the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 50 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st. Cong. Interpret or apply Titles I and IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st. Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes specific ceiling prices for most retail sales of beef cuts and of certain beef variety meats and beef by-products. It also fixes ceiling prices for sales of these products by stores to eating places and to other retailers for resale purposes and sets forth the conditions under which such sales may be made. The ceiling prices established by this regulation supersede those established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. This regulation does not establish ceiling prices for retail sales of other types of beef products such as sterile canned beef or sausage, which remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. In addition, this regulation defines and standardizes retail beef cuts and prohibits the sale of non-standardized cuts.

SEC. 2. Where this regulation applies. This regulation shall be applicable in the 48 States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices for specifically enumerated beef products.—(a) Beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products. The ceiling price for all retail sales to consumers is the price specified in section 40 for beef cuts, or in section 41 for certain beef variety meats and beef by-products, for your zone and your store group. Your zone is determined by Appendix 1 and your store group by section 30. Your ceiling price for sales of these items to eating places and to other retailers is determined under Article II. You may obtain a copy of the price lists containing your ceiling prices from your Office of Price Stabilization District or Regional Office.

(b) Prefabricated packaged retail beef cuts. Your ceiling price for all retail sales of prefabricated packaged retail beef cuts shall be the same as for the corresponding grade and type of fresh beef cut to the same type of customer.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices for certain beef items which are not specifically listed in section 3.—(a) Variety meats and beef by-products. If you sell a beef variety meat or beef by-product which is not listed in Appendix 8, your ceiling price is established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) Cured beef items. Your ceiling prices for cured, corned, cooked, smoked, barbecued, and dried beef items which you sold during the calendar year 1950 or which you purchase for resale, shall be your ceiling prices established therefor by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, if this regulation does not establish a ceiling price for such items. You must, however, file the report and keep the records required for these items by that regulation. If you did not sell these items in 1950 or do not purchase them for resale, see section 4 (d).

(c) Specialty steak products. Your ceiling prices for specialty steak products such as chip steaks, frosted steaks, sandwich steaks, French steaks, tenderedy steaks or similar specialty beef products which you sold during the calendar year 1950 or which you purchase for resale shall be your ceiling prices therefor established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, but in no event more than $2.50 per pound. You must, however, file the reports and keep the records required for such items by that regulation. If you did not sell these items in 1950 or do not purchase them for resale, see section 4 (d).

(d) New cured beef and specialty steak items. If you desire to sell a beef item listed in section 4 (b) or section 4 (c) which you did not sell during 1950 and which you do not purchase for resale, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization in Washington, D. C., for a ceiling price, if this regulation does not establish a ceiling price for such item. In your application you shall state the information required in section 12 (b). The Director of Price Stabilization may authorize a ceiling price for such item if your application includes sufficient facts to enable him to find that:

(1) You have made a substantial financial investment which cannot be utilized except in the sale of such beef item;

(2) The sale of this product is to constitute at least 10 percent of your dollar volume of business;

(3) Production of this item will not divert an abnormal amount of beef from low cost to high cost items; and

(4) Approval of your application will be generally fair and equitable, will not adversely affect the price structure established by this regulation, and will not otherwise have an inflationary effect.

SEC. 5. Limitations on the sale of beef cuts, ground and cubed beef—(a) Limitations on the sale of retail cuts. Appendix 5 of this regulation describes the retail cuts of beef which you may sell and how they are to be cut. Except as provided in section 5 (b), you may not sell retail cuts other than those specified in Appendix 5.

(b) Special limitations on the sale of cubed beef. You are permitted to precube steaks from boneless top and bottom beef rounds only. A single price has been established for such steaks from boneless top and bottom beef rounds of utility, cutter and canner grades and no pre-cubed steak of any grade may be sold at a price higher than the price fixed for cube steaks of utility, cutter and canner grades.

(c) Special orders of ground, cubed, boned and rolled beef—(1) General limitations. You may not grind, cube, bone, or roll any cut or grade of beef not authorized to be pre-ground, precubed, pre-rolled or pre-boned, in section 5 (b) or Appendix 5, except in accordance with the provisions of this section. You may on special order from the customer grind, cube, roll or bone beef in a way not authorized by Appendix 5, if it is done in the customer's presence so he can observe it or in accordance with section 5 (c) (3); if you make no charge for the grinding, cubing, rolling and boning; and if you comply with the applicable provisions of section 5 (c) (2).

(2) Special limitations on the sale of ground beef—(i) Limitations on ground beef inventory. You may not sell any ground beef unless it is ground beef as defined in Appendix 5. Moreover, you shall not have in your store, refrigerator, cooler or warehouse any ground beef except ground beef as defined in Appendix 5 or beef which has been bought by a customer and ground at his request and which is wrapped and marked with his name or, if you are authorized by section 5 (c) (3) to fill telephone orders, beef which has been prepared, wrapped and marked with a customer's name as a result of an order telephoned by him.

(ii) Observation by customer of grinding operation. The customer will be permitted to observe the grinding of beef by either of the following methods:

(a) The grinding operation may be performed at the meat counter; or

(b) The grinding operation may be performed in the refrigerator if the meat is shown to the customer immediately before and after grinding, if the right to observe the grinding operation is granted to every customer requesting such grinding, and if printed notice of such right is posted in two or more conspicuous places at or near where your meat sales are made and where your customers can easily see and read it. Such notices shall consist of letters one inch high and shall be in the following form:

Meat grinding equipment kept under refrigeration. We invite you to watch the grinding of your meat. OPS grants you this right. Ask the clerk.

(3) Special telephone orders. You may fill bona-fide telephone orders for special ground, boned, rolled or cubed cuts of beef even though the customer is not present to observe the preparation. The authorization granted under the provisions of this section 5 (c) (3) will end on notice to you by your OPS District Office to that effect. Every seller authorized to fill telephone orders for ground, boned, rolled or cubed cuts of beef in accordance with the preceding provisions of this section 5 (c) (3) must comply with the following rules:

Rule 1. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be placed on display to the public;

Rule 2. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be wrapped immediately after preparation;

Rule 3. The wrapper containing the ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be marked with the customer's name, the cut, grade and weight of the beef before preparation, the price per pound, and the total charge;

Rule 4. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be sold, offered, delivered, or diverted in any manner to any customer other than the one making the telephone order;

Rule 5. You must not pre-grind, prebone, pre-roll, or pre-cube any cut or grade of beef in anticipation of telephone orders except as generally authorized in sections 5 (b) or Appendix 5 of this regulation;

Rule 6. No addition may be charged the customer for the grinding, boning, rolling, cubing or any other special preparation; and Rule 7. No addition may be charged the customer for delivery service.

SEC. 6. Display—(a) Beef cuts. You may not display together beef cuts having different ceiling prices, but must put them in separate trays, compartments or sections of your showcase, according to the difference in ceiling price, even though the beef cuts are of the same kind. You must place the appropriate ceiling price on each separate display so that your customers can see and read it. If you fail to make this separation, or if you fail to place the appropriate ceiling price on each separate display so that your customers can see and read it, the price you charge or offer to charge for any such beef cuts must not be more than the maximum price fixed in this regulation for the same retail or wholesale cut of the lowest grade of beef.

(b) Beef variety meats and beef by-products. You must not put different types of beef variety meats or beef by-products, or variety meats or edible by-products coming from different kinds of animals, together in your showcase.

SEC. 7. Posting ceiling prices. Not later than twenty days after the effective date of this regulation, you must post at your store your "Official OPS List of Retail Beef Prices". You may use an exact copy of the OPS List if the printing is as legible and at least as large. Put it at or near the place where your meat sales are made and where your customers can easily see and read it. You must have at least one list posted for each 20 feet of meat counter space. You may get your official copies of the price list for posting or copying from your District Office. When you display a beef cut or certain beef variety meat or beef by-product the ceiling price of which is specified in this regulation, you must put your selling price for that product on the display.

SEC. 8. Customary Sales Receipts. You shall give customers the sales slip, receipt or other record of purchase you have customarily given. In addition, you shall, upon request by any customer, give him a receipt showing the date of sale, your name and address, the name, weight and the price you receive for each beef cut or certain beef variety meat or beef by-product sold and the grade of each beef cut sold.

SEC. 9. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a retail sale of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 10. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, at any time after December 31, 1950, you acquired in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carried on the business or continued to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, you shall be in the same group and your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation. If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailers to which you, rather than the transferor, belong under this regulation.

SEC. 11. Records—(a) General records. You shall make and preserve, for a period of two years after the effective date of this regulation, the same records you have customarily kept. In addition you must preserve the invoices, freight bills or other written records provided by your meat supplier or suppliers which pertain to purchases of meat made by you and the records you used in determining which group your store is in under section 30. You shall also continue to preserve all records required to be preserved by section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation requires you to preserve the following records:

(1) Those records in your possession showing the prices charged by you for the commodities or services which you delivered or offered to deliver during the period from December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951, inclusive (hereinafter referred to as the "base period"), and also sufficient records to establish the latest net cost incurred by you prior to the end of that period in purchasing the commodities; and

(2) As to all of your deliveries and offers for delivery of commodities, a statement showing the categories of commodities in which you made deliveries and offers for delivery during the base period; or if you sold services, a statement listing the services which you delivered or offered to deliver during the base period; and

(3) As to all of your deliveries and offers for delivery of commodities, a ceiling price list showing the commodities in each category (listing each type, style and kind), or the services, delivered or offered for delivery by you during the base period together with a description or identification of each such commodity or service and a statement of the ceiling price. (Your ceiling price list may refer to an attached price list or catalogue. You may satisfy the requirements of this paragraph (3) by recording on your purchase invoice covering the commodities (including every type, style and kind) delivered or offered for delivery by you during the base period, the price at which you sold, or offered the commodities for delivery, during the base period); and

(4) A statement of your customary price differentials for terms and conditions of sale and classes of purchasers, which you had in effect during the base period.

(b) Microfilming records. All records required to be preserved under this section may, after the expiration of 90 days after the date of the transaction to which they relate, be transferred to and preserved thereafter on microfilm.

(c) Inspection by OPS representatives. You shall show the records required by this section to be preserved to any OPS representative upon request.

SEC. 12. Reports—(a) Report of store classification. Within 30 days after the issuance of the regulation, you must notify the OPS District Office for your area of the group of your store (see Article III) using OPS Public Form No. 5, which you may obtain from your OPS District Office. If you open a new retail store after May 15, 1951, you must notify, within 15 days, your OPS District Office of the group of your store, using OPS Public Form No. 5. Any statement filed in accordance with the similar provisions of Ceiling Price Regulations 15 or 16 shall also satisfy the requirements of filing under this section 12 (a). If your store is in Group 3B and 4B, you must file with your OPS District Office a signed statement including:

(1) The name and address of your store.

(2) The name of the owner.

(3) The realized total gross margin of your store's meat department sales in calendar year 1950.

(b) Reports on cured beef and specialty steak items. If you apply for a ceiling price on an item described in section 4 (d), your application shall include the following data:

(1) A description of the item, including the name of the item.

(2) The cut and grade of beef used in the item.

(3) A complete description of its preparation.

(4) The type of wrapping or packaging used.

(5) The manner in which the product differs from the most similar type of product of the same type for which a ceiling price is established in section 3.

(6) The cost of any operations which are added to or eliminated from the manufacture of the most similar product of the same type for which a ceiling price is established in section 3.

SEC. 13. Evasion. (a) You shall not evade the provisions of this regulation, by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation or agreement relating to the sale, delivery, purchase, transfer or receipt of beef, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, wrapping, packaging, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing the selection, grading or the style of dressing, cutting, trimming, cooking or otherwise processing, or the wrapping or packaging of beef or otherwise.

(b) Among others, the following practices are considered evasions and are prohibited:

(1) Boning or rolling of any rib roast of beef other than those of utility or cutter and canner grades, at any time prior to receiving a specific order from a customer for the particular rib roast which is to be boned or rolled.

(2) Boning or rolling of any short loin of beef, other than those of utility or cutter and canner grades, at any time prior to receiving a specific order from a customer for the particular short loin which is to be boned or rolled.

(3) Preparing or selling beef tenders either as a separate meat item, or as one of the incidental products resulting from special fabrication.

(4) Pre-cubing steaks from any beef cut other than boneless top or bottom rounds.

(5) Adding any charge for delivery service.

(6) Selling to consumers wholesale beef cuts for which retail prices have not been established in Section 40 of this regulation, except as provided in section 13 (c).

(7) Keeping in your store, refrigerator, cooler or warehouse any beef which does not have the grade name or grademark on each wholesale cut or on each package containing prefabricated packaged retail beef cuts.

(8) Falsely or incorrectly invoicing or grading beef.

(9) Offering, selling or delivering a beef cut, beef variety meat or beef by-product on condition that the buyer purchase another commodity or service.

(10) Removing the grademark from any carcass or beef cut, except when the removal cannot be avoided in preparing a retail beef cut in accordance with the specifications listed in Appendix 5, or from any package containing prefabricated quick frozen and packaged retail beef cuts.

(11) Buying, receiving, selling or offering for sale any retail beef cut obtained from a carcass or wholesale beef cut which has not been graded or grademarked in accordance with Office of Price Stabilization Distribution Regulation 2.

(12) Buying, receiving, selling or offering for sale any wholesale beef cut which has not been graded or grademarked in accordance with Office of Price Stabilization Distribution Regulation 2.

(c) Locker plants. It shall not be considered an evasion for a retailer operating in conjunction with a locker plant, who for six months prior to April 30, 1951, customarily sold to consumers wholesale beef cuts for which retail prices have not been established in section 40 of this regulation, to sell such a wholesale cut to consumers at a price not exceeding the maximum prices established in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 24 for the same grade and wholesale cut if sold by a wholesaler at the location of the retailer's store if such a wholesale cut is a beef carcass, side of beef or beef wholesale cut as defined in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 24. Such retailers may charge, in addition to those ceiling prices, the prices determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for such of their customary services—for example, freezing, cutting the wholesale cuts into smaller cuts, packaging, processing, or other similar services—as they provide to their customers.

SEC. 14. Prohibitions—(a) Selling at prices above ceiling. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, (1) you shall not sell or deliver any beef item at a price higher than the ceiling price established for such item by this regulation; (2) you shall not buy or receive, in the regular course of trade or business, any beef item at a price higher than the ceiling price established for such item by this regulation; and (3) you shall not agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Selling other than defined items. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, you shall not sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver a beef item, unless such item is listed in sections 53, 55 or 58. However, this shall not prevent you from selling cured beef items or specialty steak products described in section 4 (b) and 4 (c) if you sold them during the calendar year 1950 or purchase them for resale, nor shall it prevent you from selling other beef variety meats, beef by-products, sausage or sterile canned beef items. Moreover, this shall not prevent you from selling wholesale cuts, beef carcasses or sides of beef as defined in Ceiling Price Regulation 24, if you sell them in accordance with section 13 (c) of this regulation.

SEC. 15. Enforcement. On and after the effective date of this regulation, if you violate any provision of this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950. Also, any person who in the course of trade or business buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

SEC. 16. Petitions for amendment. If you seek an amendment of any provision of this regulation, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1, issued by OPS.

SEC. 17. Less than ceiling prices. You may charge, demand, pay or offer lower prices for beef items than are established by this regulation.

SEC. 18. Ceiling prices for non-graded and improperly cut cuts. (a) If, in violation of the requirements of a regulation issued by OPS, a beef cut has either not been graded and grade-marked or the grade mark has been removed (except when such removal cannot be avoided in preparing a retail beef cut in accordance with the specifications listed in Appendix 5), your ceiling price for that cut shall be the price for that same cut of utility grade.

(b) If a beef cut does not satisfy the standard cut specifications provided in Appendixes 3 or 5, your ceiling price for that cut shall be, in the case of a wholesale cut, the ceiling price specified for rib beef (whole) of utility grade, and in the case of a retail cut, the ceiling price specified for rib—10 inch cut of utility grade.

(c) Nothing in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section shall in any way excuse the violation of the grading, grade marking or cutting requirements of Distribution Regulation 2 or of this regulation.

ARTICLE II—SALES TO EATING PLACES AND OTHER RETAILERS

SEC. 20. Stores selling less than 25 percent to eating places—(a) Limitation on sales. You may not during any calendar month sell more than 25 percent of your total dollar volume of meat sales during that month to eating places unless you comply with the provisions of section 21.

(b) Ceiling prices. If you do not exceed the 25 percent limit in any calendar month your ceiling prices for sales of beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products to eating places shall be the same as the ceiling prices for sales to consumers as set forth in section 3. If, however, during any calendar month you sell more than the 25 percent limit, you shall not only be in violation of section 20 (a) but your ceiling prices for sales to eating places of beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 42.

SEC. 21. Stores customarily selling more than 25 percent to eating places—(a) Limitations on sales. If your store during any calendar quarter in 1950 sold more than 25 percent of its dollar volume of meat sales to eating places, you may sell to eating places the same percentage of dollar sales of meat as you sold in the corresponding quarter in 1950 provided you file the report provided for in section 21 (c) and keep the appropriate records required by section 24. If your total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places during any current 3-month period is in excess of the dollar volume permitted by this section or if you otherwise violate or fail to comply with its requirements, you shall thereafter be subject to the limitations provided in section 20 (a).

(b) Ceiling prices. If, in accordance with section 21 (a) you are permitted to sell and you do sell more than 25 percent of your dollar volume of meat sales to eating establishments for any quarter, your ceiling prices for sales of beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products to eating places for that quarter and for all subsequent periods, shall be those set forth in section 42 of this regulation.

(c) Reporting requirements. If you desire to sell more than 25 percent of your total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places you shall file with your OPS District Office a signed statement containing:

(1) The name and address of your store;

(2) The total dollar volume of your meat sales to eating places during each calendar quarter of 1950; and

(3) The total dollar volume of meat you sold during each calendar quarter.

You shall mail this report to your OPS District Office by registered mail, return receipt requested. You shall retain the receipt for a period of two years. Any statement filed in accordance with this section shall also satisfy the similar filing requirement of Ceiling Price Regulation 26.

SEC. 22. Adjustment for local shortages. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 20 or 21, upon a finding by the Director of Price Stabilization that there is not within an area or areas meat sufficient to supply the requirements of eating places, and that this condition has occurred because of an increase in population in such area or areas by the establishment and maintenance of a project or projects connected directly with the defense effort, the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., may, by order, designate such area as a deficiency area for such period as he may prescribe. Upon the Director's designation of any specific area as a deficiency area, the OPS District Director for the District in which that deficiency area is located may authorize any store customarily serving such area to sell beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products, at or below the ceiling prices specified in section 42, to eating places located in such area in such volume and subject to such terms and conditions as he deems necessary.

SEC. 23. Sales to other retailers. You may sell from your store to other retailers for resale, or buy from the stores of other retailers for resale, beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and edible beef by-products if you comply with the rules set forth in section 23 (a) and (b).

(a) Rules for selling to other retailers.

Rule 1. You (the retailer who is selling) must sell to consumers more than 50 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store during each current month;

Rule 2. During any month you must not sell to other retailers more than 40 percent of the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store;

Rule 3. You must keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales from your store;

Rule 4. You must keep records in the same form as those you keep under Rule 3, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales to other retailers and eating places, if any, from your store;

Rule 5. You must not sell the buying retailer wholesale cuts of beef; and Rule 6. You must not charge the buying retailer for beef cuts or certain beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the ceiling prices provided in section 42.

(b) Rules for buying from other retailers.

Rule 1. You (the retailer who is buying) must not buy wholesale cuts of beef from the selling retailer;

Rule 2. You must keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat bought from the selling retailer;

Rule 3. You must not pay the selling retailer for beef cuts or certain beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the ceiling prices provided in section 42; and Rule 4. You must not charge your customers for beef cuts or certain beef variety meats or beef by-products more than the respective ceilings prices provided in sections 40 and 41.

(c) Violation of rules. If you violate any one of the foregoing rules provided for you in this section, you may not thereafter sell to, or buy from, other retailers beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products.

SEC. 24. Records of sales to eating places and other retailers. On all sales of meat to eating places you shall keep records, and give receipts to each buyer, showing the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, your name and address, and the details of each order, including the name, weight, grade and price charged for each beef cut, and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products. If you are permitted to sell beef cuts and certain beef variety meats and beef by-products to other retailers for resale purposes, you must keep records of each transaction and give receipts showing the same facts you are required to show on your sales to eating places. Moreover, if you sell meat to eating places or other retailers, you shall keep records, either weekly or monthly, showing the total dollar volume of meat sales to all buyers and the total dollar volume of meat sales to eating places and the total dollar volume of meat sales to other retailers during the same period. You shall also keep the records or data upon which you base the report you submit pursuant to section 21 (c).

ARTICLE III—SPECIAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 30. How to determine your group—(a) Group 1. Your store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent store" with "annual gross sales" of less than $75,000, except as provided in section 23 (e). (Your store is an "independent store" if it is not one of four or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $750,000 or more.)

(b) Group 2. Your store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent store" with "annual gross sales" of $75,000 or more, but less than $375,000, except as provided in section 23 (e).

(c) Group 3. Your store is in Group 3 if its "annual gross sales" are less than $375,000 and it is not an "independent store", except as provided in section 23 (e).

(d) Group 4. Your store is in Group 4 if its "annual gross sales" are $375,000 or more, except as provided in section 23 (e).

(e) Group 3B and 4B. Your store is in Group 3B and 4B, notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this Section, if the realized total gross margin of its meat department sales in 1950 was less than 17 per cent. (To compute the realized total gross margin of your store's meat department sales in 1950, subtract your total dollar cost of beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork, poultry, sausage, variety meats and edible by-products in 1950 from your total dollar sales of these items in 1950 and divide the difference by your total dollar sales of these items in 1950.)

(f) When you may choose to treat your store as a Group 3 or 4 store. If you are a Group 1 or 2 store you may choose to treat your store as a Group 3 or 4 store if you figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in sections 40 and 41 as a member of the group you choose and notify your OPS District Office.

SEC. 31. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales," take your total sales for the calendar year 1950. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1950 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1950 you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to April 30, 1951, by the number of weeks you were in business. This will give you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales."

SEC. 32. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store. If the total "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store is not readily available, you shall apply, in writing, within thirty days after the issuance of this regulation, to the OPS district office for your area for a determination of your group, stating your own "annual gross sales" figure for the applicable year. Each District Director is authorized to act on requests covering stores located within his district, and action taken shall be by order. If you have applied in writing for the determination of your group under the similar provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 15 or 16 and if the realized total gross margin of your meat department in 1950 was in excess of 17 percent, you need not apply under this section and any order issued under those regulations determining your group shall be applicable to you under this section. If, however, the realized total gross margin of your meat department in 1950 was 17 per cent or less, then your store is in Group 3B and 4B.

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after April 30, 1951, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or 2 or Group 3 or 4 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store, and you must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. However, after you have been in business for 3 months, you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the 3-month period and multiply it by 4. If you own 4 or more stores which have been in operation for this 3-month period, you must take your total sales for each of these stores for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

(d) Discontinuance of stores. (1) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores so that you now have less than 4 stores under one ownership, you may find your group for each of the remaining stores by determining the "annual gross sales" under section 31 (a), treating each store as an "independent" store.

(2) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores, but 4 or more stores continue under one ownership, you may refigure the combined "annual gross sales" under section 31 (a) for those remaining in operation. If the combined "annual gross sales" are not $750,000 or more, you may then determine your group for each store, treating each as an "independent" store.

SEC. 33. How you may, under certain conditions, apply to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices. (a) If your store is in Group 3 or 4, meets the gross margin requirements specified in this section and does business in the manner outlined below, you may apply under paragraph (b) of this section to use the ceiling prices provided in this regulation for Group 1 or 2 stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your meat department are made by employees who assist customers in selecting, collecting, and wrapping merchandise;

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service;

(3) The total gross margin in your fiscal year 1950 was at least 23 per cent on all sales in your meat department and also, if you are not an "independent" store, at least 23 per cent on the combined sales of the meat departments in all the stores for which you seek adjustment in your organization. Do not count a restaurant as a meat department. If your store was not in business during all of 1950, use your most recent fiscal period.

(b) Your application must be filed in duplicate with the OPS District Office for your area. You may combine on one form the application of more than one of your stores. If your application is finally approved, OPS will tell you when to begin using the Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices. If you filed an application under the similar provision of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 you need not apply under this section. Any order issued under that regulation permitting you to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices shall permit you to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices under this regulation.

(c) If, however, under Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 or 422 issued in 1943 by the Office of Price Administration (1) you were a Group 3 or 4 store on the basis of sales volume, and (2) you can establish that you were authorized by the Office of Price Administration to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices and (3) such authority was never revoked, and (4) you meet the gross margin requirements specified above, and (5) you certify that your method of doing business has not changed in any material respect since the time you were authorized to use Group 1 or 2 ceiling prices, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or 2 store under this regulation as soon as you have filed your application in accordance with this section or the similar provision of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15. This authority may be withdrawn if it is determined that your store does not qualify for adjustment under this section.

SEC. 34. Applications for adjustment. Any Regional Office of the OPS, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of section 33. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

Appendix 3—Wholesale Beef Cut Definitions

When used in this regulation the term wholesale beef cut means and is limited to any of the following cuts, derived from the beef carcass, but excluding the offal and any item not included therein. (All measurements prescribed herein shall be made with a rigid straight ruler. All cuts shall be made according to the definite guides and measurements specified. Ribs are designated as 1st to 13th, inclusive, counting as the 1st rib that one which is nearest the neck end of the side). You must cut the beef carcasses, side, quarter or combination cut of beef into the following cuts before you make the standard retail cuts. (See the chart, Appendix 4, for a simple, non-technical description of most wholesale beef cuts.)

(a) Hindquarter means the posterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 12-rib forequarter from the side, and comprising the round, full loin including the 13th rib, flank, kidney and hanging tender all in one piece, which posterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib while cutting down the length of the rib to the point at the end of the rib where the rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, from which point passing through the cartilage and meat of the flank and short plate in the same straight line, completing the cut.

(b) Forequarter means the anterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 1-rib hindquarter from the side and comprises the rib, regular chuck, brisket, short plate and fore-shank, all in one piece, which anterior portion contains the first to the twelfth ribs, inclusive. No heart (mediastinal) fat or neck sweetbreads and not more than ½ inch of the fibrous part (centrum tendineum) of the skirt (diaphragm) shall appear in the forequarter and otherwise it shall be dressed in accordance with the specifications applicable to "beef carcass" as set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 24.

(c) Round means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the untrimmed full loin, and flank from the hindquarter, which portion shall be obtained as follows: The untrimmed full loin and flank shall be severed from the hindquarter by cutting in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the hindquarter. The cut shall be made on a straight line formed by and starting from that point on the backbone which is the juncture of the last (5th) sacral vertebra and the first (1st) tail (caudal) vertebra, and passing through the point which just misses the end of the protuberance of the femur bone and exposes the ball of the femur bone, continuing in the same straight line beyond the second point to complete the cut. Two tail vertebrae shall be left on the round. Attached to the tail bone of the round shall be the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra. All cod, udder and pelvic fat remaining on the round after its severance from the full loin and flank shall remain on the round.

(d) Trimmed full loin means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round, flank, hanging tender (from the open side), kidney knob and excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat from the inside of the loin, from the hindquarter, and comprising the short loin and sirloin (loin end) in one piece, the back bone of which portion shall include one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae, six (6) lumbar vertebrae, and five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in severing the round from the full loin and flank), and which portion shall be obtained as follows:

First, part of the kidney knob, all of the kidney and the fat lying closely around the kidney in open (left) and closed (right) sides shall be removed first by a cut starting at the rear end of the kidney and slanting directly to the front edge of the half of the 12th thoracic vertebra at the point of severance of the hindquarter and forequarter.

Second, the hanging tender, which means the cylindrical shaped piece of lean meat attached at one end under the kidney knob in open (left) side hindquarters shall be removed entirely from open side loins by being severed at a point opposite the juncture of the 1st and 2d lumbar vertebrae.

Third, after the severance of the round from the hindquarter, the flank shall be severed from the full loin by a cut starting at the heavy end of the full loin at the ventral point of severance of the round from the hindquarter and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra, but in making the cut no more than one (1) inch of cod or udder fat shall be left on the flank side of the face of the loin.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins thre 13th thoracic vertebra.

Fourth, the excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat shall be trimmed from the inside of the full loin by placing the full loin upon a flat surface, with no other support to change its position, meat side down, and removing all fat which extends above a flat plane parallel with the flat surface supporting the full loin and on a level with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone. Then all fat shall be removed which extends above a flat plane using the following two lines as guides for each edge of the plane: an imaginary line parallel with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone which line extends 1 inch directly above such protruding edge; a line on the inside of the loin two inches from the flank edge and running parallel with such edge for the full length of the loin. All fat obstructing the measurement of the second line shall first be removed. In addition to the foregoing all rough fat in the pelvic cavity of the heavy end of the loin (sirloin) shall be trimmed smooth and trimming by a knife shall be apparent. No fat remaining in the pelvic cavity shall exceed one inch in depth.

(e) Flank means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round and untrimmed full loin from the hindquarter, which shall be obtained after the removal of the round by separation from the untrimmed full loin, starting the cut at the point at the lower end of the loin end (sirloin) which was the ventral point of separation of the full loin and round, leaving no more than one inch of cod or udder fat attached to the flank side of the face of the full loin, and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line along the 13th rib from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-in. measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 13th thoracic vertebra.

(f) Short loin means that portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the sirloin (loin end) from the trimmed full loin, which portion shall be obtained by a cut perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin begun at a point which is the juncture on the chine bone of the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae and continuing in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin to and through a point flush against the end of the hip (pin) bone, but leaving no part of the hip (pin) bone in the short loin. The backbone of the short loin shall include five (5) lumbar vertebrae, one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae and part of the 13th rib.

(g) Sirloin (loin end) means the thick portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the short loin from the trimmed full loin. The backbone of the sirloin shall include one (1) lumbar vertebrae, five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth (5th) sacra vertebrae shall have been sawed off in separating the round from the trimmed full loin and flank), and the entire hip bone (ilium).

(h) Cross cut chuck (Kosher or traefer) means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib and short plate from the forequarter, and comprising the regular chuck, brisket and foreshank all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by cutting through the forequarter in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib while cutting to the point where the 5th rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, at which point the cut shall continue in the same straight line through the cartilage, the breast bone (sternum) and the meat of the brisket and short plate to complete the severance. The cross cut chuck shall contain five (5) ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive).

(i) Regular chuck means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the foreshank and brisket from the cross cut chuck, and containing most of the blade bone (scapula), part of the (humerus) arm bone, parts of the five ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive), that section of the back bone attached to the ribs, and the neck bone (cervical vertebrae from 1 to 7, inclusive), which portion shall be obtained by a cut through the cross cut chuck made in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the cross cut chuck (thereby separating the brisket and foreshank from the cross cut chuck) starting at a fixed point on the inside of the 5th rib determined by measuring off ten (10) inches along the 5th rib in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra, continuing in the same straight line to the tip of the forward end of the breast bone (forward end of 1st segment of sternum), and passing through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 5th rib joins the 5th thoracic vertebra.

(j) Foreshank means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and brisket from the cross cut chuck, which portion shall be obtained (after separation of the regular chuck) by separation from the brisket by a cut following the natural seam and leaving the entire lip, or web muscle on the brisket.

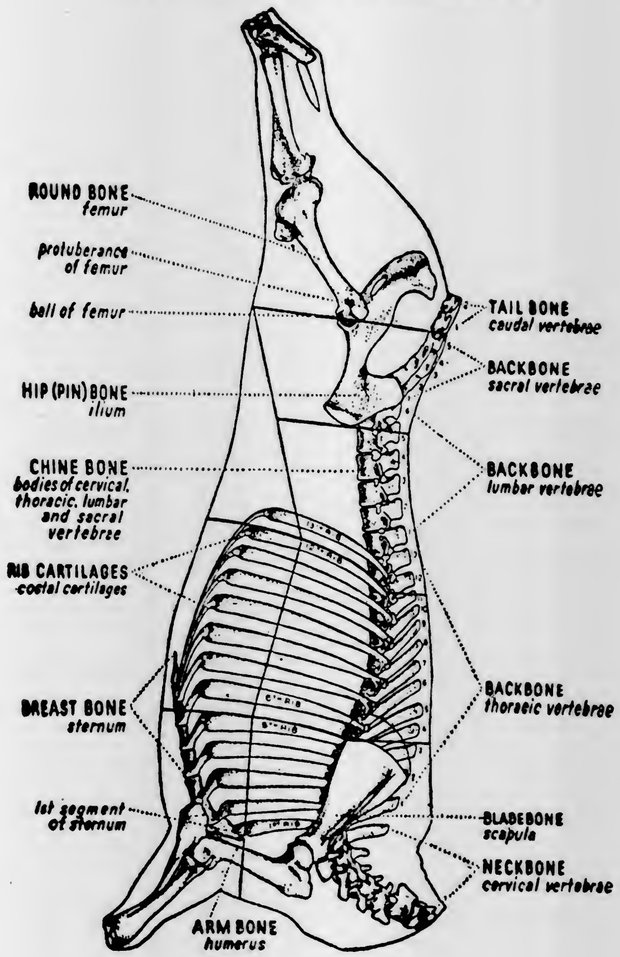
(k) Brisket means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and foreshank from the cross cut chuck, which portion contains parts of four ribs (2d to 5th, inclusive), part of the breast bone and the rib (costal) cartilages which connect the ends of the rib bones with the breast bone. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat shall be removed from the brisket.

(l) Rib means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and short plate from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), that section of the backbone attached to the ribs, posterior tip and cartilage of the blade bone (scapula), part of the blade bone (scapula) which portion shall be obtained (by separation from the short plate) by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to and through a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurements shall be made from the centers of the protruding edges of the 6th and 12th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(m) Short plate means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and the rib from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), the rib (costal) cartilages attached to them, and part of the breast bone.

(n) Back means the portion of the forequarter remaining after severance of the short plate, brisket and foreshank from the forequarter, and containing the rib and regular chuck all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by one cut made in a straight line starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra, and continuing to a point measured off 10 inches on the inside of the fifth rib along the 5th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra; and a second cut made in a straight line starting from the termination point of the first cut and continuing through a fixed point at the tip of the forward end of the breast bone, including the cartilage in young cattle or the ossified bone in the older cattle (forward end of the 1st segment of sternum), through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.



NOTE: Measurements shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 5th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(o) Triangle (Kosher or traefer) means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the rib from the forequarter, and containing the short plate, brisket, foreshank and regular chuck all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by removing the rib from the forequarter by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside of the protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra, and severing the rib from the forequarter by a second cut made in a straight line between the 5th and 6th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 5th rib to the point where the second cut meets the end of the first cut.

NOTE: Measurements shall be from the center of the protruding edge of the 12th and 6th thoracic vertebra, and not from the hollow of the chine bone.

(p) Arm chuck means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the brisket from the cross cut chuck and containing the regular chuck and foreshank all in one piece.

APPENDIX 5—RETAIL BEEF CUT DEFINITIONS

When used in this regulation the term retail beef cut means and is limited to any of the following cuts, derived from OPS wholesale beef cuts. All retail beef cuts covered in the following specifications shall be trimmed as described before the cuts may be weighed or sold to the customer. No fat shall be added to any of the cuts before they are weighed or sold to the customer. (See the charts, Appendixes 6 and 7, for a simple, non-technical description of most retail beef cuts.)

(a) From the standard round—(1) Standing rump (bone in). The standing rump (bone in) shall contain part of the rump (aitch) bone but no rump knuckle bone or tail vertebrae. Not more than one inch of fat shall be left on the outside, or within the pelvic cavity, of this cut.

(2) Boneless rump. The boneless rump is the meat remaining after all the bones, cartilage, gristle and excess fat have been removed from the standing rump. (See paragraph (a) (1).)

(3) Round steak (full cut). Each round steak (full cut) includes a part of (i) the top (inside) round, (ii) the bottom (outside) round, (iii) the eye of round, (iv) the tip, and (v) the round bone. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from each steak. Round steaks (full cut) shall contain the round bone but no part of the knee cap or double bone. They may be cut into two or more pieces in line with the customary procedure in the past.

(4) Tip roast (boneless). The tip shall be removed from the flank side of the round in accordance with the customary procedure in each locality. All bone, including the knee cap, and all fat exceeding one inch in thickness must be removed.

(5) Tip steak (boneless). Tip steaks (boneless) are cut from the tip roast (paragraph (a) (4)).

(6) Top (inside) round, roast or steak. The top (inside) round may be removed from the round according to the usual procedure in each locality. The shank end of this cut, however, shall contain no part of the heel of round. (See the bone structure chart, Appendix 6.) All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from the outside of the roasts or steaks made from this cut. The top (inside) round shall contain no bone.

(7) Bottom (outside) round, pot roast or steak. The bottom (outside) round, like the top round (paragraph (a) (6)) may be made according to the usual procedure in each locality. It may contain part of the rump but the shank end of this cut shall contain no part of the heel of round (see the bone structure chart, Appendix 6). The bottom round shall contain no bone. It may be sold as pot roasts or steaks.

(8) Heel of round (boneless). The heel of round may be separated from the hind shank according to the usual practice in each locality; however, it shall not include the front muscle of the shin bone and it must be entirely boneless. (See bone structure chart, Appendix 6.)

(9) Hind shank (bone in). The hind shank (bone in) is the section of the round remaining after the rump, round steaks (or tip, inside and outside), heel of round and hock have been removed.

(10) Hind shank (boneless). The hind shank (boneless) refers to the boneless meat from the hind shank. (For stew, ground beef.)

(b) From standard wholesale sirloin (loin end)—(1) Sirloin steak (bone in).

(2) Pin bone steak (bone in). Sirloin steaks (bone in) and pin bone steaks (bone in) shall be made from the standard primal sirloin (loin end). All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from these steaks.

(3) Sirloin steak (boneless). Boneless sirloin steaks are made from the standard primal sirloin (loin end). They shall contain no bone and no fat in excess of one inch in thickness.

(c) From standard wholesale short loin—(1) Porterhouse steaks.

(2) T-Bone steaks.

(3) Club steaks.

(4) Short loin (boneless, rolled—Utility and cutter and canner grade beef). Boneless and rolled short loin roast refers to the boneless meat of the primal short loins of utility and cutter and canner grades of beef. All bone, gristle, cartilage and excess fat must be removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle. Fat must not be added before the boneless and rolled short loin roast is weighed or sold. The tenderloin from the short loin must not be removed and sold separately. The boneless short loin including the tenderloin must be rolled and tied.

Porterhouse, T-Bone and club steaks are made from the standard primal short loin. Porterhouse steaks contain a large portion of the tenderloin. T-Bone steaks contain a small portion of tenderloin. Club steaks contain no tenderloin. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from these steaks.

(5) Trimmed full beef tenderloin (cutter and canner grade beef only) means the tenderloin muscle of cutter and canner grade, meeting the specifications and requirements as set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 24.

(d) From standard wholesale flank—(1) Flank steak. All membrane and fat must be trimmed from the flank steak. This steak shall not be cut into more than two pieces before selling.

(2) Flank meat (boneless). Boneless flank meat is the meat remaining after the flank steak, bone, gristle, membrane, and cod fat have been removed from the rough flank. It may be sold as rolled pot-roast, stew meat or ground beef.

APPENDIX 6—SKELETAL CHART FOR MAKING STANDARD RETAIL BEEF CUTS

FOR STANDARD RETAIL BEEF CUTS

(e) From the standard wholesale rib—(1) Rib roast, 10-inch ribs.

(2) Rib steak, 10-inch ribs. Rib roast, 10-inch ribs and rib steak, 10-inch rib are made from the standard primal rib. (See illustration, Appendix 6, for the manner in which the 10-inch rib roasts and steaks are measured.) The blade bone or blade cartilage shall be removed from roasts or steaks.

(3) Rib roast, 7-inch ribs.

(4) Rib steak, 7-inch rib. Rib roasts or steaks, 7-inch rib or ribs, are cut from the standard primal rib. The rib bone, or bones, in these cuts shall measure no larger than 7 inches in a straight line from the protruding edge of the chine bone.

(5) Short ribs. Short ribs are the ends of the ribs which are removed when making a 7-inch rib.

(6) Rib roast (boneless, rolled—utility and cutter and canner grade beef only). Boneless and rolled rib roast refers to the boneless meat of the primal 10-inch rib roast of utility and cutter and canner grades of beef only. All bone, gristle, cartilage and excess fat must be removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle. Fat must not be added before the boneless and rolled rib roast is weighed or sold. The boneless rib must be rolled and tied.

(f) From the standard wholesale short plate—(1) Plate (bone in). Plate (bone in) is made from the standard primal plate without removing the bones. The diaphragm or skirt muscle may or may not be removed, but the membrane on each side of the skirt and on the inside of the plate, and all loose fat shall be removed.

(2) Plate (boneless). Boneless plate refers to the boneless meat of the primal plate after all bones, gristle, cartilage, membrane and excess fat have been removed. The boneless meat may be sold as boneless plate pot-roast, stew meat (boneless) or ground beef.

(g) From the standard wholesale brisket—(1) Brisket (bone in) fresh or cured. Brisket (bone in) is made from the standard primal brisket without removing the bones. No more than one inch of fat may be left on the brisket (bone in).

(2) Brisket (boneless) fresh or cured. Boneless brisket, fresh or cured, refers to the boneless meat of the primal brisket after all bone, gristle, cartilage, and excess fat have been removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle. The boneless brisket may be sold as boneless pot-roast, stew meat or ground beef.

(h) From standard wholesale chuck—(1) Blade pot-roast.

(2) Blade steak. Blade pot-roast and blade steaks are made from the blade bone portion of the standard primal chuck. No portion of the arm knuckle shall be included in any blade pot-roast or blade steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from these cuts.

(3) Arm pot-roast.

(4) Arm steak. Arm pot-roasts and arm steaks are made from the shoulder arm bone portion of the standard primal chuck. The arm knuckle shall not be left in any arm pot-roast or arm steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from these cuts.

(5) English cut. The English cut may be made from the standard primal chuck following the usual procedure in each locality.

(6) Chuck (boneless). Boneless chuck pot-roasts are made from the blade bone and arm bone portions of the standard primal chuck. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from the boneless chuck.

(7) Neck (bone in). The arm knuckle bone and the Atlas joint shall be removed from the neck. The throat side of the neck shall be trimmed and all fat in excess of 1 inch shall be removed. The neck may then be sold in pieces with the bone in.

(8) Neck (boneless). The boneless neck is the meat remaining after all the bone, cartilage, fat, tendon, gristle, and throat trimmings have been removed from the neck. (See paragraph (g) (7).) It may be sold as boneless potroast, stew or ground beef.

(h) From standard wholesale foreshank—(1) Foreshank (bone in). Remove the knee bone. Cut the shank into pieces with the bone in.

(2) Foreshank (boneless). The boneless shank meat refers to the boneless meat from the foreshank after all bone, gristle, cartilage and sinews have been removed. The boneless shank meat may be sold as stew meat or as ground beef.

(i) Ground beef. Ground beef (hamburger, hamburg steak, hamburger steak, chili meat) is ground, chopped or comminuted fresh beef only derived from the skeletal portion of the dressed carcass (but not including head meat) which contain no offal, added blood, cartilage, bone, cereal product, water or ice, or any adulterant or other foreign substance except seasoning, and which does not have a fat content in excess of 30 percent by chemical analysis. "Ground beef" shall be ground twice, the final grinding through a plate with holes not more than $3/16$ of an inch in diameter, or $\frac{3}{8}$ of an inch in the case of chili meat, or chopped in a rotary cutter or by other means giving equivalent results.

APPENDIX B—CERTAIN BEEF VARIETY MEATS AND BEEF BY-PRODUCTS DEFINITIONS

When used in this regulation, the term certain beef variety meats and beef by-products means and is limited to any of the following edible by-products of cattle which is clean, sound, has at all times been handled in a sanitary manner, and is free from foreign materials, mucus, and hair. Referring to variety meats and edible by-products derived from livestock slaughter the term:

(a) Brains means both brain lobes, the small knob at the base of the brain and a short piece of spinal cord approximately three quarters of an inch in length.

(b) Cheek meat of cattle means the lean muscle on the inside and outside of the lower jaw, trimmed free of the salivary glands, with no more than 20 percent trimmable fat.

(c) Hanging tender means the cylindrical shaped piece of lean meat attached at one end under the kidney knob in the open (left) side of the hind quarter. It shall be removed from the open side of the loin by being severed at a point opposite the junction of the first and second lumbar vertebrae.

(d) Head meat means the lean meat, exclusive of cheek meat, trimmed from the head of cattle.

(e) Hearts means bright colored beef hearts, free from blood clots, trimmed free from large gristly blood vessels.

(f) Kidneys means kidneys free from spots and reasonably free from fat. They shall be removed by first loosening the suet from the outside surface of the kidney and then cutting off the vein, leaving sufficient fat in the vein so that the fat will be flush with the surface of the kidney.

(g) Lips means the meat and tissue from the side of the jaw when removed from cattle.

(h) Lips, scalded means lips thoroughly cleaned by washing and scalding according to B. A. I. instructions—or similar good commercial methods.

(i) Livers means all beef livers of any weight, bright and uniform in color, from light to chocolate brown, moderately short and plump and which are free from all mutilations other than minor cuts or slight skin breaks caused by the removal of the gall bladder by separating the liver from the carcass by hooks, or caused during the examination of the portal glands by MID inspectors, where such minor cuts or slight skin breaks do not impair the quality of the liver. The large blood vessel lying along the side of the liver should be trimmed even with the surface of the liver.

(j) Lungs means the lungs from cattle. The trachea (windpipe) is to be cut off close to the body of the lungs.

(k) Melts means the spleens.

(l) Sweetbreads, heart means the thymus gland adjacent to the heart (heart sweetbreads). They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

(m) Sweetbreads, neck means the thymus gland (neck sweetbreads) removed from the neck only of beef cattle. They are to be trimmed reasonably free from fat.

(n) Tails means tails of cattle. Ragged edges of tissue, loose fat and the last two joints of the tip end are to be removed.

(o) Tongues means tongues from cattle, cut off at a point that leaves the epiglottis on the tongue. The entire gullet including the soft palate shall be removed and the hinge bone shall not protrude over the end of the tongue. One-half inch of fat may be left on the underside of the tongue, which shall be trimmed smooth in removing the glands. The tip may be cut up to a point where cross section thickness does not exceed one and one-half inches.

(p) Tripe, cooked means tripe which has been thoroughly cooked by boiling in water, cooled and washed; any excess fat is to be removed from tripe.

(q) Tripe, honeycomb means cooked beef tripe showing the characteristics of honeycomb markings. If the pocket is split, the apron around the open end cannot be more than three inches wide.

(r) Tripe, scalded means paunches (stomachs) thoroughly cleaned by washing and scalding according to B. A. I. instructions or similar good commercial methods.

(s) Udders means the severed mammary glands from cows, and shall be carefully drained by slicing according to good commercial practice.

[Distribution Regulation 1, Amdt. 4]

DR 1—FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF LIVESTOCK AND MEAT

QUOTA PERCENTAGES FOR LIVESTOCK

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5 (16 F. R. 1273), this Amendment 4 to Distribution Regulation 1[1] (16 F. R. 1273) is hereby issued.

Preamble. At the time Distribution Regulation 1 was issued, it was intended that quotas on all livestock covered by the regulation would be effective April 1, 1951. For the reason set forth in the Preamble to Amendment 3, quotas were established on cattle for the period beginning April 1, 1951, and ending April 28, 1951, and were postponed for the other species of livestock.

Information available on the expected marketings of livestock during the quota period beginning April 29, 1951 indicates that it will be necessary, in order to bring about an orderly distribution of available livestock among registered slaughterers, to establish quotas on all species of livestock. Accordingly, registered slaughterers, both Class 1 (Federally inspected) and Class 2 (non-Federally inspected commercial slaughterers) will determine their quotas for the period beginning April 29, 1951 by the methods prescribed in this Amendment 4 and Supplement 1 to the regulation issued simultaneously. Generally, these quotas will represent the following percentages of slaughter of the various species of livestock in the comparable period during 1950:

Cattle 90 percent.
Calves 80 percent.
Sheep and lambs 80 percent.
Swine 110 percent.

A slaughterer of cattle who did not use his entire quota for cattle during the period April 1–28, 1951, may carry over the unused portion of his cattle quota, not to exceed 5% of his cattle quota for the April 1–28 period and make it a part of his cattle quota for the period April 29–May 26, 1951. A slaughterer of cattle in the period April 1–28, 1951, who exceeded his cattle quota for that period must deduct twice the amount of the excess in live weight pounds from his quota for the ensuing quota period.

[1] Formerly designated Distribution Order 1.

Provision has also been made in this amendment so that if a slaughterer's quota is less than the live weight of one animal he may slaughter one animal of that species. Some small slaughterers' quota bases for particular periods represent only one head of livestock and, obviously, it is not possible for them to slaughter less than a single head of livestock.

All Class 1 and Class 2 slaughterers are required to report their slaughter of all livestock for the 4-week period April 1 to April 28, 1951, and for all subsequent quota periods.

This amendment also continues the provisions pertaining to "club" livestock. Provision will be made by subsequent amendment to the regulation which will require certain record-keeping provisions concerning the slaughter of "club" livestock.

Distribution Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (c) is amended by substituting the date May 27, 1951 for the date April 29, 1951, appearing in the fifth sentence and substituting the following for the first four sentences: "For the period beginning April 29, 1951 and ending May 26, 1951 you will have a quota on all species of livestock. The quota for each species of livestock will be the number of pounds live weight of each species you slaughtered during the period from April 30, 1950 to May 27, 1950, inclusive, multiplied by the applicable percentage set forth in Supplement 1 to this regulation. If you received a weekly adjustment for your slaughter of any species of livestock for any of the four weeks from April 30, 1950 to May 27, 1950 you may use the adjustment as the number of pounds live weight of the species you slaughtered during those weeks. If you received an adjustment on your slaughter of any species for the April–June 1950, calendar quarter, you may use 31 percent of the adjusted amount as the number of pounds live weight of the species you slaughtered during the period from April 30, 1950 to May 27, 1950, inclusive. If you began slaughtering any species after April 30, 1950, you may determine the amount of that species you may slaughter during the period beginning April 29, 1951 and ending May 26, 1951 by dividing the total live weight of the particular species slaughtered between April 30, 1950 and February 9, 1951 by the number of weeks in which you slaughtered the particular species, multiplying the result by four and multiplying the resulting figure by the applicable percentage set forth in Supplement 1 to this regulation. The multiplier for May 1951 furnished to you by the OPS will not apply for the period April 29, 1951 to May 26, 1951. You may not slaughter more than 60 percent of your quota for any specie (including your carry-over on cattle from the April 1, 1951 to April 28, 1951, quota period) during the first half of your quota period."

2. Section 3 (d) is amended by deleting the first sentence and substituting therefor the following: "If you did not use your entire quota for cattle during the period April 1, 1951 to April 28, 1951 you may use the unused portion, not to exceed five percent of that quota, in the period beginning April 29, 1951 and ending May 26, 1951. After May 27, 1951 if you did not use your entire quota for any species during any given week you may use the unused portion, not to exceed 10 percent of that quota, in the next week only."

3. Section 4 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Quotas. For each quota period (accounting period or calendar month or similar period of not less than four or more than five weeks used by you instead of calendar months in keeping your own books and records) beginning on or after April 29, 1951 you must have a quota before you may slaughter any species of livestock. The completed and signed OPS Form DO1–2 furnished to you by the Regional Office will show by species the live weight of livestock which you slaughtered during each accounting period of 1950. This is your quota base. Supplement 1 to this regulation contains a list of percentages for use by you and other Class 2 slaughterers in determining your quotas. To determine your quota for each quota period, you apply the appropriate percentage in the Supplement to the quota base for each species. If the resulting quota is less than the live weight of one animal, you may slaughter one animal of that species. If your quota period does not begin on April 29, 1951 you will have an interim quota period from April 29, 1951 to the date that your quota period begins. The quota for the interim quota period is computed as follows:

(1) Determine the quota for each species of livestock for the quota period in which the date April 29, 1951, occurs by multiplying the quota base for that quota period for each species of livestock by the applicable percentage set out in Table I of Supplement 1 to this regulation.

(2) Divide the quota for each species obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph by the number of days in the quota period in which the date April 29, 1951 occurs.

(3) Multiply the result in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for each species by the number of days between April 28, 1951, and the date of the first quota period beginning on or after April 29, 1951. The resulting amounts are your quotas for each species for the interim quota period.

You may not slaughter more than 60 percent of your quota for any species (including your carry-over from the preceding quota period) during the first half of your quota period.

If you began slaughtering any species after April 30, 1950, and you have not had your quota bases adjusted on your Form DO 1–2, you may use as your quota base the average monthly slaughter of that species between April 30, 1950, and February 9, 1951. After determining your quota base for the period you must apply the applicable percentages set forth in Supplement 1 to this regulation.

4. Section 7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 7. Slaughter of "Club" livestock. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2 (b) of this regulation if you purchase livestock at a sale conducted by members of 4–H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized youth organizations, you may have such livestock slaughtered for you until the effective date of an amendment to this regulation which will set forth the conditions under which such livestock may be slaughtered.

5. Section 8 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) If you had livestock slaughtered for you during 1950 by a slaughterer who is designated Class 1 by this order you are a Class 1A slaughterer. You are entitled to have your livestock slaughtered by the same slaughterer and he is required to continue slaughtering livestock for you. There will be a quota on the amount of livestock he may slaughter for you for the period beginning April 29, 1951, and ending May 27, 1951. This quota is determined by multiplying the number of pounds live weight of each species of livestock which he slaughtered for you during the corresponding period in 1950 by the applicable percentages set forth in Supplement 1 to this regulation. Your Class 1 slaughterer is prohibited from slaughtering for you, and you are prohibited from giving him for slaughter, in any quota period, a greater number of pounds of any species of livestock than is provided for in the quota for that period. However, if the resulting quota is less than the live weight of one animal for any species, he may slaughter one animal of that species for you.

6. Section 8 (b) is amended by deleting the third, fourth and fifth sentence and substituting therefor the following sentence: "There will be a quota on the amount of livestock he may slaughter for you beginning April 29, 1951."

7. Section 8 (b) is further amended by adding to the end thereof the following sentence: "However, if the resulting quota is less than the live weight of one animal for any species, he may slaughter one animal of that particular species for you."

8. Section 12 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) (1) If you are a Class 1 slaughterer you must within ten (10) days after the end of each quota period mail a report. The U. S. Department of Agriculture will furnish you with Form LS–149 for the purpose of supplying certain information. You may use this form as your reporting form under this regulation by furnishing the information required by the OPS and mailing the form to the Department of Agriculture. For the quota periods April 1, 1951, to April 28, 1951, inclusive, and April 29, 1951, to May 26, 1951, inclusive, you must file the reports for OPS on Form LS–149 on the basis of two four-week operations instead of your usual accounting periods.

(2) If you are a Class 2 slaughterer and your quota bases for all species combined on an annual basis are 100,000 pounds live weight or over (as shown on your DO 1–2), you must within ten (10) days after the end of each quota period mail a report to the OPS Regional Office where you are registered. The report must be made in duplicate on OPS Form DO 1–6 and must contain all the information required by the form. For the quota period April 1, 1951 to April 28, 1951, inclusive, you must file your report on the basis of that four-week operation instead of your usual accounting period. For all subsequent periods you must report on the basis of your regular quota periods. If you have an interim quota period you must show separately on your report the amount of slaughter during the interim quota period.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements contained in this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Distribution Regulation 1, Supplement 1]

DR 1—FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF LIVESTOCK AND MEAT

SUPP. 1—QUOTA PERCENTAGES FOR LIVESTOCK

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5 (16 F. R. 1273), this Supplement 1 to Distribution Regulation 1[1] (16 F. R. 1273) is hereby issued.

Preamble. The purpose of this supplement is set forth in the preamble of Amendment 4 to Distribution Regulation 1, issued simultaneously with this supplement.

Supplement 1 is issued with respect to Distribution Regulation 1:

TABLE I—QUOTA PERCENTAGES FOR ALL CLASS 1 AND CLASS 2 SLAUGHTERERS (UNDER SECTIONS 3 AND 4 OF DISTRIBUTION REGULATION 1)

(a) For quota periods beginning on or after April 29, 1951:

	Percent
Cattle	90
Calves	80
Sheep and Lambs	80
Swine	110

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This supplement is effective April 30, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, JR.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

[Distribution Regulation 2]

DR2—Allocation Records

This regulation is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of Sections 101 and 704 of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

In the formulation of this regulation, industry representatives have been consulted and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

I

In Distribution Regulation 1, we undertook to channel movements of livestock to the slaughterer. This regulation is a preliminary to a program designed to regulate the flow of meat from the slaughterer to those persons who sell or serve meat to ultimate consumers or who use meat in the manufacture of food or pharmaceuticals.

The present supply situation is not in our judgment so acute as to require immediate imposition of such a program. But experience in World War II demonstrates the necessity of preparing against such an eventuality. Particularly in the latter part of the war there were serious shortages of meat in whole areas of the country. This was especially true in the Northeast, Southeast, Southwest, and Far West—areas which always consume a great deal more meat than they produce. Also large numbers of distributors and even whole classes of distributors did not receive their proportionate share of the meat supply.

This maldistribution of meat had a number of unfortunate consequences. Even under a rationing program many consumers did not receive their fair share of meat. Many enterprises engaged in the business of meat distribution suffered serious financial hardship. The difficulty experienced by such enterprises in getting a proportionate share of the meat supply coupled with the lack of controls on slaughter led to evasion of the price regulations and a rise in the actual cost of meat to consumers.

These consequences were bad enough on their own account. But they also contributed to a lack of confidence in and respect for the meat price control program which made effective enforcement all the more difficult. In view of the World War experience, it would be rash not to take steps now to prepare against the possibility that in the not too remote future the supply situation at least in certain areas or among certain distributors will require the allocation of meat.

First, meat historically has accounted for the expenditure of about five and one-half percent of consumer expendable income. The vast program of our Government for increased production for national defense with its consequent increases in total employment will obviously tend to increase consumer expendable income. Shortages of consumer durable goods incident to the defense production program will have the effect of diverting consumer expenditures from those goods into the field of food and particularly of meat.

It is true that there may be countervailing factors tending to reduce demand such as increased taxes. But particularly in view of the experience in the last war it would be rash to ignore the possibility that the demand for meat will increase more rapidly than the supply.

Second, in view of these considerations there may be a "shortage" of meat even if the total supply is higher than last year in terms of absolute amount as has been estimated by the Department of Agriculture. Moreover, these estimates are predicated on certain assumptions, e. g., as to volume of Government purchases which may not be borne out by events.

Purchases of meat for the armed forces may because of an unfavorable turn in the international situation run higher than is presently anticipated. Again, there may be substantial Government purchases of meat for delivery to our allies abroad.

Third, the fact that total supplies of meat may be adequate does not mean that there may not be area shortages or that particular customers or classes of customers will get their fair share. These localized shortages can have very serious consequences.

Fourth, the prudent course is to anticipate a shortage and prepare for it rather than to await the crisis and when it arrives take hasty and desperate measures to repair the situation. Accordingly, it seems to us that the decisive consideration is that there may well be shortages and it is desirable to prepare for them now.

If supplies of meat should decline substantially in ratio to demand and if, as a result, there should be a serious maldistribution of meat the equitable way to deal with the problem is by an allocation program. Such a program would assure meat distributors and indirectly consumers of their fair share of the total supply. In addition it would facilitate the administration of the price controls on meat by destroying or at least narrowing the basis for the black market.

Section 4 of this regulation provides that the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization may where there are shortages in certain areas direct the movement of meat to those areas. This is a power which would prove helpful in particular situations. But it obviously would be exercised only in unusual circumstances and if the supply situation became serious it would probably have to be dealt with in a regulation of general applicability rather than by a series of orders covering individual cases.

II

One problem which is presented by any allocation program is that of base period records. Ordinarily such a program would require a supplier to deliver to a purchaser the same proportion or roughly the same proportion of his total supply of meat as was delivered in the base period. If 1950 is selected as the base period, suppliers would in many and perhaps in practically all cases be required to review their invoices to determine the volume of their deliveries to each purchaser to whom they were required to make an allocation as well as the volume of their total deliveries. This is a substantial administrative burden and one which should be avoided if possible.

Also allocation of meat by grades will be difficult to do on the basis of 1950 records. This is so for two reasons. The first is that in many cases the 1950 invoices do not show the grades of meat delivered to buyers. The second is that grades in use in 1950 do not in many cases correspond to the grades presently in use.

One way to avoid these difficulties is to require suppliers to start now to build up data on their deliveries of meat which can be used as base period records. To keep such records currently would involve a great deal less work than going back to the 1950 invoices.

Accordingly, this regulation requires that an invoice be made covering each sale of meat at wholesale by persons who regularly sell meat at wholesale. The invoice must show the type, class (when applicable), grade (when applicable), kind, cut, and weight range (when applicable), of each cut of meat sold.

The reasons for preparing now for an allocation program by type and grade are evident. An allocation order which resulted in suppliers delivering lamb to a pork processor would certainly not serve its purpose in that particular case. From the point of view of many purchasers, different grades of beef are no more equivalent to each other than are lamb and pork. A manufacturer of canned foods or soups who uses one of the lower grades of beef would not have his needs met by an offer of choice beef because it would be too expensive for the purpose to which he intended to put it. Again a large chain store which customarily sold beef of choice grade and had built its reputation and its public acceptance on that basis would not have its needs met by an offer of utility beef. The same considerations apply to other types of meat which have different qualities or grades.

At the present time a number of different grading systems are used by various suppliers. More important, these grading systems are changed from time to time and there is frequently no clear correspondence between grades used by a supplier at one time and grades used by the same supplier at another time. Even the grading systems of the Department of Agriculture have been recently revised. A standardization of meat grading would be necessary to assure that a purchaser would receive the same or substantially the same quality of meat under the allocation program that he had received in the base period. Accordingly, in preparation for this allocation program, this regulation requires the adoption of the standard Department of Agriculture grades for beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton and mutton.

III

It is recognized that a proposal to adopt 1951 distribution patterns as a base for an allocation program has two disadvantages. The first is that there may already be some distortion of normal distribution patterns. The second is that some suppliers may be tempted to discontinue deliveries to certain purchasers.

It should be made clear that this regulation does not foreclose the agency from requiring either generally or in individual cases the use of 1950 deliveries as a base for deliveries under an allocation program. If suppliers do not continue normal patterns of distribution it will be necessary to do just that in spite of the work which it would entail.

The policy of the Office of Price Stabilization is that each distributor of meat should receive from each supplier the same proportion of that supplier's total deliveries that he received in 1950. If suppliers maintain a distribution pattern in accord with this policy it will be possible to avoid a detailed allocation regulation.

Note: See delegation of Authority by Secretary of Agriculture to Economic Stabilization Agency with respect to Allocation of Meat, Jan. 26, 1951, 16 F. R. 1272; Economic Stabilization Agency, General Order 5, Feb. 8, 1951, 16 F. R. 1273.

Section 1. What this regulation does. This regulation takes the following initial steps necessary for a detailed allocation program:

First, it establishes a system of record-keeping with respect to deliveries of meat by sellers of meat at wholesale.

Second, it provides for uniform grading of carcasses and wholesale cuts of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton and mutton in conformity with the standard grading system of the United States Department of Agriculture and requires that such carcasses and wholesale cuts be graded and grade marked.

Sec. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be effective in each of the 48 States of the United States and in the District of Columbia.

Sec. 3. Records and inspection—(a) Invoices. If you are a seller of meat at wholesale you must make for each sale, delivery or transfer of meat to a civilian buyer who is not an ultimate consumer, an invoice, sales slip or memorandum of sale setting forth the following information:

(1) The date of the sale, delivery or transfer to the buyer.

(2) Your name and address and the name and address of the buyer.

(3) The type, kind and cut of all meat sold, delivered or transferred, the grade of each cut if it is beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton, the class of each such cut if it is beef and the weight range of each such cut if it is pork.

(4) The price paid, charged or received for each cut of meat and the weight of each such cut.

You must deliver a copy of such invoice, memorandum of sale or sales slip to the buyer and you must keep a copy.

(b) Schedules. If you are a seller of meat at wholesale you must keep schedules showing for each accounting period for each of your civilian buyers the date of each invoice covering sales, deliveries or transfers of meat to each such buyer and such other information as is necessary to enable you readily to locate such invoice and showing the dollar value of the meat sold, delivered or transferred during such accounting period to each such buyer. In addition, you must keep schedules showing for each accounting period the weight of your total deliveries to all civilian buyers of:

(1) beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton and mutton, by grade; and

(2) pork, by the following cut classifications: loins, shoulders, hams, bellies, backs, butts, trimmings, and all other pork (except offal).

(c) 1950 records. If you are a seller of meat at wholesale, you must keep all your records for the year 1950 relating to the purchase, sale or delivery of meat.

(d) Meat grade certificates. You must keep the certificates furnished you by official graders of the United States Department of Agriculture in accordance with section 5 (b) of this regulation.

(e) Preservation of records. You must keep all records required under this regulation for a period of two years after the effective date of this regulation.

(f) Inspection. All records kept by you under this regulation may be inspected by the Office of Price Stabilization through any authorized representative. The inspection may be made at your place of business during regular business hours. If you are required to keep records under this regulation you must keep them available for such inspection.

(g) Disclosure. Information and documents obtained from you under this regulation will not be disclosed, whether in response to a subpoena or in any other way, unless the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization (or a representative of the Office of Price Stabilization designated by him) finds that the requested disclosure is necessary under the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Sec. 4. Deliveries required by the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization. The Director of the Office of Price Stabilization may from time to time, upon a finding that there is a critical shortage of meat in a certain area require you by order if you are a seller of meat at wholesale to deliver meat to such areas in such amounts up to ten per cent of your total available supply and upon such reasonable terms and conditions as he may determine.

Sec. 5. Grading and grade marking—(a) Requirement of Grading. You may not sell, offer for sale, ship or deliver, and you may not unless you are a resident operator of a farm or a livestock raiser who has slaughtered livestock for home consumption in accordance with section 6 of Distribution Regulation 1, break, and you may not in the course of trade or business buy or receive any carcass or wholesale cut of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton, and you may not agree, offer or attempt or solicit another to do any of the foregoing, unless each such carcass and wholesale cut has been graded and grade marked in accordance with the requirements of this section, and unless you preserve the grade marks on each carcass and wholesale cut. This requirement applies to each veal or calf carcass with skin on and, upon removal of the skin, to each veal or calf carcass and wholesale cut. For the purposes of this section, ribbing shall not constitute breaking.

(b) Grading by official graders. Grading and grade marking shall, except in the cases covered in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this section be performed by officials graders of the Federal Meat Grading Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Grades shall be determined and grade marks shall be applied in accordance with the provisions of Appendices A, B and C. The official grader will furnish you with a certificate covering products graded by him. You must pay the regularly established rates for the services of official graders.

(e) Application for grading service. If, after application for the services of an official grader pursuant to the "Rules and Regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture Governing the Grading of Meats, Prepared Meats and Meat Products" (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 7, Chapter 1, Subchapter C, Part 53, sections 53.1–53.42) you have received from a duly authorized representative of the Department of Agriculture a letter advising you that until further notice the services of an official grader will not be available you may perform the grading and grade marking of carcasses and wholesale cuts of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton, yourself until such time as you have been advised thereafter that the services of an official grader will be available. The letter may, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, authorize you, if you do not wish to perform the grading and grade marking yourself, to ship such carcass to a place specified therein for grading and grade marking by an official grader.

(d) Grading for Class 3 slaughterers. If you are a Class 3 slaughterer you may (1) perform the grading and grade marking of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton carcasses and wholesale cuts, yourself, or (2) deliver said carcasses to a commercial freezer or cooler plant, and have the owner or operator of such plant perform the grading and grade marking of the carcasses which you deliver to him. Grading and grade marking by you or by such owner or operator shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of Appendices A, B and C.

(e) Grading of veal and calf carcasses. If a veal or calf carcass has been graded and grade marked with skin on by an official grader you may, if an official grader is not available, upon removal of the skin, grade mark the carcass and each wholesale cut. In such case, numeral grade marks must be applied in the manner specified in Appendix B.

(f) Familiarity with standards. If you perform the grading of any beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton carcass, or wholesale cut, yourself, you must apply the provisions of this section, the provisions of Appendices A, B, and C, and the applicable official standards of the Department of Agriculture for the grading of carcasses of the type which you are grading.

(g) Limitation on non-official graders. If you perform the grading and grade marking of any beef, veal, or calf carcass or wholesale cut, yourself, you may not grade any such carcass or wholesale cut better than "Commercial" and you may not grade mark it better than "40" except that you may in the cases covered in subsection (e) of this section grade mark a veal or calf carcass or wholesale cut upon removal of the skin in accordance with the grade determined by the official grader. If you perform the grading and grade marking of any lamb, yearling mutton or mutton carcass or wholesale cut yourself, you may not grade any such carcass or wholesale cut better than "Utility" and you may not grade mark it better than "50".

(h) Appeal grading. If you have a financial interest in any beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton carcass which has been graded and grade marked by an official grader in accordance with this section and you are dissatisfied with the determination of such official grader, you may appeal the grading and grade marking by making an application for appeal grading in the manner provided in the "Rules and Regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture Governing the Grading and Certification of Meats, Prepared Meats, and Meat Products" (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 7, Chapter 1, Subchapter C, Part 53, sections 53.1–53.42).

(i) Private grades or brands. You are permitted to use a private grading and branding system in addition to that required by this section provided that you identify your private grading and branding system in such a manner as to distinguish it from the official grade marks as specified in Appendices A, B, and C, and provided that your private mark or brand is physically separated from the grade marks and provided that you may not use any of the words comprising an official grade mark in your private brand or mark.

SEC. 6. Additional prohibitions. You may not

(a) Place false or misleading information on any invoice, sales slip, memorandum of sale schedule or other record;

(b) Alter, deface, mutilate, or destroy any record specified herein;

(c) Forge or counterfeit any record specified herein;

(d) Acquire, use, transfer or possess a forged, counterfeited, altered, defaced, or mutilated record specified herein;

(e) Wrongfully withhold a record specified herein;

(f) Bribe, hinder, or interfere with authorized Office of Price Stabilization officials; or

(g) Attempt to do any act in violation of this regulation, directly or indirectly, or aid or encourage another to do so.

SEC. 7. Penalties. If you violate any provision of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties and the civil remedies provided by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 8. Definitions. When used in this regulation the term

(a) "Meat" means skeletal meat, that part of the striated muscle, with or without attached overlying fat, which is part of a dressed carcass of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton, mutton or pork in good health at the time of slaughter. It does not include variety meat, canned meat or sausage.

(b) "Type of meat" means (1) beef, (2) veal, (3) calf, (4) lamb, (5) yearling mutton, (6) mutton or (7) pork.

(c) "Beef", "veal", "calf", "lamb", "yearling mutton" and "mutton" mean meat graded as such pursuant to the provisions of this regulation and in accordance with the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef", the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Veal and Calf Carcasses" and the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Lamb, Yearling Mutton and Mutton Carcasses" of the United States Department of Agriculture. "Pork" means meat derived from the carcasses of swine.

(d) "Class of meat" means with respect to beef carcasses, "stag" or "bull".

(e) "Grade of meat" means one of the standard Department of Agriculture grades of beef, veal, calf, lamb, yearling mutton or mutton, the use of which is required by this regulation.

(f) "Kind of meat" means meat of a given condition, of boning, trimming and/or stage of processing such as bone-in, boneless, trimmed, untrimmed, fresh, frozen, cured, smoked, cooked, dried, etc.

(g) "Cut of meat" means a dressed carcass or any given part thereof.

(h) "Weight range" means the range of weights within which you sell cuts of pork at the same price per pound.

(i) "Seller of meat at wholesale" means every person who regularly sells meat to persons who are not ultimate consumers.

(j) "Ultimate consumer" means an individual who purchases meat for his own consumption or that of his household.

(m) "Civilian buyer" means any buyer other than the United States or any agency thereof.

(n) "Accounting period" means the customary accounting period of a calendar month or a period of a least four weeks and not more than five weeks in length used by you in keeping your books and records, and shall be the same period used by you in making reports, if any, to the United States Department of Agriculture or to the Office of Price Stabilization, pursuant to Distribution Regulation 1.

(o) "You" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof or any other government, or any of the political subdivisions or any agency of the foregoing, provided that no punishment shall apply to the United States or to any such government, political subdivision or agency.

Effective date. The provisions of this regulation shall be effective on and after May 7, 1951.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

APRIL 30, 1951.

APPENDIX A—BEEF

1. GRADES

Beef carcasses and the wholesale cuts therein contained derived from steers, heifers, cows, bulls and stags shall be graded in the following uniform grades: Prime, choice, good, commercial, utility, cutter and canner, except that no cow, or bull, or stag carcass or wholesale cut shall be graded prime. In determining the grade of each beef carcass, the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Carcass Beef" (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 7, Chapter 1, Subchapter C, Part 53, sections 53.102–104) shall be used, and the grade for such carcass shall apply to each wholesale cut derived therefrom.

2. GRADE MARKS

The appropriate grade mark for each grade of beef shall be as follows:

Grade	Grade mark
	By official graders	By other than official graders
Prime	Prime
Choice	Choice
Good	Good
Commercial	Commercial	40
Utility	Utility	50
Cutter	Cutter	60
Canner	Canner	70

The word "BULL" or "STAG" where applicable shall be stamped on each wholesale cut.

3. APPLICATION OF GRADE MARKS

Grade marks shall be applied in the following manner:

(a) By official graders. Grade marks applied by official graders shall be applied in accordance with the procedures specified in Instruction No. 918 (LS–S & G)–3 of the Production and Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture or any amendment or revision thereof.

(b) By other than official graders. Grade marks applied by persons other than official graders shall be stamped (i) with edible violet meat branding fluid, (ii) in numerals at least ½ inch in height, (iii) not more than two inches apart, and (iv) along both sides of the chine bone and continuing down the outside of the round or leg to the beginning of the gambrel cord, and also along the belly on each side of the carcass, across the shoulder and along the fore shank. The grade stamping device shall include only the grade numerals. Class identification ("BULL" or "STAG") shall be made with a hand stamp at least once on each wholesale cut in letters at least one inch in height.

APPENDIX B—VEAL AND CALF

1. GRADES

Veal and calf carcasses and the wholesale cuts therein contained shall be graded in the following uniform grades: Prime, choice, good, commercial, utility and cull. In determining the grade of each such carcass the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Veal and Calf Carcasses" (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 7, Chapter 1, Subchapter C, Part 53, sections 53.107–53.111) shall be used and the grade for such carcass shall apply to each wholesale cut derived therefrom, provided that if grading is performed by other than official graders no carcass shall be graded as veal or calf if it weighs more than 275 pounds, skin off, chilled, or 315 pounds, skin on, chilled. Such carcasses shall be graded as beef.

2. GRADE MARKS

The appropriate grade marks for each grade of veal or calf shall be as follows:

Grade	Grade mark
	By official graders	By other than official graders
Prime	Prime	[1] 10
Choice	Choice	20
Good	Good	30
Commercial	Commercial	40
Utility	Utility	50
Cull	Cull	60

[1] Not to be used except when carcass with skin on has been graded by an official grader.

The words "VEAL" or "CALF" where applicable shall be stamped on each wholesale cut.

3. APPLICATION OF GRADE MARKS

Grade marks shall be applied in the following manner:

(a) By official graders. Grade marks applied by official graders shall be applied in accordance with the procedures specified in Instruction No. 918 (LS–S & G)–3 of the Production and Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture or any amendment or revision thereof.

(b) By other than official graders. Grade marks applied by other than official graders shall be stamped (i) with edible violet meat branding fluid and (ii) in numerals at least ½ inch in height. A veal or calf carcass sold with the skin on shall be stamped only on the flanks and briskets. Upon removal of the skin, the grade marks shall be stamped not more than two inches apart along both sides of the chine bone and continuing down the outside of the round or leg to the beginning of the gambrel cord, and also not more than two inches apart along the belly on each side of the carcass, across the shoulder and along the shank. The grade stamping device shall include only the grade numerals. Class identification ("VEAL" or "CALF") shall be made with a hand stamp at least once on each wholesale cut in letters at least one inch in height.

APPENDIX C—LAMB, YEARLING MUTTON AND MUTTON

1. GRADES

Lamb, yearling mutton and mutton carcasses and the wholesale cuts therein contained shall be graded in the following uniform grades: Prime, choice, good, utility and cull, except that no mutton carcass shall be graded prime. In determining the grade of each lamb, yearling mutton and mutton carcass, the "Official U. S. Standards for Grades of Lamb, Yearling Mutton, and Mutton Carcasses" (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 7, Chapter I, Subchapter C, Part 53, sections 53.114–118) shall be used, and the grade for such carcass shall apply to each wholesale cut derived therefrom.

2. GRADE MARKS

The appropriate grade mark for each grade of lamb, yearling mutton or mutton shall be as follows:

Grade	Grade mark
	By official graders	By other than official graders
Prime	Prime
Choice	Choice
Good	Good
Utility	Utility	50
Cull	Cull	60

The word "YEARLING" or "MUTTON" where applicable shall be stamped on each wholesale cut.

3. APPLICATION OF GRADE MARKS

Grade marks shall be applied in the following manner:

(a) By official graders. Grade marks applied by official graders shall be applied in accordance with the procedures specified in Instruction No. 918 (LS–S & G)–3 of the Production and Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture or any amendment or revision thereof.

(b) By other than official graders. Grade marks applied by persons other than official graders shall be stamped (i) with edible violet meat branding fluid, (ii) in numerals at least ¼ inch in height, (iii) not more than two inches apart, and (iv) along both sides of the chine bone and continuing down the outside of the round or leg to the beginning of the gambrel cord, and also along the belly on each side of the carcass, across the shoulder and along the shank. The grade stamping device shall include only the grade numerals. Class identification ("YEARLING" or "MUTTON") shall be made with a hand stamp at least once on each wholesale cut in letters at least one inch in height.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Controlled Housing Rent Reg., Amdt. 372]

[Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments Rent Reg., Amdt. 367]

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

COLORADO, ILLINOIS, AND MICHIGAN

Amendment 372 to the Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1 to 825.12) and Amendment 367 to the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81 to 825.92). Said regulations are amended in the following respects:

1. Schedule A, Item 43, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Adams County; Arapahoe County, except the City of Englewood, and the Town of Littleton; Denver County; and Jefferson County, except the City of Golden, and the Town of Morrison.

This decontrols the Town of Morrison in Jefferson County, Colorado, a portion of the Denver, Colorado, Defense-Rental Area.

2. Schedule A, Item 83, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Cook County, except the Cities of Blue Island and Des Plaines, and the Villages of Mt. Prospect, Westchester and Winnetka; Du Page, Kane and Lake Counties.

This decontrols the Village of Mt. Prospect in Cook County, Illinois, a portion of the Chicago, Illinois, Defense-Rental Area.

3. Schedule A, Item 102, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Lake County, except the Cities of Crown Point, East Chicago, Hammond and Hobart, and the Townships of Cedar Creek, Eagle Creek, Hanover, West Creek and Winfield.

This decontrols the City of East Chicago in Lake County, Indiana, a portion of the Gary-Hammond, Indiana, Defense-Rental Area.

4. Schedule A, Item 149, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Oakland County, except (i) the Townships of Addison, Bloomfield, Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Independence, Milford, Oakland, Orion, Oxford, Rose, Springfield and West Bloomfield, (ii) the Villages of Clarkston, Holly, Lake Orion, Leonard, Milford, Ortonville, Oxford, Rochester and that portion of Orthville located in Oakland County, and (iii) the Cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Pontiac, Royal Oak, South Lyon and Sylvan Lake; Wayne County, except (i) the Cities of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Farms and Plymouth, (ii) the Village of Wayne, and (iii) that portion of the Village of Northville located in Wayne County; and Macomb County, except the City of Mount Clemens, and the Townships of Armada, Bruce, Lenox, Macomb, Ray, Richmond, Shelby, Sterling and Washington.

In Washtenaw County, the Township of Ann Arbor and the City of Ann Arbor.

This decontrols the City of Ferndale in Oakland County, Michigan, a portion of the Detroit, Michigan, Defense-Rental Area.

5. Schedule A, Item 151, is amended to read as follows:

(151) [Revoked and decontrolled.]

This decontrols (1) the City of Jackson in Jackson County, Michigan, a portion of the Jackson, Michigan, Defense-Rental Area, and all unincorporated localities in said Defense-Rental Area, said City of Jackson being the major portion of said Defense-Rental Area, based on a resolution submitted in accordance with section 204 (j) (3) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended, and (2) the remainder of said Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the remaining incorporated portions of Jackson County, if any, on the Housing Expediter's own initiative in accordance with section 204 (c) of said act.

All decontrols effected by this amendment, except Item 5 thereof, are based entirely on resolutions submitted in accordance with section 204 (j) (3) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1894)

This amendment shall be effective May 1, 1951.

Issued this 26th day of April 1951.

TIGHE E. WOODS,
Housing Expediter.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 21—VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION AND EDUCATION

SUBPART A—REGISTRATION AND RESEARCH

SUBPART C—TRAINING FACILITIES

1. In the Provisional Regulations of Subpart A, paragraphs (a) (2), (3), (4), and (5) of § 21.189 are canceled, so that § 21.189 is now canceled in its entirety.

2. In Subpart C, § 21.400 (a) (1) and the title of paragraph (b) are amended to read as follows:

§ 21.400 Manager, regional office, authorized to approve institutions. The manager of a regional office is authorized, with the exception of correspondence courses, to approve public or private educational institutions in his territory to provide courses of training under provisions of Part VII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12), subject to the following conditions:

(a) Inspection and accreditation. The chief, vocational rehabilitation and education division, will certify in writing to the manager on the basis of adequate investigation that the institution is clearly qualified as to space, equipment, instructional material, and personnel to give the course or courses, and that the institution has agreed to cooperate fully with the Veterans' Administration by reporting trainees' attendance, performance, and progress in training.

(1) Adequate investigation will include a personal investigation of the educational institution by a qualified staff member of the education and training section. Where the educational institution is recommended favorably by the education and training section for approval under Part VII, the training facilities section will prepare a contract for Part VII training or amend an existing Part VIII contract to include provisions for Part VII training.

* * * * * *

(b) Use of schools for Part VII training, when the institution has not been approved for use under Part VIII. * * *

3. Sections 21.401, 21.402, 21.403, and 21.404 are canceled.

§ 21.401 Authority to approve and to make arrangements with establishments for training on the job. [Canceled.]

§ 21.402 Establishments; inclusion of joint apprenticeship committees. [Canceled.]

§ 21.403 When to make approvals; Public Law 16, 78th Congress. [Canceled.]

§ 21.404 Approval must precede induction into training. [Canceled.]

4. New cross references are added immediately following § 21.400 to read as follows:

CROSS REFERENCES: Authority to make arrangements with establishments for training on the job under Part VII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12). See § 21.200.

Conditions to be met before induction into training. See § 21.220.

5. The centerhead immediately preceding § 21.412 is amended to read as follows: "Approval of Institutions and Establishments under Public Law 346, 78th Congress, as amended, for Part VIII, Veterans' Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12) training."

6. In § 21.412, the title and paragraph (b) are amended to read as follows:

§ 21.412 Institutions and establishments for education and training; inclusion of schools and colleges and business, industrial, and other establishments. • • •

(b) Establishments to be used for training on the job will consist of business, agricultural, and industrial enterprises; governmental agencies; educational and medical institutions; or other establishments which provide apprentice training or other training on the job, including especially those under the supervision of any State apprenticeship agency or Federal Bureau of Apprenticeship when the enrollee's course leads to the development of the desired skills and knowledges.

• • • • •

7. In § 21.413, paragraph (d) is amended and paragraph (l) is deleted as follows:

§ 21.413 Policy governing approval of institutional on-farm courses. • • •

(d) The term "farm or other agricultural establishment" shall mean any place on which the basic activity is the cultivation of the ground such as the raising and harvesting of crops, including fruits, vegetables, pastures, and/or the feeding, breeding and managing of livestock, including poultry, and other specialized farming commonly followed in the area. Such "farm or other agricultural establishment" shall be of a size and character which, together with the group instruction part of the course, will occupy the full time of the veteran, will permit instruction in all aspects of the managing of the farm of the type for which the veteran is being trained, and which if the veteran intends to continue operating such "farm or other agricultural establishment" at the conclusion of his course, will assure him a satisfactory income under normal conditions. Within the meaning of Public Law 377, institutional on-farm training will not apply to training in those establishments which are engaged primarily in the processing, distribution, or sale of agricultural products, or combinations thereof, such as dairy processing plants, grain elevators, packing plants, hatcheries, stockyards, florist shops, and so forth. Establishments desiring to offer such training must qualify under Public Law 679, 79th Congress.

• • • • •

(l) [Deleted.]

8. Section 21.418 is amended to read as follows:

§ 21.418 Approval and disapproval of educational institutions and business or industrial establishments by State approving agency or Administrator. Institutions and establishments in which education or training is provided must be approved by the appropriate State approving agency of the State in which they are located, or by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, as being qualified and equipped to furnish education or training in accordance with Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12).

(a) Approval by State approving agency. The appropriate State approving agency, or agencies, designated by the proper State authority for that purpose, will have authority to approve educational or training institutions and/or establishments within its State, under Part VIII, other than Federal agencies and establishments and except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section:

(1) The appropriate State approving agency will certify and transmit in duplicate direct to the manager of the Veterans' Administration regional office having jurisdiction over the veterans' affairs within the area in which the institution or establishment is located, the name and address of each institution of each establishment which is approved as qualified and equipped to furnish education or training under Part VIII, together with the following:

(i) For training on-the-job courses: The title of the course, the course outline. For establishments offering "other training on the job," the Veterans' Administration will request from the State approving agency the written application of the establishment and the survey report of the State approving agency upon which the approval was based.

(ii) For institutional courses: The title of the course and the description of the course. For institutions subject to the provisions of section 5, Public Law 610, 81st Congress, the Veterans' Administration will request from the State approving agency the written application of the institution and the survey report of the State approving agency upon which the approval action was taken.

(iii) All actions of the State approving agency which modify or cancel prior approvals.

(2) The appropriate State approving agency, or agencies, will transmit direct to the Director, Training Facilities Service. Vocational Rehabilitation and Education, Veterans' Administration Washington 25, D. C., the name and address of each educational institution within the State which has been approved to offer correspondence courses under Part VIII and will indicate the specific course or courses for which the institution has been approved to offer training through correspondence. Likewise, the appropriate State approving agency, or agencies, will furnish the Director, Training Facilities Service, Vocational Rehabilitation and Education, Veterans' Administration, Washington 25, D. C., the names and addresses of any educational institutions offering correspondence courses, approval of which has been withdrawn.

(b) Approval by Administrator (not including actions under Public Law 610, 81st Cong.). Authority given the Administrator to approve educational institutions and establishments under paragraph 4, Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will be exercised only under extraordinary circumstances.

(1) It is the policy of the Administrator not to exercise his authority to approve institutions offering courses of instruction in residence or correspondence study except in those special cases where the State approving agency has withdrawn its approval and the regional office takes appropriate action under paragraph (d) (2) of this section.

(2) In requesting the Administrator's approval of establishments to provide training on the job to veterans under Part VIII, as amended, the manager shall submit to the assistant administrator for vocational rehabilitation and education, central office, through the special assistant to the director, training facilities service for vocational rehabilitation and education, for the area concerned, the following information and material:

(i) A copy of the application of the establishment to the State approving agency prepared in accordance with the provision of paragraph 11 (b) 1 of Part VIII.

(ii) A statement from the State approving agency as to the basis for determining that the establishment was not to be approved and was not qualified and equipped to furnish training under Part VIII, together with a copy of the survey report upon which the State approving agency's determination was based.

(iii) A summary prepared by the regional office which will clearly set forth the justification for the request to the Veterans' Administration, the recommendation of the regional office, and the basis for such recommendation.

(c) Limitations on the use of educational institutions under Public Law 610, 81st Congress—(1) General. Under the provisions of section 1, Public Law 610, 81st Congress, the Administrator shall disapprove a course in any institution which has been in operation for a period of less than 1 year immediately prior to the date of enrollment in such course unless such enrollment was prior to August 24, 1949, but this shall not require or permit the disapproval of (i) any course in a public school or other tax-supported school, (ii) any course in an institution which has been in operation for a period of more than 1 year which does not completely depart from the whole character of the instruction previously given by such institution or, (iii) any course in an institution which has been in operation for a period of more than 1 year by reason of a change in the location of such institution from one point to another within the same general locality: Provided, That upon the certification of any State approval agency that a new or existing institution is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in such State, the Administrator, in his discretion, may approve such an institution notwithstanding the provisions of this section.

(2) Institutions and courses in operation less than one year. Under the provisions of section 1, Public Law 610, 81st Congress, the following is for application for courses in institutions which have been in operation for a period of less than 1 year.

(i) Benefits under Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will not be authorized for any veteran who, on or subsequent to August 24, 1949, commences a course which has been in operation for a period of less than 1 year in either a new or an existing institution, unless such enrollment is in:

(a) An institution of higher learning operated as a public tax-supported or religious or charitable corporation or agency or under the control of a public tax-supported or religious or charitable corporation or agency; or a branch or extension of such institution if the branch or extension is of the same general type as the institution or as the branches or extensions established by the institution prior to August 24, 1949, or

(b) A public or other tax-supported school which is operated under the control and supervision of local, municipal, county, or State boards of education, or

(c) An apprenticeship or other on-the-job training course, or

(d) A course in an institution which has been in operation for a period of more than 1 year, which course although not having been in operation for a period of 1 year, does not depart completely from the whole character of the instruction previously given by the institution. (A course will be considered not to depart from the whole character of instruction previously given by the institution when it is intended to provide training in the same general occupational field as courses previously furnished by the institution for a period of more than 1 year and involves the same or related instructional processes, facilities, and equipment. For example, a course in television servicing does not depart from the whole character of instruction in radio servicing, whereas a course in carpentry does depart from the whole character of instruction provided in a course of automobile mechanics. Each case of a new course commenced by an institution which has been in operation for a period of more than 1 year which is alleged not to depart completely from the whole character of the instruction previously given by the institution will be submitted by the regional office through the special assistant to the director, training facilities service, to the assistant administrator for vocational rehabilitation and education for consideration of approval before action is taken by the regional office to recognize the award of benefits to veterans enrolling in such course.), or

(e) A course given by an institution which, although having moved to a new location in the same general locality (a point within a radius of 25 miles of the original location), or changed ownership or management, remained essentially the same institution with the same courses, and which as now or previously constituted has been in existence and operation more than 1 year, or

(f) A course given by an institution, which course has been established for more than 1 year, notwithstanding the fact that the institution, because of space limitations, gives the course or courses in classes in another building or buildings in the same city or metropolitan area, or

(g) A course offered or established prior to August 24, 1949, in an institution which as of that date had operated for more than 1 year.

(ii) For the purpose of Public Law 610, 81st Congress, an institution is defined as a school when it operates in one location. A subsidiary branch or extension of an existing school in the same or different general locality is considered to be a separate institution, except in the case of an institution established for more than 1 year which, because of space limitations, gives the course or courses in classes in another building or buildings in the same city.

(iii) An institution is considered to have been in operation 1 year when it has given for 12 calendar months a full schedule of instruction to a minimum of 25 full-time students, or the equivalent thereof in part-time students, for which the school has collected tuition. The new institution must have been in continuous operation for a full 12-month period, including reasonable vacation and holiday periods, and must have provided continuously to a minimum of 25 students, or the equivalent thereof in part-time students, during that full 12-month period, the course or courses of substantially the same length and character as those offered following the 12-month period.

(iv) A course is considered to have been in operation for 1 year when there has been provided a full schedule of instruction for a full 12-month period, including reasonable vacation and holiday periods to a minimum of 25 full-time students or the equivalent thereof in part-time students for which the school has collected tuition.

(3) Administrator's action upon the certification of any State approving agency that a course in a new or existing institution is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in such State. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, benefits under Part VIII, may be authorized for an otherwise eligible veteran who on or subsequent to August 24, 1949, commences a course which has not been in operation for a period of 1 year in a new or existing institution: Provided, That the appropriate State approving agency certifies to the Administrator, in accordance with the provisions prescribed in subdivisions (i) through (v) of this subparagraph, that the course in the new or existing institution is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in such State, and the Administrator concurs in the State's certification and thereby authorizes such benefits.

(i) When a State approving agency receives a request for approval from a new or existing institution for a course which has been in operation for a period of less than 1 year and the State approving agency determines that the institution or course is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in that State, the State approving agency will certify its findings to the Administrator.

(ii) The certification of the State approving agency will be submitted in duplicate to the regional office in whose area the institution is located. The certification of the State approving agency must include, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) The school's written application to the State approving agency prepared on the same basis as required under paragraph 11 (e) 1, Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a) as amended (added by section 5, Public Law 610, 81st Congress),

(b) The determination of the State approving agency that the school has been found upon investigation to have met the criteria set forth in paragraph 11e (2), Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a) as amended (added by section 5, Public Law 610, 81st Congress), and a copy of the survey report upon which such finding is based.

(c) The determination of the State approving agency that the occupation for which the course is intended to provide training is not crowded in the State where the training is to be given and that existing training facilities are inadequate, together with the basis upon which each of these determinations were made.

(d) The certification of the State approving agency that the school or course is essential to meet the requirements of veterans who are residents of that particular State, together with a statement as to the basis upon which the State approving agency made its determination of essentiality.

(e) Such additional information or materials the State approving agency deems important as a basis for administrative decision.

(iii) Under the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, the Administrator, in his discretion, may concur in the State approving agency's certification that a new course in a new or existing institution is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in a particular State. This authority is retained by the Administrator and is not delegated to the managers of field stations. Upon receipt of the certification, in duplicate, from the State approving agency, the regional office will review the material submitted and will forward one copy of it to the director, training facilities service, central office, through the special assistant to the director, training facilities service, for the area, together with the recommendation of the regional office for favorable or unfavorable action by the Administrator and the reasons therefor. The special assistant to the director, training facilities service, will review the file and forward it immediately to central office with his recommendation.

(iv) Upon action by the Administrator, the Veterans' Administration regional office will be promptly notified of such action and the chief, training facilities section, regional office, will advise the State approving agency of the Administrator's action. It will be the responsibility of the State approving agency to notify the school of the Administrator's decision.

(v) Upon receipt by the regional office of notification that the Administrator has concurred with the certification of the State approving agency that a school or course is essential to meet the requirements of veterans in the State, the training facilities section will provide the registration and research section with notification of such action, including information concerning the course or courses to be provided by the school, and the effective date of such action.

(d) Disapproval by State approving agency. When the State approving agency determines that a course of instruction in an institution or establishment in which veterans are enrolled under Part VIII is disapproved and, therefore, is removed from the approved list by the State approving agency, appropriate notice, in duplicate, will be provided to the manager of the regional office concerned. Upon receiving such a notice, the training facilities section will request a statement from the State approving agency, through the Veterans' Administration liaison representative, as to the reason or reasons for such action, if not already provided.

(1) Where the removal action of the State approving agency was based upon the failure of an institution to meet the provisions of paragraph 11 (e) 2 of Part VIII, or of the failure of an establishment to meet the provision of paragraph 11 (b) 2 of Part VIII (where such institution or establishment is subject to such provisions), the determination of the State approving agency will be final.

(2) Where the removal action of the State approving agency was based upon reasons other than the failure of the institution to meet the provisions of paragraph 11 (e) 2 of Part VIII, or of the failure of the establishment to meet the provisions of paragraph 11 (b) 2 of Part VIII, regardless of whether such institution or establishment is subject to such provisions, the following is for application:

(i) Where there is evidence which indicates a definite intention and effort on the part of the institution or establishment to correct the inadequacies which necessitated revocation of its approval, and the evidence shows that the institution or establishment has the ability to correct such inadequacies within a reasonable length of time, the manager, upon recommendation of the chief, vocational rehabilitation and education, will set a specific date, not to exceed 60 days from the date of revocation of approval, which date will become the effective date of disapproval unless reapproval is received in the regional office by the expiration date.

(ii) In addition, where exceptional conditions warrant such action, the manager will submit a full report to the assistant administrator for vocational rehabilitation and education, central office, requesting authority to continue subsistence allowances and payments, if any, for a specified period, beyond the 60-day period.

(3) In the event that the institution or establishment which has been disapproved by the State approving agency is also approved for training under Part VII, the manager will determine whether the Veterans' Administration is to revoke its approval of the institution or establishment. If such action is taken, each Part VII veteran in training therein will be notified of such action and every effort will be made by the regional office to effect a prompt transfer of each veteran to another institution or establishment offering the same course of training, so that each Part VII veteran may be continued in a training status without interruption.

(e) Limitations concerning educational institutions or establishments which have excess enrollment. In the case of each school operated for profit which is subject to the provisions of section 5, Public Law 610, 81st Congress, the State approving agency is required to certify to the Veterans' Administration the maximum number of students authorized to be trained in each approved course in each school at any one time. In addition, for any other type of school (those profit or nonprofit schools not affected by section 5, Public Law 610, 81st Cong.), the State approving agency may set a limitation on the number of approved trainees in an approved course and certify such data to the Veterans' Administration, similarly, the State approving agency may set a limitation on the number of approved trainees for each objective in a job training establishment and certify such data to the Veterans' Administration. Where the institution has trainees in a course in excess of the number for which the course was approved by the State approving agency, the institution has violated the conditions under which approval was granted. Likewise, where a job-training establishment has trainees in a job objective in excess of the number for which the objective was approved by the State approving agency, the establishment has violated the conditions under which approval was granted. The Veterans' Administration will take immediate action to notify the State approving agency of the enrollment in excess of its approval and request that the Veterans' Administration be informed at the earliest practicable date as to the action of the State approving agency. When the State approving agency determines that a course of instruction in an institution or establishment in which veterans are enrolled under Part VIII is disapproved, the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section are for application. In addition, in view of the question of payment for tuition, fees, etc., where enrollment in an approved course in an educational institution is found to be in excess of the number specified in the State's approval and the contract (and retroactive reapproval is not made by the State), any subsistence or tuition paid for such excess enrollment subsequent to the effective date of this section (May 1, 1951) shall constitute a liability of the school and shall be recovered by offsetting sums against amounts, if any, otherwise payable to it, or as otherwise authorized by law.

9. Section 21.419 is amended to read as follows:

§ 21.419 Relation to State approving agency. "No department, agency, or officer of the United States, in carrying out the provisions of this part, shall exercise any supervision or control, whatsoever, over any State educational agency, or State apprenticeship agency, or any educational or training institution. * * *" (par. 8, Part VIII, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12)). Therefore, no supervision or control may be exercised by any representative of the Veterans' Administration over any State approving agency. In all dealings with State approving agencies, Veterans' Administration personnel will refrain from any intimation which may be construed as an attempt to supervise or control the agency.

(a) Cooperation, when requested, will be given State approving agencies by Veterans' Administration regional office personnel wherever possible. Such information as may be desired by the State approving agency concerning any educational or training institution and any standards being used in connection with selecting training facilities under Public Law 16, 78th Congress, will be supplied upon request. It must not be assumed by the State approving agency, however, that the Veterans' Administration will be responsible for approving such institutions under Public Law 346, 78th Congress, as amended.

(b) Full information concerning the inadequacies of any Part VIII institution or establishment approved by the State approving agency which has been called to the attention of the regional office will be immediately transmitted to the training facilities section for routing to the State approving agency, through the Veterans' Administration liaison representative, for investigation. Upon investigation at the institution or establishment by a qualified representative of the State approving agency, the State approving agency will be requested to submit a report thereof, in duplicate, to the manager of the regional office. A copy of such report will be transmitted to the director, training facilities service, central office.

(1) Where the State approving agency's investigation report indicates that the institution or establishment is qualified or equipped to offer education or training under Part VIII despite the charges of inadequacies, the determination of the State approving agency will be final. (However, this does not mean that payments will continue to be made to such school notwithstanding fraud.)

(2) Where the State approving agency's investigation report indicates that the institution or establishment is not now qualified or equipped to offer education or training under Part VIII, the State approving agency is expected to inform the regional office of such condition and of the action taken thereon, together with the effective date of such action. In such cases, § 21.418 (d) (1) and (2) is for application.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter E—Alaska Wildlife Protection

PART 46—TAKING ANIMALS, BIRDS, AND GAME FISHES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Basis and purposes. Investigations by the Fish and Wildlife Service and the Alaska Game Commission and personal observations of citizens and agencies within Alaska indicate that changing conditions within the Territory, including changes in both human and wildlife populations, still require further protection to wildlife in some instances and permit some relaxation of regulatory protection in other instances. Following the public meetings held at Juneau and elsewhere in the Territory on proposed regulation amendments the Commission has recommended the changes herein to conserve the wildlife resources of Alaska and still permit such utilization thereof as is consistent with the preservation of breeding stocks of game and fur animals, birds, and game fishes.

Having taken into consideration the said observations, investigations, proposals, and recommendations, I have determined that the following amendments of existing regulations will effectuate the purposes of the Alaska Game Law:

1. Sections 46.21 and 46.56 are amended to read as follows:

§ 46.21 General provisions. No person shall take, possess, or transport game animals, wild fur animals (except wolves, coyotes and wolverines), game birds, or game fishes, or purchase or sell wild fur animals or parts thereof, except as provided in §§ 46.81 to 46.87, inclusive, nor act as a guide in the Territory unless he is in possession of a valid license bearing his signature written in ink on the face thereof (if he is required by the Alaska Game Law or regulations of the Commission thereunder to have such a license), and shall have his license on his person when taking such animals, birds or game fish, or when acting as a guide and shall produce it for inspection by any enforcement agent or other person requesting to see it.

§ 46.56 General provisions. Each fur dealer, including Indian or Eskimo cooperative stores operated exclusively by and for native Indians and Eskimos, and stores operated by missions exclusively for native Indians or Eskimos, at all reasonable hours shall allow any member of the Commission, any enforcement agent, or any authorized employee of the United States Department of the Interior to enter and inspect the premises where operations are being carried on under the Alaska Game Law and the regulations thereunder, and to inspect the books and records relating thereto.

2. A new section designated as § 46.59 is added as follows:

§ 46.59 Taxidermists. No person shall receive and possess, or transport any dead game or fur bearing animal, game bird, or game fish for processing, stuffing or mounting unless he keeps a detailed and accurate record of the name, address, and license number of the person from whom such animal, bird, fish, or part thereof was received, and such records, as well as the premises where the business of processing, stuffing, or mounting is carried on shall, at all reasonable hours, be open to inspection by any member of the Commission or enforcement agent or any authorized employee of the United States Department of the Interior.

3. Sections 46.65, 46.100, 46.101, 46.103 to 46.108 inclusive, 46.110, and 46.126 are amended to read as follows:

§ 46.65 Export by resident. No resident shall export from the Territory any game animal or game bird, or part thereof, except in accordance with the terms of an export permit issued under the direction of the Executive Officer of the Commission. Such permit shall be obtained upon payment of the required fee from any Fish and Wildlife Service enforcement agent and from collectors of customs designated by the Commission, and the shipping tags furnished therewith shall be securely attached on the outside of each package in the shipment by the shipper at the point of origin and accompany it to final destination.

§ 46.100 General provisions. The animals, birds, and game fishes listed in §§ 46.100 to 46.113, inclusive, §§ 46.126 to 46.135, inclusive, §§ 46.140 to 46.142, inclusive, §§ 46.150 and 46.151, and §§ 46.155 and 46.156, but none other, may be taken in the open seasons (dates inclusive), by the methods and means, in the areas, and in numbers not exceeding the respective daily bag and seasonal bag limits, or possession limits prescribed in §§ 46.103 to 46.113, inclusive, §§ 46.129 to 46.135, inclusive, §§ 46.142 and 46.143, §§ 46.151 and 46.156, but not at any other time, by any other method, aid, or means, nor in any other areas or numbers: Provided, That no birds or animals may be taken by shooting from, on, or across or within 33 feet of the center line of any highway; nor, may any big game animal, except black bear, be taken by shooting from within the one-quarter mile area on each side of the Alaska Railroad, or any public highway, or within the one mile area on each side of any public highway on the Kenai Peninsula.

§ 46.101 Methods and means. May be taken only with a shotgun (not larger than No. 10 gauge and not capable of holding more than three shells), rifle or pistol using center fire cartridges only, but not with aid or use of a dog, machine or submachine gun, set gun of any description, bow and arrow, or spear, pit, deadfall, fire, jacklight, searchlight, or other artificial light, two-way radio communications or artificial salt licks, or from or by means, or aid, of a motor vehicle, aircraft, steam or power launch, or any boat except that propelled by paddle, oars, or pole, nor while such animals are swimming; Provided, That hares and rabbits may be taken by aid of a dog, bow and arrow, and by snares not larger than No. 1, rifles and pistols using rim fire cartridges: Except and provided, That the taking of hare and rabbits and game birds in the Anchorage area as described in § 46.193 is permitted by use of bow and arrow or shotgun only: And provided further, That no aircraft shall be used for the purpose of driving, circling, molesting, spotting, or in aiding in the taking of big game animals except as a means of transportation between a settlement or point of outfitting and a camp site on which a camp must be erected and established prior to hunting: And provided further, That no helicopter shall be used for the purpose of transporting any big game animal nor may it be used as a means of transportation in any manner connected with taking of such animals.

§ 46.103 Deer. Bucks (with antlers not less than 3 inches above the top of the skull).

East of longitude 138° W. (except in the Sullivan Island-Taiya, area, as described in § 46.194), September 1 to November 15. Limit, by a resident, 2 a season; by a nonresident, 1 a season. West of longitude 138° W. (except on the Kodiak-Afognak Island group, as described in § 46.194), September 15 to October 15. Limit, 1 a season.

§ 46.104 Moose. Bulls (with forked horn or larger).

East of longitude 139° W., September 15 to October 14. Limit, 1 a year. On the Kenai Peninsula, September 1 to September 20. Limit, 1 a year. Elsewhere west of longitude 141° W. (except in the Copper River Delta, Turnagain Arm, Northwest Arctic Slope and Alaska Peninsula areas as described in §§ 46.195 to 46.198, inclusive), September 1 to September 20 and December 1 to December 10. Limit, 1 a year. In addition not exceeding 75 bull moose may be taken from December 11 through December 23 in that portion of the Palmer area west of Knik Arm and the Matanuska River under permit issued by the Commission pursuant to § 165.3.

There shall be no open season between meridians 138° W. and 141° W. longitude.

§ 46.105 Caribou. (Except calves.)

South of a line formed by the Alaska Range and Ahklun Mountains from the Canadian border on the east to Cape Newenham on the west (but not in the Alaska Peninsula and Mt. Sanford areas as described in §§ 46.198 and 46.199), September 1 to September 30 only. Limit, 1 a year. In the area bounded by the Alaska Range and Ahklun Mountains on the south and the Arctic Circle on the north (but not in the Mt. Sanford and Steese Highway areas as described in §§ 46.199 and 46.200), September 1 to October 15 and December 1 to December 10. Limit, 1 a year. North of the Arctic Circle, August 20 to February 28. Limit, 3 a year.

§ 46.106. Elk. In the Territory, no open season.

§ 46.107 Mountain goat. (Except kids.)

East of longitude 138° W. (but not on Chichagof Island in Southeastern Alaska), August 20 to November 15. Limit, by a resident, 2 a season; by a nonresident, 1 a season. West of longitude 138° W. (but not in the Sheep Mountain and Day Harbor areas as described in §§ 46.201 and 46.202, or on Kodiak Island), September 1 to October 31. Limit, in the drainage to Prince William Sound, east of longitude 148° W., by a resident, 2 a season; by a nonresident, 1 a season; elsewhere, 1 a season. (NOTE: See § 46.68 regarding retaining horns for identity of goats.)

§ 46.108 Mountain sheep. (Rams with ¾ curl or larger.)

In the Territory (except on the Kenai Peninsula, the drainage into Lake Clark above Nondalton, and in the Sheep Mountain, Tanana Hills-White Mountains and Mentasta Pass areas as described in §§ 46.202, 46.203 and 46.204), August 20 to August 31; Provided, That hunting for sheep in the Talkeetna-Chugach Mountains controlled areas, as stated in § 165.1, shall be by permit only and in accordance with regulations of the Commission stated in that section. Limit, 1 a year.

§ 46.110 Bear. (Large brown and grizzly.)

In the Territory, but not in the Thayer Mountain or Pack Creek areas as described in §§ 46.205 and 46.206, September 1 to June 20. Limit, on the Kodiak-Afognak Island group and in the Alaska Peninsula area as described in §§ 46.194 and 46.198, a year. Elsewhere in the Territory, 2 a year.

§ 46.126 Methods and means. May be taken by any means, except by means, aid or use of a set gun, a shotgun, artificial light of any kind, a steel bear trap or other trap with jaws having a spread exceeding 9 inches, poison, a dog (except wolves and coyotes in Fur Districts 5, 6, 7, and 8), a fish trap or net, or by setting any trap or snare within 25 feet of a beaver home or den or within 100 feet of a fox den, or by use of smoke or chemicals; or by destroying or disturbing homes, houses, dens, dams, or runways of such animals: Provided, That mink and otter may be taken only by means of a steel trap or snare and that beaver may be taken only by means of a steel trap or snare and by persons over the age of 11 years: And provided further, That snares larger than No. 1 are prohibited on the Kenai Peninsula, except in the taking of beaver, and that wolves and coyotes may be killed at any time by means of a rifle, shotgun, or pistol, by any person permitted to carry firearms: And provided further, That no aircraft shall be used in taking fur animals, other than polar bear, except as a means of transportation between a settlement or point of outfitting and a single base camp, and except in the taking of wolves and coyotes by authorized predator control agents or under authority of a permit: And provided further, That no helicopter shall be used for the purpose of taking fur animals, including polar bear, or for transporting any such animals.

4. A new section designated as § 46.128 is added as follows:

§ 46.128 Permits to take wolves, coyotes and wolverines during closed season on other fur animals. During the closed season on mink, land otter, weasel, fox, lynx, and marten, in the respective fur districts, no person shall set, maintain, or attend traps for wolves, coyotes, or wolverines without first procuring a permit, issuable at the discretion of the Commission, authorizing him to do so. Applications for such permit shall be addressed to the nearest Fish and Wildlife Service field office and shall contain a statement of the nature and extent and locality of the proposed operation and the species of animals to be taken.

5. Sections 46.129 to 46.132 inclusive, and 46.134 are amended to read as follows:

§ 46.129 Seasons for mink and land otter.

Fur District 1: December 16 to January 15. No limit.

Fur District 2 (except on the Kenai Peninsula and in the drainage into Prince William Sound), 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8: November 16 to January 31. No limit.

§ 46.130 Seasons for fox, lynx, and weasel (ermine).

Fur District 1: December 16 to January 15. No limit.

Fur District 2 (except on the Kenai Peninsula and in the drainage into Prince William Sound), 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8: November 16 to January 31. White fox: December 1 to March 15; Provided, That any fox may be killed at any time when molesting or about to molest domestic fowl or animals. No limit.

§ 46.131 Seasons for muskrat.

Fur District 1: No open season.

Fur District 2 (except on the Kenai Peninsula and in the drainage into Prince William Sound), 3, 4, 6, and 7: November 16 to May 31. No limit.

Fur District 5: North of the Unalakleet River, November 16 to June 7, and south of the Unalakeet River, November 16 to May 31. No limit.

Fur District 8: November 16 to June 7. No limit.

§ 46.132 Seasons for beaver.

Fur District 1: No open season.

Fur District 2 (except in the drainage into Prince William Sound and within a strip one-half mile wide on each side of the Copper River Road from Eyak Bridge to Mile 15): February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season.

Fur District 3: February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season.

Fur District 4 (except in the drainage of the Kvichak River from Illamna Lake to a line between the north banks of the mouths of the Alagnak River and Bear Creek): February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season.

Fur District 5 (in the Kobuk River drainage only): February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season. (No open season in the remainder of Fur District 5.)

Fur District 6 (except in the Clearwater area as described in § 46.200 or in the Chena River and its tributary sloughs from its confluence with the Little Chena River to the Tanana River): February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season.

Fur District 7: February 1 to March 31. Limit, 10 a season.

§ 45.134 Seasons for marten.

Fur District 1: No open season.

Fur District 2 (except on the Kenai Peninsula and in the drainage into Prince William Sound), 3, 4, 5 (except in the Kobuk and Selawik River drainages), 6 and 7: November 16 to January 31. No limit.

6. A new section designated as § 46.144 is added as follows:

§ 46.144 Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp (Duck Stamp). No person over 16 years of age may take migratory waterfowl unless at the time of such taking he has on his person an unexpired Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp (Duck Stamp) validated by his signature written across the face thereof in ink, as required by the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act of March 16, 1934, as amended.

7. Sections 46.151, 46.155, 46.156, 46.172, 46.175, 46.189, 46.193, 46.194, 46.195, 46.198, and 46.200 are amended to read as follows:

§ 46.151 Closed areas. No nongame bird may be taken at any time in any national park, monument, or posted national forest area, nor in any of the areas described in §§ 46.168 to 46.171, inclusive, and in § 46.187.

§ 46.155 Methods and means. May be taken by angling with a line held in the hand or attached to a rod so held, but each line shall at no time have attached to it more than two flies or hooks, nor more than one plug, spoon, or spinner: Provided, That the use of snag or gang hooks is prohibited. Provided further, That only artificial lures may be used in Kenai River from the outlet of Skilak Lake to a point 200 yards below the outlet of Moose River. Lake trout and Dolly Varden trout may be taken by use of net, trap or seine in the glacial waters of Trail, Kenai, Skilak and Tustamena Lake on the Kenai Peninsula and in all drainages into the Arctic Ocean north of Cape Krusenstern, and in salt water; but no game fish may be taken by any means within 500 feet of any operating fish weir or fish ladder.

§ 46.156 Seasons and limits. Rainbow, steelhead, cutthroat, eastern brook and Dolly Varden trout, Mackinaw or lake trout, and grayling.

Dewey Lake near Skagway and Salmon Creek Reservoir near Juneau, May 15 to September 30.

Davidof, Plotnikof, Khvostof, and Rezanof Lakes on Baranof Island, July 1 to March 15.

The drainages of Cottonwood, Fish, Fire, and Wolverine Creeks in the Matanuska Valley, Nancy Lake and outlet to a point one mile below the lake, all of the Kenai Peninsula, June 1 to March 15.

Elsewhere, no closed season. Except, that lower Russian River shall be closed to all fishing: And provided further, That fishing is prohibited in the Territory in all waters where game fish planting or restocking is being conducted, whenever such waters are so designated by appropriate posted signs.

Limits. In the Territory (except in Katmai National Monument and Mt. McKinley National Park), daily limit, 15 fish or 15 pounds and 1 fish, except in the drainages to Cook Inlet, Bristol Bay and Clearwater Creek above Big Delta, where the limit shall be 10 fish or 10 pounds and 1 fish. Possession limit east of Cape Spencer, 2 daily bag limits; elsewhere, one daily bag limit in possession; Provided, There shall be no limit on Dolly Varden trout in salt water or in the drainages into Bristol Bay and in streams of the Second Judicial Division (except the Nome, Snake Flambeau, and Eldorado Rivers).

NOTE: In Katmai National Monument, fishing is permitted in accordance with National Park Service regulations—see 36 CFR 20.46. In Mt. McKinley National Park, consult local National Park Service regulations.

(See also §§ 46.61 and 46.72 and §§ 46.81 to 46.87, covering transportation, possession and sale.)

§ 46.172 Charley Creek. All of the drainage of Charley Creek, also known as the Kandik River, from the Canadian boundary to the mouth of Judge Creek, approximately 14 miles above the Yukon River.

§ 46.175 Chestochina River. All of the drainage of the Chestochina River upstream from and including the Middle Fork in Fur District 6.

§ 46.189 Shoemaker Bay. Embracing that portion of Wrangell Island draining into Zimovia Strait from Polk Point to Chichagof Peak. The southern boundary shall be a line from Chichagof Peak to the extreme southern end of Zimovia Highway. (Closed on all game animals and beaver).

§ 46.193 Anchorage. All of the drainage on the east and south shores of Turnagain and Knik Arms between Potter and the Knik River Highway bridge. (Closed to all hunting except for goats and sheep; and for hare, rabbit and game birds with bow and arrow and shotgun, only).

§ 46.194 Kodiak-Afognak Island group: Sullivan Island-Taiya area. All of the islands in the Kodiak-Afognak Island group, and in all of the drainage into Lynn Canal north of the latitude of Pt. Sherman in Southeastern Alaska. (Closed on deer) (reduced limit on bear on Kodiak-Afognak Islands).

§ 46.195 Copper River Delta area. Beginning at Point Whiteshed, thence north and east along the coast to the head of Orca Bay (also known as Nelson Bay), and the mouth of Rude River; thence along the easterly bank of said river to its headwaters; thence easterly to the head of Childs Glacier; thence down the center line of said glacier to the center of the C. R. & N. W. Railway bridge across the Copper River; thence up the center line of Miles Glacier to the summit of Mt. Hawkins; thence along the summit of the Chugach Range to Mt. St. Elias; thence southwesterly to the head of Icy Bay; thence westerly along the coast of the Gulf of Alaska to Point Whiteshed, the point of beginning. (Closed on moose).

§ 46.198 Alaska Peninsula. South and west of Naknek River, Naknek Lake, and the Katmai National Monument. (Closed on moose and caribou; reduced limit on bear).

§ 46.200 Steese Highway. The area lying within 5 miles of the west side of the Steese Highway between Mileposts 84 and 89 on 12 Mile Summit, and between Mileposts 102 and 112 on Eagle Summit; and the area lying within 20 miles of the east side of the Steese Highway between Mileposts 70 (Faith Creek) and 112. (Closed on caribou).

(Sec. 9, 57 Stat. 506; 48 U. S. C. 198)

These amendments shall become effective on July 1, 1951.

MASTIN G. WHITE,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

APRIL 24, 1951.

Chapter III—International Regulatory Agencies (Fishing and Whaling)

Subchapter A—International Fisheries Commission

PART 301—PACIFIC HALIBUT FISHERIES

Regulations of the International Fisheries Commission adopted pursuant to the Pacific Halibut Fishery Convention between the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada, signed January 29, 1937.

Sec.
301.1 Regulatory areas.
301.2 Limit of catch in each area.
301.3 Length of closed season.
301.4 Issuance of licenses and conditions limiting their validity.
301.5 Retention of halibut taken with other fish under permit.
301.6 Issuance of permits and conditions limiting their validity.
301.7 Statistical return by vessels.
301.8 Statistical return by dealers.
301.9 Closed small halibut grounds.
301.10 Dory gear prohibited.
301.11 Nets prohibited.
301.12 Retention of tagged halibut.
301.13 Responsibility of master.
301.14 Supervision of unloading and weighing.

AUTHORITY: §§ 301.1 to 301.14 issued under Art. III, 50 Stat. Part 2, 1353.

§ 301.1 Regulatory areas. Convention waters which include the territorial waters and the high seas off the western coasts of Canada and the United States of America including the southern as well as the western coasts of Alaska, shall be divided into the following areas, all directions given being magnetic unless otherwise stated.

(a) Area 1A shall include all convention waters southeast of a line running northeast and southwest through Cape Blanco Light, as shown on Chart 5952, published in February 1935, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately latitude 42°50'14" N., longitude 124°33'45" W.

(b) Area 1B shall include all convention waters between Area 1A and a line running northeast and southwest through Willapa Bay Light on Cape Shoalwater, as shown on Chart 6185, published in July 1939, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately in latitude 46°43'17" N., longitude 124°04'15" W.

(c) Area 2A shall include all convention waters off the coasts of the United States of America and of Alaska and of the Dominion of Canada between Area 1B and a line running through the most westerly point of Glacier Bay, Alaska, to Cape Spencer Light as shown on Chart 8304, published in June 1940, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately latitude 58°11'57" N., longitude 136°38'18" W., thence south one-quarter east and is exclusive of Area 2B and Area 2C and of the nursery areas closed to all halibut fishing in § 301.9.

(d) Area 2B shall include all convention waters in the southern part of Hecate Straits off the coast of British Columbia within the following boundary: from the eastern extremity of Cumshewa Head on Moresby Island, approximately latitude 53°02'00" N., longitude 132°36'20" W., to the northern extremity of the second largest island of the Moore Islands group, approximately latitude 52°40'05" N., longitude 129°25'32" W.; thence to the northern extremity of Conroy Island, approximately latitude 52°32'05" N., longitude 129°24'15" W.; thence to McInnes Island Light on McInnes Island, approximately latitude 51°15'45" N., longitude 128°43'22" W.; thence southwest by south approximately 99 miles to a point approximately latitude 51°28'55" N., longitude 131°00'56" W.; thence true north through Cape St. James Light to a point on the southern end of Kunghit Island, approximately latitude 51°56'42" N., longitude 131°00'54" W.; thence along the eastern shore of Kunghit Island to Moore Head, approximately latitude 52°09'02" N., longitude 131°03'00" W.; thence to Point Langford, approximately latitude 52°09'48" N., longitude 131°02'36" W., on Moresby Island; thence along the eastern shore of Moresby Island to the point of origin on Cumshewa Head. The point on Cumshewa Head shall be determined from Chart 294, as published May 1941 by the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa; the points on Moore Islands and McInnes Island shall be determined from Chart 3725, as published August 1942 by the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa; and the points on St. James Island, Kunghit Island and Moresby Island shall be determined from Chart 3853, as published June 1949 by the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, provided that the duly authorized officers of the Dominion of Canada may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary line defined herein.

(e) Area 2C shall include all convention waters off the coast of southeastern Alaska within the following boundary: from southern extremity of Cape Addington, Noyes Island, latitude 55°26'11" N., longitude 133°49'12" W., to the southern extremity of Granite Point, approximately latitude 55°18'57" N., longitude 133°41'25" W., on Baker Island; thence along the southern shore of Baker Island to Cape Bartolome, approximately latitude 55°14′13″ N., longitude 133°36′42″ W.; thence to Cape Augustine, approximately latitude 54°56′56″ N., longitude 133°09′58″ W., on Dall Island; thence along the shore of Dall Island to Point Cornwallis, approximately latitude 54°42′03″ N., longitude 132°52′30″ W.; thence southwest fifty miles to a point approximately latitude 54 27′20″ N., longitude 132°14′10″ W.; thence northwest fifty-three miles to a point approximately latitude 55°17′43″ N., longitude 134°40′00″ W.; thence northeast to the point of origin on Cape Addington. The boundary lines herein indicated shall be determined from Chart 8152 as published March 1933 by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C., except that the points on Cape Addington, Granite Point and Cape Bartolome shall be determined from Chart 8158, as published September 1941 by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C., and the point on Cape Augustine shall be determined from Chart 8148, as published June 1925 by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C., and the point on Point Cornwallis shall be determined from Chart 8146 as published February 1925 by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C., provided that the duly authorized officers of the United States of America may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such mark or marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary.

(f) Area 3 shall include all the convention waters off the coast of Alaska that are between Area 2A and a straight line running from the light on Cape Kabuch at the head of Ikatan Bay as shown on Chart 8701 published in February 1943, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey which light is approximately latitude 54°49′03″ N., longitude 163°21′42″ W., thence to Cape Sarichef Light at the western end of Unimak Island as shown on Chart 8860 published in December 1942, (12th Edition) by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey which light is approximately latitude 54°36′09″ N., longitude 164°55′45″ W., thence true west.

(g) Area 4 shall include all convention waters in Bering Sea which are not included in Area 3.

§ 300.2 Limit of catch in each area. (a) The catch of halibut to be taken during the halibut fishing season of the year 1951 from Area 2A shall be limited to approximately 25,500,000 pounds of salable halibut, and from Area 3 to approximately 28,000,000 pounds of salable halibut, and from Area 4 to approximately 500,000 pounds of salable halibut, the weights in each or any such limit to be computed as with heads off and entrails removed.

(b) The catch of halibut to be taken from all areas during the halibut fishing season of the year 1951 shall also be limited to halibut which with the head on are 26 inches or more in length as measured from the tip of the lower jaw to the extreme end of the middle of the tail or to halibut which with the head off and entrails removed are 5 pounds or more in weight, and the possession of any halibut of less than the above length or the above weight, according to whether the head is on or off, by any vessel or by any master or operator of any vessel or by any person, firm or corporation, is prohibited.

(c) The International Fisheries Commission shall as early in the said year as is practicable determine the date on which it deems each limit of catch defined in paragraph (a) of this section will be attained, and the limit of each such catch shall then be that which shall be taken prior to said date, and fishing for or catching of halibut in the area or areas to which such limit applies shall at that date be prohibited until after the end of the closed season as defined and modified in § 301.3, except as provided in § 301.5 and in Article I of the Convention, and provided that if it shall at any time become evident to the International Fisheries Commission that the limit will not be reached by such date, it may substitute another date.

§ 301.3 Length of closed season. (a) Under the authority of Article I of aforesaid Convention the closed season as therein defined shall be modified in Areas 1A, 1B, 2A, 3, and 4 so as to end at 12 midnight of the 30th day of April of the year 1951 and to begin at 12 midnight of the 30th day of November unless an earlier date is determined upon for any area under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and shall be modified in Areas 2B and 2C so as to end at 12 midnight of the 25th day of July and to begin at 12 midnight of the 4th day of August.

(b) Under authority of Article I of the Convention, the closed season as therein defined shall begin in Areas 2A, 3 and 4 on the dates on which their limits are reached as provided in paragraph (c) of § 301.2 and the closing of such area or areas shall be taken to have been duly approved unless before the said date either the President of the United States of America or the Governor General of Canada shall have signified his disapproval (the burden of proving any such signification being upon the person alleging it), and provided that the closing date of Area 2A or of Area 3, whichever shall be later, shall apply to Areas 1A and 4, unless Area 4 shall have been previously closed under this section of these regulations, and that the closing date of Area 2A shall apply to Area 1B.

(c) Nothing contained in the regulations in this part shall prohibit the fishing for species of fish other than halibut or prohibit the International Fisheries Commission from conducting fishing operations as provided for in Article I of the Convention.

§ 300.4 Issuance of licenses and conditions limiting their validity. (a) All vessels of any tonnage which shall fish for halibut in any manner or hold halibut in possession in any area, or which shall transport halibut otherwise than as a common carrier documented by the Government of the United States or of Canada for the carriage of freight, must be licensed by the International Fisheries Commission, provided that vessels of less than five net tons or vessels which do not use set lines need not be licensed unless they shall require a permit as provided in § 301.5.

(b) Each vessel licensed by the International Fisheries Commission shall carry on board at all times while at sea the halibut license thus secured whether it is validated for halibut fishing or endorsed with a permit as provided in § 301.6 and this license shall at all times be subject to inspection by authorized officers of either of said Governments or by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission.

(c) The halibut license shall be issued without fee by the customs officers of either of said Governments or by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission or by fishery officers of either of said Governments at places where there are neither customs officers nor representatives of the International Fisheries Commission. A new license may be issued by the officer accepting statistical return at any time to vessels which have furnished proof of loss of the license form previously issued, or when there shall be no further space for record thereon, providing the receipt of statistical return shall be shown on the new form for any halibut or other species taken during or after the voyage upon which loss occurred. The old license form shall be forwarded in each case to the International Fisheries Commission.

(d) The halibut license of any vessel shall be validated before departure from port for each halibut fishing operation for which statistical returns are required. This validation of a license shall be by customs officers or by fishery officers of either of said Governments when available at places where there are no customs officers and shall not be made unless the area in which the vessel will fish is entered on the license form and unless the provisions of § 301.7 have been complied with for all landings and all fishing operations since issue of the license, provided that if the master or operator of any vessel shall fail to comply with the provisions of § 301.7, the halibut license of such vessel may be validated by customs officers or by fishery officers upon evidence either that there has been a judicial determination of the offense or that the laws prescribing penalties therefor have been complied with, or that the said master or operator is no longer responsible for, nor sharing in, the operations of said vessel.

(e) The halibut license of any vessel fishing for halibut in Area 1A as defined in § 301.1 (a) regulations after the closure of Areas 1B and 2A must be validated at a port or place within Area 1A prior to each such fishing operation.

(f) No halibut license shall be validated for departure for halibut fishing in Areas 1A or 1B or 2A before midnight of the 27th day or April or for departure for halibut fishing in Areas 2B and 2C before midnight of the 23rd day of July; or for departure for halibut fishing in Areas 3 or 4 from any port or place outside Areas 3 or 4 before midnight on the 26th day of April or from any port or place within Areas 3 or 4 before midnight of the 28th day of April.

(g) No halibut license shall be valid for halibut fishing in more than one area, as defined in § 301.1, during any one trip nor shall it be revalidated for halibut fishing in another such area while the vessel has any halibut on board.

(h) The halibut license shall not be valid for halibut fishing in any area closed to halibut fishing or for the possession of halibut in any area closed to halibut fishing except while in actual transit to or within a port of sale.

(i) The halibut license shall not be valid for halibut fishing in any area while a permit endorsed thereon is in effect, nor shall it be validated while halibut taken under such permit is on board.

(j) The halibut license of any vessel when validated for halibut fishing in Area 3 shall not be valid for the possession of any halibut in Areas 2A, 2B or 2C if said vessel is in possession of baited gear more than 25 miles from Cape Spencer Light, Alaska; and the halibut license of any vessel when validated for halibut fishing in Area 2B or Area 2C shall not be valid for the possession of any halibut in Area 2A if said vessel is in possession of baited gear more than 20 miles by navigable water route from the boundaries of the respective areas.

(k) No person on any vessel which is required to have a halibut license under paragraph (a) of this section shall fish for halibut or have halibut in his possession, unless said vessel has a valid license issued and in force in conformity with the provisions of this section.

§ 301.5 Retention of halibut taken with other fish under permit. (a) There may be retained for sale on any vessel which shall have a permit as provided in § 301.6 such halibut as is caught incidentally to fishing by that vessel in any area after it has been closed to halibut fishing under § 301.2 or § 301.3 with set lines (of the type commonly used in the Pacific Coast halibut fishery) for other species, not to exceed at any time one pound of halibut for each seven pounds of salable fish, actually utilized, of other species not including salmon or tuna, and such halibut may be sold as the catch of said vessel, the weight of all fish to be computed as with heads off and entrails removed, provided that it shall not be a violation of this part for any such vessel to have in possession halibut in addition to the amount herein allowed to be sold if such additional halibut shall not exceed thirty per cent of such amount and shall be forfeited and surrendered at the time of landing as provided in paragraph (d) of this section.

(b) The catch of halibut taken and retained under such permit shall be limited to halibut which with head on are 26 inches or more in length as measured from the tip of the lower jaw to the extreme end of the middle of the tail or to halibut which with the head off and entrails removed are 5 pounds or more in weight, and the possession of any halibut of less than the above length or the above weight, according to whether the head is on or off, by any vessel or by any master or operator of any vessel or by any person, firm or corporation, is prohibited.

(c) Halibut retained under such permit shall not be landed or otherwise removed or be received by any person, firm or corporation from the catching vessel until all halibut on board shall have been reported to a customs, fishery or other authorized enforcement officer of either of said Governments by the captain or operator of said vessel and also by the person, firm or corporation receiving the halibut, and no halibut or other fish shall be landed or removed or be received from the catching vessel except with the permission of said officer and under such supervision as the said officer may deem advisable.

(d) Halibut retained under such permit shall not be purchased or held in possession by any person other than the master, operator or crew of the catching vessel in excess of the proportion allowed in paragraph (a) of this section until such excess whatever its origin shall have been forfeited and surrendered to the customs, fishery or other authorized officers of either of said Governments. In forfeiting such excess, the vessel shall be permitted to surrender any part of its catch of halibut, provided that the amount retained shall not exceed the proportion herein allowed.

(e) Permits for the retention and landing of halibut in the year 1951 shall become invalid at 12 midnight of the 15th day of November of said year or at such earlier date as the International Fisheries Commission shall determine.

§ 301.6 Issuance of permits and conditions limiting their validity. (a) Any vessel which shall be used in fishing for other species than halibut in any area after it has been closed to halibut fishing under § 301.2 or § 301.3 must have a halibut license and a permit if it shall retain, land or sell any halibut caught incidentally to such fishing or possess any halibut of any origin during such fishing, as provided in § 301.5.

(b) The permit shall be shown by endorsement of the issuing officer on the face of the halibut license form held by said vessel and shall show the area or areas for which the permit is issued.

(c) The permit shall terminate at the time of first landing thereafter of fish of any species and a new permit shall be secured before any subsequent fishing operation for which a permit is required.

(d) A permit shall not be issued to any vessel which shall have halibut on board taken while said vessel was licensed to fish in an open area unless such halibut shall be considered as taken under the issued permit and is thereby subject to forfeiture when landed if in excess of the proportion permitted in paragraph (a) of § 301.5.

(e) A permit shall not be issued to, or be valid if held by, any vessel which shall fish with other than set lines of the type commonly used in the Pacific Coast halibut fishery.

(f) The permit of any vessel shall not be valid unless the permit is granted before departure from port for each fishing operation for which statistical returns are required. This granting of a permit shall be by customs officers or by fishery officers of either of said Governments when available at places where there are no customs officers and shall not be made unless the area in which the vessel will fish is entered on the halibut license form and unless the provisions of § 301.7 have been complied with for all landings and all fishing operations since issue of the license or permit: Provided, That if the master or operator of any vessel shall fail to comply with the provisions of § 301.7, the permit of such vessel may be granted by customs or fishery officers upon evidence either that there has been a judicial determination of the offense or that the laws prescribing penalties therefor have been complied with, or that the said master or operator is no longer responsible for, nor sharing in, the operations of said vessel.

(g) The permit of any vessel shall not be valid if said vessel shall have in its possession at any time halibut in excess of the amount allowed under paragraph (a) of § 301.5.

(h) No person shall retain, land or sell any halibut caught incidentally to fishing for other species of fish in any area closed to halibut fishing under § 301.2 or § 301.3, or shall have halibut of any origin in his possession during such fishing, unless such person is a member of the crew of and is upon a vessel with a halibut license and with a valid permit issued and in force in conformity with the provisions of §§ 301.5 and 301.6.

§ 301.7 Statistical return by vessels. (a) Statistical return as to the amount of halibut taken during fishing operations must be made by the master or operator of any vessel licensed under the regulations in this part and as to the amount of halibut and other species by the master or operator of any vessel operating under permit as provided for in §§ 301.5 and 301.6, within 96 hours of landing, sale or transfer of halibut or of first entry thereafter into a port where there is an officer authorized to receive such return.

(b) The statistical return must state the port of landing and the amount of each species taken within the area defined in the regulations in this part, for which the vessel's license is validated for halibut fishing or within the area or areas for which the vessel's license is endorsed as a permit.

(c) The statistical return must include all halibut landed or transferred to other vessels and all halibut held in possession on board and must be full, true and correct in all respects herein required. A copy of such return must be forwarded to the International Fisheries Commission at such times as the latter shall require.

(d) The master or operator and or any person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed or holding a permit under the regulations in this part may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer of either of said Governments authorized to receive such return to certify to its correctness to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement. Validation of a halibut license or issuance of a permit after such sworn return is made shall be provisional and shall not render the license or permit valid in case the return shall later be shown to be false or fraudulently made.

(e) The master or operator of any vessel holding a license or permit under the regulations in this part shall keep an accurate log of all fishing operations including therein date, locality, amount of gear used, and the amount of halibut taken daily in each such locality. This log record shall be open to inspection by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission authorized for this purpose.

(f) The master, operator and/or any other person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed under the regulations in this part may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer of either of said Governments to certify to the correctness of such log record to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

§ 301.8 Statistical return by dealers. (a) All persons, firms or corporations that shall buy halibut or receive halibut for any purpose from fishing or transporting vessels or other carrier shall keep and on request furnish to customs officers or to any enforcing officer of either of said Governments or to representatives of the International Fisheries Commission, records of each purchase or receipt of halibut, showing date, locality, name of vessel, person, firm or corporation purchased or received from and the amount in pounds according to trade categories of the halibut and other species landed with the halibut.

(b) All persons, firms or corporations receiving fish from a vessel fishing under permit as provided in § 301.5 shall within 48 hours make to an authorized enforcing officer of either of said Governments a signed statistical return showing the date, locality, name of vessel received from and the amount of halibut and of other species landed with the halibut and certifying that permission to receive such fish was secured in accordance with paragraph (c) of § 301.5. Such persons, firms or corporations may be required by any officer of either of said Governments to support the accuracy of the above signed statistical return with a sworn statement.

(c) All records of all persons, firms or corporations concerning the landing, purchase, receipt and sale of halibut and other species landed therewith shall be open at all times to inspection by any enforcement officer of either of said Governments or of any authorized representative of the International Fisheries Commission. Such persons, firms or corporations may be required to certify to the correctness of such records and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

(d) The possession by any person, firm or corporation of halibut which such person, firm or corporation knows to have been taken by a vessel without a valid halibut license or a vessel without a permit when such license or permit is required, is prohibited.

§ 301.9 Closed small halibut grounds. (a) The following areas have been found to be populated by small, immature halibut and are closed to halibut fishing, and no person shall fish for halibut in either of such areas, or shall have halibut in his possession while fishing for other species therein, or shall have halibut of any origin in his possession therein excepting in the course of a continuous transit across such area.

(b) First, that area in the waters off the coast of Alaska within the following boundary as stated in terms of the magnetic compass unless otherwise indicated: from the north extremity of Cape Ulitka, Noyes Island, approximately latitude 55°33'48" N., longitude 133°43'35" W., to the south extremity of Wood Island, approximately latitude 55°39'44" N., longitude 133°42'29" W.; thence to the east extremity of Timbered Islet, approximately latitude 55°41'47" N., longitude 133°47'42" W.; thence to the true west extremity of Timbered Islet, approximately latitude 55°41'46" N., longitude 133°48'01" W.; thence southwest three-quarters south sixteen and five-eighths miles to a point approximately latitude 55°34'46" N., longitude 134°14'40" W.; thence southeast by south twelve and one-half miles to a point approximately latitude 55°22'23" N., longitude 134°12'48" W.; thence northeast thirteen and seven-eighths miles to the southern extremity of Cape Addington, Noyes Island, latitude 55°26'11" N., longitude 133°49'12" W.; and to the point of origin on Cape Ulitka. The boundary lines herein indicated shall be determined from Chart 8157, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, D. C., in June 1929, and Chart 8152, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, D. C., in March 1933, and reissued March 1939, except for the point of Cape Addington which shall be determined from Chart 8158, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey in December 1923, provided that the duly authorized officers of the United States of America may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such mark or marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary.

(c) Second, that area lying in the waters off the northern coast of Graham Island, British Columbia, within the following boundary, and including the waters of Sturgess Bay, Masset Sound, Masset Inlet, and bays and inlets thereof: from the northwest extremity of Wiah Point, latitude 54°06'50" N., longitude 132°19'18" W., true north five and one-half miles to a point approximately latitude 54°12'20" N., longitude 132°19'18" W.; thence true east approximately sixteen and three-tenths miles to a point which shall lie northwest (according to magnetic compass at any time) of the highest point of Tow Hill, Graham Island, latitude 54°04'24" N., longitude 131°48'00" W.; thence southeast to the said highest point of Tow Hill. The points on the shoreline of the above mentioned island shall be determined from Chart 3754, published at the Admiralty, London, April 11, 1911, provided that the duly authorized officers of the Dominion of Canada may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary.

§ 301.10 Dory gear prohibited. The use of any hand gurdy or other appliance in hauling halibut gear by hand power in any dory or small boat operated from a vessel licensed under the provisions of the regulations in this part is prohibited in all convention waters.

§ 301.11 Nets prohibited. It is prohibited to retain halibut taken with a net of any kind or to have in possession any halibut while using any net or nets other than bait nets for the capture of other species of fish, nor shall any license or permit held by any vessel under the regulations in this part be valid during the use or possession on board of any net or nets other than bait nets, provided that the character and the use of said bait nets conform to the laws and regulations of the country where they may be utilized and that said bait nets are utilized for no other purpose than the capture of bait for said vessel.

§ 301.12 Retention of tagged halibut. Nothing contained in the regulations in this part shall prohibit any vessel at any time from retaining and landing any halibut which bears an International Fisheries Commission tag at the time of capture, provided that such halibut with the tag still attached is reported at the time of landing to representatives of the International Fisheries Commission or to enforcement officers of either of said Governments and is made available to them for examination.

§ 301.13 Responsibility of master. Wherever in the regulations in this part any duty is laid upon any vessel, it shall be the personal responsibility of the master or operator of said vessel to see that said duty is performed and he shall personally be responsible for the performance of said duty. This provision shall not be construed to relieve any member of the crew of any responsibility with which he would otherwise be chargeable.

§ 301.14 Supervision of unloading and weighing. The unloading and weighing of the halibut of any vessel licensed or holding a permit under the regulations in this part shall be under such supervision as the customs or other authorized officer may deem advisable in order to assure the fulfillment of the provisions of the regulations in this part.

Previous regulations superseded. These regulations shall supersede all previous regulations adopted pursuant to the Convention between the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada for the preservation of the halibut fishery of the northern Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea, signed January 29, 1937, except as to offenses occurring prior to the approval of these regulations. These regulations shall be effective as to each succeding year, with the dates herein specified changed accordingly, until superseded by subsequently approved regulations. Any determination made by the International Fisheries Commission pursuant to these regulations shall become effective immediately.

EDWARD W. ALLEN,
Chairman.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Federal Maritime Board
[46 CFR, Ch. II]

[No. 712]

CARRIER-IMPOSED TIME LIMITS ON PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS FOR FREIGHT ADJUSTMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

The Board has instituted a rule-making proceeding under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), section 204 of the Merchant Marine Act 1936 (46 U. S. C. 1114) and sections 14, 14a, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 22 of the Shipping Act 1916 (46 U. S. C. 812–817, 821) to consider the adoption of a rule governing the right of common carriers by water subject to the Board's jurisdiction, to limit the time for presentation by shippers and consignees of claims for freight adjustments. Public hearings relative thereto will be held before a hearing examiner at a time and place to be hereafter announced. At such hearings interested persons may submit evidence and argument as to (1) the necessity or desirability of such rule, and (2) the provisions to be incorporated therein.

The hearings will be conducted under the Board's rules of procedure except that (1) the examiner will transmit his recommendations and the record of proceedings directly to the Board, and such recommendations will not be subject to exceptions or oral argument; (2) interested persons not attending the hearings may submit verified statements to the Board relative to the proposed rule, which statements will become a part of the record without regard to the requirements of § 201.125 (b) of the Board's rules of procedure.

The questions as to which evidence and argument are desired are:

(a) Whether any time limitation allowing less than two years within which to file any claim for freight adjustment conflicts with section 22, Shipping Act, 1916, in that such shorter period deprives the shipper of the statutory time in which to claim reparation.

(b) Whether, if no such conflict exists, it is reasonable and otherwise lawful for carriers to require claims for freight adjustments to be filed within six months of shipment, and, if not, what constitutes a reasonable and lawful time.

(c) Whether, if no such conflict exists, it is reasonable and otherwise lawful for carriers to require the shipper to file claims based upon wrong weight or measurement, or on misdescription, before the shipment is delivered by the carrier; and, if not, what constitutes a reasonable and lawful time.

(d) All other questions relevant to a determination of a proper time limitation within which shippers may be required by carriers to file claims for adjustments of freight charges.

Persons wishing to participate in the hearings are requested to notify the Board on or before May 31, 1951.

Persons submitting verified statements for inclusion in the record should do so on or before June 15, 1951. Such statements should refer to this proceeding by Docket No. 712, and be mailed to A. J. Williams, Secretary, Federal Maritime Board, Washington 25, D. C.

Dated: April 23, 1951.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

[SEAL] R. L. MCDONALD,
Assistant Secretary.

FUR FELT BERETS IN CHIEF VALUE OF ANIMAL FUR

ASSESSMENT OF DUTY

In the case of Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc., et al-v. United States, published as T. D. 48038, 68 Treas. Dec. 817, the United States Customs Court held that berets in chief value of rabbit fur were dutiable under the provision in paragraph 1519 (e), Tariff Act of 1930, for articles wholly or in chief value of fur, as opposed to the Government's contention that they were classifiable under paragraph 1526 as hats in chief value of animal fur. Following this decision it has been the practice to classify fur felt berets under paragraph 1519 (e).

The court in the course of its opinion in the above-mentioned case observed that: "If the issue had been tried in open court instead of being submitted on stipulation satisfactory evidence might have been presented to show either that the terms 'hats,' 'bonnets,' 'caps,' or 'hoods' and 'berets' were interchangeable or that they were separate and distinct articles commonly known by different names." Information has now been presented as to the availability of evidence indicating that berets are commonly or commercially known as hats or caps.

Therefore, fur felt berets shall be classified under the provision for "Hats, caps, bonnets, and hoods * * * in chief value of fur of the rabbit, beaver, or other animals" in paragraph 1526 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as modified. However, as this ruling will result in the assessment of duty at a higher rate than heretofore has been assessed under an established and uniform practice, it shall be applied only to such or similar merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after 30 days after the publication of this decision in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

[SEAL] FRANK DOW,
Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: April 24, 1951.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Department of the Army

STATEMENT OF ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

AGENCIES DEALING WITH THE PUBLIC; OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CHEMICAL OFFICER

The statement of organization and functions published in 15 F. R. 546, February 1, 1950, and amended in 15 F. R. 6766, October 6, 1950, is further amended by changing paragraph (f) of section 2 to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Organization and functions of agencies dealing with the public. * * *

(f) Office of the Chief Chemical Officer—(1) Mission. Under the direction and control of Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, to study and investigate toxicological warfare, including chemical, biological and radiological warfare; to provide technical advice and assistance to the General Staff, Army Field Forces, and other agencies of the Department of the Army on matters pertaining to training in these fields; and in the organization, equipping and allocation of chemical service and combat troops; and to develop, manufacture, procure, and supply material and equipment pertaining to these types of warfare, except as specifically assigned to other agencies.

(2) History. (i) During the early part of World War I, gas warfare activities in the United States Army were dispersed among five agencies, the Medical Department, the Ordnance Department, the Signal Corps and the Corps of Engineers of the Army, and the Bureau of Mines. On September 3, 1917 a Gas Service was established in the A. E. F. in France, and on the first of November there was established in the War Department the Chemical Service Section, National Army.

(ii) All chemical warfare activities in the zone of interior were consolidated on June 28, 1918 when the Chemical Warfare Service, National Army, was established. By the terms of the National Defense Act of June 4, 1920, the Chemical Warfare Service became a permanent branch of the Military Establishment.

(iii) The designation of the Chemical Warfare Service was changed to "Chemical Corps" by Public Law 607—79th Congress, August 2, 1946

(iv) The Army Organization Act of 1950 repealed Section 12a of the National Defense Act, as amended, and continued the Chemical Corps as a basic branch of the Army. The act also changed the title of the Chief of the Corps to "Chief Chemical Officer."

(3) Scope of activity. (i) The original mission of the Chemical Corps, as set forth in the National Defense Act, AR 50–5, and WD General Orders 54, 1920, has been augmented from time to time by the assignment of additional responsibilities. Its present functions connected with chemical, biological, and radiological warfare are far removed from those of the Gas Service established in World War I.

(ii) The agents developed by the Chemical Corps are substances which, when dispersed, are capable of producing a toxic effect, a screening smoke, or an incendiary action. The Chemical Corps is responsible for developing the weapons and equipment for dispersal and dissemination of all toxicological warfare agents developed, and providing protective materials and equipment. Chemical Corps items are for use of all departments of the armed forces.

(4) Dual role of the Chief Chemical Officer—(i) Staff advice. The Chief Chemical Officer serves as technical staff adviser to the Secretary of the Army, the Chief of Staff, and all elements of the Army on matters pertaining to chemical, biological, and radiological warfare.

(ii) Command. For the execution of the Chemical Corps mission, the Chief Chemical Officer exercises full command functions with respect to assigned troops, activities and installations.

(5) Legal basis. The authority for assignment of the general powers and duties to the Chief Chemical Officer by these regulations is sec. 206, Pub. Law 581, 81st Congress (Army Organization Act of 1950).

(6) Major functions—(i) Research and development. Plans and directs the investigation, research, design, development, determination of military characteristics and standardization of toxicological warfare agents, matériel and equipment, in coordination with the using department and in accordance with guidance furnished by the Department of the Army and the Research and Development Board.

(ii) Procurement and supply. Plans and directs the procurement, manufacture, inspection, maintenance, storage and issue of Chemical Corps matériel, and the purchase and inspection of other matériel assigned to the Chemical Corps for procurement.

(iii) Planning and requirements. Determines requirements for Chemical Corps items, except for those items peculiar to the Air Force or the Navy; prepares Chemical Corps operational and mobilization plans and plans for industrial mobilization.

(iv) Training. Plans and directs the training of troops and individuals assigned to the control of the Chemical Corps and, in coordination with other agencies, prepares training plans, programs, standards and tests for units and MOS's; prepares training doctrine on Chemical Corps functions in the form of field manuals and other publications; and provides technical advice and assistance to the General Staff, Army Field Forces, and other elements of the Army on matters pertaining to training in chemical, biological, and radiological warfare.

(v) Intelligence. In accordance with Department of the Army policies, produces and maintains intelligence concerning foreign chemical, biological, and radiological warfare research and development, organizations, matériel, and operations; prepares and maintains Chemical Corps sections of the Strategic Vulnerability Survey; exercises technical supervision over the collection and exploitation of chemical, biological, and radiological intelligence information in the theaters of operation.

(vi) Field activities. Supervises the operation of Chemical Corps procurement and procurement planning officers; training facilities, manufacturing arsenals, plants, depots, laboratories and proving grounds engaged in operations essential to the accomplishment of the Chemical Corps mission.

(7) Organization—(i) Comptroller. (a) Advises and assists the Chief Chemical Officer on all matters pertaining to budgeting, accounting, progress and statistical reporting, internal audit, organization structure and managerial procedures.

(b) Is responsible for execution of policies and functions prescribed in AR 35–850, for promoting efficiency and economy in the operation of all activities of the Chemical Corps and for continuing development of the management improvement program.

(c) Exercises staff supervision over management, fiscal, cost, and property accounting activities at field installations under the jurisdiction of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(d) Coordinates the planning activities of the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer with respect to potential financial support or possible budgetary and manpower limitations.

(e) Consolidates over-all Chemical Corps military and civilian personnel requirements and estimates for submission to higher authority, and makes allotments to Chemical Corps elements in accordance with established policies and approved requirements.

(f) Prepares budget estimates and justifications for fund and manpower requirements of the Chemical Corps and assists in the defense of budget estimates before the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress.

(g) Prescribes and effectuates the technical standards, qualifications, training and assignment of personnel required for the performance of management and fiscal functions at Chemical Corps field installations.

(h) Acts for the Chief Chemical Officer in reviewing and approving or disapproving methods and procedures followed in computing unit costs used by the Chemical Corps for budget, sale and transfer purposes to assure the accuracy and integrity of unit costs.

(ii) Legal adviser. (a) Advises the Chief Chemical Officer and all elements of the Corps on legal matters, including the legal aspects of procurement, purchasing policy, labor relations, property disposal, contracts, termination, renegotiation, patent and related matters, and, prepares legal actions in connection therewith.

(b) Supervises: (1) Legal activities at field installations, including review of legal actions, which are the responsibility of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(2) Contract termination activities of the Chemical Corps.

(c) Participates in the formulation of contracting procedures.

(d) Processes: (1) Claims, appeals, and litigation pertaining to Chemical Corps contracts and activities.

(2) Legislative matters.

(e) Prepares and prosecutes patent applications, investigates patent infringement claims, and negotiates royalty agreements.

(iii) Administrative Service Office. (a) Operates message center, maintains classified and unclassified mail and record files, supervises mail control desks, and controls departmental supply and service activities.

(b) Maintains administrative and fiscal control over printing, forms and publications, and procures and distributes within the Chemical Corps, and maintains files of, Department of the Army, Chemical Corps and other official publications.

(iv) Information Office. (a) Prepares informational material relative to the Chemical Corps for public release to press and radio through Department of the Army and Department of Defense channels.

(b) Maintains an information center at the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(v) Safety Office. (a) Supervises and directs technical safety measures at Class II installations and activities under the command of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(b) Prescribes basic safe practice policy for the handing, storing, demilitarization, and salvage of Chemical Corps materials at Army installations and activities, and incorporates safe practices in operating procedures, manuals, directives and other instructions pertaining to operations and activities.

(c) Analyzes technical accident experience trends and hazards of all elements of the Chemical Corps, and determines remedial and preventive action to be taken.

(d) Performs technical safety inspections at Chemical Corps installations and determines precautionary measures to be applied; furnishes professional assistance to installations on technical safety problems.

(e) Supervises the training and operations of the Technical Escort Detachment, handling decontamination, transportation, and disposal of toxic materials for the Chemical Corps.

(vi) Research and Engineering Division. (a) Plans, directs and coordinates the research and development programs of the Chemical Corps, encompassing the entire field of chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

(b) Supervises the testing and field evaluation through the engineering stage of all Chemical Corps agents, matériel and equipment.

(c) Conducts liaison activities pertaining to research and development with other agencies of the Department of Defense, other Government departments, and commercial and foreign agencies.

(vii) Plans, Training and Intelligence Division. (a) Reviews strategic and tactical studies, plans and policies, and prepares plans and recommendations pertaining to utilization of Chemical Corps troops and materiel; prepares operational logistic studies; and coordinates development of Chemical Corps mobilization plans.

(b) Reviews Chemical Corps Board projects and prepares recommendations pertaining to the military characteristics of Chemical Corps matériel.

(c) Prepares tables of organization and equipment for Chemical Corps units for which specific responsibility has been assigned to the Chief Chemical Officer, and reviews chemical sections of tables of organization and equipment.

(d) Provides technical advice and assistance to the General Staff, Army Field Forces, and other agencies of the Army on matters pertaining to training in chemical, biological, and radiological warfare; supervises the training of troops assigned to the Chemical Corps; plans, supervises, and coordinates the development and promulgation of official training doctrines on the tactics and techniques of chemical, biological, and radiological warfare; supervises the Chemical Corps School.

(e) Produces and maintains intelligence concerning foreign chemical, biological, and radiological warfare research and development, organizations, matériel, and operations; prepares and maintains Chemical Corps sections of the Strategic Vulnerability Surveys; exercises technical supervision over the collection and exploitation of chemical, biological, and radiological intelligence information in the theaters of operation.

(f) Supervises and coordinates the administration of counterintelligence and security functions assigned to the Chief Chemical Officer.

(g) Determines basis of requirements of items for future plans and furnishes basis of requirements to Supply Division for the purpose of computing requirements.

(h) Recommends policies on mobilization reserves, peacetime operating reserves, and overseas stock levels.

(viii) Personnel Division. (a) Conducts over-all program relative to the administration of military and civilian personnel under the jurisdiction of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(b) Advises Chemical Corps installation commanders, and operating officials in the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer, on matters pertaining to military and civilian personnel.

(c) Recommends policies and procedures relating to and exercises staff supervision over enlisted personnel activities and the administration, classification, demotion, transfer, retirement, and discharge of officer personnel under control of the Chief Chemical Officer.

(d) Initiates or renders assistance in the establishment of field training programs and conducts necessary departmental training.

(e) Performs inspections of civilian personnel administration at field installations to determine adherence to Chemical Corps, Department of the Army and Civil Service Commission rules and regulations in problems.

(ix) Assistant Chief Chemical Officer for Matériel. Is responsible to the Chief Chemical Officer for all functions of the Corps pertaining to matériel requirements, procurement, inspection, maintenance, supply and real property; supervises and coordinates these activities at Chemical Corps field installations.

(x) Supply Division. (a) Computes for the Army and obtains from other elements of the Armed Forces and other agencies requirements for Chemical Corps matériel. Prepares supply and demand studies, calculates the over-all stock levels, and makes timely submission to the appropriate authorities of requests for procurement.

(b) Edits all requisitions for regulated and controlled chemical items, and authorizes issue of such matériel.

(c) Plans, establishes and supervises policies and procedures for the receipt, classification, storage, care and preservation, maintenance, issue, and movement of authorized Chemical Corps matériel in the zone of interior depot system.

(d) Supervises administrative and operational functions in Chemical Corps supply installations and technical operations in Chemical Sections of General Depots.

(e) Exercises staff supervision over Chemical Corps cataloging operations.

(f) Maintains centralized stock records for all authorized Chemical Corps items including spare parts.

(g) Exercises supervision over the care, servicing, repair, overhaul and reclamation of all Chemical Corps matériel.

(h) Coordinates and supervises all disposal, demilitarization and destruction of excess, surplus, contract termination and salvaged Chemical Corps property.

(i) Is responsible for the acquisition of government excess material.

(xi) Industrial Division. (a) Plans and establishes policies and procedures for, and supervises all Chemical Corps activities involved in procurement, application of National Production Authority regulations, contracting, manufacture, production, industrial mobilization preparedness and industrial engineering, industrial plant protection, computation of basic and processed material requirements and the leasing, maintenance, construction, acquisition, reclassification and disposal of facilities.

(b) Accomplishes special studies, investigations and other assignments as directed.

(xii) Inspection Division. (a) Plans and establishes policies and procedures for and supervises all Chemical Corps activities involved in inspection and field surveillance and the inspection phases of industrial mobilization and procurement planning.

(b) Supervises the training and utilization of inspection personnel and the maintenance of inspection records, expedites inspection action consistent with supply and industrial activities.

(c) Reviews inspection reports to insure the adequacy of inspection performed and to determine the effect of inspection results on the supply mission, and recommends design changes where appropriate.

(d) Recommends and supervises the establishment of such proofing facilities, laboratory facilities, and other inspection testing facilities, and gage production, manufacturing, and supply facilities as may be required for the performance of the inspection mission.

(xiii) Field installations and activities. Field installations and activities of the Chemical Corps are as follows:

Army Chemical Center, Md.
Chemical Corps School.
Eastern Chemical Depot.
Edgewood Arsenal.

Edgewood Proving Ground.
Chemical Corps Board.
Chemical Corps Engineering Agency.
Chemical Corps Historical Office.
Chemical Corps Procurement Agency.
Inspection Equipment Agency.
Technical Escort Detachment.
Chemical Corps Medical Laboratories.
Chemical Corps Chemical and Radiological Laboratories.
Pine Bluff Arsenal, Arsenal, Ark.: Midwest Chemical Depot.
Rocky Mountain Arsenal, Denver 2, Colo.
Atlanta Chemical Procurement District, 44 Broad Street NW., Atlanta, Ga.
Boston Chemical Procurement District, Boston Army Base, Boston 10, Mass.
Chicago Chemical Procurement District, 226 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 6, Ill.
Dallas Chemical Procurement District, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas 2, Tex.
New York Chemical Procurement District, 111 East Sixteenth Street, New York 3, N. Y.
San Francisco Chemical Procurement District, Building 1, Wing 3, Oakland Army Base, Oakland 14, Calif.
Dugway Proving Ground, Tooele, Utah.
Camp Detrick, Frederick, Md., Chemical Corps Biological Laboratories.
Army Chemical Training Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.: Chemical Replacement Training Center, Chemical Corps School (to be transferred from Army Chemical Center, Md., August 15, 1951).
Deseret Chemical Depot, Tooele, Utah.
Chemical sections at the following depots:
Atlanta General Depot, Atlanta, Ga.
Memphis General Depot, Memphis, Tenn.
New Cumberland General Depot, New Cumberland, Pa.
San Antonio General Depot, San Antonio, Tex.
Utah General Depot, Ogden, Utah.

(xiv) Chemical Corps Engineering Agency. Effective May 15, 1951, the Chemical Corps established the Chemical Corps Engineering Agency at Army Chemical Center, Maryland. The mission of the Chemical Corps Engineering Agency is to engineer items and processes developed by Chemical Corps developing agencies, maintaining the ability to meet military characteristics; to prepare final designs for all Chemical Corps matériel and provide design criteria for technical facilities, incorporating those engineering features that will insure producibility of quantities required with the maximum utilization of commercially available materials and products and the minimum use of critical materials; and to furnish technical engineering assistance on Chemical Corps matériel and plants as required. Chemical Corps Engineering Agency will perform the cataloging functions required under Department of the Army and Munitions Board cataloging programs, formerly discharged by the Chemical Corps Cataloging Agency which has been discontinued.

(xv) Chemical Corps procurement. (a) Chemical Corps procurement is performed in the following field installations and activities:

Chemical Corps Procurement Agency.
Atlanta Chemical Procurement District.
Boston Chemical Procurement District.
Chicago Chemical Procurement District.
Dallas Chemical Procurement District.
New York Chemical Procurement District.
San Francisco Chemical Procurement District.
Pine Bluff Arsenal.
Rocky Mountain Arsenal.
Camp Detrick.
Dugway Proving Ground.
Deseret Chemical Depot.

Each of these installations and activities is authorized to make purchases in accordance with law and regulation of such supplies and services as are necessary for the performance of its assigned mission, except as provided in (b) below.

(b) No single purchase action by the following installations may exceed the aggregate amount or $5,000.00 without specific authority from the Chief Chemical Officer:

Pine Bluff Arsenal.
Rocky Mountain Arsenal.
Camp Detrick.
Dugway Proving Ground.
Deseret Chemical Depot.

The aggregate amount of a purchase action, for the purpose of this $5,000.00 limitation, is the total price of all items which should properly be grouped together in a single transaction and would be included in a single Invitation For Bids, if advertised. This $5,000.00 limitation does not apply to contracts for experimental, developmental and research work issued by Camp Detrick.

(c) All purchases for Army Chemical Center, and those purchases in excess of $5,000.00 for the five installations listed in the preceding paragraph (except purchases for experimental research and development work for Camp Detrick), will generally be made by Chemical Corps Procurement Agency on requisition from the requiring installation.

(8) Special relationships—(i) Boards and committees—(a) Chemical Corps Technical Committee. Coordinates development work between the Chemical Corps and other branches of the Army, the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force, and foreign governments in connection with the development and type classification of equipment.

(b) Representation on boards and committees. The Chemical Corps supplies representation on the following boards and committees:

Research and Development Board (Committees of).
Federal Specifications Board (Committees of).
Munitions Board (Committees of).
Federal Fire Council, Committee on Fire Records.
Air Force Technical Committee.
Army Security Agency Technical Committee.
Technical Committees of the Army Technical Services.
Armed Services Petroleum Board Technical Committee.
Air Standardization Coordination Committee (Working Party).
Armed Services Patent Advisory Board.
Armed Services Explosives Safety Board.
Committees of the American Society of Testing Materials (liaison representation).
Committees of the American Standards Association (Liaison representation).

(ii) Other relationships. (a) Various functions of the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer require that constant liaison be maintained with the Department of the Navy and Air Force, the United States Public Health Service, Department of Agriculture, Atomic Energy Commission, and other Government and private agencies.

(b) Liaison representatives of the Department of the Air Force and Navy and the United States Public Health Service are integrated into the Chemical Corps activities and programs.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY

APRIL 25, 1951.

Notice is given that the plat of original survey of the following described lands, accepted July 22, 1947, will be officially filed in the Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska; effective at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice:

COPPER RIVER MERIDIAN

T. 4 N., R. 2 W.,
Secs. 20 to 24, inclusive;
Sec. 30.

The area described aggregates 3,804.57 acres.

The E½SE¼ sec. 22, W½SW¼ sec. 23, were withdrawn by Executive Order No. 9035 of January 21, 1942, and the E½SW¼ of sec. 23 was withdrawn by Executive Order No. 9085 of March 4, 1942, as administrative sites.

No applications for the remainder of the described lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land law unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this notice shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, Jr.,
Assistant Director.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY

APRIL 25, 1951.

Notice is given that the plat of original survey of the following described lands, accepted October 23, 1943, will be officially filed in the Land & Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah effective at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice:

SALT LAKE MERIDIAN

T. 30 S., R. 15 W.,
Secs. 1 to 36 inclusive.
T. 29 S., R. 16 W.,
Secs. 1 to 36 inclusive.

The areas described, exclusive of segregations, aggregate 46,712.99 acres.

No applications for the lands described may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land law unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

According to the field notes and as shown by the plats, there are springs in the NW¼NE¼ sec. 18, SW¼SE¼ sec. 21, T. 30 S., R. 15 W., the SW¼SE¼ sec. 2, NW¼SE¼ sec. 12, NW¼SW¼ sec. 14, and NW¼SE¼ sec. 16, T. 29 S., R. 16 W., S. L. M.

The legal subdivision containing springs may be affected by the general withdrawal made by Executive order of April 17, 1926 (43 CFR 292.1), creating Public Water Reserve No. 107, but the question of whether the springs are of such size or value or so needed by the public as to bring the lands within the scope of the withdrawal is left for future determination.

At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this notice shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m., on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY

APRIL 25, 1951.

Notice is given that the plat of original survey of the following described lands, accepted April 27, 1949, will be officially filed in the Land and Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, effective at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice:

SALT LAKE MERIDIAN

T. 1 N., R. 11 E.,
All of secs. 5 to 9 inclusive;
All of secs. 16 to 21, inclusive;
All of secs. 28 to 33 inclusive.

The area described aggregates 10,914.86 acres.

All of the lands described are within the exterior boundaries of the Wasatch National Forest pursuant to proclamations of January 16, May 29, October 6, 1906, July 1, 1908 and June 30, 1915.

Anyone having a valid settlement or right to any of these lands initiated prior to the date of the withdrawal of the lands should assert the same within three months from the date on which the plat is officially filed by filing an application under appropriate public land law setting forth all facts relevant thereto.

All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLATS OF DEPENDENT RESURVEY AND EXTENSION SURVEY

APRIL 25, 1951.

Notice is given that the plats accepted December 17, 1947, of (1) resurvey comprising secs. 1 to 36 inclusive, T. 23 S., R. 3 E., and secs. 25 to 28 inclusive, secs. 33 to 36 inclusive, T. 23 S., R. 4 E., delineating a retracement and reestablishment of the lines of the original survey, and (2) extension survey of lands hereinafter described will be officially filed in Land and Survey Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, effective at 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this notice.

The lands affected by this notice are described as follows:

SALT LAKE MERIDIAN

T. 23 S., R. 4 E.,
All of secs. 1 to 24 inclusive;
All of secs. 29 to 32 inclusive.
T. 23 S., R. 5 E.,
All of secs. 3 to 9 inclusive;
All of secs. 17, 18, 19.

The area described aggregates 23,589.89 acres.

Available information indicates that the lands described are desert mountainous lands.

All of the lands described in T. 23 S., R. 4 E., are within the exterior boundaries of the Fish Lake Forest Reserve by proclamations of January 22, 1906 and March 30, 1911.

No applications for the remainder of the described lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land laws unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

According to the field notes and as shown by the plat, there are springs of water in lot 6, sec. 6, and lot 4, sec. 19, T. 23 S., R. 5 E., S. L. M.

The legal subdivision containing springs and the lands within a quarter of a mile of such springs may be affected by the general withdrawal made by Executive order of April 17, 1926 (43 CFR 292.1), creating Public Water Reserve No. 107, but the question of whether this spring is of such size or value or so needed by the public as to bring the lands within the scope of the withdrawal is left for future determination.

At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragrapn shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragrapn either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. WASHINGTON

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS RELEASED FROM POWER SITE CLASSIFICATION NO. 349 OF JUNE 22, 1944

APRIL 25, 1951.

The order of the Acting Director, Geological Survey, of March 28, 1949, entitled "Power Site Cancellation No. 93" (14 F. R. 1620), having canceled in part Power Site Classification No. 349 approved June 22, 1944, the following-described public lands are hereby restored to disposition under the applicable public-land laws as hereinafter indicated:

WILLAMETTE MERIDIAN

T. 27 N., R. 23 E.,
Sec. 1, lot 4 and SW¼NW¼;
Sec. 2, lot 1, SE¼NE¼, NE¼SE¼ and SW¼SE¼;
Sec. 3, lot 1;
Sec. 8, N½NE¼, SW¼NE¼, E½SW¼, and NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 11, SE¼NW¼;
Sec. 21, SE¼SW¼;
Sec. 28, NE¼NW¼, S½NW¼, and W½SW¼;
Sec. 30, lots 3 and 4;
Sec. 32, NE¼NE¼, S½NE¼, and N½SE¼.

The areas described aggregate 1,079.77 acres.

The above-described lands are steep and rough, and are primarily suitable for grazing. They will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified. It is unlikely that they will be classified as suitable for homestead, desert-land, or small-tract use.

The lands described shall be subject to application by the State of Washington for a period of ninety days from the date of publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER for rights-of-way for public highways or as a source of material for the construction and maintenance of such highways, as provided by section 24 of the Federal Power Act, as amended.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 91st day after the date of publication. At that time the said lands shall become subject to application, petition, location, and selection, subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of applicable law, and the 90-day preference right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended.

Information showing the periods during which and the conditions under which veterans and others may file applications for these lands may be obtained on request from the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Spokane, Washington.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Director.

Federal Maritime Board

[Docket No. M-29]

PONCE CEMENT CORP.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON APPLICATION TO BAREBOAT CHARTER A GOVERNMENT-OWNED WAR-BUILT, DRY-CARGO VESSEL

Pursuant to section 3, Public Law 591, 81st Congress, notice is hereby given that an informal public hearing will be held at Washington, D. C., on May 8, 1951, at 10 o'clock a. m., in Room 4823; Department of Commerce Building, before Examiner F. J. Horan, upon the application of Ponce Cement Corporation to bareboat-charter a Liberty-type vessel for use in applicant's cement trade between ports in Puerto Rico and Florida.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to whether the service for which such vessel is proposed to be chartered is required in the public interest and would not be adequately served without the use therein of such vessel, and with respect to the availability of privately owned American-flag vessels for charter on reasonable conditions and at reasonable rates for use in such service.

All persons having an interest in such application will be given an opportunity to be heard if present.

The parties may have oral argument before the examiner immediately following the close of the hearing, in lieu of briefs, and the examiner will issue a recommended decision. Parties may have seven (7) days within which to file exceptions to or memoranda in support of the examiner's recommended decision, but, due to the urgency of the matter, oral argument on exceptions before the Board will be dispensed with.

Dated: April 23, 1951.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 3868]

PENINSULAR AIR TRANSPORT; EXEMPTION APPLICATION

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application of Peninsular Air Transport for an exemption filed pursuant to § 291.16 of the Board's Economic Regulations and section 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 1001 of said act that a hearing in the above-entitled proceeding is assigned to be held on May 7, 1951 at 10 a. m. in Room 1011, Temporary Building No. 5, Sixteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner William F. Cusick.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the application, particular attention will be directed to the following matters and questions:

1. Is the present enforcement of the requirements of Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended, or any provision thereof, or any rule, regulation, terms, condition or limitation prescribed thereunder, as it affects Peninsular Air Transport, an undue burden on that air carrier by reason of the limited extent of, or unusual circumstances affecting the operation of such carrier and not in the public interest?

2. Subsidiary issues to a determination of whether the enforcement of the requirements of Title IV of the act and the rules and regulations of the Board prescribed thereunder is not in the public interest are:

(a) Will the operation of the air service proposed by Peninsular meet the statutory standards of section 416 (b) of the act and the tests in this respect set forth in an opinion of the Board issued on May 25, 1950, accompanying Orders, Serial Nos. E–4240 through E–4252?

(b) Is there a need for irregular air transportation by Peninsular?

(c) Do the past operations of Peninsular indicate that it can be trusted with the exemption authority sought, and operate within such authority?

3. If the foregoing issues are determined in the affirmative, what is the proper scope of exemption of Peninsular from the requirements of Title IV of the act, and what terms, conditions and limitations should be imposed on such exemption.

Notice is further given that any person desiring to be heard in opposition to the application, other than parties of record, must file with the Board on or before May 7, 1951, a statement setting forth the issues of fact or law which he desires to controvert and such person may appear and participate at the hearing in accordance with § 285.6 (a) of the rules of practice under Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

For further details of the service proposed and the relief requested, interested parties are referred to the application on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Dated at Washington, D. C., April 25, 1951.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Secretary.

FRANCIS J. MATRANGOLA

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Francis J. Matrangola, Wildwood, New Jersey, for construction permit; Docket No. 9787, File No. BP-7659.

The Commission having under consideration a motion filed April 16, 1951, by Francis J. Matrangola, requesting indefinite continuance of the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding, presently scheduled for April 24, 1951, pending action by the Commission on a petition for reconsideration and grant without hearing which applicant will shortly file with the Commission; and

It appearing, that since favorable action upon the petition for grant without hearing would remove the necessity for a hearing, a continuance of the hearing in order to permit consideration of such petition by the Commission would serve the public interest; and

It further appearing, that no opposition has been filed to the petition for continuance;

It is ordered, This 20th day of April 1951, that the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding, now scheduled for April 24, 1951, be, and it is hereby, continued to a date to be hereafter fixed.

TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORP. ET AL.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 24, 1951.

In the matter of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, The East Ohio Gas Company and New York State Natural Gas Corporation; Docket No. G-1646.

On March 30, 1951, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern), a Delaware corporation of Shrevesport, Louisiana, The East Ohio Gas Company (East Ohio), an Ohio corporation of Cleveland, Ohio, and New York State Natural Gas Corporation (New York State Natural), a New York corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, filed a joint application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing, for a limited period, the emergency delivery, exchange and transportation of natural gas for storage in the Oakford Storage Pool in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, through the existing pipelines of East Ohio and New York State Natural pending the completion by Texas Eastern of its lateral pipeline to such storage pool, all as more fully described in such joint application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The Commission finds: This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, Applicants having requested that their application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for non-contested proceedings, and no request to be heard, protest or petition having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 12, 1951 (16 F. [Docket No. G-1666]

CENTRAL KENTUCKY NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 25, 1951.

Take notice that Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Kentucky corporation, address, Charleston, West Virginia, filed on April 16, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 18.6 miles of $12\frac{3}{4}$-inch loop pipeline paralleling that portion of its existing 10-inch transmission pipeline which extends westward from a point near Winchester, Kentucky, to Lexington, Kentucky.

Applicant proposes, by means of said facilities, to increase the capacity of its existing facilities in order to maintain and provide adequate service to its present customers in its Southern Division during the next winter period and to permit increased volumes of natural gas to be withdrawn from its Menifee Storage Pool. No new markets are proposed to be served by means of the proposed facilities.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $700,000 and Applicant proposes to finance the proposed construction by the issuance and sale of securities to its parent company, The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 14th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1667]

UNITED FUEL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 25, 1951.

Take notice that United Fuel Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia corporation, address, Charleston, West Virginia, filed on April 16, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of a 2,640 h. p. compressor station with dehydration plant, auxiliary units and appurtenant equipment near Lanham, West Virginia; approximately 45 miles of natural gas transmission pipeline consisting of 1 mile of $6\frac{5}{8}$-inch pipe, 3.5 miles of $8\frac{5}{8}$-inch pipe, 12.5 miles of $10\frac{3}{4}$-inch pipe and 28 miles of 20-inch pipe; and the removal from Applicant's Walgrove compressor station of one 1,000 hp. compressor unit and the installation of the same at Applicant's Kanawha compressor station.

Applicant proposes to utilize said facilities to develop and expand its storage operations and transmission facilities in order to provide capacity and facilities sufficiently flexible to the demands of its markets. Applicant states that it proposes to acquire and activate three storage pools in addition to ten such pools now operated in depleted gas fields in close proximity to Applicant's transmission lines and markets. The proposed facilities will be used in connection with such storage operations and Applicant states that said facilities are necessary for the adequacy and continuity of service to its present markets. Applicant does not intend to serve additional markets through the proposed facilities.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities, including the cost of acquiring and activating the proposed storage fields is $4,755,830. Applicant proposes to finance the proposed construction by the issuance and sale of securities to its parent company, The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 14th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE CO. OF AMERICA

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 25, 1951.

Take notice that Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, address, Chicago, Illinois, filed on April 17, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 3.69 miles of 10-inch loop pipeline paralleling Applicant's existing 8-inch lateral pipeline extending from its main pipelines in Rock Island County, Illinois, to a connection with Applicant's existing pipelines crossing the Mississippi River.

Applicant proposes, commencing November 1, 1951, to increase the total daily quantities of natural gas which it will deliver to Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric Company at Davenport, Iowa, from 54,296 Mcf to an ultimate 97,645 Mcf per day. It is proposed that deliveries of the 97,645 Mcf per day ultimate, will be made commencing November 1, 1952. Applicant has entered into a new service agreement providing for such increased deliveries, and states that its present facilities are not adequate to enable it to make the deliveries which are desired by Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric Company at the present point of delivery.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $100,720. Said cost of construction is proposed to be paid for from cash on hand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 14th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

LOUISVILLE GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 25, 1951.

Take notice that on April 18, 1951, Louisville Gas and Electric Company (Louisville) a Kentucky corporation with principal place of business in Louisville, Kentucky, filed an application pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon certain facilities hereinafter described and to terminate service presently rendered by means of such facilities to Indiana Gas and Water Company, Inc. (Indiana).

Louisville states in its application that it presently owns and operates approximately 1.46 miles of 6-inch pipeline from Louisville's Jackson Street gas plant to a point of connection with Indiana's system near the north end of George Rogers Clark Memorial Bridge through which it supplies Indiana with natural gas for resale and distribution in and around New Albany, Jeffersonville, Clarksville and Clayburg, Indiana. Louisville states that Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Texas) will undertake to serve Indiana with the gas needed for distribution in these communities if the facilities proposed by Texas in its application, Docket No. G-1578, are authorized by the Commission. Louisville states further that, if the abandonment is not permitted, its customers, including those in the four communities, will suffer gas shortages at periods of peak demand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 14th day of May 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1678]

MICHIGAN-WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE

APRIL 24, 1951.

On March 30, 1951, Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company (Michigan-Wisconsin) filed its First Revised Sheet No. 5 to its FPC Gas Tariff, comprising its Rate Schedule G-1, proposing changes in such rate schedule to be made effective as of May 1, 1951.

Said First Revised Sheet No. 5, as filed, provides for an increase in the rate contained in Rate Schedule G-1 from twenty-eight (28) cents per Mcf of natural gas sold thereunder to thirty-one and one-half ($31\frac{1}{2}$) cents per Mcf. The proposed increase in rate would result in increased payments by Michigan-Wisconsin's customers amounting to $3,771,755, which is an increase of twelve and one-half percent ($12\frac{1}{2}\%$), based upon the estimated sales during the twelve-months period ending March 31, 1952.

Previously, at the time of the proceedings before the Commission at Docket Nos. G-1156 and G-1302, Michigan-Wisconsin had estimated that, upon completion of construction and commencement of operation of the facilities therein involved, a reduction in the presently effective rate provided in Rate Schedule G-1 would be in order (see FPC Supplemental Opinion No. 180-A and Opinion No. 196, and the order accompanying the latter opinion). Now, however, Michigan-Wisconsin states that revised cost-of-service estimates, including a return, indicate the necessity for the increased rate presently proposed.

The increased rate provided in said First Revised Sheet No. 5 to Michigan-Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff has not been shown to be justified and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

Unless the operation of said First Revised Sheet No. 5, comprising Michigan-Wisconsin's Rate Schedule G-1, is suspended by order of the Commission, it will become effective as of May 1, 1951, pursuant to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and the Regulations thereunder.

As required by § 154.16 of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act, a copy of said First Revised Sheet No. 5 to Michigan-Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff has been sent to each customer which would be affected thereby, and also to various State, county, and municipal authorities. Comments have been received from some of such parties.

The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, the City of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the City of Detroit, Michigan, and the County of Wayne, Michigan, have filed objections to the proposed increased rate, and have requested that such First Revised Sheet No. 5 be suspended and a hearing held with respect to the reasonableness of the increased rate therein proposed. Comments have also been received from the Wisconsin Power and Light Company, Wisconsin Michigan Power Company, Wisconsin Natural Gas Company, Wisconsin Public Service Corporation, Keokuk Gas Service Company, and Wisconsin Fuel and Light Company, each of which is a customer of Michigan-Wisconsin, which question certain aspects of the proposed increased rate.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing, pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of such act, concerning the lawfulness of Michigan-Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff First Revised Sheet No. 5, and that said First Revised Sheet No. 5 and the rate schedule therein contained be suspended as hereinafter provided and the use thereof be deferred pending hearing and decision herein.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of the Natural Gas Act, a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by further order of the Commission concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges, and classifications contained in the aforesaid First Revised Sheet No. 5 to Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company's FPC Gas Tariff.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said First Revised Sheet No. 5 to Michigan-Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff be and the same is hereby suspended and the use thereof is deferred until October 1, 1951, and until such further time thereafter as said First Revised Sheet No. 5 may be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: April 25, 1951.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

LIQUEFIED PETROLEUM GAS FROM THE SOUTHWEST TO SPRINGFIELD, VT.

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

APRIL 26, 1951.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: D. Q. Marsh, Agent, for carriers parties to his tariff I. C. C. No. 3651.

Commodities involved: Liquefied petroleum gas, in tank-car loads.

From: Points in Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

To: Springfield, Vt.

Grounds for relief: Circuitous routes and competition with rail carriers.

Schedules filed containing proposed rates: D. Q. Marsh's tariff I. C. C. No. 3651, Supp. 258.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

[Rev. S. O. 874, 2d Rev. General Permit 2]

LIQUID STARCH, LIQUID DEXTRINE, CORN SYRUP, AND OR GLUCOSE

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as they apply to any car loaded with liquid starch, liquid dextrine, corn syrup and/or glucose in bottles or in 55 gallon barrels or metal drums when any consignor advises that service would be denied because of inability to meet loading requirements of Revised Service Order 874 because meeting such minimum requirements would constitute hazardous loading.

The waybills shall show reference to this revised general permit and any consignor forwarding cars under this revised general permit shall furnish the Permit Agent with the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this revised general permit, as well as the car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars loaded with liquid starch, liquid dextrine, corn syrup, and/or glucose shipped; such information to be furnished on the first day of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 25, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this Permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of April 1951.

CORN GLUTEN FEED

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as they apply to any car loaded with corn gluten feed when any consignor advises that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because of tendency of commodity to cake and heat in warm weather.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and any consignor forwarding cars under this general permit shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit, and also the car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars of corn gluten feed shipped; such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 25, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this Permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission, at Washington, D. FERDINAND KAUFMANN BANKGESCHAFT

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Ferdinand Kaufmann Bankgeschaft, Basle, Switzerland, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-63-3432.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained, is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on April 11, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 16 NUMBER 85

Washington, Wednesday, May 2, 1951

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2925

ENLARGING THE LAVA BEDS NATIONAL MONUMENT CALIFORNIA

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS certain lands adjacent to the Lava Beds National Monument in the State of California, established by Proclamation No. 1755 of November 21, 1925, contain cliffs with petroglyphic carvings from a prehistoric period; and

WHEREAS a large cinder cone, important to the geologic interpretation of the Lava Beds National Monument, is partially outside the present boundaries of the monument; and

WHEREAS it appears that the public interest would be promoted by adding the lands described in the preceding paragraphs to the Lava Beds National Monument in order to insure permanent protection to these prehistoric and geologic phenomena:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 2 of the act of June 8, 1906, 34 Stat. 225 (16 U. S. C. 431), do proclaim that, subject to valid existing rights, the lands within the following-described areas in California owned by the United States are hereby added to and reserved as a part of the Lava Beds National Monument, and that the privately-owned lands within such areas shall become a part of such monument upon the acquisition of title thereto by the United States:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 46 N., R. 5 E.,
Sec. 3, lots 9, 10, and 32;
Sec. 10, lots 1, 2, 4, 11, 12, 20, and 21, and N½NW¼SE¼.
T. 44 N., R. 4 E.,
Sec. 6, N½ of lot 1.

The areas described aggregate 211.13 acres.

The reservation made by this proclamation is not intended to prevent the use of the lands in T. 44 N., R. 4 E., for national-forest purposes for which they were reserved by the proclamation establishing the Shasta National Forest, and both reservations shall be effective on such lands, but the reservation for the national-monument purposes shall be the dominant reservation and any use of the lands which interferes with their preservation or protection as a part of the national monument is hereby forbidden.

Warning is hereby expressly given to all unauthorized persons not to appropriate, injure, destroy, deface, or remove any feature of this monument as hereby extended and not to settle upon any of the lands reserved as a part of this monument.

The Director of the National Park Service, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, shall have the supervision, management, and control of these lands as provided in the act of Congress entitled "An Act to establish a National Park Service, and for other purposes," approved August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535, 16 U. S. C. 1-3), and acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 27th day of April in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] fifty-one and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

Subchapter E—Account Servicing

PART 361—ROUTINE

SUBPART E—SERVICING ACCOUNTS OF BORROWERS ENTERING THE ARMED FORCES

Part 361 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (13 F. R. 9436), is hereby amended to add Subpart E as follows:

Sec.
361.81 General.
361.82 Operating loan borrowers.
361.83 Farm Ownership and Farm Housing borrowers.

AUTHORITY: §§ 361.81 to 361.83 issued under sec. 41, 60 Stat. 1066, sec. 510, 63 Stat. 438; 7 U. S. C. 1015, 42 U. S. C. 1480. Interpret or apply secs. 41, 48, 60 Stat. 1065, 1066, 1070, sec. 510, 63 Stat. 437; 7 U. S. C. 1015, 1022, 42 U. S. C. 1480.

DERIVATION: §§ 361.81 to 361.83 contained in FHA Instruction 451.5.

§ 361.81 General. Section 48 of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended, requires annual payments of installments on loans made under Title I and Title II of the act. This provision prohibits an agreement with the borrower for the postponement or modification of the annual installments due under his promissory note, but it is not the policy of the Farmers Home Administration to enforce scheduled payments by a borrower in the armed forces when such payments are beyond his ability to pay.

§ 361.82 Operating loan borrowers—(a) Policy. An Operating loan borrower entering the armed forces will be permitted to retain his security property when arrangements can be worked out which will be satisfactory to the borrower and the Farmers Home Administration. However, because of the nature of security for Operating loans, such a borrower will be informed of the usual depreciation of such security property and will be encouraged to sell the property and apply the proceeds on his loan(s). In most cases, the interests of both the borrower and the Government can be served better by arranging for a voluntary sale of the security property. A borrower retaining security property will be expected to make payments on his loan(s) equal to scheduled payments.

(b) Methods of handling. In carrying out the above policy, the cases of borrowers entering the armed forces will be handled in accordance with one of the following methods:

(1) Voluntary sale of security property. When it is determined that the security property will be liquidated, the borrower will be urged to sell the property through the use of Form FHA–851, "Statement of Conditions on which Lien will be Released," for a private sale, or Form FHA–217, "Agreement for Public Sale," for a public sale. If for any reason it is more desirable or necessary for the property to be sold by the Farmers Home Administration, the sale will be through the use of Form FHA–209, "Agreement for Voluntary Liquidation of Mortgaged Chattels," executed by the borrower (i) before he is accepted for service in the armed forces if the sale is to be completed before the borrower is accepted for service, or (ii) after he is accepted for service if the sale cannot be completed before the borrower is so accepted. For this purpose, an individual will be considered as accepted for service after he is ordered to report for induction, or if in the enlisted reserve, after he is ordered to report for service in the armed forces.

(2) Assumption of indebtedness. When the borrower arranges with a person satisfactory to the Farmers Home Administration to purchase the security property and to assume the Operating loan indebtedness secured thereby, the State Director is authorized to approve an assumption agreement for this purpose between the borrower, the person assuming the debt, and the Farmers Home Administration. In such a case, the original borrower will not be released from liability.

(3) Arrangements with third persons. When the borrower arranges with a relative or other reliable person to maintain the security property in a satisfactory manner and to make scheduled payments, the State Director is authorized to approve the arrangement. In such a case, the borrower will be required to execute a power of attorney, prepared or approved by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, authorizing an attorney-in-fact to act for him during his absence.

(c) Statements of accounts. Borrowers entering the armed forces will be requested to designate mailing addresses for statements of account.

§ 361.83 Farm Ownership and Farm Housing borrowers—(a) Power of attorney. Farm Ownership and Farm Housing borrowers entering the armed forces who retain ownership of their farms should be encouraged to execute a power of attorney authorizing the person of their choice to take any actions necessary to insure proper operation and maintenance of the farm, payment of insurance and taxes, and repayment of the loan. No employee of the Farmers Home Administration will act as attorney-in-fact for a borrower. A power of attorney should not be used in conveying title to the farm except in those States where the power is good until actual notice is received of the death of the person granting the power.

(b) When the borrower wishes to retain ownership of the farm. When a borrower wishes to retain ownership of his farm, the Farmers Home Administration will assist him in making arrangements for the operation of the farm which will protect the interests of both the Government and the borrower.

(1) Leasing. It will be more satisfactory if the farm is leased under a written lease in accordance with equitable leasing policies and applicable Farmers Home Administration procedures. The County Supervisor should assist the borrower in securing a dependable tenant who is a good farmer, who will secure maximum production, and who will maintain the farm in good condition. The borrower should make arrangements for the rental income to be used for regular payments on the loan in order to avoid the accumulation of unpaid interest. The borrower also should make arrangements for the payment of taxes and insurance and maintenance of the farm to avoid having these charges paid by the Government and charged to his account. It would be desirable to provide that the lease will continue for the duration of the borrower's military service, unless either party gives written notice of earlier cancellation of the lease. In the case of an insured Farm Ownership loan, it is necessary under the terms of the security instrument to obtain the consent of the holder of the insured mortgage when the farm is leased.

(2) Operation by family. When the farm is to be operated by relatives, the hazards and disadvantages to the borrower and the Government which are inherent in unwritten contracts will be discussed, and every effort will be made to induce the borrower to enter into formal contractual arrangements whenever possible to do so.

(c) When the borrower does not desire to retain ownership of the farm. When a borrower feels that the burden of managing the farm and continuing with payment of the indebtedness will be too great for him and his family, he may wish to transfer the farm to another approved applicant or to sell it outside the program. In any such case, the Farmers Home Administration will cooperate with the borrower in effecting a sale or transfer of the farm in accordance with applicable procedures.

(d) Contribution agreements in cases of section 503 Farm Housing borrowers—(1) When the borrower desires to retain ownership of the farm. Whenever a section 503 Farm Housing borrower plans to retain ownership of his farm and have it operated by his family or a dependable tenant, the borrower will be required, as a condition to continuation of the contribution agreement, to give the farm operator or other competent person a power of attorney authorizing the attorney-in-fact to agree on behalf of the borrower to a farm plan for each forthcoming year of the period covered by the contribution agreement and to execute on behalf of the borrower Form FHA–528, "Annual Income Return," for each such year. In each such case, for the purpose of determining whether a contribution credit is justified for any given year, consideration will be given to the borrower's entire income from the farm and all other sources. Therefore, if the attorney-in-fact is to execute Form FHA–528 under his power of attorney, he will be required to obtain a signed statement from the borrower as to his nonfarm income for the year under consideration and to submit the statement with Form FHA–528.

(i) Leasing. Where the mortgage prohibits transfer of the farm or any interest therein without the Government's consent, consent to a lease will be given or withheld by the State Director after considering the facts of the case. If, in such a case, the State Director does not consent to the lease, he will give written notice to the borrower and the lessee that the contribution will be inoperative for the duration of the lease. In a case where the transfer of an interest in the property is not subject to the Government's consent, a determination will be made by the State Director as to whether, under the terms of the lease, the benefits of the contribution agreement will accrue to the lessee. If the benefits will accrue to the lessee, a further determination will be made by the State Director as to whether it would be proper in all the circumstances for the lessee to receive the benefits of the contribution agreement. If the decision is in favor of having the benefits accrue to the lessee, the contribution agreement will remain in effect. If the decision is not in favor of having the benefits accrue to the lessee, the contribution agreement will be declared inoperative by the State Director for the duration of the lessee's tenure and written notice to that effect will be sent to the borrower and to the lessee.

(2) When the borrower does not desire to retain ownership of the farm. When a section 503 Farm Housing borrower desires to transfer his farm subject to the Farm Housing mortgage, a determination will be made as to whether the proposed transfer is to be made to a person eligible for a section 503 loan. If such a transfer is to be made to a person who is not eligible, the contribution agreement will be canceled. If the farm and the loan are to be transferred to an eligible borrower, the Government and the transferee will execute an agreement conferring upon him the rights and obligations of the original borrower under the contribution agreement.

(e) Statements of account. Borrowers entering the armed forces who retain ownership of their farms will be requested to designate mailing addresses for statements of account.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Production and Marketing Administration (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Regulations and Standards Under the Farm Products Inspection Act

PART 70—GRADING AND INSPECTION OF POULTRY AND DOMESTIC RABBITS AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF; UNITED STATES SPECIFICATIONS FOR CLASSES, STANDARDS, AND GRADES WITH RESPECT THERETO

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On April 21, 1951, a notice of a proposed amendment to the regulations governing the grading and inspection of poultry and domestic rabbits and edible products thereof; and United States specifications for classes, standards, and grades with respect thereto (7 CFR Part 70) was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 3488), pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural and Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951. (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved Sept. 6, 1950). The regulations currently provide that on and after May 1, 1951, only dressed poultry and dressed domestic rabbits which were produced in official plants may be brought into other official plants for processing under grading or inspection service. The amendment hereinafter set forth will permit processors who are operating under the services provided in the aforesaid regulations to bring into their official plants such dressed poultry as is owned by them prior to July 1, 1951, for further processing under inspection service or grading service. The amendment will extend until July 1, 1951, the period of exemption of dressed poultry and dressed domestic rabbits, as such, from the provisions of §§ 70.16 and 70.17 of the regulations. It will also provide authority for the Administrator to grant conditional approval to processing plants as official plants under emergency conditions of restricted availability of facilities, construction materials, and equipment provided suitable sanitary practices are employed to effect adequate sanitation in such plants. This amendment is deemed necessary because of the shortage of materials needed to bring poultry processing plants into compliance with § 70.16 of the regulations and to provide a supply of dressed poultry which is eligible for processing under the regulations immediately following the effective date of this amendment so that the services may be continued without interruption.

The poultry processing trade has requested the proposed extension to enable poultry dressing plants to complete the requisite changes in facilities without undue hardship, and no written data, views, or arguments were submitted during the period prescribed therefor in the notice of proposed rule making, for consideration by the Department with respect to this action.

Therefore it is deemed impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give a 30-day notice of the effective date hereof, because (1) those plants which are currently operating under the services provided for in the aforesaid regulations will not be able to continue to operate without interruption or hardship unless relieved from the present requirement which would become effective May 1, 1951; and (2) in view of the current scarcity of necessary materials, the poultry dressing plants need additional time for compliance; and (3) a proposed general revision of the aforesaid regulations is currently being processed, wherefore, it has been determined that the amendment set forth herein be made effective upon the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

1. The regulations are hereby amended by revising the heading and provisions of § 70.3 (h) Exemption for one year from the provisions of § 70.16 and § 70.17 to read as follows:

§ 70.3 Grading and inspection programs and services. • • •

(h) Exemption from the provisions of § 70.16 and § 70.17. The provisions of §§ 70.16 and 70.17 shall not become applicable to the production of dressed poultry and dressed domestic rabbits, as such, until July 1, 1951. Prior to July 1, 1951, dressed poultry and dressed domestic rabbits which have been produced in other than official plants may be brought into official plants for grading, inspection, or processing thereof. On and after July 1, 1951, except with respect to dressed poultry which is owned by the applicant prior to that date, only dressed poultry and dressed domestic rabbits from an official plant may be brought into another official plant for grading, inspection, or processing thereof.

2. Revise the provisions of § 70.4 (e) (3) Final survey and plant approval to read as follows:

§ 70.4 Application for inspection service or grading service. • • •

(e) Application for inspection service or grading service in official plants; approval. • • •

(3) Final survey and plant approval. Prior to the inauguration of the grading service, or inspection service, a final survey of the plant and premises shall be made by the regional supervisor or his assistant to determine if the plant is constructed and facilities are installed in accordance with the approved drawings and the regulations in this part. The plant may be approved only when these requirements have been met, except that conditional approval for a specified limited time may be granted only under emergency conditions of restricted availability of facilities and construction materials, provided practices suitable to the Administrator are employed to effect adequate sanitary conditions in the plant.

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

PART 319—FOREIGN QUARANTINE NOTICES

REVOCATION OF QUARANTINES PROHIBITING IMPORTATION OF BANANA PLANTS AND PORTIONS THEREOF EXCEPT THE FRUIT AND PROHIBITING INTERSTATE MOVEMENT OF BANANA PLANTS AND PORTIONS THEREOF FROM HAWAII AND PUERTO RICO

Notice of proposed rule making was published on February 1, 1951, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 934) pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003 (a)) regarding the revocation of the quarantine prohibiting the importation, from all foreign countries and localities into the United States, of any variety of banana plants (Musa spp.) or portions thereof, except the fruit (7 CFR 319.31), and also regarding the revocation of the quarantine prohibiting the movement, from Hawaii and Puerto Rico into or through any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, of all species and varieties of banana plants (Musa spp.) or portions thereof (7 CFR 301.32). After consideration of all relevant matter presented, the Secretary of Agriculture hereby revokes, effective May 2, 1951, the said quarantine designated as 7 CFR 319.31 and the said quarantine designated as 7 CFR 301.32.

Inasmuch as these revocations relieve restrictions heretofore imposed, they are within the exception in section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act and may properly be made effective less than 30 days after their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Amdt. 2]

CPR 1—NEW PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

EXTENSION OF REGULATION AND MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Congress), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 1 (15 F. R. 9061) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 1, as originally issued on December 18, 1950, established manufacturers' ceiling prices for new passenger automobiles at the December 1, 1950, level. At that time the regulation was to remain in effect for a period ending March 1, 1951. On March 1, 1951, Amendment 1 to the Regulation was issued. By the terms of this Amendment Ceiling Price Regulation 1 was to remain in effect for a period ending May 1, 1951.

On April 21, 1951, Mr. Eric Johnston, Economic Stabilization Administrator, directed the Office of Price Stabilization that, "The basic policy shall be to allow no price increases above the level set by interim regulations except to the minimum extent required by law, or for exceptional reasons of public policy." Mr. Johnston further directed that, "The basic standard reflecting the minimum requirement of law (apart from certain farm and food commodities) shall be as follows:

(1) The level of price ceilings for an industry shall normally be considered "generally fair and equitable" under the Defense Production Act if the dollar profits of the industry amount to 85 percent of the average for the industry's best three years during the period 1946–1949, inclusive. The profits should be figured before federal income and excess profits taxes and after normal depreciation only, with adjustments made for any changes in net worth.

Therefore, until sufficient data is obtained to enable this Agency to establish ceiling prices for the automobile manufacturing industry in accordance with this Directive, ceiling prices for the automobile manufacturing industry will remain frozen at present levels.

The National Production Authority, on April 1, 1951, issued an amendment to Order M-2 which prohibited automobile manufacturers from equipping new automobiles with spare tires and tubes. This amendment provides the method the manufacturer must use in determining the amount by which he must reduce his ceiling prices to compensate for the elimination of such standard equipment. Where the manufacturer had a standard charge for such equipment on December 1, 1950, he must deduct that charge from his net price for the automobile complete with standard equipment on that date. Where the manufacturer had no charge for such equipment in effect on December 1, 1950, he determines his standard charge for the equipment eliminated by increasing his reduction in cost because of the elimination of the standard equipment by the same percentage markup he applied on December 1, 1950, to his cost of the entire automobile, less general administrative and selling expense. As to eliminated standard equipment for which the manufacturer had a standard charge in effect on December 1, 1950, this method will continue the manufacturer's December 1, 1950, practice. As to eliminated standard equipment for which the manufacturer had no standard charge in effect on December 1, 1950, ceiling prices determined in this manner will result in the manufacturer's receiving no more than the same markup on manufacturing cost than he did before the equipment was eliminated.

The invoicing provisions of the regulation have been amended to require the manufacturer to show separately on his invoice, an amount equal to the net price (f. o. b. factory) in effect on February 28, 1951, less the actual amount of the reduction in this net price resulting from the removal of standard equipment, and the amount of any increase in price permitted under this regulation since February 28, 1951. This has been done in order to facilitate computation by new car dealers of their ceiling prices.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 4 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The ceiling price established by paragraph (a) of this section shall include all equipment that was standard for each make and model on December 1, 1950, or, if the ceiling price is established on the basis of a counterpart model in the previous line, the equipment that was standard for such counterpart model. In the event that a new automobile is sold without such standard equipment, the ceiling price shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the net price (f. o. b. factory) which he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on December 1, 1950, for the same make and model, or if the manufacturer has brought out a new line since December 1, 1950, or brings out a new line thereafter, the net price (f. o. b. factory) which the manufacturer had in effect to the same class of purchaser on December 1, 1950, for the counterpart model in the previous line. The manufacturer shall then deduct from his net price the standard charge he had in effect on December 1, 1950, to a purchaser of the same class, for any standard equipment which has been eliminated. The manufacturer shall then multiply this reduced net price by 103.5 percent. The result will be his ceiling price. If the manufacturer had no standard charge in effect on December 1, 1950, to a purchaser of the same class, for the standard equipment which has been eliminated, he shall determine his standard charge as follows:

(i) The manufacturer shall first determine the net price he had in effect on December 1, 1950, for sale of the automobile with the standard equipment to the same class of purchaser.

(ii) He shall then divide this price by his cost, exclusive of general selling and administrative expense, of the complete automobile as of December 1, 1950.

(iii) He shall then multiply the quotient obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph by his cost of the eliminated standard equipment on December 1, 1950. The product is the standard charge which the manufacturer must deduct from the net price (f. o. b. factory) which he had in effect to the same class of purchaser on December 1, 1950.

2. Section 7 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Invoicing. Each manufacturer of new automobiles shall furnish to each person to whom he sells a new automobile, an invoice showing the following items separately:

(1) An amount equal to the net price (f. o. b. factory) in effect on February 28, 1951, to a purchaser of the same class, less any deduction therefrom required by this regulation because of the discontinuance of any standard equipment.

(2) The amount of any increase which the regulation permits the manufacturer to make in his February 28, 1951, net price (less any deduction for the elimination of standard equipment required by this regulation).

3. The second paragraph of section 8 is amended to read as follows:

This regulation shall become effective immediately.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

This amendment shall become effective May 1, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, JR.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Supplementary Regulation 1]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 1—IMPORTED PULPWOOD AND WOODPULP

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Since June 1950, the prices of imported woodpulp, quoted on a quarterly basis, have risen rapidly and by substantial amounts. Swedish producers have raised their prices for bleached sulphite pulp from $118.00 per ton in June 1950 to $175.00 per ton in the first quarter of 1951 and to $250.00–$290.00 per ton for the second quarter of 1951; prices of unbleached sulphate have been increased from $85.00 in June 1950 to $153.00 per ton in the first quarter of 1951 and to $225.00–$275.00 per ton in the second quarter of 1951. The prices of woodpulp from Canada have not increased at the same rate. From June 1950 to the second quarter of 1951, prices of bleached sulphite rose from $126.00–$135.00 to $160.00–$175.00 per ton and the prices of unbleached sulphate rose from $82.00–$85.00 to $145.00–$170.00 per ton.

Imported woodpulp represents about 55 percent of the total quantity of woodpulp annually sold in the United States and is chiefly consumed by non-integrated mills located in the Lake and Northeastern states. The woodpulp inventories of non-integrated mills have remained relatively constant at about 5 weeks supply and, consequently, paper and paperboard produced from imported woodpulp in the second quarter will to a large extent be made from woodpulp received during the same period.

A similar price-supply situation exists for woodpulp producing mills located in the Lake and Northeastern states. Mills in these areas are dependent on pulpwood from Canada for between 25 and 30 percent of their requirements and some individual mills are almost wholly dependent on imported wood. Since June 1950, the prices of all Canadian wood have rapidly increased as a result of competition with Canadian mills for the available supply. Pulpwood price increases have been particularly sharp in New Brunswick, the most important source of wood for Northeastern mills, where, in addition to competing with Canadian mills, United States mills have been forced to also compete for wood with European mills. Further, wood inventories in both these areas have been substantially reduced and current pulpwood prices are directly reflected in the cost of producing pulp, paper and paperboard made therefrom.

Under these circumstances, manufacturers in these industries would sustain serious hardship if they were not permitted to compute their cost increases for these materials on the basis of second quarter prices. For this reason, April 16, 1951, is established as the cut-off date for computing these increases in materials costs. This action is taken with specific reference to the price level prevailing in April 1951. It is not to be inferred that similar actions will be taken with reference to later quarterly pricing periods in recognition of any future increases in woodpulp and pulpwood prices.

It should also be emphasized that this action in no respect places any stamp of approval on, or implies any continued acceptance of, the woodpulp prices allowed to be reflected by this action. These prices are clearly inflationary, and their acceptance in this action merely a temporary expedient in recognition of the fact that many mills have already contracted to receive woodpulp at the current prices. This is an interim solution, awaiting more appropriate action with respect to the whole structure of pulp and paper prices.

Finally, it should be recognized that this action does not imply that in other cases in which current replacement cost exeeeds that reflected in the calculation of a manufacturer's ceiling price under CPR 22, any similar change in cut-off date will be made. The change in this instance is allowed only because the cost increase for imported pulp and pulpwood after March 15 has been of such tremendous magnitude as to make operations impossible under the ceilings otherwise calculated for a mill that uses a large percentage of imported pulp and pulpwood.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this Supplementary Regulation 1 to the Ceiling Price Regulation 22 are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purpose of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and to relevant factors of general applicability.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this supplementary regulation does.
2. Cut-off date which may be used in calculating "the material cost adjustment".

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. This Supplementary Regulation 1 modifies Ceiling Price Regulation 22 by providing that manufacturers of woodpulp, paper, paperboard and converted paper and paperboard products, who are otherwise subject to the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, may use in determining their ceiling prices, increases in their material costs of imported pulpwood and imported woodpulp up to and including April 16, 1951.

All other provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 22 are unaffected by this Supplementary Regulation 1.

SEC. 2. Cut-off date which may be used in calculating "the material cost adjustment". Wherever reference is made in Ceiling Price Regulation 22 to a cut-off date for calculating "the materials cost adjustment" in section 13 through section 16 of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, manufacturers of woodpulp, paper, paperboard and converted paper and paperboard products may use instead a cut-off date no later than April 16, 1951 for imported pulpwood and imported woodpulp only.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 shall become effective May 28, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Interpretation 1]

CPR 22, INT. 1—INCREASES IN TRANSPORTATION COSTS

Section 28 of CPR 22 permits an adjustment of ceiling prices quoted on a delivered basis to reflect any increases, between the end of the base period and March 15, 1951, in transportation costs actually incurred. This does not include increases in rail or water freight rates authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its decision of March 12, 1951 in Ex Parte No. 175 (and Sub-No. 1). None of the increases so authorized became effective until after March 15, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 11, Revision 1]

GCPR, SR 11, REV. 1—SOFT SURFACE FLOOR COVERINGS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this revised Supplementary Regulation No. 11 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This revision of Supplementary Regulation No. 11 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation makes a number of minor changes in the original regulation which became effective March 13, 1951.

The revised regulation makes it clear that manufacturers may not add the 15 percent permitted increase to the list price of any zone other than the mill zone. Since the percentage increase is intended to compensate for increase in raw materials, primarily wool, it would be inflationary to allow the percentage addition to be added to zone prices which include freight. The permitted increase is therefore made applicable to the mill zone price.

The revised regulation makes specific provision that in pricing new merchandise which did not appear in any manufacturer's list, the distinction between a basic price and permitted increase is maintained. The permitted increase is the amount which the seller at a subsequent level of distribution adds onto his ceiling price. To conform to the nomenclature adopted in Amendment 2 to CPR 7 the term "basic cost" is substituted for the term "original cost" formerly used.

The pass-through provisions which previously were applicable only to retailers under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 are by the current revision made applicable to all GCPR sellers. These include decorator supply houses and carpet contractors, as well as some retailers who will remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation until they have filed their pricing chart.

The provisions with respect to notification to retailers are made applicable to the interior decorator supply houses in their sales to persons other than consumers.

1. What this revised supplementary regulation does.
2. Sale by a manufacturer or wholesaler.
3. Sale to a wholesaler.
4. New floor coverings.
5. Sellers other than a manufacturer or wholesaler.
6. Notification.
7. Applicability of General Ceiling Price Regulation.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 7 issued under sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Public Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. What this revised supplementary regulation does. This revised supplementary regulation supersedes Supplementary Regulation 11, effective March 13, 1951. It establishes new ceiling prices for sales of soft surface floor coverings with pile fabrics of wool, synthetic materials, or a blend of both.

SEC. 2. Sale by a manufacturer or wholesaler. The ceiling price for sales by manufacturers and wholesalers of any unit of floor covering is the applicable mill or zone price for that unit of floor covering contained in the manufacturer's price list in effect for deliveries at any time between December 19, 1950, and January 15, 1951, plus 15 percent of the applicable manufacturer's mill price. The added amount is referred to as "permitted increase." The term "wholesaler" for the purpose of this revised supplementary regulation does not include any seller commonly referred to as a decorator supply house or carpet contractor or to any person customarily buying at manufacturers' list prices.

SEC. 3. Sale to a wholesaler. The ceiling price for any sale by a manufacturer to a wholesaler is the ceiling price established in section 2 of this regulation, less discount of a percentage no smaller than the discount in effect during the period from December 19, 1950, to January 26, 1951.

SEC. 4. New floor coverings. A manufacturer or wholesaler establishes his ceiling price for a new unit of floor covering, not included in a manufacturer's price list in effect between December 19, 1950; and January 15, 1951, by first computing his price under section 4 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation if a manufacturer and under section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation if a wholesaler and then adding 15 percent to the resulting figure. The figure arrived at under section 4 or section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation is the "basic price." The amount added is the "permitted increase." The total is the ceiling price.

SEC. 5. Sellers other than a manufacturer or wholesaler. Any seller whose sales are covered by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, other than a manufacturer or wholesaler, may add to his ceiling price, established without the benefit of this revised supplementary regulation, an amount equal to the manufacturer's "permitted increase". The result becomes his new ceiling price.

SEC. 6. Notification. Any seller of floor coverings, selling to any person other than an ultimate consumer, must break down his invoice price for each commodity sold, into two component parts. One part, called the "basic price" is the ceiling price established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, computed without the benefit of this revised supplementary regulation. The other part is the "permitted increase".

To each invoice rendered in connection with a sale to a retailer, including an interior decorator, shall be affixed (by rubber stamp or other convenient means) this statement:

> The amount on this invoice shown as the "basic price" is the cost on which you apply your mark-up under OPS Ceiling Price Regulation 7. The amount shown as "permitted increase" may be added to your price after applying your mark-up. The total becomes your ceiling price.

SEC. 7. Applicability of General Ceiling Price Regulation. All provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, not inconsistent with the provisions of this revised supplementary regulation, shall remain in effect.

Effective date. This revised supplementary regulation to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective May 5, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 22]

GCPR, SR 22—CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN MACHINERY LEASED BY AMERICAN CAN COMPANY AND CONTINENTAL CAN COMPANY, INC.

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 22 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation permits the American Can Company and Continental Can Company, Inc., to increase their prices in effect on January 25, 1951, for the lease of container closing machines, related or auxiliary equipment, or for machine service furnished in connection with such leased machines and equipment, by the amount required from time to time to conform with the judgment of the District Court for the Northern District of California, (Southern Division), in United States of America vs. Continental Can Company, Inc., civil action #26346, and United States of America vs. American Can Company, civil action #26345-H.

In the case of Continental Can Company, Inc., the United States of America filed a complaint on August 27, 1946, and its amended complaint on June 7, 1948, alleging violations of the Sherman and Clayton Acts. Pursuant to stipulation between the parties, the Court entered its judgment on June 26, 1950. In the case of American Can Company, the United States of America filed its complaint on August 27, 1946, and its amended complaint on May 25, 1948. The Court filed its opinion on November 10, 1949, finding that the American Can Company had violated sections 1 and 2 of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and section 3 of the Clayton Act and issued its judgment on June 22, 1950. According to the finding of the Court, the companies leased container closing machines and related or auxiliary equipment at nominal rentals, well below the cost of doing business, as an inducement for lessees to purchase cans from them, rather than their competitors. The Court entered a final judgment against each of these companies requiring them to raise their rental rates for this machinery and their rates for servicing this machinery, to compensatory levels. This action was designed to assist in making the operation of these companies competitive with other companies engaged in the same business.

The Court appointed a Special Master whose duty it is to evaluate the efforts of the Companies to comply with the judgments, specifically including the required increase of rental rates to a compensatory level. The Office of Price Stabilization has received the oral assurance of the Special Master that he will notify the Court and the Office of Price Stabilization of any proposed increase in rental rates of either Company which, from the information at his disposal, may appear to be in excess of compensatory rates as defined in the judgments.

Under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, these companies could not increase their prices for rentals or for furnishing services in accordance with the final judgment, without being in violation of the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

The situation presented by the conflict between the regulations of this Agency and the decrees of the Court is a novel one. In view of the fact that the ultimate objective of the Court's judgments is the restoration of competition in the can manufacturing industry, it is the opinion of the Director of Price Stabilization that enforcement of the Court's judgments in these cases would be consistent with the policies expressed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation and with the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

At any time when it appears that rentals will be in excess of compensatory rates as defined in the judgments, the Office of Price Stabilization will take such action as may under the circumstances appear to be necessary.

Accordingly, this supplementary regulation permits the American Can Company and the Continental Can Company, Inc., to comply with the provisions of the Court's judgments.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Applicability.
2. Definitions.
3. Ceiling prices for leases and certain machine services.
4. Service training schools.
5. Reports.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. Applicability. (a) This supplementary regulation establishes the ceiling prices for leases of container closing machines, related equipment and auxiliary equipment, and for services in connection with the leased machines by American Can Company and Continental Can Company, Inc. These ceiling prices supersede the ceiling price for these leases and services established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) The provisions of this regulation are applicable in the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Definitions. The following terms used in this regulation shall have the following meanings:

(a) The term "container closing machine" means any integral machine which performs as its primary function the final double seaming, clinching, seating or crimping of metal or fiber covers to metal or fiber containers.

(b) The term "related equipment" means any integral machine (other than container closing machines) which is used to supplement the operation of a container closing machine, or used in the preparing, filling or weighing of the contents prior to the final seaming, clinching, seating, or crimping of the metal or fiber covers, or in the unsealing, filling, and resealing of containers, or in the subsequent marking, identification, weighing, or handling of the closed container, including but not limited to key clinchers, spout clinchers and can opening machines.

(c) The term "auxiliary equipment" means:

(1) Supplementary non-integral mechanisms which may be directly attached to container closing machines or related equipment to perform functions other than the double seaming, clinching, seating or crimping of metal or fiber covers to metal or fiber containers, including, but not limited to, can feeds, non-spill devices, take-away conveyors, discharge devices, but shall not include any particular special device made to one customer's specifications, and not manufactured thereafter.

(2) Sets of change parts for container closing machines and related equipment, and all other devices and equipment which will enable any container closing machine or related equipment to accommodate the containers of various types and sizes within the range of the particular container closing machine or related equipment.

(d) The term "machine services" means any form of technical services in connection with the installation, repair, overhaul, reconditioning, maintenance and related services of container closing machines, related equipment, and auxiliary equipment.

(e) The term "American Can Company" means that corporation and its domestic subsidiaries and the term "Continental Can Company, Inc." means that corporation and its domestic subsidiaries.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices for leases and certain machine services. The ceiling price for the lease of any container closing machine, related equipment or auxiliary equipment or for machine services furnished in connection with such leased machines and equipment by American Can Company or by Continental Can Company, Inc., shall be the price in effect on January 25, 1951 (adjusted to reflect customary differentials, including discounts, allowances, premiums and extras, based upon difference in classes or location of purchasers or in terms or conditions of lease) increased by the amount required from time to time to conform to section 10 of Part III of the judgment of the District Court for the Northern District of California (Southern Division) filed June 26, 1950 in United States of America v. Continental Can Company, Inc., Civil Action No. 26346, and the judgment of the District Court for the Northern District of California (Southern Division) filed June 22, 1950 in United States of America v. American Can Company, Civil Action No. 26345-H.

SEC. 4. Service training schools. The ceiling price for the leasing of any container closing machine, related equipment or auxiliary equipment under this regulation shall include the maintaining of service training schools as required by section 18 of Part III of said judgments and no separate charge may be made for such training.

SEC. 5. Reports. American Can Company and Continental Can Company, Inc., shall each file a report with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., each and every time that they increase their lease prices for the lease of machines or the furnishing of services covered by this regulation pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of this regulation, stating the last price for each class of customer and the amount of the increase to each class of customer.

This regulation shall become effective April 30, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 23]

GCPR, SR 23—ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING RATES OF MOTOR CARRIERS SUBJECT TO MINIMUM RATE ORDERS OF CERTAIN STATES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 23 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The California Public Utilities Commission and the Colorado Public Utilities Commission recently have issued orders prescribing certain rates to be observed as minimum by motor carriers other than common carriers operating intrastate in those jurisdictions. The Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities has advised that similar action by that body is contemplated. These actions by the state regulatory bodies have been taken or are being considered, of course, pursuant to existing statutory authority or requirements of the respective states.

The rates of carriers other than common carriers are subject to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and compliance by the motor carriers subject to the aforementioned state minimum rate orders would result in their charging rates higher than the ceiling rates permitted under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. An accommodation of the conflicting requirements of the State and Federal regulations in these instances is necessary and consistent with the policy and purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950. To enable this, this supplementary regulation makes a direct delegation of authority to the appropriate Regional Directors of the Office of Price Stabilization to adjust the ceiling rates of those motor carriers who are subject to the General Ceiling Price Regulation and at the same time subject to minimum rate orders in the states named.

The regulation requires that certain evidence substantiating the minimum rate proposal or order be submitted by the state regulatory authority to the OPS Regional Director. The evidence thus required is of substantially the same character as the evidence which the regulatory bodies themselves customarily require and consider before issuing their minimum rate orders.

Consultation has been had with the state authorities involved and, so far as practicable, with the carriers affected or to be affected by this supplementary regulation. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this Supplementary Regulation 23 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Applicability.
2. Delegation of authority to Regional Directors to adjust rates.
3. Required findings by Regional Directors.
4. What the petition must include.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. Applicability. This regulation applies only to ceiling rates for the intrastate services of motor carriers other than common carriers, in the States of California, Colorado, and Massachusetts, whose minimum rates are regulated by the statutes or by the orders, rules, or regulations of the appropriate state regulatory body.

SEC. 2. Delegation of authority to Regional Directors to adjust ceiling rates. The respective Regional Directors for Regions 1, 11 and 12 of the Office of Price Stabilization are hereby delegated authority to adjust ceiling rates established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for the intrastate services of motor carriers other than common carriers, performing operations, respectively, in the States of Massachusetts, Colorado and California, upon petition filed with the appropriate Regional Director by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, the Colorado Public Utilities Commission, or the California Public Utilities Commission.

SEC. 3. Required findings by Regional Directors. Adjustments under the authority of section 2 of this regulation may be made only upon specific findings by the appropriate Regional Director:

(a) That the adjustment is necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

(b) That the adjustment is necessary to eliminate a conflict between the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, or amendments and regulations supplementary thereto, and the statutes of the particular State or the orders, rules or regulations of the regulatory body for the State concerned with the petition under consideration.

(c) That the adjustment is necessary to effectuate the purposes of the law under which the particular regulatory body operates.

SEC. 4. What the petition must include. When any of the regulatory bodies hereinbefore named petitions the appropriate Regional Director for an adjustment in the ceiling rates of motor carriers other than common carriers, subject to its jurisdiction, it shall submit with its petition the following information:

(a) A certified copy of the law, statute or other authorization under which it exercises jurisdiction and regulates the intrastate minimum rates of motor carriers other than common carriers.

(b) A schedule or statement of the intrastate minimum rates of the motor carriers concerned which were in effect during the period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951.

(c) A schedule or statement showing the minimum rates ordered or contemplated for the motor carriers concerned.

(d) The data considered by the regulatory body in making its findings concerning any adjustment in the intrastate minimum rates of the motor carriers involved in the petition.

(e) A statement of the findings or proposed findings of the regulatory body upon which the adjustment in rates is based and a copy of any order issued or proposed for issuance by the regulatory body pursuant thereto.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation 23 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is effective May 1, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 6, Amdt. 1]

GOR 6—EXEMPTIONS OF CERTAIN SALES OF MERCHANDISE BEARING BRAND OR INSIGNIA OF SPECIFIED NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

SALES OF CARE RELIEF PACKAGES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this Amendment to General Overriding Regulation 6 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

General Overriding Regulation 6, issued April 20, 1951, exempted from any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization certain sales of articles bearing the insignia or brand of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. or Boy Scouts of America and sales by the Future Farmers of America. These exemptions were based on the recognition that the organizations affected are nonprofit in character, that the manner of distribution and the prices of the merchandise are strictly controlled by the organizations and any profits realized are used to further the work of the respective organizations. Subjecting these sales to price control was considered of no appreciable benefit to the program of price stabilization and tending to impose an unnecessary burden upon the Office of Price Stabilization.

Since the issuance of General Overriding Regulation 6, the Office of Price Stabilization has considered the operations of Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc., better known as CARE, an organization devoted to the task of shipping primarily food and clothing packages to needy persons abroad. It is a charitable organization, and so recognized by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, under section 101(6) of the Internal Revenue Code. Its principal operation consists of the packaging and shipping of food and clothing packages and their delivery abroad in response to contributions, orders and payments received from the public. Any margin of profit remaining after discharge of costs is used for charitable purposes, such as the free distribution of food and other relief assistance to needy persons.

Moreover, the total delivered cost to the donor of a package is, because of economies in purchasing and shipping, considerably less than if he purchased the contents of the package and mailed it himself. The work that CARE has done is well recognized as an important charitable undertaking and it is a continuing task in view of world conditions existing at this time. Subjecting sales of CARE packages to price control, which of necessity cannot reflect some of the intangible values inherent in CARE's system of selective assembling and distribution of relief items would have no appreciable benefit to the program of price stabilization and would impose an unnecessary burden upon the Office of Price Stabilization. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, it is not necessary for ceilings to be applied to these transactions. Accordingly, this amendment adds sales of CARE relief packages to the transactions exempted from price control by General Overriding Regulation 6.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 6 is amended by adding the following:

SEC. 3. Sales of CARE relief packages. No price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to sales and distribution of CARE relief packages by Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc., as long as that organization continues to be organized as a corporation organized and operated exclusively for charitable purposes within the meaning of section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date: This amendment shall become effective May 5, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 9]

GOR 9—EXEMPTIONS OF CERTAIN INDUSTRIAL MATERIALS AND MANUFACTURED GOODS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation 9 is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This General Overriding Regulation is an across-the-board regulation which exempts certain transactions from any ceiling price regulations imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization. At the present time only sales of raw mica, mica parts, and tungsten ores, and sales to any agency of the United States Government of tungsten concentrates processed from ore produced outside of the United States, its Territories or Possessions are included in the regulation, but it is anticipated that other items will be added from time to time.

Raw mica and mica parts. Raw mica consists of mica block, film, and splittings, and punch and circle mica while mica parts are items fabricated from raw mica for use as component parts in the manufacture of electrical and electronic equipment and other miscellaneous products. Mica parts include such things as electronic tube bridges, condenser film, toaster segments, mica plate, mica rings, mica tape, and gauge glass gaskets.

Almost all of the raw mica used in the United States is imported, with over 90 percent of the total supply coming from India. Mica fabricators purchase their material from foreign sources either directly or through importers who maintain some inventory and perform some sorting and grading. Generally, fabrication is a relatively simple process consisting of slitting, gauging, and punching operations. The cost of raw mica constitutes anywhere from 30 to 70 percent of the total cost of parts fabrication while the cost of parts seldom exceeds 5 percent of the price of the products in which they are incorporated.

Furthermore, raw mica is not a standardized product and there is a wide diversity in quality from lot to lot with a consequent substantial difference in yield. Because of the nonuniformity in raw materials, mica fabricators have difficulty in determining their costs in advance and ordinarily set their prices according to rough formulas which are based upon more or less informed guesses as to yields which can be obtained from the raw mica available or which may be procured to fill a given order.

In view of the lack of any effective control over the prices for almost all raw mica, the fact that the cost of mica parts is only a relatively small portion of the cost of the products in which they are used, and the difficulty of devising adequate ceiling pricing techniques for mica parts, it has been determined that the administrative burden of maintaining ceiling prices for raw mica and mica parts would outweigh the benefits to be derived from such control.

Tungsten ores. Tungsten ores, which normally contain from 0.5 percent to 2.5 percent tungsten trioxide (the basic tungsten compound) vary widely with respect to quality and the number of impurities which they contain. Before such ores can be used they are processed into tungsten concentrates containing approximately 60 percent tungsten trioxide. Customarily, the price paid for tungsten ores by a processor are determined by reference to the prices for tungsten concentrates. Since ceiling prices have been established for sales of tungsten concentrates, it is unnecessary to assume the administrative burden involved in establishing ceiling prices for tungsten ores.

Sales to agencies of the United States Government of imported concentrates. Tungsten is one of the strategic materials vitally needed in the defense program and a substantial portion of our requirements must come from foreign sources. Because supplies from China are no longer freely available, there is a severe shortage of tungsten and prices in the world market exceed the ceiling prices which have been established for sales in the United States. In order to enable the agencies of the United States Government to procure tungsten which we need, sales to such agencies of tungsten concentrates processed from ore produced outside of the United States, its Territories, or possessions have been exempted from all ceiling price restrictions. This action will have little, if any, effect upon the stabilization program since any sales by the agencies concerned will be governed by the applicable ceiling price regulation.

A provision is also made in the regulation for the eventual inclusion of suspension from price control of certain sales and certain commodities. These suspensions will be announced at a future date by amendment which will incorporate the suspensions in this general overriding regulation.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Exemptions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 and 2 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation exempts certain commodities or transactions from any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization. It also suspends the operation of any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization as to certain other commodities or transactions.

SEC. 2. Exemptions and suspensions from price control—(a) Exemptions. No ceiling price regulation heretofore issued or which may hereafter be issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the following:

(1) Sales of raw mica. "Raw mica" includes all grades of mica block, film, and splittings and punch and circle mica. It does not include mica scrap or wet and dry ground mica.

(2) Sales of mica parts. "Mica parts" are items fabricated from raw mica for use as component parts in the manufacture of electrical and electronic equipment and other miscellaneous products. The term "mica parts" as used herein includes, but is not limited to, such items as electronic tube bridges, condenser film, toaster segments, mica plate, mica rings, mica tape, and gauge glass gaskets.

(3) Sales of tungsten ores. "Tungsten ores" include any tungsten bearing ore which is sold for processing into tungsten concentrates.

(4) Sales to any agency of the United States Government of tungsten concentrates processed from ore produced outside of the United States, its Territories, or Possessions. "Tungsten concentrates" include wolframite, Hubnerite, ferberite or natural or synthetic scheelite which has been separated from gangue or associated rocks by physical or chemical processes.

(b) Suspensions. (Reserved.)

Effective date. This General Overriding Regulation shall become effective May 1, 1951.

Chapter XVII—Housing and Home Finance Agency

[CR 1]

CR 1—RESIDENTIAL CREDIT CONTROLS: POLICY AND PROCEDURE FOR PROCESSING AND APPROVAL OF EXCEPTIONS AND TERMS FOR CRITICAL DEFENSE HOUSING AREAS

The policy and procedure statement, originally issued at 16 F. R. 2231-2232 (March 10, 1951) and amended at 16 F. R. 3302-3303 (April 14, 1951), pursuant to sections 601 through 605 and section 704 of Public Law 774, 81st Cong. (64 Stat. 813, 814, 815, 816), sections 501, 502, and 902 of Executive Order 10161, September 9, 1950 (15 F. R. 6106), and the approval and authorization by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System immediately following that statement, are hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec.
1. Programming exceptions from residential credit controls.
2. Areas of certain Atomic Energy Commission installations.
3. Other critical defense housing areas.
4. Conditions to credit control exceptions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title VI, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., secs. 501, 502, 902, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Programming exceptions from residential credit controls. For areas designated by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator with the concurrence of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the restrictions on residential real estate construction credit contained in Regulation X of the Board and in the related regulations of the Federal Housing Commissioner and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs have been relaxed to assist in meeting the need for housing accommodations for in-migrant defense workers and military personnel and their families where the failure to provide such housing would impede national defense activities. The designations of these areas are based on housing market field surveys. Exceptions from credit restrictions will be issued generally in accordance with area program schedules adopted from time to time by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Such program schedules relate to the location of the housing within the area, the number, types and sizes of rental, sales, and other units required, the levels of rental or sales prices which must be achieved if the housing is to meet the needs of the in-migrant defense workers and military personnel and their families for whom it is to be made available, and similar factors.

With respect to housing so programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, real estate credit restrictions of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Housing Commissioner, and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs have been relaxed to the extent announced by such Board and agencies, respectively, subject to such conditions and requirements as are found necessary by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator to assure that the housing will serve the purpose for which the credit restrictions were relaxed.

SEC. 2. Areas of certain Atomic Energy Commission installations. With respect to housing programmed for rent in accordance with this procedure in the areas of the Savannah River (S. C. and Ga.), Paducah (Ky.), and Reactor Testing Station (Idaho) installations of the Atomic Energy Commission, the relaxed credit restrictions will be made available only upon the approval by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator of an application submitted to the local field office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency on a form prescribed by the Administrator. This application must be submitted by the persons proposing to construct the housing and will be approved only if the housing is found by the Administrator to meet the conditions and requirements prescribed by him.

With respect to housing programmed for sale in such areas in accordance with the proposed procedure, such housing may be sold for the purchaser's own occupancy or built for the owner-occupant only if the prospective purchaser or owner-occupant has been issued a certificate from the Atomic Energy Commission indicating his eligibility as a person engaged or to be engaged in national defense activities.

SEC. 3. Other critical defense housing areas. With respect to housing programmed in accordance with this procedure for critical defense housing areas (other than the areas designated in the preceding section), the relaxed credit restrictions will be made available only upon the approval of an application submitted to the appropriate local field office of the Federal Housing Administration on a form prescribed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, and such application will be approved only if the housing is found to meet the conditions and requirements prescribed by him. With respect to housing so programmed for rent or for sale, this application must be submitted by the person proposing to construct the housing. With respect to other housing so programmed for owner-occupancy this application must be submitted by the proposed owner-occupant.

SEC. 4. Conditions to credit control exceptions. Any person making application for the relaxation of credit restrictions in accordance with section 2 or section 3, and his successors in interest, must agree to such conditions and requirements as are prescribed in the application form and in appropriate regulations or procedures of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. These conditions and requirements are for the purpose of assuring that the housing will be so built, rented, sold, or occupied as to meet most effectively the housing needs of persons engaged in national defense activities and to best support such activities.

Dated: April 30, 1951.

RAYMOND M. FOLEY,
Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System hereby approves, for application in the areas of Savannah River (S. C. and Ga.), Paducah (Ky.), and Idaho Reactor Testing Station (Idaho) installations of the Atomic Energy Commission and in the additional critical defense housing areas designated by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator with the concurrence of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the policy and procedure described above, and, for the purpose of making the policy and procedure applicable to residential real estate construction credit subject to Regulation X, authorizes the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee to take such administrative action as he determines to be appropriate in carrying out such policy and procedure, including the issuance of specific forms, applications, and regulations.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM,
[SEAL] S. R. CARPENTER,
Secretary.

GENERAL

SECTION 1. Statement of purpose. In order to reduce serious inflationary pressures and to limit the volume of new residential construction to a level which can be maintained with the materials and labor available in the light of national defense requirements, restrictions on residential real estate credit (applicable where construction was started after noon of August 3, 1950) have been imposed, with the concurrence of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, by Regulation X (Chapter XV of this title) issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (hereinafter called the "Board"). Related credit restrictions (applicable to both new and old residential property) are contained in regulations of the Federal Housing Commissioner and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Actions restricting residential credit were taken under the authority of Title VI of the Defense Production Act of 1950, approved September 8, 1950, and of Executive Order 10161, issued September 9, 1950. In order to assist, to the maximum possible extent under existing legislation, the provision of housing needed for in-migrant defense workers or military personnel and their families where the failure to provide such housing would impede national defense activities, residential credit restrictions are relaxed or modified in critical defense housing areas designated by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. Residential credit controls in such areas continue to be administered by the Board with respect to real estate construction credit which is subject to said Regulation X and by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans' Administration, respectively, with respect to residential real estate credit assisted under the programs of those two agencies. Accordingly, the schedules showing relaxed or modified credit terms made available in critical defense housing areas are announced by those agencies for their respective spheres of administrative responsibility.

It is the purpose of this Regulation CR 3, issued by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, to prescribe uniform conditions and procedures under which such relaxed credit terms are made available in the designated critical defense housing areas in order to assure that the housing finance under the relaxed credit terms announced by the Board, the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans' Administration will meet the needs of the in-migrant defense workers or military personnel and their families and in order to avoid contributing unduly to inflationary pressures, particularly insofar as they may affect the price or rental of new or existing houses or of building materials.

This regulation does not supersede or in any way modify HHFA Regulation CR 2, which concerns relaxed credit terms for areas affected by the Savannah River, Paducah (Kentucky), and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission.

SEC. 2. What this regulation does. This regulation defines and lists critical defense housing areas and prescribes, among other things, who may apply for exceptions from residential credit restrictions in such areas; the type of housing eligible; where and how to apply; the basis on which applications will be approved; the rules which applicants and their successors in interest must abide by with respect to holding and offering certain housing for rent or sale to persons engaged in national defense activities and with respect to rents or sales prices which may be charged; and the manner in which eligibility will be determined for the occupancy or purchase of housing for which credit restrictions have been relaxed.

SEC. 3. Geographical areas affected. The special exceptions from residential credit restrictions which are authorized under this regulation will be applicable only to credit with respect to residential property located in "critical defense housing areas" as that term is defined in section 7 of this regulation. A critical defense housing area will be designated as such by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator only where such area has previously been designated as a "critical defense area" by the Defense Production Administrator. Among the criteria applied by the Defense Production Administrator in designating critical defense areas is the requirement that there be a serious shortage of housing for defense workers or military personnel required to be brought into such areas to carry out essential national defense activities.

SEC. 4. Type of housing eligible. The special exceptions from residential credit restrictions which are authorized under this regulation for critical defense housing areas will be applicable only to credit with respect to family dwellings which are suitable and intended for year round occupancy. Only single-family dwellings may be financed pursuant to the exceptions for sales housing and other housing to be built for owner-occupancy referred to in sections 13 through 17 of this regulation. Housing to be held for rent and to be financed pursuant to the exceptions governing rental housing set out in sections 8 through 12 of this regulation may be of any type which meets the requirements of the first sentence of this section. Thus, it may consist of a single-family home or single-family homes (whether detached, semi-detached, or row houses), two- to four-family structures, or other multi-family structures.

SEC. 5. Programming by HHFA. Relaxations of residential real estate credit restrictions will be programmed for each critical defense housing area by the Housing and Home Finance Agency on the basis of housing market field surveys, and exceptions from credit restrictions will be approved in accordance with schedules of housing needed from time to time to serve in-migrant defense workers or military personnel employed or stationed at defense plants or installations in the area. Detailed program schedules will be announced for each critical defense housing area. Such schedules will relate to the general location of the housing within such critical defense housing area, the number and types of rental, sales or other units required, the size (by number of bedrooms) of such units, the levels of rentals or sales prices which must be achieved if the housing is to meet the needs of the persons for whom it is intended and similar factors. Exceptions from credit restrictions will be approved pursuant to the detailed procedures, standards, and conditions set out below.

SEC. 6. Beginning of construction; time limit. When an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved under sections 8 through 12 or sections 13 through 17 of this regulation, construction of the housing described in the application should be begun not later than sixty calendar days after the date of the approval, and should be continued with reasonable diligence thereafter. This approval automatically expires unless construction is begun either (a) within such sixty-day period or (b) within any extension of that period which shall have been approved by the local office of the Federal Housing Administration, and is continued with reasonable diligence.

SEC. 7. Definitions. As used in this regulation, the following words, terms, and phrases shall have the meaning set out in this section:

(a) Beginning of construction. For the purposes of this regulation, construction shall be deemed to be begun when any essential materials which are to be an integral part of the structure have been incorporated into the site in a permanent form (for example, when footings or other foundations have been poured or placed).

(b) Completion of construction. For the purposes of this regulation a dwelling unit shall be deemed to be completed when, in conformity with general practice in the community, it is ready for occupancy.

(c) Critical defense housing area. A "critical defense housing area" (for purposes of this regulation) means an area designated as such by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator in the Appendix to this regulation. Unless a different standard is specified in the Appendix with respect to a particular area listed, each area named in the Appendix shall be deemed to include surrounding areas within a maximum practicable commuting distance of a defense plant or installation listed in a "defense activity list" for the area. (This definition does not determine where housing may be located within a critical defense housing area for which exceptions from credit restrictions are issued. The general location of such housing is determined by program schedules announced in accordance with section 5.)

(d) Defense activity list. The "defense activity list" means the list of defense plants or installations for each critical defense housing area on file in the FHA office for the district in which the such area is located.

(e) Eligible defense worker. An "eligible defense worker" means a civilian or a member of the armed forces employed or stationed at a defense plant or installation listed on the defense activity list for the particular critical defense housing area who is an in-migrant as defined herein and who requires and is without adequate family housing. However, a member of the armed forces otherwise eligible is an eligible defense worker notwithstanding that he moved, or brought his family, from beyond maximum practicable commuting distance prior to December 19, 1950.

(f) Family dwelling. A "family dwelling" means a house or apartment designed for residential occupancy by two or more persons and which contains kitchen facilities or space designed for kitchen facilities. It does not include hotels, motels, rooming houses, club houses, fraternity or sorority houses, dormitories, or any other structure designed or used either for transient accommodations or for occupancy by single persons or by non-family groups.

(g) In-migrant. An "in-migrant" is a person (1) whose residence is beyond maximum practicable commuting distance from his place of work or (2) who has since December 19, 1950 (or such later date as announced for the critical defense housing area) moved, or brought his family, from beyond maximum practicable commuting distance from his place of work.

(h) Maximum practicable commuting distance. "Maximum practicable commuting distance" means a distance within which it is possible to commute daily to the place of employment by established common carrier or by private transportation at a cost per person of not more than $1.00 per round trip and with normal traveling time of not more than three hours per round trip, unless another cost or time shall have been announced for the critical defense housing area.

(i) Sales price. "Sales price" means the total consideration paid (including any charge made a condition to the sale) by the buyer for the dwelling accommodations with accompanying land and improvements. The only items which are excluded are those incidental charges, such as closing costs and brokerage fees or commissions or charges, which buyers of such dwelling accommodations customarily assume in the community where such accommodations are located, and which actually have been incurred for services rendered at the buyer's or seller's request in connection with the sale.

HOUSING TO BE HELD FOR RENT

SEC. 8. Who may apply for exception from credit restrictions. With respect to housing programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator for rental occupancy, application for a special defense exception from residential credit restrictions may be made only by a person (including a corporation, partnership, trust, or other legal entity) who is the owner of, or otherwise has effective control over, the land on which there is proposed to be erected a new family dwelling or dwellings which will be held for rental to eligible occupants as defined below. Effective control over the land, for the purposes of this section, includes control through ownership, a firm contract to purchase, an option to purchase which may be exercised at the will of the applicant, or a long-term lease for a term of not less than 50 years.

SEC. 9. Where and how builders should apply. Application for an exception from credit restrictions with respect to housing to be held for rental should be made to the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration on HHFA Form No. H–1052. (Local offices of the Federal Housing Administration, which is a constituent agency of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, will receive and process such applications on behalf of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator without regard to whether or not the housing in question will be financed with the aid of FHA mortgage insurance.) An original and three signed copies of the application form must be submitted for each application. Each application must contain a statement that the applicant has a commitment or other assurance from a lending institution or other lender that such lender will, if the application is approved, provide the financing for the residential property, including the proposed improvements, described in the application. If the application is approved, two copies of the application form will be returned to the applicant endorsed to indicate that an exception from the credit restrictions has been approved. One of these copies must be submitted to the lending institution or other lender making the loan. Such lender need not necessarily be the lending institution or proposed lender referred to in the application. The applicant will also be notified if the application is rejected.

SEC. 10. Approval of application. Applications made under sections 8 through 12 may be approved in accordance with this regulation and program schedules and procedures adopted from time to time by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. Unless otherwise specifically approved in writing by the local office of the FHA, exceptions from credit restrictions in accordance with an approved application under this regulation shall apply only to credit extended to the applicant named in such approved application.

SEC. 11. Rules and conditions applicable. (a) In the event that an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved pursuant to sections 8 through 12, the applicant is hereby required to notify the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration in writing when the construction of the dwelling units described in the application is begun and when any such dwelling unit is completed and, for a period of five years after the completion of the housing, to:

(1) Publicly offer any such dwelling unit for rent, for a period of at least thirty calendar days after the FHA has been given notification of completion with respect to such unit as required by this paragraph and for a period of at least thirty calendar days after such unit subsequently becomes vacant, to eligible defense workers unless the unit is sooner rented to such a worker;

(2) Require, upon the renting of any such dwelling unit to an eligible defense worker, that such worker fill out in duplicate and submit to the applicant an occupancy eligibility affidavit on HHFA Form No. H–1054 (which shall be further executed by the applicant, as indicated therein, who shall forward one copy to the local office of FHA and retain one copy);

(3) Fill out in duplicate a landlord's affidavit on HHFA Form No. H–1056 in case such dwelling unit has been publicly offered in good faith for rent to eligible defense workers, as required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, but subsequently rented to a person other than an eligible defense worker (one copy of such affidavit shall be forwarded to the local office of FHA and one copy shall be retained by the applicant);

(4) Charge not more than the rent or rents specified in the application or not more than such higher rents as the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee shall have approved on the basis of hardship to the applicant or subsequent owner;

(5) Hold the dwelling unit or units for rent unless (i) the property is being sold to a purchaser for investment purposes rather than for his own occupancy, or (ii) a period of at least sixty calendar days has elapsed after the FHA has been given notification of completion of such unit as required by this paragraph or after the unit has subsequently become vacant, and the public offer of such unit for rent at the approved rental during said sixty days has not produced a tenant;

(6) Comply with any agreements or conditions made a part of the application, HHFA Form No. H–1052, as approved; and

(7) Require that the purchaser, if the property is sold pursuant to subdivision (i) of subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, agree in writing to abide by all the applicable provisions and conditions set forth in this regulation, including this paragraph, which shall be applicable to all successive sales pursuant to said subdivision (i) of subparagraph (5) of this paragraph made by the first and all successive purchasers for investment purposes. Written notifications required by this paragraph to be given to the FHA shall be deemed to be given as of the date they are received by the Federal Housing Administration or, if mailed, as of the date they are postmarked.

(b) No purchaser of property for investment purposes (pursuant to paragraph (a) (5) (i) of this section) shall occupy a dwelling unit in such property unless it contains two or more family dwelling units and such purchaser is himself eligible for occupancy of a dwelling pursuant to section 12 of this regulation or unless such occupancy is pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section, if a parcel of real property contains five or more family dwelling units required to be held for rent under sections 8 through 12 of this regulation, the owner of said parcel, or a person actually employed as a resident manager or janitor of said dwelling units, may occupy one of such units. Two such units may be occupied by such owners, resident managers, or janitors if the property required to be held for rent pursuant to said sections contains not less than 20 family dwelling units, and an additional unit may be so occupied for every additional 30 family dwelling units above 20.

(d) Sales in the course of judicial or statutory proceedings in connection with foreclosures are not subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 12. Eligibility for tenancy. Except as otherwise provided in section 11, above, for five years after the completion of a dwelling unit which is required to be held for rent under sections 8 through 12 of this regulation no person other than an "eligible defense worker", as defined in paragraph (e) of section 7 of this regulation, or his family shall be eligible for tenancy or occupancy of such dwelling unit.

SALES HOUSING AND OTHER HOUSING TO BE BUILT FOR OWNER-OCCUPANCY

SEC. 13. Who may apply for exception from credit restrictions. With respect to housing in a critical defense housing area which may be programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator for sale to, or construction by, prospective owner-occupants, application for a special defense exception from residential credit restrictions may be made only by (i) an "eligible defense worker" (as defined in paragraph (e) of section 7 of this regulation) who is the owner of, or otherwise has effective control over, the land on which he proposes to erect a new family dwelling for his own occupancy or (ii) a person (including a corporation, partnership, trust, or other legal entity) who is the owner of, or otherwise has effective control over, the land on which he proposes to erect a new family dwelling or dwellings for sale to eligible defense workers. Effective control over the land, for the purposes of this section, includes control through ownership, a firm contract to purchase, an option to purchase which may be exercised at the will of the applicant, or a long-term lease for a term of not less than 50 years.

SEC. 14. Where and how builders should apply. Application for an exception from credit restrictions with respect to a dwelling or dwellings to be erected for owner-occupancy should be made to the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration on HHFA Form No. H–1053. Procedures for the submission, processing and subsequent disposition of such applications will be the same as those set forth in section 9 of this regulation for applications for exceptions from credit restrictions with respect to housing to be held for rental.

SEC. 15. Approval of applications. Applications made under sections 13 through 17 may be approved in accordance with this regulation and program schedules and procedures adopted from time to time by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. Unless otherwise specifically approved in writing by the local office of the FHA, exceptions from credit restrictions in accordance with an approved application under this regulation shall apply only to credit extended to the applicant named in such approved application.

SEC. 16. Rules and conditions applicable. (a) In any case where an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved pursuant to sections 13 through 17, with respect to the erection of a dwelling or dwellings for sale, the applicant is hereby required to notify the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration in writing when the construction of the dwelling or dwellings described in the application is begun and when each such dwelling is completed and, for a period of five years after the completion of the dwelling or dwellings, to:

(1) Publicly offer each such dwelling for sale for a period of at least sixty calendar days after the FHA has been given notification of completion of such dwelling as required by this paragraph, to eligible defense workers unless the dwelling is sooner purchased by such a worker;

(2) Require, upon the sale of any such dwelling to an eligible defense worker, that such worker fill out in duplicate and submit to the applicant an occupancy eligibility affidavit on HHFA Form No. H–1054 (which shall be further executed by the applicant, as indicated therein, who shall forward one copy to the local office of FHA and retain one copy);

(3) Fill out in duplicate a seller's affidavit on HHFA Form No. H–1057 in case any such dwelling has been publicly offered in good faith for sale to eligible defense workers, as required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, but subsequently sold on excepted credit terms to a person other than an eligible defense worker (one copy of such affidavit shall be forwarded to the local office of FHA and one copy retained by the applicant or subsequent owner);

(4) Charge not more than the sales price or prices specified in the application for such dwelling or dwellings or such higher price or prices as the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee shall have approved on the basis of hardship to the applicant or subsequent owner.

(5) Comply with any agreements or conditions made a part of the application, HHFA Form No. H-1053, as approved; and

(6) Require that each purchaser agree in writing in the event of subsequent sale by him to abide by all the applicable provisions and conditions set forth in this regulation, including this paragraph, which shall be applicable to all successive sales of said dwelling or dwellings.

(b) In any case where an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved pursuant to sections 13 through 17 with respect to the erection of a dwelling for occupancy by the applicant, the applicant is hereby required to notify the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration with respect to the beginning and completion of construction as required in paragraph (a) of this section and, in the event of sale by him within a period of five years after the completion of the dwelling, to give advance notification in writing to such local office of the FHA that he proposes to sell such dwelling and thereafter to comply with subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), (5), and (6) of paragraph (a) of this section except that the notification to FHA of completion referred to in said subparagraph (1) shall be deemed to mean the notification to FHA required by this paragraph (b). Written notifications required by this section to be given to the FHA shall be deemed to be given as of the date they are received by the Federal Housing Administration or, if mailed, as of the date they are postmarked.

(c) Sales in the course of judicial or statutory proceedings in connection with foreclosures are not subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 17. Eligibility for purchase. Except as otherwise provided in section 16, above, for five years after the completion of a dwelling for which an exception from credit restrictions has been issued under the provisions of sections 13 through 17 of this regulation no person except an "eligible defense worker" as defined in paragraph (e) of section 7 of this regulation shall be eligible for purchase of such dwellings.

SPECIAL CREDIT EXCEPTIONS FOR PURCHASERS OF OTHER HOUSING

SEC. 18. Approval of special credit exceptions. In addition to the exceptions from credit restrictions approved on the application of builders in accordance with the preceding sections of this regulation, the Housing and Home Finance Agency may, under unusual circumstances in some areas, program or approve exceptions from credit restrictions for the purchase, by eligible defense workers, of housing which shall have been built in a critical defense housing area without such approved applications by builders. This will be limited to cases where the Housing and Home Finance Agency determines that the housing needs of such defense workers cannot otherwise be met and that such exceptions will not result in undue inflationary pressures upon the prices of existing housing in the area or in other housing programmed for the area under this regulation being made available to persons other than defense workers.

SEC. 19. Conditions and requirements. Any relaxation of credit restrictions under the special circumstances referred to in section 18 shall be approved in accordance with such procedures and subject to such conditions and requirements as shall be determined by the Housing and Home Finance Agency to be consistent with the provisions of this regulation and announced for the critical defense housing area, and compliance with conditions and requirements imposed pursuant to this section is hereby required.

The reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This regulation is effective as of the 2d day of May 1951.

[SEAL] RAYMOND M. FOLEY,
Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 35—PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE SEVERAL CLASSES OF MAIL MATTER

MAILABILITY OF WARFARIN

Amend § 35.15 Mailable, nonintoxicating, noninflammable, and noninjurious matter, by adding a new paragraph (i) to read as follows:

(i) Mailability of warfarin. (1) Warfarin, an anti-coagulant rodenticide, has been admitted to the mails in the concentrate form (0.5 percent) in quantities not exceeding eight ounces in one parcel if labeled in accordance with the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act. This amount will make 10 pounds of the bait form (0.025 percent). However, the bait form may be accepted in quantities not exceeding 12 one pound packages in one parcel.

(2) The packages must be individually cushioned in a strong tight mailing carton such as a 200 pound test fiberboard carton, with partitions, inner liner and top and bottom pads of doubleface corrugated fiberboard which will bear safe transmission in the mails. All seams of the carton must be tightly sealed and the carton marked "Poisonous Composition."

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter D—Freight Forwarders

[No. 29493]

PART 400—AGREEMENTS, FORWARDERS—MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS

REVOCATION OF PART

At a general session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 24th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of vacating and setting aside the order and discontinuing the proceeding.

It appearing, that with its report of September 24, 1948, the Commission pursuant to the then effective section 409 of the Interstate Commerce Act, 60 Stat. 21, entered its order prescribing certain terms and conditions under which freight forwarders subject to part IV of the act might utilize the services and instrumentalities of common carriers by motor vehicle subject to part II of the act, which order, as subsequently modified, is to become effective May 1, 1951;

It further appearing, that the said section 409 was amended December 29, 1950, by Public Law 881, 81st Congress, 64 Stat. 1113, said amendment having the effect of repealing the statutory provisions under which this proceeding was instituted, and that pursuant to said Public Law 881 the Commission, on March 5, 1951, by a separate procedure, issued a notice of proposed rule making (16 F. R. 2367) looking to the prescription of rules and regulations for the filing with the Commission of contracts between freight forwarders and motor common carriers subject to the act governing the utilization by such forwarders of the services and instrumentalities of such common carriers;

And it further appearing, that the enactment of Public Law 881 has removed the statutory basis for further proceedings herein; that the said order of September 24, 1948, as subsequently modified, should therefore be vacated and set aside; and that the proceeding should be discontinued:

It is ordered, That the order (§§ 400.1 and 400.2) entered herein on September 24, 1948 (13 F. R. 5861), prescribing terms and conditions, as subsequently modified (13 F. R. 8713; 14 F. R. 1824, 3918, and 5806; and 15 F. R. 1105, 3285, 5849, and 6858), be, and it is hereby, vacated and set aside; and that the proceeding be, and it is hereby, discontinued.

Notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy hereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing with the Director of the Federal Register.

(56 Stat. 285; 49 U. S. C. 1003. Interpret or apply 56 Stat. 290, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1009)

By the Commission.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Internal Revenue

[26 CFR, Parts 19, 29]

TAXATION OF EMPLOYEE BENEFICIARIES OF CERTAIN PENSION TRUSTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U. S. C. 62) and pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 378 (81st Cong., 1st Sess.) approved October 25, 1949.

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29), and Regulations 103 (26 CFR Part 19), relating to the income tax, to Public Law 378 (81st Cong., 1st Sess.), approved October 25, 1949, relating to taxation of employee beneficiaries of certain pension trusts, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 29.22 (b) (2)-5 is amended as follows:

(A) By amending the third sentence of such section to read as follows: "Except as provided in section 165 (d), if an employer purchases an annuity contract which is not under a plan with respect to which his contribution is deductible under section 23 (p) (1) (B), the amount of such contribution shall be included in the income of the employee in the taxable year during which such contribution is made, if the employee's rights under the annuity contract are nonforfeitable, except for failure to pay future premiums, at the time the contribution is made."

(B) By inserting immediately after the first paragraph of such section the following new paragraph:

If an employer has purchased annuity contracts and transferred the same to a trust or if an employer has made contributions to a trust for the purpose of providing annuity contracts for his employees as provided in section 165 (d) (see § 29.165-7), the amount so paid or contributed is not required to be included in the income of the employee, but any amount received or made available to the employee under the annuity contract shall be includible in the gross income of the employee in the taxable year in which received or made available. In such case the amount paid or contributed by the employer shall not constitute consideration paid by the employee for such annuity contract in determining the amount of annuity payments required to be included in his gross income under section 22 (b) (2) unless the employee has paid income tax for any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1949, with respect to such payment or contribution by the employer for such year and such tax is not credited or refunded to the employee. In the event such tax has been paid and not credited or refunded the amount paid or contributed by the employer for such year shall constitute consideration paid by the employee for the annuity contract in determining the amount of the annuity required to be included in the income of the employee under section 22 (b) (2) (A). For example, an employer in 1939 purchased and transferred to a trust meeting the requirements of section 165 (d) a life annuity contract (payable in annual installments of $5,000) for an employee at a cost to the employer of $50,000. If the employee included the $50,000 in his gross income for such year and paid a tax with respect thereto and if it be assumed that such year is closed so that the amount so paid cannot be credited or refunded, only $1,500 of each $5,000 yearly annuity payment to the employee will be required to be included in his gross income (3 percent of $50,000), $3,500 being exempt. If the employee should live long enough to receive as exempt $50,000, then all amounts he receives thereafter under the annuity contract would be included in gross income. If, in the foregoing case, the employee's taxable year 1939 was not closed and the employee secured a refund or credit of the tax previously paid with respect to the $50,000 premium payment made by his employer then all amounts received under the annuity contract will be required to be included in his gross income.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.165-1 the following:

PUBLIC LAW 378 (EIGHTY-FIRST CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION), APPROVED OCTOBER 25, 1949

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

* * * * * *

SEC. 5. EMPLOYEE ANNUITY CONTRACTS.

(a) Section 165 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to employee trusts) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(d) Certain employees' annuities. Notwithstanding subsection (c) or any other provision of this chapter, a contribution to a trust by an employer shall not be included in the income of the employee in the year in which the contribution is made if:

"(1) Such contribution is to be applied by the trustee for the purchase of annuity contracts for the benefit of such employee;

"(2) Such contribution is made to the trustee pursuant to a written agreement entered into prior to October 21, 1942, between the employer and the trustee, or between the employer and the employee; and

"(3) Under the terms of the trust agreement the employee is not entitled during his lifetime, except with the consent of the trustee, to any payments under annuity contracts purchased by the trustee other than annuity payments.

The amount so contributed by the employer shall not constitute consideration paid by the employee for such annuity contract in determining the amount of annuity payments required to be included in his gross income under section 22 (b) (2); except that if the tax imposed by this chapter for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1949, has been paid by the employee with respect to such contribution for such year, and not credited or refunded, the amount so contributed for such year shall constitute consideration paid by the employee for such annuity contract. This subsection shall have no application with respect to amounts contributed to a trust after June 1, 1949, if the trust on such date was exempt under subsection (a). For the purposes of this subsection, amounts paid by an employer for the purchase of annuity contracts which are transferred to the trustee shall be deemed to be contributions made to a trust or trustee and contributions applied by the trustee for the purchase of annuity contracts; the term 'annuity contracts purchased by the trustee' shall include annuity contracts so purchased by the employer and transferred to the trustee; and the term 'employee' shall include only a person who was in the employ of the employer, and was covered by the agreement referred to in paragraph (2), prior to October 21, 1942."

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

PAR. 3. The first sentence of § 29.165-6 is amended to read as follows: "Section 165 (b), (c) and (d) relates to the taxation of the beneficiary of an employee's trust."

PAR. 4. Section 29.165-7 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the heading and the first sentence of such section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 29.165-7 Treatment of beneficiary of a trust not exempt under section 165 (a)—(a) In general. Generally, any contribution made by an employer on behalf of an employee to a trust during a taxable year of the employer which ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is not exempt under section 165 (a), shall be included in income of the employee for his taxable year during which the contribution is made if the employee's beneficial interest in the contribution is nonforfeitable at the time the contribution is made. But see section 165 (d) and paragraph (b) of this section.

(B) By adding at the end of such section the following new paragraph:

(b) Effect of section 165 (d). If the requirements of section 165 (d) are met, a contribution made by an employer on behalf of an employee to a trust which is not exempt under section 165 (a) shall not be included in the income of the employee in the year in which the contribution is made. Such contribution will be taxable to the employee, when received in later years, as an annuity. (See § 29.22 (b) (2)–5.) The intent and purpose of section 165 (d) is to give those employees, covered under certain nonexempt trusts to which such section applies, essentially the same tax treatment as those covered by trusts qualifying under section 165 (a).

Every person claiming the benefit of section 165 (d) must be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that all of the provisions of such section are met. The taxpayer must produce sufficient evidence to prove:

(1) That, prior to October 21, 1942, he was employed by the particular employer making the contribution in question and was at such time definitely covered by a written agreement, entered into prior to October 21, 1942, between himself and the employer, or between the employer and the trustee of a trust established by the employer prior to October 21, 1942, and that the contribution by the employer was made pursuant to such agreement. The fact that an employee may have been potentially covered is not sufficient. Evidence that the employment was entered into, or the agreement executed, "as of" a date prior to October 21, 1942, or that the agreement or trust instrument which did not theretofore meet the requirements of section 165 (d) was modified or amended after October 20, 1942, so as to come within the provisions of such section, will not satisfy the requirements of section 165 (d).

(2) That such contribution, pursuant to the terms of such agreement, was to be applied for the purchase of an annuity contract for the taxpayer. In the case of a contribution by the employer of an annuity contract purchased by such employer and transferred by him to the trustee of the trust, evidence should be presented to prove that such contract was purchased for the taxpayer by the employer pursuant to the terms of a written agreement between the employer and the employee or between the employer and the trustee, entered into prior to October 21, 1942.

(3) That under the written terms of the trust agreement the taxpayer is not entitled during his lifetime, except with the consent of the trustee, to any payments other than annuity payments under the annuity contract or contracts purchased by the trustee or by the employer and transferred to the trustee, and that the trustee may grant or withhold such consent free from control by the taxpayer, the employer or any other person (for definition of annuity payments, see § 29.22 (b) (2)–2). As used in section 165 (d) the phrase "if * * * under the terms of the trust agreement the employee is not entitled" means that the trust instrument must definitely and affirmatively make it impossible for the prohibited distribution to occur, whether by operation or natural termination of the trust, by power of revocation or amendment, by the happening of a contingency, by collateral arrangement, or by any other means. It is not essential that the employer relinquish all power to modify or terminate the trust but it must be impossible, except with the consent of the trustee, for any payments under annuity contracts purchased by the trust, or by the employer and transferred to the trust, to be received by the taxpayer, directly or indirectly, other than as annuity payments.

(4) The nature and amount of such contribution and the extent to which income taxes have been paid thereon prior to January 1, 1949, and not credited or refunded.

(5) If it is claimed that section 165 (d) applies to amounts contributed to a trust after June 1, 1949, the taxpayer must prove to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the trust did not, on June 1, 1949, qualify for exemption under section 165 (a). Where an employer buys an annuity contract which is transferred to the trustee, the date of the purchase of the annuity contract and not the date of the transfer to the trustee is the controlling date in determining whether or not the contribution was made to the trust after June 1, 1949.

PAR. 5. The above amendments to Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29), which regulations are applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, are hereby made applicable to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, and prior to January 1, 1942, which is covered by Regulations 103 (26 CFR Part 19).

FERMENTED MALT LIQUOR

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE-MAKING

A notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under authority of 53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176.

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

1. Regulations 18, approved May 20, 1940 (26 CFR Part 192), as amended, are further amended by adding Article XXXV and §§ 192.273 through 192.280, as follows:

SAMPLES OF FERMENTED MALT LIQUOR

§ 192.273 General. Samples of fermented malt liquor may be removed, without payment of tax, as provided in §§ 192.274–192.278, by brewers, either from the brewery or from the bottling house to a laboratory for analytical purposes (including organoleptic examination) to determine the character or quality of the product.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.274 Application. Whenever a brewer desires to remove samples of fermented malt liquor without payment of tax, for analytical purposes, he shall file application, in triplicate, with the district supervisor. The application shall be serially numbered, beginning with number "1" and running consecutively thereafter. The application shall set forth specifically the size, kind and number of samples to be removed, the period during which the samples shall be removed, and the name and address of the laboratory to which the samples will be removed for analysis. Where it is desired to remove samples regularly the application may be made for that purpose. The number and size of the samples must be restricted to the minimum necessary for the purpose. A statement of the necessity for the analysis of samples and for the number and size of such samples shall be incorporated in the application. The brewer shall also incorporate in the application a statement that the samples covered thereby will not be used for purposes other than laboratory analysis.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.275 Approval of application. The district supervisor must satisfy himself as to the need for the number and size of samples desired and the legitimacy of the purpose for which they are to be used before approving the application. The district supervisor, upon approval or disapproval of the application, shall return one copy to the brewer, forward one copy to the Commissioner, and retain the original in his office. Any approved application may be terminated if the Commissioner or the district supervisor determines that such action is warranted: Provided, That, except in cases involving willfulness or where the public interest requires otherwise, the brewer shall be notified in writing of the facts or conduct warranting such action and be accorded an opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with all lawful requirements.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.276 Labeling. Each bottle or other immediate container of fermented malt liquor to be removed, without payment of tax, for analytical purposes shall be labeled to show the nature and quantity of the contents, the name and address of the laboratory to which it will be removed, and the name and address of the brewer. The label shall bear the statement, "Sample for laboratory analysis only—not for sale."

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.277 Records. A separate record shall be maintained showing by date, the quantity of fermented malt liquor removed pursuant to an approved application and the serial number of such application. Proper credit entry for the total quantity so removed during the month must be made in the summary on Form 103.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.278 Residues of samples. Residues or remnants of samples remaining after laboratory analysis which are not to be retained as laboratory specimens or for comparative purposes must be destroyed or returned to the brewery premises. The samples or the residues thereof may not, in any event, be sold, or disposed of otherwise.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.279 Analysis on brewery premises. Applications need not be filed where samples are to be taken for analysis in the brewer's laboratory located on the brewery premises.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

§ 192.280 Taxpayment. Any samples of fermented malt liquor removed or used otherwise than as authorized in §§ 192.273–192.279 shall be subject to taxpayment in accordance with this part.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

2. The purposes of the proposed amendment are to authorize brewers to remove samples of fermented malt liquor, without payment of tax, either from the brewery or bottling house, for analytical purposes (including organoleptic examination), and to prescribe the procedure governing such removals.

3. This Treasury decision shall be effective on the 31st day after the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

RECOGNITION OF BREEDS AND BOOKS OF RECORD OF PUREBRED ANIMALS

HOGS

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by section 201, paragraph 1606 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. and Supp. III, sec. 1201, par. 1606), proposes to recognize the Wessex Saddleback Section of the book of record entitled "Herd Book of the National Pig Breeders' Association," published under the auspices of the National Pig Breeders' Association, Victoria House, Southampton Row, London, W. C. 1, England (A. R. Bennett, secretary), and to amend the regulations governing the recognition of breeds and books of record of purebred animals (9 CFR Part 151, as amended) by adding under the subheading "Hogs" in 9 CFR 151.10 (a), as amended, the name "Wessex Saddleback" to the list of breeds in the said herd book which are currently so recognized.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed amendment may do so by filing them with the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Agricultural Research Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within thirty days after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 201, Par. 1606, 46 Stat. 673 as amended by 62 Stat. 161; 19 U. S. C. and Supp. III, Sec. 1201, Par. 1606)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1951.

[7 CFR, Part 907]

[Docket No. AO–212–A2]

MILK IN THE MILWAUKEE, WIS., MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND A PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER NOW IN EFFECT REGULATING THE HANDLING

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on April 17, 1951, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on April 11, 1951 (16 F. R. 3229).

The material issues of record related to:

1. The proposed deletion of provisions relating to the computation of "base milk," and "excess milk," and payment therefor.

2. The emergency character of marketing conditions and the need for immediate change in the order provisions.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the issues decided herein are hereby made upon the basis of the record of the hearing:

1. The order should be amended by deletion of all provisions for computation and payment of base and excess prices. Amended in this way the order will then require handlers to pay to each producer not less than a uniform price based upon the handlers utilization of producer milk. From the record it is clear that under existing circumstances this basis of payment will be more satisfactory and equitable to all concerned than base and excess pricing and payment as presently provided. All other provisions of the order relating to the base and excess plan are retained. These have to do with the formation of bases by producers: These provisions should remain intact because the testimony shows no intent to eliminate the base plan and it appears that the unsatisfactory effects of the plan come from the price computation and payment sections. Deletion of the latter will free producer prices from the serious distortion which would in some cases result from their application during the period that may transpire until further hearing.

Both producers and handlers urged that the computation and payment of base and excess prices be suspended until the relevant order provisions can be re-examined and revised. The provisions for pricing base and excess milk during the April–July 1951 period would result in extreme and unreasonable disparity in prices received by producers. This is caused by the fact that in some plants the excess milk would be greatly over-priced with reference to its utilization value while in other plants it would be considerably under-priced.

In extreme cases excess milk might bring more than base milk. While such an inversion of the base and excess plan might not occur, it was estimated that in one or more plants prices for excess milk would likely be disproportionately high in relation to prices paid for base milk. This could result from the order provision setting a ceiling price on base milk at the Class I price with a classification and price scheme that may result in a handler's blend or weighted average price exceeding his Class I price. The evidence indicates the blend price may exceed—sometimes by considerable amount—the Class I price in a plant receiving relatively high test milk and having relatively high Class I and Class II utilization, when Class I utilization happens to be inflated by considerable excess shrinkage or when an unusual spread exists between the Class I price and the Class IV price which affects the blend price through the classification reconciliation process. At this time, the Class IV price is from 50–60 cents per hundredweight lower relative to basic formula prices for Class I and Class II milk than it was last November when the order became effective.

In other cases, low prices of excess milk threaten market supplies. Excess milk is priced at Class IV prices which, as above noted, are abnormally low relative to basic prices. Much of the milk priced as excess is used in classes priced above Class IV. At the same time prices paid by evaporating plants and cheese factories in the milkshed are higher than the Class IV price. In addition, the Chicago blended price at locations in the Milwaukee milkshed would be higher than Milwaukee handler prices to producers with considerable excess milk. With the tightening supply and increasing demand all such producers are needed in the market. It is necessary, therefore, that the depressing effects of returning producers prices for excess milk at Class IV levels be removed.

2. The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, and the opportunity for exceptions thereto.

The conditions complained of are such that it is urgent that remedial action be taken as soon as possible. Delay beyond the minimum time required to make the order below effective would defeat the purpose of such amendments. Accordingly, the time necessarily involved in the preparation, filing, and publication of a recommended decision, and exceptions thereto, would make such relief ineffective. The omission of the recommended decision and filing of exceptions thereto was requested by producers and handlers on the record.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of February 1951 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending the order, now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area, in the manner set forth in the amending order below is approved or favored by producers who, during such period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such marketing order.

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Marketing Area," and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing Area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered. That all of this decision, except the marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended by the order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Marketing Area

§ 907.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendment thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order Relative to Handling

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 907.72, paragraph (b) of § 907.30, and paragraph (b) of § 907.80.

2. In § 907.31 (a) delete the words "including for the months of April through July such producer's deliveries of base milk and excess milk,".

3. In § 907.71 delete, in its entirety, the introductory language following the title and prior to the first colon (:) therein and substitute the following: "For each month the market administrator shall compute for each handler the uniform price per hundredweight of producer milk in the following manner".

4. In § 907.80 (a) delete the phrase "of the months of August through March" and substitute the word "month."

5. Delete § 907.90 and substitute the following:

§ 907.90 Producer handlers. Sections 907.40 to 907.47, 907.50 to 907.51, 907.60 to 907.61, 907.70 to 907.71, and 907.80 to 907.85, inclusive, shall not apply to a producer handler.

[F. R. Doc. 51-5967; Filed, May 1, 1951; 8:54 a. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

HANDLING OF MILK IN CHICAGO, SUBURBAN CHICAGO, AND ROCKFORD-FREEPORT, ILLINOIS, MARKETING AREAS

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR 900.1 et seq.), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the respective tentatively approved marketing agreements and orders, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, Suburban Chicago, Illinois, and Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing areas, to be effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

Interested parties may file exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 12th day after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

A public hearing was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following a request of the Pure Milk Association, and was held January 22 through 31, 1951. The major issues presented on the record of the hearing and covered by this decision were whether the orders should be amended to provide for:

(1) The merger of the terms and provisions of orders 69 and 91 regulating the handling of milk in the Suburban Chicago and Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area with those of order No. 41 (Chicago, Illinois, marketing area);

(2) Further expansion of the present Chicago, Illinois, marketing area to include certain additional townships not under regulation previously;

(3) Location adjustments to handlers and producers to apply to milk received at plants within 55 miles of the City Hall in Chicago and a change in the location adjustment rate for milk in zones beyond 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago;

(4) The qualification and suspension of plants as "pool plants" based upon certain delivery requirements;

(5) Revision of the price differentials over the basic formula price for Class I milk and Class II milk (Grade A milk and Grade B milk);

(6) Revision of the formula for pricing Class IV milk;

(7) Revision of the classification of (a) ice cream and frozen dessert mixes, (b) skim milk disposed of in fluid form, and (c) certain other products;

(8) The inclusion of a "base rating" plan providing for the computation and announcement of uniform prices to be paid for "base" and "excess" milk separately; and

(9) Certain changes of an administrative character.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the issues decided herein are hereby made upon the basis of the record of the hearing:

(1) The milk orders for the Chicago and Suburban Chicago marketing areas should be amended for the purpose of their consolidation into one order to be known as the "Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Chicago, Illinois, Marketing Area."

It was proposed by a producers' organization that a merger of the orders for the Chicago and Suburban Chicago marketing areas be effected.
